SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

I will offer for sale at the court house door in the city of Asheville, N. C., on Saturday, the 3d day of May, 1890, at 12 m., the following described property:

A lot of land, with the improvements thereon, lying near the old depot of W. N. C. R. R. Co., adjoining the lands of Gierwood & McLean's old foundry lot, beginning at a stake on the east side of the railroad track, the S. W. corner of said foundry lot and runs with that line N 59 degrees E 100 feet to a stake; thence S 25 degrees 45 minutes E 150 feet to a stake; thence S 100 feet 59 degrees W 100 feet to a stake; thence N 25 degrees 45 minutes W 150 feet to the beginning, containing about one-third of an acre more or less.

This lot contains a good frame building with brick basement, 14 rooms, and a good well of water. Situated near the line of W. N. C. R. R. and the C. E. Graham cotton factory, and other factories near the new depot. It could be made valuable as a boarding or tenement house.

Terms one-third cash, balance in one and two years. J. G. MARTIN. apr 11 d 1d

THE DAILY CITIZEN.

FACTS AND COMMENTS.

FOR A NINE HOUR DAY.

LOCAL WORKINGMEN LABORING FOR IT.

A Call for a Workingmen's Meeting for To-Morrow Night—The Question to be Discussed—Master Workman Gaze Apprehends no Trouble.

The nine hour a day movement has struck Asheville and a call has been issued to working men to meet to-morrow night in the hall over Brown & Guder's store to discuss the question. A week ago last night a joint meeting of the Carpenters' Union and the Knights of Labor was held to talk over the subject. It was then decided to hold a meeting at which every working man in the city should be invited to attend and express his views.

Further than this petitions are being circulated among the business men of the town and they do not lack for signers. The meeting to-morrow night will be open and it will then be decided just what action will be taken on the matter.

John E. Gaze, the master workman of the Knights of Labor, and who is largely instrumental in beginning the local agitation of the question, was seen this morning. He was of the opinion that there would be no strike among the laboring men, but that everything would be settled satisfactorily to both sides.

"A number of the contractors have expressed themselves as willing to accede to the nine hour day," he said. "There are very few who object, and I do not doubt but what they will finally agree, and that there will be no trouble. The movement is meeting with success in other cities and I do not see why it should not in Asheville."

THE SOUTHERN PUGILIST.

Harry Collins, a Light Weight Prize Fighter, in Asheville.

Harry Collins, who styles himself the "Southern Pugilist," is at the Carolina house and has issued a challenge to any light weight in the South. He is a young man of good appearance and dresses neatly. He was seen last evening by THE CITIZEN.

"I will shortly be 23 years old," he said in reply to a question. "I was born in Alabama in May, 1867. I have been in the fighting business for a year. That is I have only been sparring one year, but I was training for four years before that. I have been in four fights to a finish, in three of which I was winner. The other was decided a foul because the opponent was heavier than me.

"My weight at present is about 150, but I train down to less than 145 for a fight. I have no trainer here, but I am well acquainted with the method and can easily instruct a man here to do the work. I have been in Atlanta for the past year. My chief training has been under Jack Dacy, a trainer of good reputation in Atlanta and Birmingham. My challenge will remain open ten days. In the challenge it is left to the one accepting it to name the place for a meeting.

"There are a great many young men here who have signified their desire to have the fight take place near Asheville, and I think it can probably be arranged so as to have it somewhere in this neighborhood. I have received no answers to my challenge as yet, but have hardly had time. I expect all the correspondence will be done through Mr. M. H. Kelly, with whom I have made a deposit of $200. I expect to remain in Asheville a month or so, even if no fight is arranged.

"There is no law to prevent a fight here," he said, "provided gloves are used, and we always do use them, so there is no danger of police interference."

THE JURY DID THEIR PART.

But no Arrangements Had Been Made for Them.

The jury appointed by the Board of Aldermen to assess damages to property in the event of the widening of Eagle street to be thirty feet, met this morning at 10 o'clock, but their report will not throw any alarming amount of light on the subject.

The jury was composed of M. J. Figg, J. W. Starnes, T. E. Brown, E. E. Hines, T. C. Westall and H. C. Hunt, and when they went to the head of the street to begin work it was found that nothing had been done to assist them. The city engineer had made no survey. There were no points for them to go by and after a vain attempt to do something the members returned to the office of the city clerk and made their report. It was short and to the point, and stated their inability to do anything for which they were appointed. Each and every individual member of the committee was mad.

Scored Another Success.

The audience that greeted the Musin Concert company at Battery Park last night was larger than the one of the evening before and quite as appreciative. The feature of the entertainment was the rendition of "Moses' Prayer and Variations" on the G string by Ovide Musin. The serenade by Annie Louise Tanner and Musin was also a pleasant number. The violinist first appeared on the program in Caprice No. 1, his own composition, and was forced to return twice before the audience were satisfied.

The entire program was well rendered, and the company more than sustained the reputation they had made on the preceding night.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES.

Watermelon vines around Wilmington have been killed by frost.

A large cotton factory is soon to be built at Davidson College.

Maj. W. H. A. Harris, a prominent merchant of Scotland Neck, had a slight stroke of paralysis.

Patsy Morris, wife of Samuel Morris, was burned to death at Pamlico. Her dress caught from a burning fence.

The second annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at Fayetteville May 29 to June 1.

The Forsyth Riflemen, of Winston, have decided to go to Richmond to the unveiling of the Lee monument. The company numbers 59.

Bill Davis, a negro, has been with much ceremony inducted into office as postmaster at Morehead City to the great delight of the negroes.

Alex. Oliver was accused of shooting Dr. J. Bruner at Matthews. He submitted in the criminal court at Charlotte and was fined $20.

A 3-year-old negro child was so severely burned near Scotland Neck by its clothes taking fire from an oven-lid that it died thirty-six hours later.

Governor Fowle is to deliver the address at the opening of the session of the Southern Educational Association at Morehead City, July 1.

Henry Timberlake, a desperate negro criminal who two years ago escaped from jail at Oxford, has been recaptured. He is charged with robbing a store.

The presbytery of Fayetteville have refused to release the Rev. Mr. Shaw, who had received a call to the Graham Street Presbyterian church at Charlotte.

The improvement of the wheat crop in Catawba county, one of the leading counties in its growth, is so great as to particularly encourage the farmers.

It is announced that Thomas R. Jernigan will begin the publication at Raleigh June 21st of the North Carolina Intelligencer. It will be democratic in politics.

A rumor that Governor Jarvis would be a candidate for the congressional nomination from the First district has been floating around. He says there is no truth in it.

Charlotte will hold an election on May 12 to decide as to the issuance of $75,000 of bonds, proceeds to be devoted for the purpose of widening and improving the streets.

The Salisbury Watchman denies that Wakefield Price, who died of meningitis, owes his death to the deadly cigarette habit, and says that he would have died if he never had seen one.

Thomas Murphy, a Salisbury small boy, got hold of a box of arsenic pellets and put nine of them inside of his little vest before he was discovered. Immediate application of a stomach pump saved his promising life.

W. Duke, Son & Company, the well known cigarette manufacturers, have decided to build at Durham a cotton factory at which the specialty will be the manufacture of spool thread. The factory will cost $300,000.

Henderson is agitating the question of building a railroad to Nash county. All of the townships along the way are said to be prepared to chip in the necessary wherewithal and Henderson itself is willing to do the right thing.

Col. Paul B. Means, of Concord, has announced himself a candidate for congress in the Seventh district subject to the action of the democratic convention. Colonel Means says he has received many letters from all over the district and is hopeful of the nomination.

Track laying on the Three C's from Rutherford to Marion will be commenced in a short time. All the grading on the road bed is done and the trestle work will soon be completed. The Three C's and the Two C's are preparing to build a union depot at Rutherford.

The daughter of Mrs. Joshua Miller was burned to death near Salisbury, and her son's hands were badly burned while trying to save her life. Fourteen neighbors who sympathized with her in her affliction got together and plowed her land and did what else they saw to do.

Dick Landis and John Young fought at Oxford over a colored woman. The latter was present. Young crushed the skull of his opponent with a beer bottle and took to the woods. Next day he was found and soon after the dead body of his victim was discovered. Young is in jail.

A series of misfortunes have come to Mr. John Duncan, near Shiloh. Three weeks ago he buried his wife, since that time he has lost a horse, and a few nights ago his dwelling and all his out-buildings except his barn, by fire. His household goods and clothing were nearly all burned.

Hamilton Oaks and his uncle, David Oaks, quarreled in Mitchell county over the settlement of their business. Revolvers were drawn and used freely and both were wounded. The former lived two days and the latter is seriously wounded. William Bass, who was mixed up in the affair, was stabbed with a dirk and will die.

Vance county was created out of a part of Granville. The debt question has never been settled, but came up before the courts last week at Lenoir. The decision was in favor of Granville county. There will probably be an appeal. The Granville people claim that $12,000 is due their county and they propose to build a court house with this money.

Two colored boys named Austin Hardy and Tom Jones were fishing in Roanoke river near Scotland Neck and attempted to go in a canoe to the government dredge boat. That was several days ago and they have not been seen since. They were heard hallooing for help, but the swell in the river prevented help from reaching them. The canoe was found capsized, and it is pretty certain that the boys were drowned.

The assassination of Edward M. Butler, which occurred at Clinton, Sampson county, has been explained. Avery, the 14-year-old son of the murdered man, confessed the killing and fled. He was captured and is now in jail. The unnatural son gives as the cause for the deed that his father beat him and that he swore to be revenged. A short time ago the boy aided his sister in a slope with a man whom her father hated, and the whipping no doubt resulted from that. A reward of $200 had been offered for John Simmons who was supposed to be the guilty party.
