FACTS AND COMMENTS.

JUDGING FROM the election returns from Rhode Island it is not safe for the republicans to trust in Providence.—Buffalo Courier.

HENRY GEORGE is having a great time in Australia. He finds that Australian hospitality imposes a great tax on the digestive apparatus.

It is just 115 years since the world heard the shot that was fired 'round it. There was no baseball in those days, otherwise the embattled farmers would have been caught out.

SENATOR QUAY will deserve the reputation of being the silentest politician ever reared in this country if he fails to notice in anyway the pen-and-ink portraits of him going the rounds of the press.

IOWA FARMERS are sowing oats by the light of the moon. The weather has been unfavorable till now, and they are working night and day to make up for lost time. Wild oats are usually sown by moonlight.—Chicago Herald.

THE LOTTERY octopus is reaching out its greedy tentacles in a desperate endeavor to get Louisiana once more within its power. It has offered the State $12,500,000 in half-million instalments if it will renew its charter for 25 years.

SECRETARY WINDOM will be popular enough in revenue marine service when it is learned that he has prohibited "tripping up" as a shipboard punishment for drunkenness. The misdeedmanor is bad enough, but does not deserve this cruelty.

THERE is a fourteen-year-old boy out in Missouri who shot and killed two of a gang of four "regulators" who were brutally beating his father. He ought to have a whole string of medals. He may never make his mark, but he is dead sure to hit it.

THE NAME of the Lord Chancellor of England, the highest judicial functionary of the realm and the keeper of the Queen's conscience, appears in the public prints as a director in a railroad company. What would people think here if the Chief Justice of the United States, or any of his associates, held a similar position?

STANLEY'S story of the forest dwarfs of Africa is a delightful satire, unconscious or not as it may be, on the flummery which our mushroom "aristocracy" is forcing on us. "These dwarfs," says Stanley with a quiet wink, "are the oldest aristocracy in the world, tracing their lineage back for fifty centuries. They are olive in complexion, highly intelligent, and their queen is a charming little woman, who will make a striking figure in Stanley's forthcoming book."

DR. TALMAGE said during his lecture the other evening: "Do not think because a man is seditious that he is religious, or because he is merry that he is wicked. The biggest scoundrel I ever knew was once a member of my church. He was corrupt in many ways, but we found him out after a while. He had a commencement that would draw tears from an undertaker. The jolly people are those that can be trusted, but the sober ones will bear watching." Moral: Be jolly if you can.

CONVENTIONS are necessary factors in civilization now, and an important one has just closed in Richmond. The negroes of Virginia who met to discuss the needs of their race and the problems of their future were intelligent men who understood what is needed for the welfare of their race. The incidental discussion of emigration showed how little faith the colored people who understand them selves have in schemes of that sort. The voice of the convention was in wise recommendation of self-help, of education and work of negroes for their own advancement apart from politics and politicians.

THERE is a great deal that is funny, as well as much that is serious, in the divorce courts. In New York, the other day, there appeared a young couple who, after a year of wedded life, prayed for a legal separation. The trouble between them appeared by the evidence to be of a rather trifling nature, but the grand row came when the young husband found that his wife bathed her pet poodle in the family bathtub and combed the animal's coat with the household tongsorial implements. "This paralyzed me," said the husband to the judge, who, however, finally decided that, instead of a divorce, the young couple ought to be well spanked and sent home. His honor is a very Daniel.

A SMOOTH-TONGUED rascal has been victimizing farmers in New York State with a new swindle, representing himself as the inventor of a new ploughshare, which in order to introduce he is willing to leave without payment, provided that the farmer would agree to give it a trial, and promise to recommend it to his neighbors. To a simple little agreement of this kind the farmer put his name; the ingenious inventor handing him a fountain pen, with which he had written out the rest of the paper in order to sign it. After a short time several farmers found notes for different amounts in circulation with their signatures attached, and then it was discovered that the fountain pen had had two compartments. With the fading ink in one the swindler had written, and with the indelible ink his victim had attached his name to what in a few days became a blank sheet.

KILLED FOR A DOLLAR.

GEO. GIBSON SHOTS CHAS. WALKER AT BILTMORE.

THE SLAYER CLAIMS IT WAS IN SELF DEFENSE.

He is Under Arrest and in Jail—Says he Would Have Given Himself up To-Night.

Charles Walker was shot and fatally wounded at Biltmore to-day by George Gibson. The parties are colored. Gibson is under arrest and claims that the deed was done in self defense.

Walker, has for some time past owed his slayer $1.25, which he promised to pay at noon to-day, when he would be paid off. At the appointed hour he went to the place where Gibson was working and told him he could not pay him.

Some words followed and finally Gibson got Walker's watch and revolver under the pretext of looking at them, and put them in his pocket. Walker shortly after walked away.

At 1 o'clock he returned and Gibson says he advanced threateningly upon him with his hand on his hip pocket as if to draw a gun. He said something which Gibson did not hear and sprang forward. The latter drew his revolver and fired. The ball struck Walker in the stomach and he fell to the ground.

Aid was summoned and the wounded man removed. He cannot possibly survive his injuries.

Gibson returned to his work and a telegram was at once sent to Sheriff Reynolds, who dispatched two officers to arrest him. He was found at work. It was his intention, he said, to give himself up to-night. Walker was an employe of the brickyard and Gibson worked on the Vanderbilt estate. The prisoner was before Justice Summey at 3 o'clock and was committed to jail. The revolver used was a 32-caliber.

THE BOARD MEETING.

Much Business Transacted, but Little of Importance.

Mr. R. M. Purman was before the Mayor and Board of Aldermen last night, and asked that College street be widened from North Main street to Woodbury's stable, as was ordered some time ago. He stated that property owners along the route, including himself, had paid in the amounts assessed them as benefits, with the exception of one. It was ordered that Mr. Sorrells, who occupies the store on the corner, be notified to move out by June 1, and that Capt. Troy be instructed to proceed with the work.

D. W. Couble asked that the city authorities do something to prevent the water from overflowing his blacksmith shop and garden in North Asheville whenever it rains. The matter was referred to Mayor Blanton, who is to visit the place, and has power to act.

F. M. Foster stated that he wished to cut a ditch from Southside avenue, across McDowell street to the branch, and asked the Board to give him plank and supports to build a bridge across the ditch at McDowell street. He was instructed to buy the lumber and present the bill to the city.

Mr. Murray of the water department asked that the Board purchase two pair of rubber boots each for his men who often have to work in the mud and water for several hours. He was instructed to buy them at the city's expense.

It was ordered that a jury be put on Eagle street to widen it nine feet.

Mr. Miller reported that he had a letter about the Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Co., saying that the striking apparatus for the bell in West End would cost about $400. No action was taken.

Colonel J. M. Ray asked that the benefits assessed to him for widening South Main street, amounting to $75, be offset by damages done to his property by running the sewer main through it. The sewer committee was instructed to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting.

Captain Cooke and Captain Atkinson were present in behalf of their railroad schemes, but nothing new was developed. A resolution was passed making it compulsory for those intending to apply to the board for a charter for any important enterprise to give notice to that effect through a city paper for at least three days before making such application.

Mr. J. M. Campbell asked that an allowance of $16.50 be made to E. H. Britt for work done on the rock wall on Rutrick street, under his orders. The matter was referred to Aldermen Miller, Wolfe and Fitzpatrick.

Mr. Pearson asked the board to have water put on Valley street. It was referred to the water committee.

The city tax collector was authorized to collect taxes from Messrs. Hunt and Martin unless they completed the bridge on Atkin street as they agreed.

The Official Notification.

Mr. J. A. Wagner this morning received the official notification of the awarding of the contract for the new public building to Demens and Harding. The contract price is $70,000 and it calls for the erection and completion with the exception of the heating apparatus and approaches. It is to be ready for planing during the season of 1890 and ready for occupancy by May 1, 1891.

An exchange of courts has been arranged between Judges Womack and Armfield by which Judge Womack will hold the spring terms of Granville, Chatham, Durham, Alamance and Guilford, and Judge Armfield will hold those of Bertie, Halifax and Craven.

A letter from Elizabeth City states that contracts and trade in oysters from the lower sound are still carried on in the Albemarle and Chesapeake canal and through Ocracoke and Hatteras inlets, and that there is a well grounded suspicion of fraud and corruption on the part of the patrolmen.

Morganton is to have a steam laundry. The Herald says the town is now paying about $10,000 a year for laundry bills, and the parties who are going to establish the steam laundry have made a careful survey of the field and have decided that they can save the citizens some money and make some themselves by establishing the enterprise.

A negro set down on the track of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta railroad last Friday morning between midnight and day and went to sleep. Shortly after a passenger train came along and knocked him off. He was discovered by the section hands and taken to the colored hospital in Charlotte. The attending physician thinks he sustained internal injuries which may prove fatal.
