The phonograph, however, can be made to repeat his speeches a thousand years hence. It is rumored that President Harrion has decided to call a halt in the mat-

A Committee Appointed to Ascer tain the Cost of Sinking a Well Near Asheville - Another Meeting to be Held.

A meeting of subscribers to the project of boring for natural gas and those incrested in the matter was held in the ourt house last night. Capt. Natt Atkinson called the meeting to order, and on his motion Mr. Geo. S. Powell, president of the Board of Trade, was called to the chair. Mr. F. M. Johnson, who has been prime mover of the enterprise was called upon, and gave his idea for doing the work. "I think there is certainly something inder us," said Mr. Johnson, "and the est and only way to ascertain is by soring. If we don't find gas, we may find coal, oil or salt, and the cost of the indertaking is comparatively small when the possible result is taken into consideration. In Indiana, recently, while boring for gas, they found instead of that, a salt deposit, and the well is now yielding way it is done in his State. "About three years ago," he said, "a stock company was formed in our town and tastes of people who be- McKinley bill and the Western republi- to borea well. A man was engaged to drill 1050 feet for $1,500. Before reaching that depth, gas was found. The town was piped, and that well furnished gas for the whole town for some time. Since that time, a number of wells have been sunk, and all are better than the first one. The depth

Three years ago, when the first well was made Marion was a town of 3,000 inhabitants. It now has about 13,000, and is still growing rapidly. Twenty-five factories have been located there, and a rolling mill to employ 800 hands will soon be built. That will bring a population of 2,000. Real estate has increased threefold in value. There were very few people there who had any faith in finding gas, but they were determined to make the search, and you see what it has done for the place.
