FACTS AND COMMENTS.

NEW YORK has got a ballot reform law at last. There isn't so much reform in it THE NINE HOUR SYSTEM as there might be, but it will do for a starter.

A good idea on the subject of special delivery letters has been suggested to congress. Instead of requiring the use of a special delivery ten-cent stamp, it is proposed to allow the sender to affix ten cents in ordinary postage stamps and mark his letter conspicuously "for imme diate delivery." The sender must take the risk of making his mark plain enough to be seen by the postal clerks; but the advantage of being able to mail a special delivery, when you might be several miles away from a special delivery stamp, would be worth securing, and it might be considerably to Uncle Sam's advant

THE apprehended disorder and turbunce that was to signalize the great movement for shorter hours of labor or the first of May did not materialize either in this country or abroad. The United States is the only one of the leading nations of the world that didn't call out the military to guard against possible labor riots. The workmen conducted themselves quietly and peaceably. There was no rioting, no bloodshed, and only in a few places were there any outward demonstrations of any kind. The dreaded May day has passed, and the striking workmen have taken the first step to win public sympathy by not forgetting their duty as law-abiding citizens. THE wife of Justice Field is at the hear of a movement to prepare and present to the French republic a statue of Washington. The statue is expected to cost $25,000, the money to be raised chiefly by the women of the United States. The act will be a graceful courtesy, too long delayed. France has shown her good will to the United States on many occasions, both by word and deed. The statue of Liberty in New York harbor is a perpetual reminder that the courtesy has not been repaid. Let us give France a statue of Washington, one, by the way, that will not be a laughing stock.

THE congressional committee appointed to investigate the immigration business report the discovery of a single square mile of territory in New York city where 270,000 people live, which is 8,000 more human beings than can be found dwelling in any other square mile on the er rth's surface. These people are said to be all Italians, speaking only their own language and observing foreign customs It is a rather startling statement, and it is likely to attract fresh attention to the great rush of Italian immigration to this country of late.

HOTEL DECISION. A legal decision in Tennessee holds that a guest cannot be charged for a fire in his room, the hotel having tacitly agreed to make him comfortable when it opened its doors for business. The incident is not without suggestion. It stands to cigars. reason that the hotel giving its guests the greatest number of comforts and conveniences will draw the largest cus tom. On this principle the hotel with electric lights, electric annunciators, bells, etc., will be more attractive than another without them. We believe, for example, that any hotel in Asheville, during the summer time, putting in electric motor fan outfits and adver-tising "belgroums could all night betising "bedrooms cooled all night by, electric fans" will through that very in-novation secure an enormous share of patronage.

HOW IT IS WORKING.

WELL UNDER WAY. THE MEN WHO ARE GRANTING IT

Many Laboring Men Do Not Ap pear to Want It-Everything

AND THOSE WHO ARE NOT.

Moving Along Smoothly. The nine hour system has a good start in Asheville. There are a large number of workingmen who apparently do not care about being the first to "inaugurate a have his eyes on a Nanda senatorship. new career" as well as a number of contractors, and the former have not asked nor have the latter granted the short day. Still there are some firms who willingly allowed the request of their men, and in not a few cases has the nine hour day been granted with ten hours pay Among the latter are J. L. Perry, J. E. Dickerson and J. S. Grant. Mr. Perry is engaged in repairing the house recently damaged by fire on Penland street and put his men to work this morning on the nine hour schedule. Dr. Grant is creeting a house on the corner of Vance and Colget a steady supply of fun out of politics. lege streets, and is having it done, not by contract but by day labor. His mer went to work vesterday and will work only nine hours with a full day's pay. Mr. Dickerson is also building a house by day labor and is working his men the same way. Some of Mr. Milton Harding's mer were not at work yesterday because of a want of lumber, but those who were quit when the nine hours had expired. The Asheville Furniture and Lumber company have agreed to allow nine hours to constitute a day's work, but will only pay for that much time. Those of their men who desire have the privilege of putting in ten hours. Fitzpatrick Bros., painters pay probably the best prices paid in Ashe ville for good painters, and they say they cannot afford to pay the same price for nine hours that they pay for ten hours work. All their men were at work yesterday, with one exception, and the men say they cannot afford to have their pay cut down by stopping earlier, and hence prefer to work the full ten hours. R. H. Lee & Co., painters, have all their men at work on the ten hour schedule.

Of the plumbers, Ballard, Rich & Boyce, Brown & Thrash and Taylor, Bouis & Brotherton have their men working ten hours, and say they hear no more complaint. The Buncombe Brick and Tile company have their men at work for the full ten hours and do not expect more complaint. D. S. Hildebrand, brick manufacturer, also has his men at work ten hours. The men employed by the Asheville Shoe company went to work yesterday and kept it up for the ten bours. Mr. McDonald, the street paying superintendent, has a force of twenty men who

GRAND JURORS' REPORT.

The grand jury for the present term beg to present the following report. They find upon inspection of the county jail all apartments in creditable condition—cells for prisoners clean, with heating and ventilating facilities sufficient and all arrangements necessary for the safe keeping of the inmates. They suggest that wherever the cement floors are broken, they be repaired at once for the better protection of the iron work underneath. and that the high fence surrounding the buildings be overhauled, the back and cast side particularly being in bad condi-tion. The poor house, now containing thirty inmates, is in satisfactory shape, rooms clean and well provided, an abun-dance of wholesome food, and its occu-pants fairly clothed. In looking over the county offices, they suggest that the Reg-ister of Deeds be allowed an extension of gas pipe into the back vault, it being very much used and poorly lighted. They find the vault in the office of the clerk of the inferior court very small for the present demands, and suggest for the sale keeping of valuable records, now unpro-tected, that additional fireproof storage be provided. They further suggest that the sheriff be allowed to move into the room on the opposite side of the hall formerly occupied by Dr. Whitson, his present quarters being too small, and that the new office be first divided into two apartments for his convenience.

Respectfully submitted,
A. RANKIN, Foreman.

Permission was granted to W. E. Hallyburton to erect a tent in the southwest corner of the inclosure in front of the court house, for the purpose of selling

A young man named Un-derwood testified that at noon of the day on which Butler was assassinated he saw the boy at the place where the shooting was done and that he had in his hands a double-barrelled gun. A blacksmith named Wilson swore that the boy cut off a slug of steel from a rod in his smithy and asked how much powder would be required to kill a man forty feet away. Judge Womack, after hearing the argument at Oxford in the injunction cases of the town of Durham against the Oxford and Clarksville railway and the Durham and Clarksville railway, continued the in-junction against the latter road. The Judge did not pass upon the conflicting claims of the parties to these actions, but lets them go to the jury. He orders that unless such issues shall have been passed upon both railways shall serve the public as beretofore. The cases will now go to the supreme court.

Statistics show that the Roanoke valley furnished more corn for the Confederate army around Richmond for the last three years of the late war than any other section of the country. The lands have greatly decreased in value since the war because the owners have not been able to keep up the dikes they had built by slave labor. It is claimed by those who have had years of experience on these lands that they are as productive for grains and grasses as any lands in the United States. There will perhaps be Recorder.
