THE DAILY CITIZEN.
FACTS AND COMMENTS.
THERE seems to be an unfriendly rivalry going on between Memphis and Nashville. We regret to see it. They should dwell in harmony—like Knoxville and Chattanooga for instance.—Knoxville Journal.
Or like Asheville and— but, come to think of it, Asheville has no rival. She stands alone with merits and advantages that make her simply unrivalled.
A FRENCHMAN named Marie assaulted a nine-year-old girl in Jackson, Tenn., Wednesday. He was caught and held by citizens while the father of the child laid 850 lashes on the Frenchman's bare back. Then he was ordered out of town. On the whole this is better than lynching. As a deterrent it will probably be equally effectual and no one is accused of law breaking as in the case of an illegal hanging which frequently, it not always, has a very demoralizing influence on the community where it occurs.
The Richmond Dispatch hits the nail fairly on its head when it says:
Lavish expenditure of municipal money is not expected and is not necessary, but there should be such steady and liberal appropriations to the streets as will afford to those who are willing to erect houses in unimproved sections the guarantee that in the course of a certain number of years they will be reached by good thoroughfares and sewers, and gas and water-pipes.
The force of this, in this immediate vicinity, lies largely in its application to the needs of a certain growing city of Buncombe county.
ONE claim in behalf of the eight hour movement is that the workingman will be so refreshed by the added hour's rest that he will do as much in eight hours as he accomplished before in nine or ten. It is said to be a fact that workmen now accomplish as much in nine hours as they used to in ten. Where the day's work is dependent on machinery, the wheels must be made to revolve faster, the knives and hammers to move still more rapidly. This the inventive spirit of the time can compass as a need for it is developed.
SOME of the men who acknowledge the United States as their home—although they will all be thorough Anglomaniacs, probably, from this time forth—must have made a charming appearance recently in London when they were presented to Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, at the queen's drawing room. They wore the court dress, including cocked hat and rapier, and it must have been a humorous spectacle to gaze upon when some of them pressed into view. Some people are willing to be made ridiculous for the sake of participating in high foreign social occasions, however, and the glory that goes with the thing quite overbalances the pain in their minds.
BEN BUTTERWORTH, of Ohio, dropped a tremendous bundle of fire-crackers in the house of representatives the other day by sharply criticizing the McKinley tariff bill. Butterworth is a man of brains and courage and some of his remarks to his fellow republicans were truly refreshing. The substance of his speech was that he was a protectionist, but no hog, if he knew himself. He said:
"Why increase the profits of certain classes? I can name capitalists whose profits have exceeded those of all the agriculturists in any State in the Union."
Mr. Butterworth was correct in his statement and on the republican party is the shame of it. The McKinley bill is not a sincere attempt to carry out the policy of protection, but to force the great body of the people to enrich a few who are in possession of monopolies.
THE American way is best. The real root of the poverty and suffering in Europe is the vast standing armies the Christian nations there think it necessary to maintain in order to enforce the gospel of peace and good will. A quarter to half a million idlers of the ablest bodied male citizens of the country, to be supported by the labors of women, children and feeble old men, make a difference in the industrial resources and lower the comfort and prosperity of the whole people. In the United States, it a war should come upon us suddenly, it would take six months to a year to make good fighting soldiers out of our volunteers, as it did in the late war. But that is better, far better, than a vast standing army. Even if war should come upon us suddenly a million well drilled militiamen could be turned into soldiers with amazing rapidity. But the United States needs an ample and thoroughly drilled militia.
IN the local columns of to-day's issue will be found interviews of far more than ordinary interest to Asheville on the proposed founding of a Presbyterian college somewhere in the South. It appears that this city is very favorably regarded for its natural advantages, but that they alone are by no means enough to secure the location of the college here. Fortunately the project is in embryo as yet, and the measure of Asheville's success depends wholly on the early efforts her citizens may make to secure this desirable addition to her present educational equipment. It would mean a great deal to have such an institution located here; whether it will come here depends on how earnestly the influential men of the city work for what is really their own best interests in the matter. Certainly now is just the time, while the Assembly is in session here, to ascertain as precisely as possible what would probably be expected of any city that bids for the new college.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
THEIR REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING LAST NIGHT.
ROUTE FOR THE FRENCH BROAD VALLEY PRESENTED.
Asheville Street Railway Company Asks for Permission to Extend its Lines.
Hon. Reuben McBrayer, attorney for the French Broad Valley railway was before the Mayor and Board of Aldermen last night, and made his application in due form. The route as specified is to run on parts of Southside avenue, South Main, Valley, College, Woodfin and Bridge streets and Merrimon avenue, and North Main, Church and Willow streets. Mr. McBrayer talked on the subject of granting right of way to the different railroads whose propositions are now before the Board, and showed the advantages of having the road through the city a trunk line. The matter was referred to the same committee that is now considering the charter of the Asheville and Suburban railway. This committee is composed of the Mayor and the Street Committee.

T. A. Jones, attorney for the Asheville Street Railway company asked leave to extend the lines of that road along the routes previously specified in the Citrizen. This was referred to the same committee, a meeting of which is to be held next Wednesday at 5 p. m. Mr. Jones as attorney for the Asheville Light and Power company discussed the electric light bids, and asked that his company be allowed to submit another bid, as he said there was some misunderstanding about the conditions when the bids were made. Mr. Jones was informed that the matter was settled, and could not be changed.
It was ordered that all architects who are preparing plans for the new market house be notified to submit them to the board the first Friday night in June.
W. H. Penland asked for sewerage on Penland street, and it was ordered laid.
R. R. Rawls asked to be allowed to put up an awning supported by wooden posts on the curb, in front of his buildings on College street; granted.
J. S. Adams presented a petition from various property owners asking that Flint street be continued from Cherry through Mrs. Sondley's property, to Starnes street, about 200 feet. He stated that a street would soon be opened through the Rankin property to the street opened by Mr. G. Taylor, and that one would very probably be opened from Mr. Taylor's boundary to the corporate limits, making a drive of about a mile, and that the city could not afford to have this street broken by the distance between Cherry and Starnes. Ordered that a jury be put on the property to assess damages and benefits.
Mr. T. E. Davis asked, for Mr. Pearson, that he be allowed to burn the brick-kin that has been built near the electric station. He said Mr. Pearson would indemnify the owner of the property against loss. Plea not granted and ordered that the kiln be moved two hundred feet from any house.
Mr. R. H. Lee, for the Rescue Hook and Ladder company, asked for the horses that were formerly used by the hose company, for their new truck; granted.
S. D. Hall asked that he be reimbursed for taxes he had paid on groceries last summer, he having moved the goods to the country shortly after the first of June. It was decided that the money be refunded Mr. Hall. J. J. Hill & Son were allowed $10 credit on their real estate tax, because of having paid their auctioneer tax, and not having done any auctioneering.
Hunt & Martin's bill of $555.21 for work on the bridge on Atkins street was allowed, subject to the Street Committee's approval of the work.

A five year old son of J. O. Shoffer, of Liberty, Guilford county, died last Saturday evening from eating molasses on which his mother had put rough on rats for flies.
Thomas A. Edison will visit Moore county this week to examine its auriferous ores with a view of testing upon them his new process of making gold ores profitable.
A canning factory in Lexington, N. C., paid handsomely last year on tomatoes alone. It is one of the main industries at New Berne, N. C., and flourishes in other parts of the State.
The North Carolina Lumber company have purchased a site for a new hotel at Tillery which they will build and equip with a capacity of fifty rooms, besides a number of cottages for Northern sportsmen.
The Charlotte chamber of commerce has voted to send the Hornets Nest Rifles to the unveiling of the Lee monument in Richmond. The company is the second oldest in the State. The chamber defrays the company's expense.
News reaches Reidsville of the death of Mrs. Pat. Gallier, of Mayo. Mrs. Gallier was the third wife of Mr. P. H. Gallier, who has had the misfortune to bury three wives in the last seven years, and is now only in his 32nd year.
United States Marshal Hill has gone from Raleigh to Columbus, Ohio, with Weeks Armstrong colored, the late postmaster at Rocky Mount, who will serve out three years in the penitentiary for embezzlement of the postal funds.
Our townsman, Hon. W. B. Glenn, owns an overcoat which he bought from John Wannamaker before the latter died his way into the cabinet. Since then Mr. Glenn has refused to wear it. Such democracy as that is all wool and a yard wide.—Winston Sentinel.
Grape culture in Raleigh township is making great strides. There are two owners of large vineyards. One of these, Colonel J. M. Heck, will ship 16,000 baskets the coming season, and in all some 50,000 baskets will be shipped, making half a million pints. Most of the grapes go to Boston and New York.
A Charlotte dispatch says: Clay Berkeley, supposed to have been drowned last week in the Catawba river at Robinson's ferry, is believed to have been murdered by two men with whom he had a difficulty several months ago, and several arrests have been made. Berkeley's body has not been found.
A Charlotte special to the Raleigh Chronicle says: No little surprise was created here by Capt. Syd. B. Alexander, resigning his directorship of the First National Bank of Charlotte, and selling his stock to his sister, Captain Alexander is Alliance candidate for congress in this district to succeed Hon. Alfred Rowland, sitting member. The Alliance is opposed to national banks.
Charlotte has a novel case—that of a number of gentlemen who purchased a considerable amount of land at a tax sale years ago, against ex-Sheriff Cooper for deeds to the land which has not been redeemed. Ex-Sheriff Cooper declines to give deeds, his counsel having advised him not to do so, as he is not now in office. The point in question is whether it is ex-Sheriff Cooper's duty to sign the deeds or the duty of his successor. The case will be carried to the supreme court.
A Raleigh grocer dealer has hit upon a novel idea of filling the orders of his customers with dispatch. He has secured several full-blooded swift-winged carrier pigeons, which he will send around with his wagon every morning to the residence and when the order is given it is attached to the bird and turned loose. It immediately returns to the store, and the order is filled and ready for delivery on return of the wagon, and the goods are at your door in short order. As soon as the pigeons become familiar with their new quarters their work will begin.
