FACTS AND COMMENTS.

THE terrors of his last two trips among the man eaters of Africa have turned even Stanley's moustache snow white.

CONGRESSMAN EWART, of Asheville, says he is opposed to the national election law, but adds: "If our caucus decides to pass it, of course I shall not desert my party."

REPRESENTATIVE MORRILL, of Kansas, fears that this congress will adjourn without doing justice to the soldier.
Most people have an uneasy feeling that it will adjourn without doing justice to the civilian.

The United States supreme court has heard argument on the habeas corpus case of Kemmer, the New York murderer, whose execution by electricity at Auburn was stopped by writ. The decision was reserved until Friday.

GENERAL JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON, one of the surviving heroes of the last cause, is 84 but as buoyant and as active as a man of 50. The whole Southern people feel a great pride in him, and he doesn't turn a wheel for a lottery either.

MAJOR POND has made a contract with Stanley to come to America under his management after he has finished his tour of forty-six lectures in England, unless orders from high quarters should compel him to alter his plan.

EXPLORER STANLEY has at last fallen a victim to Cupid's wiles. He is to be married to a charming young English girl already known in art circles. Should she prove a kind, affectionate, loving wife Stanley will never again take to the African jungles.

The committee on temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church conference, in session at St. Louis, has made a long report in which they define the position of the church on the subject of temperance as firm for prohibition. The report was adopted.

PERHAPS it will find our national pride to know that the greatest burglar the world has known is an American, William Porter. But even he got caught at last, and his native country is to mourn his absence for many years to come. Mr.
Porter is in a cruel gal in France.

THEODORE HALLAM, of Covington, Ky., who is mentioned for John G. Carlisle's place in Congress now that the latter goes to the Senate, is "a fellow of infinite jest" and a rare story-teller. If he goes to Congress he will inaugurate a new era of button-busting there. In addition to being a good lawyer he is an excellent newspaper writer.

THE cyclone and conflagration which have destroyed the Russian capital of Western Siberia are as nothing in comparison with the cyclone and conflagration which will sweep Czarism out of existence before this generation passes away. And these latter will have their origin largely in Siberia, too.—New York World.

THERE is a generous sprinkling of Mc-Callas in the Navy, the majority of them made so by thoughtlessness and bad precedents, as was McCalla himself. The findings and sentence of the court will exert a wholesome influence by bringing them to a realization of their failings and the danger that lurks in giving a loose rein to their passions.

THE committee on church boundaries of the Methodist General conference at St. Louis has recommended a division of the North Carolina conference so as to make the boundary the eastern lines of Rockingham, Guilford and Randolph counties, thence south to Pea Dee river.
The North Carolina conference will include all the territory in the State east of this line.

A BILL has been under discussion in the senate granting to the several States the power to regulate or prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors. It is to be pushed through, to the exclusion of everything else. The bill is designed to meet the emergency in Iowa, caused by the recent decision in the supreme court, restraining that State from interfering with the sale of liquor "in original packages."

A FIRM of contractors in Pittsburg, who have dismissed all their Italian laborers and are filling the vacancies with negroes, give this reason for the change:
"We have become very much dissatisfied with Italian labor. The Italian is too small, and he does not eat enough of the kind of food to give him strength to do the work required. It is impossible to make him understand anything and he is always getting into fights and causing trouble. He is entirely too handy with the use of the stiletto."

THE house architecture of to-day is like too many other things of the time—cheap and showy. The dwelling the per-suaive house agents seek to palm off on the innocent householder of small means has a tower, bay windows, ginger bread chimneys and curly walls, but no cellar. Just the most important part, next to a good kitchen, the plain, convenient, old fashioned cellar, with solid stone walls, keeping the house cool in summer and warm in winter, is left off. It costs too much. So, when you buy a house be sure that it has a tower, a galvanized pointed sheet iron affair, like a tin pan turned bottom upwards. Oh, yes! Let the cellar go, but do not omit the tower or the cast iron monkeys around the railing.

J. A. BRANNER DEAD.

A Well Known Citizen—The Funeral This Evening.

Mr. Joseph A. Branner, a well known citizen of Asheville, died at his home on the College campus at 7.25 last night.

Mr. Branner has been sick for the last three years and for several months has been confined to his bed. His death was caused by a complication of diseases. He leaves a widow and two children, Mrs.
R. D. Gilmer, of Waynesville, and Mrs.
James Atkins.

The deceased was 56 years old and came to Asheville from his former home in Tennessee in 1879. His coming to Asheville was for the purpose of reviving the Asheville Female college, which at that time had begun to decline. The success of his undertaking is attested by the present condition of that institution.
He remained with the college in the capacity of business manager until two years ago, when it was leased to the present management. Mr. Branner has always been prominent in educational matters. Fifteen years ago he established the Branner Female Institute at Mossy Creek, Tennessee. The deceased was a member of the First Methodist church.

The funeral will be held in the parlors of the College at six o'clock this evening and the interment will be at Riverside.
All friends of the deceased are invited.

These are Becoming Epidemic.

T. W. Stewart, a street car conductor, and Reub Garland had a collision on Court Place to-day. Stewart says that Garland, who lives in Mitchell county, and who staid last night at his home, this morning after Stewart had gone used some offensive language to Stewart's wife. Stewart heard of this, and attacked Garland on the street about 1.40 p. m., marking his face badly with his fist. The hearing of the case came before Mayor Blanton this afternoon.

Shortly after being dismissed from the justice's court yesterday afternoon, Bob Cole had another difficulty with T. T.
Patton. Mr. N. T. Chambers also figured in this collision. The unpleasantness occurred on South Main street. The offenders were taken before Mayor Blanton.
Cole and Patton were bound over to the Criminal Court in bonds of $50 each and Chambers was fined $5 and 50 cents costs.

Employers Union.

A number of employers met last night to organize themselves so as to more effectually confer with workmen on labor questions. Mr. J. A. Tenney was made temporary chairman and E. W. Marx temporary secretary. A committee was appointed to prepare bylaws and to perfect the organization. The object is not to contest with workmen on disputed points, but to arrange for an amicable adjustment, satisfactory to all concerned of any differences that may arise.

The next meeting will be called by the chairman, when the bylaws are ready for adoption.

"The Lyceum."

THE CITIZEN inclines to think that many who take up Mr. Tilman R. Gaines' new venture will be agreeably surprised to find in it so handsome and intellectually creditable a magazine wholly the product of Asheville writers. The table of contents is varied, the subjects well handled and generally of especial interest here, while typographically the new magazine is admirably adapted to the class of matter it contains. Mr. Gaines' work must be largely a labor of love, but The Lyceum deserves, and will probably have, a substantial support.

Confessed to a Theft.

Waddy Ward, a colored youth, was committed to jail this morning for larceny. About two weeks ago he was given a package of silk, valued at $9, by H.
Redwood & Co., to deliver to a customer.
The package did not reach its destination. When arrested Ward said he had taken the package to his mother at Greenville, S. C. A telegram was sent testing this statement, and justice Israel sent the boy to jail to wait answer.

To Employers of Military Men.

To the Editor:—We hope every business man in Asheville who has an Asheville military man employed will cheerfully let him off to attend the unveiling of Lee's monument. This trip is not one of pleasure but a duty they owe to their country to attend this ceremony, and to show our appreciation of our grand and noble R. E. Lee. And we hope that every mercantile and business man will give their employees leave to attend. Why not encourage our soldier boys and let them take forty strong to show what old Buncombe can do? C.

To be Sub-Divided.

Gwyn & West have sold for A. Schiff, the old Lyman property on Haywood street, to a local syndicate, composed of M. E. Carter, C. T. Rawls, N. W. Gird-wood and Joseph Haeffli. There are two acres of land and a large dwelling. The price was $10,500, and Gwyn & West will sub-divide the property for the purchasers and sell it in lots.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES.

Senator Vance was at Charlotte to attend the Mecklenburg celebration.

The Governor will return to Raleigh from Charlotte next Friday probably.

An attempt will be made to have a grape show at Raleigh in July or August.

A gentleman in Durham recently had a fine specimen of copper, found in Durham county.

Work has been begun on a telegraph line from Boone to Blowing rock, Watauga county.

A contract has been made for the grading by convicts of 33 miles of railway in Stanley county.

Daniel Fink died at the age of 87 years at his home in Rowan county last Monday, of paralysis.

Fish in the Cape Fear river are reported to be dying in great numbers from some unknown cause.

The biggest thing for Mt. Airy in many a day is the $10,000 block of bricks to be erected at once by Mr. R. R. Galloway.

It is probable that announcement will soon be made of the opening of the Baptist female college at Raleigh in September.

B. R. Moore, of New Hanover, will be the opponent of Judge Boykin for the judicial nomination in the Cape Fear district.

The father of Sidney Lanier, the great Southern poet, was a resident of Rockingham and conducted a farm upon Jacob's creek for many years.

A statistician says that the pensioning scheme, as it operates to-day, costs the Southern farmers, every year, one of each ten bales of cotton they produce.

There are now 146 convicts on the Murphy branch of the Western North Carolina railway and it will probably be completed during the coming October.

The locusts have made their appearance. Mr. S. H. Ware says he heard them Sunday. It has been about ten years since they were here last.—Reids-ville Review.

Dr. Jesse Carter, of Eagle Falls, died Tuesday night at Madison, aged 60 years. He was a light and ornament to Christianity, being a leading member of the Presbyterian church.

The supreme court of the State has filed an opinion in the case of Boyer vs.
Teague involving the sheriffalty of Forsyth county. The judgment of the lower court is affirmed. This decision is in favor of Boyer, who is a democrat.

William Warren, a student of the North Carolina college, at Mt. Pleasant, committed suicide by drinking two small bottles of laudanum. No cause can be assigned. He was regarded as a good boy, but was melancholy and morose at times.

A Greensboro Workman reporter, while "prospecting" in Randolph county for old people, was told of a Mrs. Fox, who could jump into a wagon and drive off in a trot standing up, and preserve her balance as well as any young man could do.
And Mrs. Fox is 90 years old, or close therabouts.

The Charlotte Chronicle says that Richard Sandler died recently at his home near Rock Hill. He was about 65 years of age, and was sick only a few days. Mr.
Sandler was a brother of the late James A. Sandler, who lived in Charlotte, and an uncle of O. M. Sandler, of the Southern Express Company.

During the past week the citizens of Wadesboro have been waited upon by George W. Huntley for the purpose of securing their subscriptions to the capital stock of a cotton factory, which it is proposed to build in Wadesboro. Mr.
Huntley already has subscriptions amounting to about $50,000.

The Wilmington Messenger romances Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Durham, to succeed Dr.
Mangum to the chair in the University made vacant by the death of the latter.
If a layman is preferred the messenger suggests Prof. A. W. Long of Welford College, S. C.

Sheriff Williams, of Mississippi, has been paid the $200 reward offered for the capture of A. B. Adams, accessory to the murder of Joshua Cox. A man named Newton concerned in the same crime is still in Mississippi, and Sheriff Williams will use every effort to deliver him to the authorities of Beaufort county.

Four young men from Prestonsville, Stokes county, were at Winston Monday in search of Thos. Hickman, col., and a young white girl, the daughter of Mr.
Rufus Simpson, of that neighborhood.
Hickman, who is said to be nearly white, and the girl left there Sunday. The reason for the girl's running away with him is a mystery as the Simpson family are highly esteemed.

Political: The Rutherford Banner advocates M. H. Justice, Esq., for judge to succeed Judge Shipp. The friends of Capt. J. D. Meyer will present to the Democratic judicial convention of the Seventh district for judge to succeed Judge McKee. Messrs. J. J. Vann, of Monroe, and M. H. Justice, of Rutherfordton, will both be candidates against Judge Shipp. W. A. Hoke, Esq., of Lincolnton, is also spoken of in the same connection.

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was celebrated at Charlotte Tuesday. Senator Vance, the orator of the day, said in his speech that every aggressive class seeking redress should be careful not to let redress be turned into revenge. Governor Fowle and State Auditor Sanderlin also spoke.
The finest trades display parade ever seen in the city was made by the local merchants, assisted by four military companies and nine fire companies.
There were four entries for the military parade drill. The Wilmington company won first prize of $200, Charlotte second, $100, and Monroe third.

The following official report made by Warden Hicks, of the penitentiary, shows the disposition of all the convicts. Under laws passed by the last legislature there are but few convicts at work on railroads under legislative contracts. The Western North Carolina railroad has 269 at $125 per year; the Roanoke and Southern 105 at $125 to $150 per year, and the Gre-ystone Granite and Construction company, 57 at $150 per year. The remainder are working on State account on farms and railroads. On the Roanoke farm, 200; on the North Carolina Midland railroad, 127; on the Mt. Airy railroad, 307, and at the penitentiary, 206.
All forces working on State account on railroads are hired and paid for by the day or by the cubic yard, as in the case of any regular contract work.
