FACTS AND COMMENTS.

THE scarcity of laborers is so great in Chattanooga that on Sunday an ouncements were made from the pulpits of several colored churches asking men to report at certain places for work.

THE McKinley tariff bill passed the house Wednesday with no other amendments than those offered by McKinley himself. Ben Butterworth voted for it but Coleman, of Louisiana, and Feather

ALLICATOR skin has become so fashion able that the huge, unwieldy saurian Mr. J. Taylor Amiss is with threatens to follow the buffalo and become exterminated. But note on what slender thread hang everlasting things. Gators eat muskrats, and muskrats eat crops. If the alligator is exterminated the muskrat will multiply like the jack rabbit in Australia, and eat the farmer out of house and home. The police jury of Plaquemine, La., have therefore prohibited the killing of alligators in that

> Sr. Paut has gained a step or two on other cities in the matter of the census She has been lucky enough to have her city directory publisher appointed census supervisor, and he has promised the St. Paulites that he will give the city a population of 250,000 or know the reason why. Minneapolis meanwhile has raised a private sum for her census supervisor, in order to enable him to conduct the ount in a proper manner." Each city night take in the gravestones of old settlers to help out the count.

JOHN A. MORRIS, the chief of the Louis ana lottery ring, mentions as one reason why his pernicious charter should be ex ended the fact that he has contributed liberally to the support of various churches in New Orleans. If he did so i was with a view to silencing their pulpit against his lottery iniquity. And if h neceeded in doing this it only shows the extent of the demoralization wrought by this giant evil and furnishes another rea son for its overthrow. It is bad chough to subsidize the press and corrupt poli ties. To bribe the churches is a lowe

Many things in this life require gall, but there is something approaching the ublime in the assurance of those report ers who called on Commander McCalla of the ship Enterprise, just after he had been suspended for three years from the United States navy for cruelty to subordinates, to ask him how he felt! They report that his "eyes were red and swollen and his face was inexpressibly sad." It is a terrible blow for a proud man, but bank was organized in 1890, he was Commander McCalla will now have three rears' leisure to reflect on how he in his time has not only caused the eyes of relpless sailors to be red and swollen, but their feet as well, for one of the things for which he is suspended making men "toe a seam" four consecutive nights on the quarter deck. This was an original way of making them toe the

In 1876 there came to Atlanta a young mulatto shoemaker, John T. Schell, by name. He had no capital but his trade as a shoemaker. He worked hard and kept out of politics and to-day is quoted as worth $12,000. He says: "The people of the South are the best friends the negroes have, or can have. They under stand the negroes, naturally better than any others. They do more for the negroes than anybody else would. They have no more use for a trifling negro than they have for a trifling white man, but if a colored fellow works faithfully and is onest and truthful, he will find they respect him just as highly as they do anybody. And you will find, too, that the negroes who have property, no matter how little, are on the side of law and order, and are good citizens.

Some one who signs his name "Swin-dles" has this "drive" in the Raleigh Chronicle: "A man of good address who can speak French, German, Portuguese, Italian, Spanish or any other language except English: we are not choice, but none who speak English need apply. We want a man who can fix some kind of name to all of our fine imported dress goods. We are not going to have our goods called by these common American names any more; like cashmeres, lawns, worsted, &c."

For a year the Wetmore Shoecompany has employed city convicts, at the penitentiary at Raleigh, in the manufacture of shoes. Now the company suspends operations and surrenders its convicts. Money has been steadily lost by the use of this labor. A number of firms will not handle penitentiary-made shoes, and there was a considerable boycott. The plant will be removed June 1st to Greensboro. The convicts will be put on railroad work. All the shoes made by this company were sold in other states.
