in Interesting Talk at the Young Men's Christian Association

Rooms Yesterday. The lecture hall of the Y. M. C. A. was illed yesterday afternoon with those anxious to hear Rev. R. G. Pearson, the evangelist. It had been announced that ie would deliver a gospel address, and a arge number of young men availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing him. Mr. Pearson spoke, as is his custom on such occasions, not with his own words, but with those of the scripture He read as the lesson a portion of 1 John v. and took for the text of the Bible readng verse 10-"He that believeth on the son of God hath the witness in himself; he that believeth not God hathmade him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of His son."

"I want to call especial attention to the last phrase there—the record of Christ," said the speaker, "From time mmemorial men have made and preserved records of war, peace, religion and politics. These have been of importance We need the records of war to guide to in valor; of religion to guide us in reli rious matters, and so with all other rec ords. The mounds of the North Ameri can Indians are nothing but records; the nonument that was unveiled at Richnond last week is a record of what Gen Lee and the South have done; Cleopa tra's needle in New York is a record of what she did. So it is with all men. They have records. Now if these are of so much importance among men, what must God's record be? "The Bible is God's record of His son written by the spirit of the almighty God. He has said that all beaven and earth shall passaway, but His word shall remain. There are many things in this record pertaining to this world and the world to come, but the greatest is Christ. He is the keystone, the foundaion stone in God's word. So the whole Bible may be said to be a record."

Mr. Pearson then answered three ques tions concerning the giving of this record

The questions were

(1) "Why have we a Bible?" (2) "To whom is it given?"

(3) "What is the duty of those who tave it ?

In all cases the questions were foreibly answered by verses of scripture. During the course of his comments on the various passages read, Mr. Pearson made reference to the "Lyceum Literary Club," of this city, in no complimentary terms. He said, "here is a little popinjay, oneborse club in this city, that gets up and discusses the religion of the future. Poor little one-horse, infidel conceit. The mem bers ask why the preachers of the town fid not come around to hear the discussions, and I thank God that no preacher in this town would dignify such a meet ing with his presence. "God's law is not played out. I'll tell rou why men want to get rid of it. It shows them up too plainly. They want to live in sin.

County Commissioners Elected.

The annual meeting of the magistrates of Buncombe county is being held to-day in the court house. This morning it was ordered that three iron bridges be built in the county as follows: Across French Broad river at Long Shoals, at a point to be decided on between Asheville and Alexanders and across Cane creek at Fair View.

The following board of county commissioners for the next two years was elected: J. E. Rankin, J. N. Morgan Levi Plemmons, R. C. Clayton and J. F. Wells.

The board and the magistrates met in joint session this afternoon. The resignation of J. W. Starnes, County Superintendent of Public Instruction was read and accepted and a resolution of thanks for his efficient services, was adopted. The following names were placed in nom-ination as his successor: Rev. G. H. Bell, E. L. Henry, H. L. King, C.JB. Way and A. E. Brown.

Protect Your Homes.

A circular is being thrown around th treets to-day and its contents relate to the coming census. It speaks for itself and is as follows:

CITIZENS!

Protect the privacy of your homes. Are we living subject to a despotism equal and similar to that of Russia? or are we free and independent citizens of the United States of America? This is a question that comes home to every self-respecting citizen of Asheville, in view of the fact that in a day or two, a stranger to your family, under pay and by order of the impertment and insulting authorities at Washington, will present himself at your house and ask questions that would cause any modest woman to blush with shame and indignation, and every to feel that his home and his family been put to uncalled for insult and hu miliation.

Citizens! Stand up for your rights, protect your home and family from sult! Refuse to answer questions that concern only yourself and family. Do not be frightened by threats; the people will stand by you.

LAND SALE.

VALUABLE ESTATE OFFERED.

Pursuant to a decree of the Superior Court of Buncombe County, I will offer for sale at public outery, on the 20th day of November, 1890, the real estate of which the late Capt. A. M. Alexander, died, seized and possessed, containing about tweive hundred acres. The sale is made for partition among the heirs of said Alexander.

LOCATION.

The lands are situated on the French Br The lands are situated on the French Broad river—having a river front of a mile and a half—ten miles north of Asheville, immediately on the Western North Carolina Railway, a station equipped with passenger, freight, express, telegraph and postoffices being on the premises. Several daily passenger trains connect with Asheville which is reached within 30 minutes. At this point the river is passed on a substantial iron bridge, from which well established roads diverge into the surrounding country, making the place the most important business exiter in the county, except Asheville.

The celebrated

ALEXANDER INN,

Established more than a half century ago, is included in the property. It is immediately on the bank of the river, very near the rail-way station, and has about forty rooms for guests. There are also an excellent store house, a new and commodious barn, stables, cribs, tobacco barns, etc., etc., on the premises.

THE LAND

Is peculiarly adapted to the production of tabacco, grass and clover. Some of the size est tobacco ever grown in the "bright to bacco belt" of Western North Carolina wa raised on this plantation. There are no two or three hundred acres in grass an clover. Up to the death, last fall, of the pro-prietor it was successfully operated as a stock farm.

THE WATER POWER

s abundant and has always been regarde is abundant and has always been regarded as very valuable.

There are between three and four hundred acres of excellent timber, consisting chiefly of large white oak, poplar and p.ne.

The climate and magnificent scenery of this region are already famous throughout the Union. This place has long been one of the most popular resorts in the region. The tract has on it several most beautiful building sites, affording extensive views of pear and distant mountain ranges, and of the beautiful Prench Broad.

The tract has been cleared into several parecies, containing from three to one has.

mountain ranges, and of the beautiful French Broad.

The tract has been cleared into several parcels, containing from three to one hundred acres, so arranged to suit the convenience of purchasers.

TERMS—Tem per cent. of the purchaser money will be required at the sale, and the remainder in four equal instalments, payable at one, two, three and four years from date with interest from date at eight per centum per annum—title retained until all the purchase money is paid. Possession will be given on confirmation of sale, except the store house and buildings used therewith, as to which possession will not be given until March 1, 1801, the existing lease not expiring till that time.

The property will first be offered in lota, then as a whole, the highest bid being the one to be reported to the court.

For further information apply to the undersigned on the premises or at his office in Asheville, N. C.
