THE DAILY CITIZEN.
FACTS AND COMMENTS.
RICHMOND is reeking with rebel flags, and Col. Elliot F. Shepard has not yet started for the front. On Shepard, on! —Washington Post.
THE Farmers' Alliance in the two Dakotas are on the warpath and they want Republican blood. Just now they threaten to destroy the G. O. P. in those States.
REPUBLICANS who have been plotting to capture the Congressional seat lately filled by Mr. Carlisle are likely to find their plans thwarted by Governor Buckner's call for an election on June 21. That date falls on Saturday, the day of the week most convenient for voting by the Kentucky farmers, who form the Democratic strength in the Carlisle District.—New York Star.
EVEN the most conservative must admit that the way lots are selling in Asheville is something unheard of. It is the principal topic of conversation on the street at the club or hotel and the man does not live who would not like a few feet of Asheville dirt. Now that the boom is on why not purchase a site for a park. It has got to come soon and property can be purchased at a more reasonable figure now than ever in the future.
ARRESTS of Russian Nihilists near Paris disclose a strange development of revolutionary agitation in Europe. It appears that the conspirators were engaged in manufacturing in France explosives designed for the destruction of the Russian Imperial family. The natural alliance between Russia and France no doubt had something to do with the promptness of French authorities in the matter. The abstract question of antagonism between Republicanism and Imperialism has failed to receive consideration in view of the community of interests between Paris and St. Petersburg against possible movements at Berlin, Vienna and Rome.
THE New York Times is one of those papers which believes in the fairness to everyone and when the Lee monument was unveiled at Richmond the following editorial appeared in its columns: "It is rather a pity that there were no organized bodies of representatives of the North at the unveiling yesterday of the monument of General Lee. The presence of Southern troops at the funeral of General Grant was recognized as a tribute honorable to the men who paid it as to the memory of the hero to whom it was paid. A quarter of a century after the close of the war ought to suffice to put all its figures in a historical perspective. Everybody now recognizes that Falkland and Hampden were both patriots according to their lights. Everybody ought to recognize now that there is no danger that the 'issue' will arise again, that the soldiers of the Confederacy may have been as conscientious as the soldiers of the Union. Lee was the first of these. While he was no doubt doing what we believe to be his duty in 'going with his State,' there is no question at all that his conduct throughout the war and after it was that of a brave and honorable man. His memory is, therefore, a possession of the American people, and the monument that recalls it is itself a national possession."
IN an interview in New York Mr. John A. Servant, a prominent merchant of the new town of Guthrie, Oklahoma, gives some interesting facts concerning the negro immigration. He does not appear to be alarmed, and if his opinion is the opinion of the majority of the residents of the territory the negro has finally landed in a haven of rest.
"One of the most remarkable peculiarities about the settlement of Oklahoma," said Mr. Servant, "is the negro immigration which practically invaded it, and which is still daily streaming into the Territory. From all the surrounding States thousands of well-to-do colored people, with their families, have rushed in, taken up land and settled. Many of them—in fact, most of them—are well fixed financially. I could name more than fifty men of that race, who, desiring choice claims near Guthrie, the capital city, have bought them at from $500 to $1,000 apiece. This influx of well-to-do negroes made a boom which at one time, as we understand it out there, came very near inducing President Harrison to appoint the Hon. B. F. McCabe, now State auditor in Kansas, and a black man of good reputation, as Governor of the new territory, and that fact has been one means of turning the eyes of many intelligent and wealthy negroes toward Oklahoma as a sort of promised land for their race, and has done a great deal toward bringing into Oklahoma thousands of men of that race who would otherwise not have made the venture."
Mr. Sergeant is also of the opinion that the territory will be democratic.

It is Not Sold Yet.
Mr. W. A. Buchanan was asked this morning if there was any truth in the rumor that his mother's property had been sold. He denied the report but said that negotiations are now pending whereby it may be. The trade is between them and certain Asheville men, but he is of the opinion that the parties behind the scenes are Vanderbilt and Inman. An offer of $80,000 has been made for the entire property, 93 acres, extending to the top of the mountain. The same gentleman are after the other property along the side of the mountain.

Brains and Money.
Ex-Congressman Logan H. Roots, at the Christianizing convention of the Lower Kimball, on the Tennessee river, thirty miles west of Chattanooga, said that to make an industrial development required nature's gifts, brains and money. The Geologist and every other intelligent person who examined the subject reported the immediate proximity of timbers, metals, coal, clay, stone and in fact everything that can be well thought of necessary for a manufacturing city are situated right there on the banks of the Tennessee river, the only place where the Tennessee river touches the Cumberland coal fields. The Colonel also assured parties that ample funds had been provided for it, so that there will be no lack of money; and United States Judge Key said that Colonel Roots' statement on such subjects could be relied upon. The Colonel remarked, however, that he was not making assertions as to the brains devoted to the management. When it is known that Colonel Roots is the President of the Company, and that H. I. Kimball, of New England birth and Georgia residence, famed for his management of large enterprises, is the Vice-President and General Manager, the assurance of brains controlling affairs is complete. He who misses being of Kimball on the 10th and 11th of June will certainly miss an opportunity for great pleasure and opportunities for profitable investment.
To Run to Baltimore.
The Asheville Street Railway company has obtained permission from the board of county commissioners to extend their road from the southern limits of the city five miles along the Buncombe turnpike. The management of the road confidently expect to build the road to Baltimore, and possibly further. The company have not decided when they will begin.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.
County Superintendent Elected and Tax Levied.
At the joint meeting of the Board of County Commissioners and magistrates yesterday afternoon Mr. C. B. Way was elected county superintendent of public instruction on the fifth ballot. The tax was levied at the meeting as follows:
County, 42 1/2 cents on the $100; school, 12 1/2 cents on the $100; State, 28 cents on the $100. A total of 83 cents on the $100.
The poll tax is $2.00.
These are the same taxes as those levied last year.
After the joint meeting of the board of commissioners met, and after allowing a small number of pauper claims, adjourned until this morning.
Confidence in Asheville.
Finding that my property is evidently selling too low I have determined to make the following proposition:
I offer to pay five thousand dollars ($5,000) cash by ten o'clock to-morrow morning to be distributed pro rata among the purchasers of lots already sold for a cancellation of their trades, each purchaser to have a pro rata profit upon his lot if all the buyers will agree to this proposition. RICHMOND PEARSON.
Muller's Application Refused.
This was the day for granting licenses to retail liquor dealers, and the following were renewed: J. H. Loughran, Frank O'Donnell, Frank Loughran, G. A. Sorrels, Hampton & Featherston, A. G. Haliburton, J. B. Steele. M. H. Kelly and John O'Donnell were granted licenses for 29 South Main street. W. O. Muller's application was the only one refused.
J. J. Mackey, register of deeds, was directed to employ three hands to transcribe the indexes in his office in new books.
NORTH CAROLINA NOTES.
Evangelist Fife began his Fayetteville meetings yesterday.
A distillery near Elmwood with one barrel of whiskey burned down.
Mr. Joseph Petty, drummer for the Chatham rifles during the war, is dead.
Oxford Lodge I. O. O. F. will erect a temple 49x100 feet and three stories high.
Durham's jail has fifteen inmates. This is the largest number it has had at one time since 1885.
The democratic nominating convention of the fifth district meets in Greensboro on July 9.
Mrs. Jones Chappell, one of the family poisoned in Raleigh by eating western bacon has died.
The Hay street Methodist church of Fayetteville will run an excursion to Wilmington June 10.
On account of his health, Rev. T. W. Eblett has decided to decline the call extended to him by the Baptist church at Shelby.
Governor Richardson and Adjutant-General Bonham, of South Carolina, will attend the encampment of the North Carolina State Guard at Whitesville.
Governor Fowle has returned from Richmond. He is delighted with the celebration and very proud of the prominent part North Carolina took in it.
John E. Oates, of Charlotte, has received a check from Staunton, Va., for $2,000 to be used for the home and foreign missions of the Southern Presbyterian church.
Rev. D. J. Kootz, a colored preacher, died suddenly at Concord and the circumstances pointed suspiciously to poison. A coroner's jury found that it was so, but how, when or where the paper does not say.
The stockholders of the Statesville Air Line railroad company have held their annual meeting and elected the following officers: Dr. J. J. Mott, president; C. A. Carlton, secretary and treasurer; W. A. Eliason, chief engineer.
The Salisbury correspondent of the Charlotte Chronicle says that J. C. Ford, Esq., of South River, Davie county, and the father of Mrs. J. C. Irvin, of Statesville, lost a large barn, granary, two hundred bushels of wheat, two wagons and a buggy by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown.
A Raleigh gentleman said yesterday that sixty-six million dollars were sent out of the Southern States into the Northern States every year to pay insurance. That's about as much as the Southern cotton crop is worth, and that's one reason why there are some poor folks in the South.—State Chronicle.
Miss Minnie McLeod, daughter of Mrs. J. P. C. Morris, formerly of this place, astonished relatives and friends by leaving her home in Charlotte last Thursday and going to Spartanburg, S. C., where she was married to Mr. S. A. L. Johnson, of Salisbury. The reason her people objected to the marriage was because of her age, she being only about fourteen years old. She and her husband, we learn, intend making their home in Asheville.—Monroe Register.
About ten or twelve years ago, Mr. Joshua Pittman, a farmer near Croston, received a flesh wound while in every way possible.—Up to date 3,353 boxes of beans have been shipped from this place to the Northern markets. This is much larger than the amount shipped last year at this time. In addition large quantities of Irish potatoes, turnips, strawberries, raspberries, etc., also have been shipped. This quantity of truck ought to have, up to now, at least $15,000 in circulation if our people could get anything like a fair price for their products.—Clinton Caucasian.
