FACTS AND COMMENTS.

A. B. ANDREWS, one of the commissioners to the World's Fair from North Carolina, has been chosen one of four vice-presidents at a meeting of the national commissioners.

A Republican congressman named Cornell of Nebraska has written himself down the ass of the house. Saturday he introduced a bill to pension every negro in the union under fifty years of age who had been a slave, at the rate of four dollars a month. Those who have attained the age of fifty shall have eight dollars and a $100 bounty, all of sixty years a pension of twelve dollars and $300 bounty, and of seventy and over, twelve dollars a month and a $500 bounty. The bill was introduced for the purpose of rewarding the negroes to vote the republican ticket in the next congressional election.

CONGRESSMAN EWART'S speech in the house on Saturday was a fearful and just arraignment of his party for their treatment of the South in the past and their contemplation of the passage of the infamous force bill. It is seldom that a republican is willing to concede what Mr. Ewart did in his speech, and even less seldom that a politician dares to step outside of the ring marked down by his party and give his outspoken opinion of any measure advocated or opposed by that party, that is if it differs with the opinion of the majority.

But Mr. Ewart dared to do this.

His speech was so different from that of his colleagues that it would have done credit to a democrat. After an introduction in which he drew a picture of this section of the country both before and after the war, Mr. Ewart struck such a blow at the reconstruction period as is seldom credited to a republican. He said:

The State governments fell into the hands of the most disreputable gang of thieves and plunderers that ever disgraced a name, and the very name of Republicanism became a stench in the nostrils of all honest men. By bloodshed, violence, and intimidation these governments were wrested from the thieves and plunderers and to-day without exception are held by the Democratic party. In spite of the fact that, since the war, all the evils of reconstruction the South has prospered as never a section prospered before. Go South now, and your journey will be through a continuous and unbroken strain of the music of progress, the whirr of the spindle, the buzz of the saw, the roar of the furnace, and the clatter of the locomotive. The next census will show it to be the richest section of our country.

Then he went into figures showing the increase in the wealth of the country since the war.

Let me briefly submit a few statements as to the wonderful increase of wealth in the South in the past nine years. In 1880 the total wealth of the South was $2,913,436,000. In 1889 it is estimated at $4,229,166,000, an increase of $1,315,730,000. The assessed value of property in the South is about 31 per cent. of its true value. On this basis the increase has in reality been $3,000,000,000 in nine years. In ten years the South had increased its iron output from 397,301 tons to 1,566,702 tons. The percentage of increase has been 294 in the South and 78 in the rest of the country. In 1882 the yield in the South advanced to 7,250,000 bushels. In 1889, 19,497,415 tons. The year 1890 will show an increase of over 22,000,000 tons.

Since 1865 the South has produced and sold $8,000,000,000 worth of cotton. With 161 cotton mills in the year 1880, having 667,874 spindles and 722 looms, this industry has increased till the South possesses to-day over 400 mills, with over 2,250,000 spindles and 50,000 looms. The agricultural interests of the South have also marvellously increased. From 3,000,000 bales of cotton in 1870 the yield in the South advanced to 7,250,000 bushels. In 1889, its corn production for the same period shows a gain of 270,000,000 bushels. In what there is an increase of 22,000,000; in oats, of 45,000,000 bushels. Comparing it with the production of the rest of the country, we find that notwithstanding the fact that the West produced last year the largest crop of corn ever made, the increase as compared with 1870 was only 31 per cent., while that of the South's corn crop was 55 per cent.

From there the gentleman jumped in the center of the negro problem and after disposing of it by the broad assertion that there is no negro problem he came back to his subject, the federal election law. His argument from there on was one of ability. He opposed it because it would engender bad blood between the races, because it is not what the country needs and because its enforcement will be humiliating to a free people.

Mr. Ewart's speech certainly was an able one, but if Ignatius Donnelly's cipher were applied to it, no doubt it would be discovered that it was conceived with the intention of being used as a campaign document when he bolts up secretly next fall for reelection.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.

All Birmingham is kicking on the work of the census enumerators.

The State military encampment is being held at Chattanooga.

Birmingham is to have a magnificent chamber of commerce building.

Charleston is sure it is going to be cheated in the census enumeration.

Orren W. Chocklett of Norfolk was run over by the cars and instantly killed.

Knoxville is to have both a new street electric railway and a new dummy line.

Kilrain, Muldoon and other sports gave an exhibition at Meridian, Miss., last night.

Knox county Tennessee's new jail is completed. With the sheriff's house it cost $45,000.

The commencement exercises of the University of Virginia are being held at Charlottesville.

Georgetown, S. C., is stuck on its graded school system and has voted to maintain them for another year.

The citizens of Augusta, Ga., have sent a small colored girl who was bitten by a mad dog to New York for treatment.

Frankie Truss, a three year old Birmingham boy, fell out of a three story window and escaped without a broken bone.

Chattanooga is to have a $1,000,000 warehouse. It is to be used by all merchants and farmers who may wish to store goods or products in it.

Albany, Ga., is going to celebrate July 4, and one of the attractions will be a chicken pie seven feet long and five feet wide. It will contain ten dozen chickens.

A. C. Zimmerman and J. M. Bowden were killed in the war at the Alabama Midland at Josephine, Alabama. Five cars jumped the track and three were wrecked.

Andrew J. Dunn, a brakeman on the Louisville and Nashville fell from a moving train near Boyles, Alabama, and a heavy train roller over and horribly mangled his body.

Walter Fischer, son of August Fischer of Orangeburg, S. C., was bitten on the foot by a poisonous snake. His body has swelled to twice its natural size and he is in a critical condition.

Harry Toole, the proprietor of the largest gambling house at Aniston, Ala., has fled to parts unknown. A threatened prosecution for bigamy is supposed to have accelerated his movements.

Dr. Willis F. Westmoreland, who is said to have been the most prominent surgeon in the Southern States, died at his home at Milledgeville, Ga. He was a veteran of the Confederate army.

Mr. Reeves of Randolph, Alabama, got howling drunk and tried to end his father-in-law's earthly career with a knife. The old man however filled him full of lead and there is general rejoicing in the household for Reeves was a hard case.

The whites of O'Neil Parish, La., raided a tough negro settlement and killed George Howard. Three other negroes were wounded and arms were taken from twenty. The raid was made because of threats made by the negroes on the whites.

Phillip Schneider was arrested while attending the dedication services of a church at Chattanooga on a charge of instigating his brother to set fire to his (Phillip's) place of business. The brother and J. K. Brown, colored, are under arrest at Nashville on the same charge.

For the past eighteen days the maximum temperature at Columbia, S. C., has not once been below 90 degrees in the shade and most of the time it has stood between 95 and 100. In the sun it has run up to 25 degrees higher. The oldest inhabitant acknowledges that it takes the bakery.

Six thousand miners are on a strike at Birmingham, Ala., and between 3,000 and 4,000 furnace laborers have been forced out by the miners' strike. The strike was ordered because of the refusal of the owners to accede to a demand for a ten per cent. increase in wages. It is the biggest strike ever known in that section.

Gallatin, Tennessee, has just had a cyclone in which two people were killed and ten wounded. The African Methodist church was blown to pieces and the roof caved in on the congregation. The public school building was injured but not badly and many private residences were damaged. A heavy rain accompanied the wind storm.

Mrs. H. E. Segman, wife of Leander Segman, of Greenville, S. C., ran away with a negro and went to Atlanta. There the authorities fired them out and they returned to Greenville and rented a house and were furnishing it when the husband had warrants issued and caused their arrest. They are a very tough pair.

A crowd of Charlotte admirers gathered at the train to see John L. Sullivan, who passed through there on his trip from Turin, Mass., to New York. The big 'un was asleep, however, and the hoop worshippers were obliged to content themselves with looking at the car that drew him and his manager, Duncan B. Harrison.

Within the last six months two musical directors of Episcopal churches of Atlanta have skipped out leaving wives behind them. The first was Professor W. H. Russell, director of music at St. Paul's cathedral and the second was Professor William Dawson, of St. Philip's church. The latter was recently married to one of the leading young ladies of the city.

Janin and Armstead Jones were sentenced to hang at Orangeburg, S. C., on July 11 for the murder of their stepmother. A petition asking for the commutation of the sentence was presented to the governor and Janin who is but 13 years old will serve ten years in the penitentiary. Armstead who is 16 years old and who actually did the killing must hang.

Rev. George LaTerry preached a sermon at Boyce, Tennessee, that did not accord with the views of one of the hearers, Mrs. Tenn. Crow. At its conclusion she took exceptions, the lie was passed and the woman's right shot out and felled the reverend gentleman to the ground. The latter reached for a stone but the congregation interfered and peace was restored.

ANTIMIGRAINE.

—THE—
NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.
TRADE MARK REGISTERED.
ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.
Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.

ANTIMIGRAINE Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTI-PYRINE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE. Since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.
The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache, if taken when first feeling the preliminary symptoms; but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
