NO PAPER TO-MORROW.

To-morrow being the fourth of July, there will be no paper issued from this office. THE CITIZEN hopes that every business house in the city will follow its example and give to its employes a holiday to-morrow, and that every one will enjoy the day as much as the employes of THE CITIZEN think they will.

FACTS AND COMMENTS.

Boss QUAY is not going to have it quite all his own way in the Pennsylvania republican campaign. Thomas W. Phillips of New Castle, a millionaire oil producer, who was generally talked of as a candidate for the republican nomination for Governor, but who refused to permit the use of his name, has declared positively against Senator Delamater, the nominee of the Harrisburg convention. In stating his position he says:

"Such an exalted position as governor of a great state like ours should be sought, or the position should seek the man. But in the nomination of Mr. Delamater we have an example of persistent personal effort on his part and on the part of the chairman of the republican party of Pennsylvania, the latter owing his position to the former. There was no public demand for either. The state committee and the county committee, we have reason to believe, had every pressure brought to bear upon them to work for this self-appointed candidate."

We are glad to note that one republican has the necessary nerve to go back on the Quay convention, but when he speaks of the office seeking the man Mr. Phillips is a number of years behind the times. That's the way it once was, but they play the game differently now.

The Washington Post of a recent date contains a communication by some one who signs himself "W." and who advocates the re-election of Congressman Ewart. The fact that all of the Ewart papers in this district noticed the communication and republished it when probably not one of them is on the exchange list of the Post, seems strange. More than that the Washington paper is not in the habit of admitting communications advocating the re-election of Congressman Ewart except at the usual advertising rates and it would seem that Mr. Ewart was indulging in the amusing little game of writing letters to himself. It is a very ancient scheme at the best.

Editor Post: I have not the honor of Mr. Ewart's acquaintance, and have never seen him, but as a native of North Carolina, though not a resident, I wish to express my gratification at his conduct at the caucus when the Force bill was under consideration. If any one thing is sacredly valued by her people it is the love for her which always rises above personal ambition when her interests are at stake. We do not belong to the same political party, but how could the old State more honor herself by inviting this loyal son of hers to continue as her representative? W.

A LOCAL official of the Richmond and Danville in a private communication to THE CITIZEN answers the letter of a correspondent asking why we do not have round trip excursion rates from this point to North Atlantic Coast summer resorts.

"This question was brought up by Mr. Wolsey in January, 1889," writes the official, "and we wrote him on the subject during that same month, but probably not as fully as we should have done. In any event the circumstances which prevent us granting such rates to Asheville at present are as follows:

"The Pennsylvania railroad and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, members of the Trunk Line Association, decline to allow the rates in the Southern States having a Northern outlet at Washington to make special tourist rates to Cape May, Newport, Saratoga and any of the summer resorts north of the Potomac river. Therefore to give our people advantage of round trip tickets to those points at less than regular rates, the entire concession would have to be made by the Southern lines, while the Northern roads have special rate tickets on sale at Washington to those resorts which would make the cost of the trip not greater than if we should make a special rate to Washington and allow the lines North their full rates. We have not, therefore, deemed it advisable to make the reductions at this end of the line, but rather to grant special rates to the mountain resorts in Virginia and along the Atlantic Coast as far north as Fortress Monroe and permit the Northern lines to make the reductions for tourists wishing to spend the summer in that territory.

"If these lines would agree for the Southern Passenger Association to sell through tickets to Saratoga and other such resorts on the same basis that we make rates south of the Potomac, we would then be willing to sell the through tickets and give our patrons the advantage of a reduction over both ends of the line, but as matters now stand I do not see how we can well do so."

He states that our former correspondent was in error as to the sale of tourists tickets to New York.

"Such tickets are not on sale from any Southern point that I know of," he writes, "nor are similar tickets sold at any Southern city east of the Mississippi river to any of the Northern resorts, unless it may be New Orleans and one or two other points which have the advantage of water transportation."

This would seem to settle the matter as far as the Richmond and Danville is concerned. They are continually working for a special rate from points along their line to Northern resorts, and it is the Trunk line association that is keeping them back. But no matter what the reason is Asheville cannot afford to let this matter drop. Now that it is up it should be thoroughly investigated and every possible effort made to secure a cheap rate for Asheville.

AUBURN, July 3.—Kemmler left for Buffalo in charge of Warden Durson this morning. He will be sentenced this afternoon.

A Big Block Burned.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

CONCORD, N. H., July 3.—The Dow block burned here to-day. The loss is one hundred thousand dollars.

Idaho Now a State.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Idaho is admitted to Statehood. The President signed the bill this morning.

What May be Done.

J. Wiley Shook, formerly of the Clyde Register, was in Asheville yesterday on his way home from Washington. Mr. Shook gives some interesting news regarding the Hayes affair. It is proposed in Washington, he says, to wipe this revenue district out entirely by consolidating it with the Raleigh district and let the republican kickers take the bitter dose the best they can. The complaints from republicans of this district have been an eye sore to the different administrations for a number of years and now they intend to adopt heroic measures.

It is needless to say that the news is not joyfully received in local republican circles.

It is said that Eaves will be retained as deputy collector at Statesville.

Able to go to his Home.

Mr. John H. Scarborough, who was injured in the railroad wreck near Marshall recently, left for his home in Knoxville yesterday. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, R. G. Fulkerson, of Fazelwell, Tenn., and Mrs. Fulkerson. Mr. Scarborough is not entirely recovered but is doing well.

Died of Heart Disease.

Mrs. Wm. Davidson died at her home on the Swannanoa river, ten miles east of the city, yesterday morning. She was 70 years old and died of heart disease. The funeral was held at Swannanoa church this morning.

Hickory's Big Day.

HICKORY, July 3.—Prof. W. W. McEwen with his big balloon has just arrived and is making preparation for the ascension and parachute leap at the height of eight thousand feet at the fair grounds July 4.

To-morrow the postoffice will be open from 9 to 9:30 a. m. and from 6 to 6:30 p. m.

After the Fourth of July.

We put him to bed in his little nightgown. The worst battered youngster there was in the town: Yet he said as he opened his only well eye: "Rah, rah, for the jolly old Fourth of July!"

Two thumbs and eight fingers with him were first up. On his head was a bump like an upside down cap. And his smile was distorted, his nose all SWAY. From the joys of the glorious Fourth of July.

We were glad he had started abroad with the sun. And all day he had lived in the powder and fun. While the boom of the cannon roared up to the sky. To salute young America's Fourth of July.

I said, we were glad all the pieces were there. As we plastered and bound them with ten-foot care. And he murmured, as sleep closed his one open eye: "It to-morrow was only the Fourth of July!"

He will grow all together again, never fear. And be ready to celebrate freedom next year. Meanwhile, all his friends are most thankful A crackerless twelvemonth 'twixt Fourth of July.

We kissed him good night on his powder-speckled face. We laid his braided aunts softly down in their place. And he murmured, as sleep closed his one open eye: "I wish every day was the Fourth of July!" —New York Sun. —M. Phelps Dawson.

Proposition for a City Park.

The undersigned hereby most respectfully offers to the authorities of the city of Asheville, ninety acres of the Burnett land near Ramoth, including about twenty acres of the Woodfin mountain, with the electric cars running to the center of same for six per cent bonds. This is a rare opportunity of securing a most desirable plot of land and choice location for a park. Respectfully, J. B. Bostic.

Read the announcement of the sale of the Woodfin property on North Main street. This has been tastefully laid out into beautiful residence lots. The desirability of the location is too well known to need any comment. Monday, July 7, is the day.

Special prices to hotels and boarding houses in all lines at Brown & Thrash's under new opera house.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.

Several horses were killed by lightning at Danville, Ky.

Cotton prospects in South Carolina are the best for years.

Richmond, Va., contributes 250 to the European tourists this summer.

South Carolina is trying to organize a poultry and pet stock association.

In Danville, Va., only eight marriage licenses were issued during the month of June.

Richmond, Va., claims that 3,000 of its people were entirely overlooked in the census.

Chas. Devine, an 18 year old white boy, was run over and killed by a freight train near Bristol, Tenn.

Joe Lynch, colored, was drowned at Harrison, Tenn., while wading in the Emory river. He was drunk.

The annual convention of the Southern railway and Steamship association will be held in Atlanta Wednesday July 9.

C. C. Henderson, of Lancelton, N. C., was killed by W. E. Parker, of Greensbury, La., in a quarrel at McComb City, Miss.

Atlanta is threatened with an ice famine because the factories cannot obtain enough ammonia to carry on the manufacture.

Jos. Keith, town marshal of Childersburg, Ala., was shot and killed by an unknown negro tramp while trying to arrest him.

The supervisor of Knoxville estimates the population of the city at 33,000. If all the suburbs were added the population would be $45,900.

Gov. Fleming, of West Virginia, has withdrawn the rewards offered some time ago for the arrest of the members of Hatfield-McCoy vendetta party.

John Green took a dose of morphine for the purpose of ending his life at the Mountain Inn, where he was suffering from stomach trouble, but the doctors used the stomach pump and saved him.

Miss Mamie Rogers and Miss Queenie Woods, of Nashville, guests at the Look-out Mountain Inn, were robbed of diamonds worth $600. Their room was broken into.

A. W. Clocklett, a messenger boy of seventeen, employed by the Norfolk and Western Railroad company at Roanoke, Va., was thrown under the wheels while riding on a shifting engine and fatally injured.

Lightning set fire to the East Kentucky Normal College at Catlettsburg, Ky., and it was totally destroyed. Three young ladies were shocked by the lightning, and one of them, Miss Calla May, partially paralyzed.

Mrs. Mary Swann, a widow living near Franklin, Ky., killed herself by taking an overdose of laudanum. It was the second attempt at suicide she had made within a year and it is the general belief that her mind is impaired.

It is now thought that a cave under the building was the cause of the collapse of Briscoe's block at Knoxville. The theory has a great many believers for the workmen found difficulty in getting a solid base when work was begun.

While the people of the North, writes a Georgia editor, are sweltering in the heat, we are sitting under our own vine and fig tree, with a watermelon on one side, a jug of cider on the other, four miles from a railroad station and seventy-five miles from our mother in law.

A passenger and a construction train collided between Augusta and Greenwood, S. C., on the Port Royal and Western North Carolina railroad and Fireman Andrews was fatally hurt. A number of passengers received injuries. The wreck is described as a complete one.

Warrenton Georgia's bearded woman, Miss Eliza Pinson, died recently, aged 40 years. For half of her life she has worn a black beard fifteen inches long. Miss Pinson was often approached by showmen but refused all of their offers and lived in retirement in her country home. She never married.

In the mane of a horse which was sold at the Buffalo, N. Y., market was found a note which read: "This is Maud Sherman. Treat her kindly. She is a real lady's horse, kind to ride or drive, and is quiet. She was born in old Virginia, and driven from there to Cordington, O., and has been my riding horse for several years. Please be good to her." It was signed Annie Sherman.

The Norfolk and Western railroad have adopted a shrewd plan. They have been fined for running their freight trains on Sunday but the law does not apply to perishable freight. They now evade the law by putting one or two car loads of perishable freight on the train, and in that way are enabled to carry as much other freight on Sunday as they desire, without being molested by the law.

At Wheeling, West Virginia, an electrical storm lasting an hour passed over the city. The telephone exchange was so damaged that it will be ten days before it can be used. The People's bank was struck by lightning but the fire was extinguished without any particular damage. Ten thousand people who were watching the annual parade of the American glass blowers union were exposed to its fury.

As the result of the shooting match near Coates, Ga., between M. E. Davis, a merchant, and Robert Earnes, a farmer, Davis is dying and Earnes a fugitive. Davis, accompanied by friends, accosted Earnes, who was working in his field, demanding a retraction of the report that he, Davis, had been instrumental in having Earnes' barn fired. Earnes replied that he had charged and believed it. Each man drew his pistol, but Earnes got the first shot, his bullet passing through his opponents stomach. Davis fired as he fell, but the shot was a wild one.

Mr. Sam Landrum, of Princeton, Ky., went away to St. Louis after a burglar who had robbed his house and got his money. In less than two hours after the discovery of the robbery, Mr. Landrum had a description of the stolen articles traveling in all directions. At Paducah some of the articles were secured, but the thief was allowed to escape. St. Louis authorities were notified that he was coming in that direction and to be on the lookout. He was found there and Mr. Landrum identified his property and drew from the burglar a full confession after he had stubbornly refused to talk to the St. Louis people. The burglar gives as his name John Vance.

ANTIMIGRAINE.

—THE— NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.

TRADE MARK REGISTERED.

ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.

Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.

ANTIMIGRAINE Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTIPIRINE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE. Since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache. If taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms, but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
