THE DAILY CITIZEN.

FACTS AND COMMENTS.

CHICAGO HAS women who make shirts for 75 cents a dozen and children who work twelve hours a day for $1 a week.

Sam Jones says if he doesn't get to heaven he will be one of the worst disappointed men on earth. The New York Sun wonders how this disappointment can take place on earth and Samuel has not explained.

IT WOULD seem as if the old saw that riches would not buy happiness has some foundation. It has been demonstrated in at least three cases during the past week by the suicide of bankers. Reuben McComber, of Kalamazoo, worth $50,000, hung himself. Nicholas Gratian von Barnhart, of Pittsburgh, secretary and treasurer of the People's Saving bank, shot himself. The third victim was H. H. Passmore, cashier of the Security Savings bank of Toconoma.

SIXTEEN years ago W. J. Appleby was the rejected suitor of a woman who afterwards became the wife of L. S. Farnham. The couple live at Nantucket, Massachusetts, and have a daughter fourteen years old. A few days ago Appleby returned and tried to drown the girl in the sea. She was a good swimmer and managed to swim to the shore. While he was struggling with his victim he exclaimed, "If I cannot have your mother's life I will have yours."

GOVERNOR NICHOLS, of Louisiana, has given another black eye to the lottery by refusing to sign the bill sent him by the house. He is certainly deserving of the commendation of all good people, especially when it is he alone who has to the end remained faithful to his promise. The reason for his action, he says, is in his message to the general assembly at the opening of the present term when he referred at length to the question, the liability of its coming up and of the reason why it should be rejected. Since that time he says he has not changed his mind. In this letter he differs materially from a number of the members who have changed their minds for a money consideration.

IN signing the bill for the admission of Idaho President Harrison has made himself party to one of the greatest political steals that has ever been known in the United States. With Wyoming it makes two new rotten boroughs, the population of both not being large enough to legally admit one state. The reason that they are in is of course to bolster up the G. O. P. which is now on its last legs and needs nourishing.

Together the new states will send six representatives to congress, four senators and two congressmen. It is needless to say that all of these will be republican. If there had been any doubt Idaho would not have been admitted, nor would Wyoming.

The logic of the scheme is obvious. If the republican party loses the house, as the leaders fear unless Reed's election law works as intended, it will still have the senate by reason of the admission of the new states, so that even if the democrats win the house and the presidency they will not be able to repeal republican partisan legislation for the next ten years, at least.

Figures do not lie. In 1888 the first congressional district of New York cast nearly 25,000 more votes than the two new states cast together. The second district cast 8,000 more, the third 16,000 more, the fourth about 2,000 more. And so it goes. Even in the rural districts of New York the votes in a congressional district were about equal to the aggregate vote of the two new states. And yet the 200,000 people represented by Mr. Covert, of the first district of New York, have one member of Congress, while the 105,000 people of Wyoming and Idaho will have four senators and two representatives.

In the year 1888 the state of Ohio cast 775,721 votes for president. Wyoming cast 18,010 for delegate in congress, and Idaho 16,013. Ohio's 775,721 voters will have two senators. The 34,023 voters of the two new states will have four senators. The state of Rhode Island, the smallest in the old union, cast nearly 10,000 more votes than the two new states put together, and has about twice the population.

So Idaho and Wyoming with populations ridiculously small when compared to the older states are to have more representatives in proportion than any of those. But they will do the part that is intended of them.

That is the reason a republican congress and president have admitted to the sisterhood two states that will have a power in the senate of a state with fifty times the population of both and with thirty-four times the representation of either. The whole is one infamous steal. It cannot be censured too harshly. It is just about what one would expect of a republican congress and president.

In pursuance of a call for a county convention made through the chairman of the democratic committee of the county for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent this county in the judicial convention to be held at Charleston on the 24th inst. and at Raleigh on the 20th of August prox., a convention of the Asheville township is hereby called to meet at the court house on Saturday, the 12th inst. at 12 o'clock, to which all the democrats of the township are requested and urged to attend to select delegates to represent this township in said convention, which is to meet at Asheville on the 19th day of the present month.

By the committee.
THOS. A. JONES, Chairman.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 9.—The Twenty-Eighth University convention of the State of New York is in progress in the senate chamber. Chancellor George William Curtis will deliver his inaugural address this evening. The gathering will be in session two days.

D. M. Harris in Trouble.

NASHVILLE, July 9.—Rev. D. M. Harris, D. D., editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued at the instance of Grace Benjamin, who charged him with assault and battery. The woman is an inmate of a house of ill fame and charges that the doctor assaulted her upon her demanding $100 which she claims he owed her. Dr. Harris tells a story of how while passing the house, one of the inmates stole his hat, making him go into the house after it. There he says he gave $100 to regain his head covering but that since then she has demanded more. He claims that the whole is a deliberate blackmailing scheme. The affair has created considerable of a sensation.

THE FARMERS THREATEN.

What the "Progressive Farmer" Will Have to Say.

A dispatch from Raleigh states that the Farmers' Alliance organ in North Carolina will, in its leading editorial, attack Senator Vance for his letter to Elias Carr, president of the State alliance, regarding the sub-treasury bill and declining to support it. It will say, and its declarations will surely cause a stir: "Senator Vance may have underestimated the strength of the alliance. Men living right here in the State have done this. He may think he can ignore its demands, but he will find it contains more than 'one third' of the backbone of the State. Senator Vance is a brainy man, but we contend that the thousands of alliance men in North Carolina know a thing or two. He would have us believe that he knows more than the hundreds of intelligent farmers from twenty-three States, who met in St. Louis last September. The farmers of North Carolina pay Senator Vance. It is his business to work for them. Whether the measures are constitutional or not, he should do it, and if the bill is not in proper shape, he should have gone to work and put it in shape. If he is not willing to serve the people, we want to know it. We can't afford to pay men $8,000 per annum, and then allow them to put up their brains against the entire State. The moral of it all is this: We must go back to the old way of electing farmers to congress and the United States senate. It becomes more and more apparent that those we call our friends are our enemies. Begin this year, delays are dangerous."

A clip of wool weighing 17 pounds is being exhibited at Albany, Ga.

The Death Watch Begins.

Special to THE CITIZEN.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 9.—A death watch was this morning placed over Armistead Jones, the sixteen year old murderer of his stepmother. The hanging will take place Friday at Orangeburg. The Governor has refused to commute the sentence.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.

John T. Ball, one of the founders of Meridian Miss., is dead.

A wind and rain storm did much damage in New Orleans Monday.

The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia has leased the Louisville Southern railroad.

Miss Winnie Davis, the daughter of the Confederate president, has returned from Europe to New York.

Thirty rows of cotton thirty feet long were burned by a fire ball at East Dougherty county, Ga.

Senator Wade Hampton, who has been stamping South Carolina, has returned to Washington.

P. J. Jackson, who is supposed to have murdered William Youngblood at Huntsville, Ala., has been arrested.

There is a movement in Chattanooga to have the city authorities manufacture the ice used in that city.

Gov. Nichols of Louisiana has returned the lottery bill to the house of representatives without his approval.

Rome, Ga., says that Atlanta is boasting her census by the addition of the names of guests at the hotels.

George Dugger accidentally shot and badly hurt his daughter, Nellie Dugger, at his home near Chattanooga.

Mayor Ellyson, who is a delegate to the peace conference to be held at London, has sailed for Liverpool on the Umbria.

Judge D. L. Snodgrass of the supreme court of Tennessee was hit on the head with a rock and badly injured, in Chattanooga.

General E. T. Stackhouse, president of the 1030 South Carolina Farmers Alliance is a candidate for congress from his district.

The official census shows up the twin Bristols with a total population of 6,691 souls. Bristol, Tenn., has 3,742, and Bristol, Va., 2,949.

A negro man supposed to be Bob Brewer the notorious outlaw who shot a deputy sheriff at Boardman, has been arrested near Live Oak, Fla.

Hon. Beverly Tucker, consul to Liverpool under President Buchanan and well known in the South, died at Richmond. He was 70 years old.

Bud Lowndesberry shot and killed J. M. Ingraham and wounded J. K. Garrett near Milligan, Fla., over a game of cards. Lowndesberry escaped.

A negro giving his name as Williams had been arrested in Knoxville, suspected of having been the one who stole the diamonds at the Lookout House in Chattanooga.

Archbishop Janssens, of New Orleans, is on a visit to the Northern States. On July 4 he was right royally entertained at the Catholic school at Notre Dame, Ind.

W. L. Tarpley stood on the platform of a train at Montgomery, Ala., until he fell off and under the wheels. His right arm was badly mangled and from the amputation he died.

Dock Thomas, a colored man living near Albany, Ga., has lost but one half day's work in ten years. Then he was forced to leave the field because it was too wet to plow.

James Hamill has been found guilty of the murder of Policeman John Maguire at Mobile, Alabama, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. It is the first time in years that so heavy a sentence has been passed.

The Atlanta city council has passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a woman to enter a barroom in that city. The fine for both the barkeeper and the woman violating the law is placed at a $100 limit.

Four men entered the cage of the shaft at Menominee, Va., when it suddenly fell to the bottom of the mine, a distance of 140 feet. Ed. Painter, John Montgomery and Lips Seal were instantly killed. Floga Marion was probably fatally wounded.

Jack Moore, a section foreman, was run over and killed by a train on the Columbus & Western road, near Birmingham, Ala. The tracks of the Georgia, Florida and Alabama and Western roads are close together at that point. Moore heard a train approaching and thinking it was on the other track just in time to be killed.

Rev. E. E. Harding, of Cartersville, Ga., who has been engaged in taking the census, has found a monstrosity in the seventeenth district. It is a boneless child, about twelve years old—a male—never has spoken a word, walked a step, or eaten a bite that his mother has not chewed for him. He is the son of John Stockman, of Euharlee, and weighs only about twenty pounds.

A dispatch from Nashville, Tennessee, states that trouble with negroes in that town is apprehended. Mr. T. J. Pence was shot and dangerously wounded by a negro who accused him of following him. On Thursday a secret society negro hucked a farmer's nose with a sword without provocation, and Saturday a colored military company took possession of the streets, insulting everybody who failed to make way for them. They charged the motor man on an electric car with bayonets, and held up numerous parties in vehicles.

As the time draws near interest in the great Loughran auction sale increases. Everybody is talking of it and why should they not? It is the first time in the history of Asheville that such valuable business and residence lots have been offered at auction. Property so near to the city is now nearly all in the hands of moneyed men who are holding and will keep it for years to come.

Here is an opportunity for you to get a desirable lot near the city and in the course of a few months to dispose of it at a good advance. If you do not care to sell, hold on to it, it will pay better interest than bank stock. It is a better investment. You don't make any mistake in buying land at the Loughran auction. It is a safe investment that will pay you well.

Remember the date, July 16. Just one week from to-day.

ANTIMIGRAINE.

NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.

TRADE MARK REGISTERED.

ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.

Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.

ANTIMIGRAINE Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache, if taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms; but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
