THE DAILY CITIZEN.
FACTS AND COMMENTS.
THE attack of the Progressive Farmer on Senator Vance which appeared in the last issue of that paper has called forth comments from nearly all of the state papers and it is worthy of note that not one of them has yet been found that voices the sentiments of the organ which pretends to champion the cause of the alliance. The State Chronicle heartily condemns the article editorially and in its local columns has an interview with J. L. Ramsey, the associate editor of the Farmer, who was responsible for the editorial. He attempts to erasewish out of nearly every accusation made in the attack, and in the truth were now known he no doubt regrets that he ever allowed it to see print. But the harm has been done. It has gone forth that the Progressive Farmer, the organ of the alliance, is opposed to the re-election of Senator Vance and even should a retraction be made it could not be as widely circulated as was the former.
The fact is the North Carolina farmer never had a truer, more faithful friend than Senator Vance. He has made it his business to interest himself particularly in legislation that would be to their interest and benefit. He is the greatest exponent of low tariff in congress. He has never failed to work for a measure that would reduce taxation; he never failed to work and vote for a measure that would put more money in circulation and he is the avowed enemy of the trust and monopoly, the greatest enemy of the North Carolina farmer—qualities often tested and in which they have never been found wanting—and, while we become sick at heart and indignant at the efforts of designing men to dupe them, we reflect again that their good sense in their sure protection against those who profess friendship for them and seeking to stir them up against old friends, are only trying to make tools of them, and that their proverbial conservatism is an assurance that they will do nothing rashly.
And so it is with every paper. They have only words of condemnation for the uncalled for attack of the Farmer.
The Manufacturers' Record of July 12 says: "The past week has been a noted one for the activity in the organization of gigantic industrial enterprises, the magnitude of which overshadows the many smaller concerns that would otherwise command much attention. In Alabama, Tredgair leads with a contract for the building there of a great furnace and steel plant to include rolling mill, steel mill, &c., and to employ, when fully completed, about 3,000 hands; Birmingham has a new $1,000,000 coal and iron making company. Georgia shows for the week a $150,000 ore mining company, a $100,000 land and lumber company, a $30,000 clothing manufacturing company, a $6,000,000 gold mining company, and $40,000 phosphate mining company to operate in Florida. At Ocala, Fla., an $800,000 company has been organized to mine and manufacture fertilizers. Kentucky had for the week a $2,000,000 iron and coal company and a $500,000 land improvement company. In Southwest Virginia the great activity previously reported continues. At Rich-lands Pennsylvania capitalists will build $500,000 iron pipe work and at Radford iron men from the State will erect two furnaces, a rolling mill, bar, bolt and rail mill, &c., while at Ivanhoe a $500,000 company will build extensive zinc works. While these great concerns are being put into shape the organization of smaller enterprises, such as woodworking mills, brick yards, ice factories, foundries and machine shops, goes steadily on. In every direction there is solid growth and increasing prosperity, based on the utilization of the unequalled natural resources of this favored section. The second half of 1890 bids fair to show a degree of activity that would have been deemed almost impossible even twelve or eighteen months ago."
CONGRESSMAN Ewart, of Asheville, says he is opposed to the national election law, but adds: "If our caucus decides to pass it, of course I shall not desert my party."—CITIZEN May 29.

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.
Explorer Tennant and Miss Tennant Married To-Day.
Special To The Citizen.
LONDON, July 12.—At noon to-day the great African Explorer Henry M. Stannley was married to Miss Dorothy Tennant in Westminster Abbey. The officiating clergymen were the Bishop of Ripon, the master of the temple and the dean of Westminster. Fully a thousand specially invited guests filled the area in front of the chancel while the North transept, for which tickets had been issued to the general public, was filled to suffocation. Millias, the artist, was present, as Miss Tennant desired him to paint the scene, bringing in the picture the hundred street arabs who occupied a corner of the abbey. They were Miss Tennant's charity pupils. Stanley received his bride from the hands of Charles Combe Tennant, the only brother. The bridesmaids, Sylvia Myers and Miss Finlay, wore Stanley's presents, crystal lockets surrounded with pearls and turquoises. The honeymoon will be spent in Melchet Park, Ramsey, Hauts. Mrs. Stanley's traveling dress is dove colored crepe de chine, embroidered with silver. The wedding presents are valued at one hundred thousand pounds. Sir William MacKinnon sent a diamond tiara. Mr. Stanley's presents to his bride are a magnificent diamond star and diamond brooch.

PERSONAL.
General Mahone has gone entirely out of politics and into mining, railroad and land speculation. He will invest heavily in land in Tazewell county, Virginia, and in McDowell county, West Virginia.
Robert J. Pemberton, known as the greatest gambler that Kentucky ever produced, recently died at Louisville at the age of 71 years. Once on a steamboat trip from Louisville to New Orleans he won $15,000 at draw-poker.
Wednesday July 16th will be a red letter day in the history of Asheville. On that day all of that valuable piece of land lying directly in front of the site for the Inman hotel will be sold at public auction. The sale will put upon the market some of the most valuable property to be found around the city. In fact it is the most valuable property lying so near to the court house that will be offered for sale for some time to come. It is but a few minutes walk from the court house. It is on the car line and has every advantage possessed by any property in Asheville.
But it is needless to dwell on the particular advantages of this property. Every reader observer notices it. They cannot help but see the value of this property for an investment. Wednesday July 16th is the day.

A STUPENDOUS FARCE.
Asheville's Population Placed at Ten Thousand.
The census of Asheville will be completed to-night. Deputy Supervisor Morris estimates the population at 10,000. With all due respect to the gentleman who says that he thinks it is very accurate THE CITIZEN cannot believe that it is anywhere near correct.
At the lowest estimate Asheville should show 12,000 population.
Several times THE CITIZEN has called the attention of the people of the city to the importance of seeing that their name is on the list. It does so again. If you have not been seen call at the supervisor's office before Monday night and give in your name. The enumerators will be there to receive it.
Do not neglect this call. It is of the utmost importance that Asheville give a letter and a fairer showing in the coming census.

ANTIMIGRAINE.
—THE—
NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.
TRADE MARK REGISTERED.
ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.
Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.
ANTIMIGRAINE Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.
For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTIPIRYNE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE, since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.
The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.
The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of headache, if taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms; but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
