THE DAILY CITIZEN.

FACTS AND COMMENTS.
A short time ago an editorial appeared in the Atlanta Constitution advocating the boycotting of northern merchants by the south, in case the Force Bill was passed. It was at once commented upon by the northern press and none of the papers could but admit that the threat would not be without effect, and that if the bill were passed and the plan as proposed were carried out it would be a severe blow at the business centers of the north and one that might alone make the law a dead letter. On Sunday another editorial appeared in the Constitution on the same subject. It quotes from the northern papers that commented on its first and speaks again of its determination to advocate such steps in case the law is passed.

"By way of giving due notice," it says, "let us say right here that when the wires flash the tidings that the president has signed the force bill the Constitution will instantly call a mass meeting to organize a Home Rule League. It will be the most determined gathering of people ever seen in Georgia's capital, and its action will be spontaneous, unanimous, and as speedy as the five thunder when it leaps from its home in the burning ether."
"The boycott, with every white man, woman and child in the South behind it, will be mightier than all the armies whose marching feet once shook this continent from sea to sea. With this peaceful weapon in their hands all the hosts that hate us cannot prevail against us."
"Men of the north, do you comprehend the full meaning and scope of this vast movement? The Atlanta meeting will be followed by similar meetings in every county from Maryland to Texas. Home Rule Leagues will be organized everywhere in the south, and the members will pledge themselves to buy not a dollar's worth of anything that is produced or manufactured in the north. Commercially speaking, an impassable barrier will rise between the sections. All the benefit will be on one side, and all the loss on the other. The necessity of the case—the home demand—will, as was the case in the blockade days during the war, stimulate the growth of every southern industry. Manufacturers will spring up everywhere. Our farmers, instead of buying corn and meat from the west, will raise their supplies at home, and our dream of self-sustaining, diversified agriculture will become a fact. Our long delayed direct trade with Europe will come with a rush and the flags of all nations will flutter in southern harbors. Paralysis will seize the congested capital, the industries, the commerce and the railway lines running from the north to the south, and hundreds of thousands of desperate and idle workmen in the great cities of the north and west will hereby turn upon society and raise the cry: "bread or blood!"

A PATHETIC STORY comes by way of Pesh and tells of a band of gypsies who were soliciting alms near Torak Bets when one of the peasant women whom they met spoke to them. Immediately a little girl of five years, blind and half starved, cried out: "Mother, oh, mother, come to me!" The woman started and screaming, "My child! my child!" rushed to the little girl, tore her ragged dress open and showed a birthmark which she recognized as having been on the breast of her baby daughter stolen from her a year ago. The gypsies, says the dispatch, had put out the child's eyes to prevent her recognizing her mother or friends. The peasants, enraged, would have lynched the gypsies but for the interference of the gendarmes, who took the band to prison for examination.

It is just such stories as these that make the newspapers which print them ridiculous. The convenient strawberry mark plot has been worn threadbare, and what a band of gypsies could possibly want of a blind peasant girl goes just a little beyond the realm of sense. The whole story only leads to one conclusion—the hours are not all dead yet.

To be Begun Soon.

A joint meeting of the stockholders and board of directors of the Asheville Park and Hotel Company was held at the National Bank of Asheville yesterday afternoon. The president, V. E. McLee, was absent and Dr. S. W. Battle, vice-president, presided. The plans for the hotel, submitted by the architects in New York were discussed. The architect will be here soon to explain them and to take active steps toward beginning work.
Dr. Battle says he thinks the plans will be adopted, as all directors are well pleased. The election of the board of directors, C. D. Blanton and J. G. Martin being added to the list. The board is composed of V. E. McLee, S. W. Battle, W. T. Pennington, M. J. Fagg, A. B. Andrews, W. M. Hazzard, A. J. Lyman, W. B. Gwyn, C. D. Blanton and I. G. Martin.

All the stock that it is deemed advisable to sell here has been taken, and the remainder will be sold to northern parties. The prospectus of the company will be out in a few days.

A Clever Scheme.

A Birmingham, Ala. special dispatch to the Chattanooga Times says:
A lady registered a letter containing $50 at the postoffice this morning and then dropped it in the box. It was addressed to G. M. Bishop, Asheville. A few minutes later a well-dressed young man appeared at the window and stated that a lady had just mailed a letter to G. M. Bishop, Asheville, and wanted to get it out as she had made a mistake in the address. The clerk suspected something wrong and told the man to come back in half an hour. He came back and a detective in waiting arrested him. He gave his name as J. E. Bird, and finally admitted that he had not been sent for the letter and had no right to it.
The same trick was tried successfully here some time ago and the postoffice clerk thinks Bird is the man who did it. He is a stranger here.

Important Rehearsal.

The regular rehearsal of the chorus of "Patience" will be held to-night in the new opera house, Patton avenue and Church street, instead of the Carolina club rooms.

BRIGHT BOOMING MARION.

What That Rising Young Town is Doing.
MARION, N. C., July 22, 1890.
Twelve months ago this town had a population numbering scarcely 800, now it has 1,500 people who claim residence within its gates, and it is rapidly coming to the front. It is located twenty-four miles from Asheville about the same altitude and is like the Queen City of the mountains, a health and pleasure resort.

Just now Marion is on a boom. Auction sales of lots are being held, property is selling rapidly and everything around denotes activity and life. Thousands of dollars are being spent in improvements. At present preparations are being made for a dummy line. Bridges are being put in, grading done, and the thirty-five pound steel rails, dummies and cars are on their way here. North of the town Blocker & Co. are erecting charcoal pits and furnaces for the working of the best semer iron ore.
The three C's railroad has let the contract for the building of bridges over the Western North Carolina and their addition to Marion. At present the road is within twelve miles of the town and will reach here not later than August 10th. The town is putting $10,000 into street improvements and besides this the four different land companies are spending several thousand dollars, each, grading the streets in their addition.
On Saturday last the Augusta Marion improvement company was incorporated with an capital stock of $60,000. C. E. Walker is president, and James Fleming secretary and treasurer. The company has purchased from the Old North State land company eighty acres at the head of Main street for $60,000. The company will at once begin the improvement of their property and will erect a magnificent hotel on the site and make other improvements.

A Mr. Roberts, of Savannah, Ga., has located the site for a wood manufacturing enterprise and will employ 100 hands or more. A new bank is to be established in a few days. A gold mining company has been formed of Boston capitalists representing $1,000,000 worth of property and incorporated under the name of Iddel mining company. Their property lies on or twelve miles south of the city. Work on the development of their property will be begun at once. A syndicate of Marion people have bought the Teague mill and will improve and put in new machinery. There is talk of an electric light plant.

Swam to Escape.

John Lett, Charles Miller and Thomas Jordan had a fight with Lee Hyde and A. A. Linn, who work at Vanderbilt's, Sunday afternoon in which Lett received three painful wounds on the head, inflicted by a rock. Officers McDowell and Hunter went after Lett, Miller and Jordan Monday afternoon, and found them near the railroad trestle, across the French Broad river. The men were opposed to being arrested and tried to get away, and Lett and Miller jumped into the river to swim away. They finally came out because of the cold temperature of the water, and were arrested. Jordan, when approached by the policemen, pulled a pistol from his pocket and said he would not be arrested. He was subdued by the sight of the officers' pistols and were taken in. The prisoners were to have had a hearing this morning but it was postponed until to-morrow at 10 a. m.

The Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Asheville and Craggy Mountain railway held yesterday in the city, W. B. Gwyn was elected president, H. L. Taylor, vice president, Wm. W. West, secretary and treasurer. J. B. Bostic, D. C. Waddell, H. L. Taylor, Wm. W. West and W. B. Gwyn were elected directors. The stockholders, so far, are C. E. Graham, W. B. Gwyn, W. W. West, C. T. C. Deane, J. H. Lee, H. L. Taylor, D. C. Waddell, J. B. Bostic, M. E. Carter, and E. T. Clemmons. Over $28,000 of stock has been already taken and the books will be open for a few days at the office of Gwyn & West. Engineers will begin the location of the line next week and work will be commenced as soon as this is done, and will probably connect with the Asheville street railway.

The Lyceum Last Night.

"Can a man hold to the tenets of the Roman Catholic religion and be a loyal American citizen?" was the subject for discussion at the Lyceum last night. Col. V. S. Lusk, made the opening speech and took the ground that a man cannot be loyal to both. He was followed by Messrs. Shepard and Jeanneret, who took the same side of the question and Messrs. Jno. Donohue, T. R. Gaines, Wm. Ward, T. C. Westall and Peter Connolly, who took the other side and maintained that a man can be loyal to both the church and the union.

Teachers' Council.

The Buncombe county teachers' council will meet Saturday, August 2, in the Orange street school at 11 a. m. An effort will be made to get some of the teachers of the inter-state normal school to give lectures. Every teacher is invited to be present.

Trying to Catch the Alliance.

Special to The Citizen.
St. Paul, July 23.—To-morrow the State republican convention will assemble here. Fully five hundred politicians have arrived and a dicker is being made with the Farmers' Alliance. Merriam will be nominated for governor.

The Newton Begun.

Special to The Citizen.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 23.—The Illinois legislature convened here to-day in special session. An amendment will be submitted permitting the city of Chicago to issue $5,000,000 in bonds in aid of the World's Fair and to pass the necessary legislation to permit the use of public grounds for the exposition and to vest the power of eminent domain in that city during the fair.

To the Silver Lake Assembly.

Special to The Citizen.
New York, July 23.—Mrs. U. S. Grant, General and Mrs. O. C. Howard, Commander and Mrs. Clarkson, Chaplain McCabe and Rev. Dr. A. J. Palmer left in a special car on the Erie road this morning to attend the Silver Lake Assembly. This is Grand Army day at that gathering and fully twenty thousand people are in attendance.

Set Fire to a Town.

Special to The Citizen.
BOSTON, July 23.—Lida La Montague, wanted at Waltham, Que., for attempting to set the town on fire, is having a hearing to-day. In all probability she will be extradited.
THE SUNNY SOUTH.
Charlotte has exactly 11,529 residents. A white buzzard was recently seen flying over Durham.
Green Cove Springs, Florida, had a $60,000 fire recently.
Winston amateurs are going to produce the chimes of Normandy.
Jack Smith, a Jellico miner, was killed at that place by a freight train.
In West Virginia the prohibitionists are talking of joining hands with the republicans.
Atlanta has secured a night service for the postoffice, and the office will be kept open all night hereafter.
Joe Mason, a Memphis bar keeper, had his skull crushed in by a beer glass thrown by a drunken man.
Philip Barnaker, a puddler working in the iron mills at Birmingham, Ala., suicided with morphine after a week's spree.
Lightning struck the Crown cotton mills at Dalton, Ga., and they were destroyed along with 300 bales of cotton.
A man was drowned in Cartersville, Ga., while bathing, but he had changed his name so often that it is not known who he was.
The Mary Pratt iron furnace at Birmingham, Ala., one of the best paying and most valuable in the South, is to be sold at auction.
Dr. R. C. Ward, a prominent physician, of Decatur, Ga., and professor in the Southern medical college at Atlanta, died at the latter city.
Grace Benjamin and Alice Grayson, who instigated the suit against Rev. Dr. D. M. Harris at Nashville, have plumed their wings and flown away.
An item going the rounds places the population of Mobile at 25,000 and the gulf city vigorously and pointedly objects. Its population is 31,000.
Deputy United States Marshal W. P. Charleston was severely wounded in Bibb county, Ga., while attempting to arrest two moonshiners. The men escaped.
A. Rinaldi, of Orlando, Fla., has one of the oldest coins in that city. It is a 25 cent coin of a Spanish denomination dated in 1773, and is worth considerable as a relic.
Sardis, Mississippi, has received a consignment of liquors in the original package. The best people of the town are protesting against the sale of the stuff and will fight to the bitter end.
Will Jones, a mail carrier on the Roanoke and Rock Mills route, in Alabama, rifled the mail bags and succeeded in getting away with several hundred dollars. He has been arrested in Elizabeth, N. V.
A San Francisco correspondent writes that the mantle of the late Wm. W. Greedy has fallen on the shoulders of Rev. Thomas Dixon, jr., the North Carolina divine who is creating so much of a stir in the North.
A negro in the neighborhood of Hollen-ville, a suburb of Griffin, Ga., went to town and spent all his money for a Winchester rifle, and at night, while showing the little negroes how it worked, shot his left hand completely off.
Zachary Bray, of Calhoun, Ga., 40 years of age, committed suicide by shooting himself in the chest. He was accustomed to drinking heavily and often suffered from temporary insanity. It is supposed that was the cause.
P. M. Wilson, commissioner of immigration for North Carolina, has resigned. The office is now vacant. His resignation was tendered at the last meeting of the agricultural board. His successor will doubtless be elected at the next meeting of that body.
Columbia, S. C., has been shamefully treated by the census enumerators and the people are up in arms. The mayor, a live, progressive man, has issued a call for all who have been overlooked to report at once and the complaints are more than pouring in.
Rev. Dr. D. C. Kelly, of Gallatin, Tenn., who cannot be both preacher and politician because his preaching elicits his aid him nay, will give the former and next Monday will begin his canvass of the State as the nominee of the prohibition party for governor.
Two hundred drunken negroes rioted in Hell's Half Acre in Nashville and two policemen attempted to quiet the disturbance. One was severely cut with a razor, the other barely escaped with his life. The attention of "Col." Shepherd is respectfully called to this Southern outrage.
During a discussion in a court room at Petersburg, Va., between a leading lawyer named McKenney and Henry Collier, the latter called the governor a liar and was slapped in the mouth for his pains. Then the judge took a hand in the proceedings and fined the mayor $25 and McKenney $10.
Down in Florida a negro tried to steal a ride on the cowhunter. The engineer did not see him until the train ran into a cow on the track, when the cow flew one side and the negro on the other, exclaiming "Oh lordy!" forty times before he hit the ground. He was left to keep the bovine company.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ANTIMIGRAINE.

—THE—
NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.
TRADE MARK REGISTERED.
ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.
Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.

Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTIPIRYNE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE. Since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.
The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache, if taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms, but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
