To-Day's Session.

The second day's session of the W. C. T. U. Assembly opened promptly at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Mary Woody, president of North Carolina W. C. T. U., conducted the devotional exercises, reading the third chapter of Colossians, and leading in prayer. At 9:30 Miss Gordon conducted the first class in juvenile work. She related that the first impulse toward the crusade was given by a young girl, May Thompson, of Hillsboro, daughter of Mrs. Judge, the mother of the crusade. The first young woman's organization was made in 1879 in Indianapolis, Ind. Miss Gordon advocated strongly that the girl's organizations should take up active work in the world's humanities. Beside their social work, in which their influence is most powerful, the daughters stand side by side with the mother in the family life, and the husband and son cannot long range themselves opposite. The speaker said that it was through Mrs. Barnes, the national superintendent of the "Y's" in England, that Lady Somerset, who succeeded Mrs. Bright Lucas as president of the British W. C. T. U., had taken charge of the "Y" work in England.

The speaker began by saying, he had been at the opening exercises of many Chautauquas of the W. C. T. U. and expressed himself as being glad to be at this initial meeting. In the beginning he asked the question: "What is a W. C. T. U. Assembly?"

I doubt if any one in the room can give a definition as clear as it will be given by the time this Assembly closes, he said. It is the summing up of all that is good and pure in religious life. As I have been for years connected with Chautauquas, I will say that my relation to the work is pleasant and I have found that the foundation of all successful and profitable educational work must be Christianity. I have so far broken with the traditions of education as to stand possibly alone—I cannot tell and it does not matter—in contending that a Christian education should be based upon Christian ideals, ideals and truths. I wish to say this, that every idea found in the word of God is worthy to be found in a Christian education.

The noontide hour of prayer was conducted by Miss Willard, after which Mrs. H. B. Kells made a few remarks on the value of the press in W. C. T. U. work.
