During the month of August we want to close out everything we have in the line of Summer Goods. We are going to buy a big stock for the Fall and Winter and we want no money locked up in Goods to carry over. We have some beautiful patterns in Flouncings and Allovers that we will sell so cheaply that it would be economy to buy even for next Summer, as one cannot have too many White Dresses. If you need a Blanket or a Comfort these cool nights you can find what you want at our place. A new line of Gingham in Fall Shades have just come in, and are going to besold very low, as is our habit with all our Goods. We have about six Ice Cream Freezers of the season's lot; they will besold very low. You can still buy Croquet Sets and Hammocks of us cheaper than anybody else. Our Store is headquarters for all sorts of Housekeeping conveniences of which we ask an inspection.

Come to see us before you buy Shoes of any kind and you will save money. Everything at lowest prices at

That part of the editorial that is not devoted to THE CITIZEN is of course complimentary to Mr. Ewart for the position he has taken on the federal election law and from a hasty examination we are led to believe that it is the Times' idea to have Mr. Ewart nominated on the republican ticket on a democratic platform, and so run him as to catch all the straggling votes. If that is not it we beg to be informed, for that certainly is the impression he leaves.

Another party is said to be preparing to shift its center into the political ring. The first steps were taken at a convention held at Lansing, Mich., by the patrons of industry, union labor party and prohibitionists, in the interest of fusion. A dispatch from that city states that the move is of more than State importance, because this fusion is predicted by the delegates, means a new national party. The dispatch says the republican party, the dominant party in Michigan, are honestly and outspokenly frightened at the outlook. The prohibitionists would not give up their stand on the liquor question. The new party is as yet without a name. The platform as reported from the committee declares in favor of progressive politics, the Australian ballot system, the election of President, Vice President and Senators by the direct vote of the people, no disfranchisement on account of sex, the limitation of the private and corporate ownership of lands, the governmental control of the telegraph, telephone and railway systems, such a tariff as is necessary to raise revenue sufficient to carry on the affairs of government on an economic basis, and that tax to be levied so as to be least burdensome to the laborer and producer. It also favors the free coinage of silver and the increase of currency to meet the demands of business, all money to be issued by the general government and to be full legal tender for all debts, and also to be loaned to the people by the government at a low rate of interest. In general terms it declares against trusts and combines and monopolies in every form, and demands State and national laws so adjusted that all producers shall receive a just and fair proportion of the results of their labor.

THE DAILY CITIZEN.

FACTS AND COMMENTS.

It is a pleasure to announce that greatest of all American idiots "Col." Eliot P. Shepard has gone to the mountains for the summer. Now if he could only be induced to stay there it would be a matter for general rejoicing.

It is a fact worthy of note that the only time since October, 1887, that the moon has been full twice in one month was during July, and that, too, while the W. C. T. U. was holding its meeting here. It is to be hoped that Luna did not enter into this excessive dissipation simply to mock the noble ladies who have honored Asheville with their presence for the last two weeks, but it certainly is a strange coincidence.

The Dunlo divorce case has come to a close in London and Bell Dunlo is still Lady Dunlo and will be, as far as law is concerned, for all time to come. As was predicted the reports of the proceedings have filled column after column in the papers on both sides of the Atlantic and the suit has caused considerable of a sensation. In all of the different accounts we read of Lady Dunlo's youth and beauty, of her engaging manners and the impression is left that this outraged piece of femininity is way above the average of womankind. But a few days ago a New York writer who had known her as Bell Dunlo gave a pen picture of her in his paper which knocks lots of the sentiment sky high. According to his account the woman is between thirty-five and forty years of age, with a rather striking although coarse face, and with hair of the bleached blonde variety. Her voice is loud and she is decidedly "stagey."

In the latest reports of the trial, Sir Charles Russell, Lord Dunlo's counsel, referred to his client as not of any high intellectual capacity and the lord leaned forward and smiled vacantly as if he agreed with Sir Charles thoroughly. If both these accounts are true surely this is a pretty pair to be made so prominent in the newspapers of the world and suggests that pertinent although somewhat chestnutty interrogation, "Whither are we drifting?"

The editor of the Hendersonville Times does not steal the usual amount of matter from THE CITIZEN this week, but to fill up the hole he has a pretty piece of composition complimentary to the course taken by THE CITIZEN on Congressman Ewart's vote on the federal election law. It is always a pleasure to know that one's efforts are felt and appreciated and THE CITIZEN unhesitatingly and heartily thanks the editor of the Times for the compliment he pays us. And he need not have taken those remarks about cribbing from THE CITIZEN so much at heart. If we had known that it would cut him so badly nothing would have been said. Of course it is considered as, at least, a trifle more courteous to credit matter that is taken from another paper, but far was it from our thoughts to offend so sensitive a soul as is evidently possessed by Mr. Ewart's chief henchman.

That part of the editorial that is not devoted to THE CITIZEN is of course complimentary to Mr. Ewart for the position he has taken on the federal election law and from a hasty examination we are led to believe that it is the Times' idea to have Mr. Ewart nominated on the republican ticket on a democratic platform, and so run him as to catch all the straggling votes. If that is not it we beg to be informed, for that certainly is the impression he leaves.

The Entertainment Last Night.

The entertainment by amateurs at the Farmers' warehouse last night netted about $20 for the Mission Hospital. The program consisted of athletic, gymnastic and acrobatic exhibitions by Asheville artists and was much enjoyed. Those who participated were: Clarence Ray, Ernest Muller and Jas. A. Baird, all around performers; Tracy Belote, contortionist and Lawrence Cooley, equestrian. Some of the feats were difficult and were performed with great skill. The somersault over three horses by Clarence Ray was one of the great features of the evening.

Y. M. C. A. Tennis Club.

The Y. M. C. A. tennis club met at the rooms this morning to perfect organization. An executive committee, to have charge of the affairs of the club, was elected as follows: E. P. Mangum, chairman; C. A. Webb, secretary and treasurer and A. M. Carroll. The initiation fee was fixed at $2 and the monthly dues at 50 cents. The club now has a splendidly graded court behind the Methodist church and there are about twenty members.

Ten prisoners confined in the jail at Carnesville, Ga., unlocked the door of the prison with a wooden key which one of them had made. All escaped.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES.

A grass plot and flower bed will be made in front of the Raleigh post office. Wilkes county is said to be afflicted with an insidious scourge known as "White Caps."

The census shows Lumberton to have 5,500 in the city limits and 2,000 in Haymount, a suburb.

An effort is being made by the citizens of Winston to have the Richmond and Danville shops located there.

Three deaths in one family in five days is the recent record of the grim reaper at Saw postoffice, Rowan county.

Captain Frederick N. Strudwick, a prominent lawyer of Hillsboro, is dead. He was about 58 years of age.

The Winston Daily claims to have authority for the statement that Jay Gould is investing in and around that city.

The new census gives Beaufort a population of 2,000, a loss of 19 since 1880. Beaufort people are up in arms about it.

Captain Henry Richards was found drowned in Eno river, near Hillsboro. It is thought that he committed suicide.

The Greensboro Workman thinks that the return to the whipping post as a punishment would lessen crime in North Carolina.

Captain Walter W. Lenoir, one of the best known men in North Carolina, died at Shull's Mills, Watauga county, at 69 years of age.

Mr. H. B. Hauses was stabbed four times by Pless Head, in Stokes county. He was seriously injured, but will recover. Head escaped.

A. P. Reece has been appointed postmaster at Cathey's, Transylvania county, and M. L. Whitesides at Dunsdale, Folk county.

Simon Wadsworth, who cut a negro woman's throat near Maxton, has been captured in South Carolina and will be brought back for trial.

There is a chance for some journalisticly inclined young man at Charlotte, J. P. Strong would like to dispose of a one-half interest in the Democrat.

John C. McCullough, of Charlotte, who became deranged on the subject of religion during the Sam Jones meeting, has been taken to the asylum at Morganton.

The Jones & Powell ice factory at Raleigh has been sold at auction. It was bought by a New York gentleman who will continue to run it. The price paid was $1,200.

The Democrat says Mrs. McGinnis, an aged and infirm lady of Watauga, fell in the fire a few days ago and was so severely burned that it is not likely she will recover.

Col. L. L. Polk, at the conclusion of his address in Raleigh was presented with a gold headed cane. It bears this inscription: "To L. L. Polk, the People's Friend, 1890."

A lamp in the parlor of the High Point college exploded recently and Miss Annie Stallings bravely picked it up and threw it out of the house. She was painfully burned on the hands.

A barkeeper named Williamson fought with a man named Callahan at Bladenboro and the former was almost disemboweled by the latter. His death is but a question of a few days.

Raleigh continues to boom the soldier's home fund. The latest thing they have decided to try is a game of baseball. It will be played by nines picked from men who have never played before.

The case of the State vs. J. M. Currin, charged with being agent for a trust of cigarette manufacturers formed to lower the price of cutters, came to trial at Oxford last week and the defendant was acquitted.

Deputy Collector Fields, of Greensboro, recently run on to a unique still made of two large tin pans, soldered together. The capacity was one pint of mountain dew at each run, and it was in full blast when captured.

Mr. M. J. Adams, engineer on the Asheville road, met with a singular accident at High Point. As he was getting on his engine a coal chisel which was on the box above him rolled down and struck him just above the eye inflicting an ugly wound.

Messrs. Duke, of Durham, have begun the erection of a mammoth storage warehouse in connection with their factory at Durham. The structure will be five stories high, one of the highest in the State, and the dimensions will be 200 by 60 feet.

A thirteen year old son of Rev. William Phillips, a well known Baptist minister who lives three miles from Mt. Airy, accidentally shot and killed himself. He was handling a shot gun when it was discharged. The entire load entered the breast of the lad tearing his heart to pieces.

John Kennedy, stamp and registry clerk in the Wilmington postoffice, has been found $220 short in his accounts. He refunded $150 and skipped. He has been traced to a point 500 miles from Wilmington and it is thought he will be captured, although he may give the officers considerable trouble.

A notorious negro desperado and ex-convict named Bryan Gaston, alias Ed. Pifer, has been arrested at Wilmington on suspicion of being the murderer of Nathan Falls. He has confessed to several robberies lately committed in Onslow, Pender and Brunswick counties and is believed to be the author of many of the recent highway robbery outrages around Wilmington.

The man named Shinnall, who lived near Mt. Airy, and whose mysterious disappearance was noted a few days ago has returned. It was supposed that he had been murdered at a church while engaged in a game of cards with Percy Fry and Joe Tilly. It seems that they had all run away to keep from being punished for playing cards in the church, and Shinnall has found a hiding place in the mines of Carroll county, Virginia.

The colored independent republican club at Greensboro have begun publishing "The Progress," a paper that demands recognition of the negroes at the hands of the republican party. It also advocates refusal on the part of the negro to support any candidate who will not pledge himself to give them an equal share in the spoils of office. The last issue of the paper handled Brower without gloves. To counteract the influence of this paper another is to be established which will be a Brower organ, and will be edited by a relative of Brower's, who is a federal office-holder.
