AKIN TO POLITICS.

John S. Henderson has been nominated at Salisbury to succeed himself in the 7th Congressional district.

Mr. L. J. Moore, of New Bern, for twenty years a member of the Republican party declares his intention of hereafter voting with the Democratic party. Force bill did it.

"Let the negroes work diligently, save their money, educate their children and buy all the land they can, and everything else desirable will come to them."—J. K. Clifford, (col.)

The Atlanta Constitution's boycott scheme was about the silliest and most disgusting which a reputable newspaper has ever had the idocy to suggest.—Nashville American.

The Constitution wants a name for the elephant which has been bought for the Atlanta Park, and is not satisfied with "Rainbow," or "Sunbeam," or "Remus," which are all the suggestions that have been offered so far. What's the matter with "Boycott"?—Charlotte News and Courier.

As powerful an organization as the Farmers' Alliance is—and the Watchman has always been in sympathy with the farmers in their resistance to oppression—it cannot injure Senator Vance by a "conflict." It wouldn't pay even a lion to monkey with a buzz saw.—Carolina Watchman.

One of the most prominent white Republicans of the South, a man who has been elected to high offices in his State since the war, in discussing the force bill said emphatically, "The day that will become a law I will cease to be a Republican. That bill will draw the color line in the South as it has never been done before."—Washington Cor.

Let any man—Republican or Democrat—ask himself if the country to-day is as well off under a Congressional tyranny as it was under the Cleveland regime, when peace was winning its victories all over the land. Are not the business interests, the protected industries themselves, worse off now than they were then?—Baltimore Sun.

The wind bloweth where it listeth and no man can tell when it comes or whither it goeth, but I am not that kind of a cat. I am a Ben Tillman cat, and if elected county commissioner, propose to reform, beautify, adorn, resuscitate, rejuvenate and rehabilitate Edgefield county from the edge of the water up to the top of the rocks. I am a laboring man and haul wood. If not elected I can haul on. I would say more, but I am a man of few words and full of trouble.—Samuel Colgan, ambitious office seeker, of Edgefield county, S. C.

WILL HE BE KILLED?

KEMMLER'S CHANCES LOOK VERY SLIM.

However the Electric Apparatus Does not Work Well—A Second Wonder—Some Maudlin Sentimentality.

AUBURN, August 2.—There is a very common belief in Auburn that the Westinghouse Company will endeavor to get an injunction enjoining Warden Durston from using at Kemmler's execution the electrical dynamo which it is alleged was procured by Harold P. Brown for the State under false pretenses. There is more serious danger of delay in the execution because of a possible application to the Governor for a commission to inquire into Kemmler's sanity. The unquestionable fact of Kemmler's weak and frightened condition has caused talk to spring up in Auburn that he has really been frightened into insanity. Of late Kemmler has been acting strangely. He has had long periods of silence. Then he has talked volubly and in an odd manner. He has not slept well, and has muttered and mumbled in his sleep. Recently he has had bad dreams and "visions." While he may only be shamming and it would not be surprising if he really did go crazy before he was killed.

One man who is about as scared as Kemmler is Warden Durston. The warden is afraid that the electrical current to be produced at the execution will be either too strong or not strong enough. He is afraid that Kemmler may make a struggle when the time comes to kill him. He is afraid in any way. The recent tests which electrician Barnes made of the death apparatus showed that the apparatus was not in the most satisfactory order. The lamps of the incandescent lights, by means of which the strength of the current was shown, flickered and wobbled. The volt meter was found to be out of order, and Warden Durston had to pack off to New York to get it fixed. A great deal of maudlin sentimentality has been expended over the conduct of Mrs. Durston in the Kemmler business. Kemmler's "conversion," and so forth, have been ascribed entirely to Mrs. Durston's efforts. As a matter of fact Mrs. Durston has been seen twice since her husband's death.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., August 4.—C. R. Barnes, superintendent of the fire alarm telegraph of this city, will superintend the electrical machinery at the execution of Kemmler at Auburn, he says that the Attorney General has advised Warden Durston that in case the Westinghouse people enjoin him from using their dynamo for the execution of Kemmler he should give bonds and go on and use the dynamo.

The visitors who are to be present at the execution will be invited to appear at the prison Tuesday morning, but it is not positively known that the execution will take place that day.

AN OLD ISSUE.

It Bobs up in Louisville to Effect Politics.

LOUISVILLE, August 4.—Few elections in an off year in Kentucky have aroused so much interest as the one which is on to-day. Two local features have combined to bring out a big vote. Delegates to a convention to draft a new constitution are being elected, and there is a big element of interest in the race for the only State office to be filled, that for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

The office is scarcely a political one, but the term is the longest and it emoluments the largest of any in the State. The democratic nominee is Woodford W. Longmoor and his republican opponent is Judge J. H. Tinsley. There is but one circumstance to give the latter any hope of winning. He is raising the cry that Longmoor owes his nomination solely to the fact that he is a crippled ex-Confederate soldier.

There was a big fight in the convention, Longmoor's chief opponent being George M. Adams, an ex-federal soldier, ex-Congressman, ex-Clerk of the National House of Representatives and at present Secretary of the State.

Adams and several other Union democrats were deeply incensed over the decision of the convention, and the Secretary of State. He charges fraud, but his federal comrades and the republicans have raised the cry that he was ignored because he was a Union soldier and Longmoor was nominated because he was a Confederate.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

And Now the Farmers in Louisiana are in Politics.

NEW ORLEANS, August 2.—The Farmers' Alliance will have congressional candidates in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth districts. The farmer unions of the Fourth congress district met at Shreveport and adopted resolutions, declaring that the farmers could not endorse any candidate who was in favor of the sub-treasury bill, and who will not pledge himself to do all in his power to carry out the reforms demanded by the St. Louis convention of the Farmers' Alliance.

N. C. Blanchard, member of congress from the district was invited to address the convention, and declared that he could not support the sub-treasury scheme. Judge W. P. Hall declared for it, and will be the farmer's candidate before the Democratic convention on Aug. 18. It is thought that the time is too short for the Farmers' Alliance to win. Whether it will bolt the Democratic nomination and set up a candidate of its own remains to be seen.

The farmers made the same complaint in the Fifth district, that the date of the convention is too early for them. In the Sixth district, where the Alliance is very strong, their chances are best of securing the regular democratic nomination. They may conclude, however, to put up a candidate in all of the districts as independents.

CUT IN TWO.

Wonderful Vitality of a Negro run Over by a Locomotive.

Early Friday morning a negro, Schofield Gantt alias Merritt, was killed on the Richmond and Danville track in the southern part of Greensboro. He stepped off the main line out of the way of a train onto a side track directly in front of a backing engine. He was knocked down, and his body cut completely in two at the waist, and the muscle holding the two parts together.

The wheels of two cars and the tender passed over him, yet when the train stopped he told the hands to take him out. He was laid on a skid and lived and talked calmly and rationally of his injuries for nearly an hour.

The first of his relatives to reach him was his aged grandmother, who dropped dead after looking upon his horribly mangled remains.

LATEST STATE NEWS.

—A Greensboro special says: "The Quakers or Friends, of whom there are a great many in this and adjoining counties, will hold their yearly meeting this week at High Point.

—The annual meeting of the board of directors of the State Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville has just adjourned. There are nearly two hundred orphans there. Hon. John E. Ray, of Colorado, delivered the annual address.

—The prohibition party of Mecklenburg county holds its county convention at Sharon church to-morrow to nominate candidates for county offices. The primaries have already been held and delegates have been appointed. It is proposed to set up a full ticket for the county offices.

—A remarkable operation was performed at Scotland Neck by Dr. T. S. Speck, of Edgemont; Dr. Williams of Tarboro, and Dr. W. O. McDowell, of Scotland Neck. A tumor was taken from the stomach of a woman which had been growing for more than a dozen years. It weighed twenty-five pounds. The patient is doing well.

—Dr. R. K. Gregory, of Greensboro, N. C., has patented a fluid and a bandage for the treatment of wounds. He has received an order from the government for 100,000 packages of bandages and the same number of bottles of fluid. Surgeons say that the doctor's inventions revolutionize the treatment of wounds, and that blood-poisoning and similar troubles are absolutely impossible under this system. He has been offered an immense sum for his patent, but refused to sell.

—A Raleigh Special says: Under an act of the last legislature some eighteen thousand dollars was collected this year for pensions for ex-Confederate soldiers, who were in the service of this State and for the widows of soldiers who died in service. For several years the pensions have been paid, but these were very small, being paid out of a special appropriation for that purpose. There were last year 4,000 pensioners. Re-appropriation blanks were on the first of last March sent to all of these, and the law requires them to be filed not later than next Monday. It has just been learned from the State auditor that 1,000 of the applications have not been received. This delay will cause trouble, and raise a howl among the pensioners, but it is due to their own negligence in most cases. The auditor has not the authority to extend the time for the receipt of the applications, that being left to the legislature."

NOW HERE'S A NICE MESS.

WORLD'S FAIR BILL MAY BE VETOED.

A Big Blunder. But It is Not Fatal—What Illinois Governor Will be Obligated to Do to Remedy the Bad Break in Time.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., August 4.—There is danger that the World's fair bill may be vetoed by Governor Fifer.

By the amendment adopted in the last moment of the special session the legislature is said to have exceeded its power under the call issued by the Governor.

The amendment is in relation to the submerged lands on the lake shore front, the ownership of which it is proposed to vest in the city of Chicago for park purposes after the World's Fair is ended. This directly creates a new park and legislates away title to such submerged lands as may be reclaimed, the same being the property of the State.

It is declared, but in the call of the legislature giving to the World's Fair the use of public grounds of either State, city or park for the purposes of the fair, the amendment passes title with certain restrictions and creates a new park proposition apparently not involved by the call and not included in the title of the bill.

All the courts of the state have held time and again that "But one subject shall be included in an act and it shall be expressed in its title."

If Gov. Fifer is forced to veto the bill it is understood he will not reconvene the legislature but will allow the matter to be re-introduced in the thirty-seventh general assembly.

WITH BLAINE.

Time for Reed to Go Home and Mend His Fences.

LEWISTOWN, Me., August 4.—The Auburn Daily Gazette publishes interviews with a large number of Republicans in Augusta, Portland, Bath, Skowhegan, and Lewiston relative to the views on Mr. Blaine on reciprocity. In nearly every instance the interviews were favorable to Mr. Blaine's views and would seem to indicate that the majority of Maine Republicans agree with him and not with Speaker Reed on this important question.

DEAR LADY DUNLO.

Dear in That She Refuses $200 a Week.

LONDON, August 2.—Lady Dunlop's victory in the divorce suit has brought that fair songstress not only glory but lucre. She is overwhelmed with offers of all kind. The latest is one from Ted Marks to accept $300 a week and traveling expenses for a tour of America, in return for which she would do one song and dance an evening, with possibly an encore. Lady Dunlop has refused this offer.

Jack Won the Race.

DETROIT, Aug. 4.—The great match trot between Senator Sanford's California stallion Palo Alto and George H. Middleton's gray gelding Jack for $5,000 a side and to settle the question of breeding was trotted on the Detroit track Saturday in the presence of 5,000 persons, Jack winning after a desperately contested race, in 2:13 1/2 as the quickest time.

Washed Away One Span.

MARSHALL, N. C., August 4.—A cloud burst here washed two miles that were hitched behind the court house into the river, and washed away one span of the railroad track. Section hands soon repaired the damage to the road and no trains were delayed.

WITH THE BRAINY MEN.

The Hendersonville Guide is pretty as a new gingham dress, and perhaps will yet be as good as the girl inside of it.

The editor of the Raleigh News and Observer has the name of first proposing the boycott idea. Does he plead guilty?

The editor of the Greensboro Patriot knows what he thinks of Polk, of the Alliance, and is saying it in rather an indiscreet way.

The editors who visited Durham at the press meeting have given that town some hundreds of dollars of first class advertising; all of it top of column, next to reading matter, one time.

The Salisbury Watchman springs this gem on the public, backs it up with a half column of bullet-proof, copper-fastened, sure-to-wash argument, and now awaits the verdict of the world: "The newspaper man is a peculiar type of the human race."

The editor of the Winston Daily has a great head. Just hear him: "When opportunity learns to look with more leniency upon the blemishes of dress and the lack of polished posing, and with more scrutiny upon the stranger who comes with brilliant externals and captivating manners, they will have fewer causes for regret."

ANTIMIGRAINE.

—THE—

NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.

TRADE MARK REGISTERED.

ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.

Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.

Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTIPIRYNE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE, Since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious result. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache, if taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms; but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.

OUT ON THE FARMS.

Laurinburg Exchange: The rains are causing the cotton to shed very fast.

Lenoir Topic: The apple crop is almost a total failure.

The continued rains are proving very disastrous in the Raleigh section. Coming as it did in the very flush of the shipment of grapes, the wet season has caused them to rot.

The rains have greatly benefited the rice crop which is now very promising.

Franklin Times: It was much feared that the heavy rains which have fallen would have a damaging effect upon the crops, but we believe that there has been no serious or irreparable harm done.
