REASONS WHY.
It is not alone the right and reasonable prices that we name for the goods we sell that our claim to your patronage mainly rests upon.
THIS sterling excellence of our Groceries and the unsurpassable quality that characterizes every article we offer for sale should be well considered.
We solicit a careful examination and comparison of our goods and prices. All we ask is that you should exercise your faculties in your own behalf, and be guided in your decision by the knowledge thus obtained.

During the month of August we want to close out everything we have in the line of Summer Goods. We are going to buy a big stock for the Fall and Winter and we want no money locked up in Goods to carry over. We have some beautiful patterns in Flouncings and Allovers that we will sell so cheaply that it would be economy to buy even for next Summer, as one cannot have too many White Dresses. If you need a Blanket or a Comfort these cool nights you can find what you want at our place. A new line of Gingham in Fall Shades have just come in, and are going to be sold very low, as is our habit with all our Goods. We have about six Ice Cream Freezers of the season's lot; they will be sold very low. You can still buy Croquet Sets and Hammocks of us cheaper than anybody else. Our Store is headquarters for all sorts of Housekeeping conveniences of which we ask an inspection.
Come to see us before you buy Shoes of any kind and you will save money. Everything at lowest prices at

THE NEWS!
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE CITIZEN TO-DAY.
A TERRIBLE CYCLONE STRIKES WILKESBARRE, PA.
HUNDREDS OF BUILDINGS BLOWN DOWN.
SOME LIVES LOST AND MANY PERSONS INJURED.
A GREAT DEAL OF DAMAGE TO BUSINESS ENTERPRISES.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 20.—There was a terrible cyclone here yesterday. As the time grows on and the severity of the cyclone is more and more demonstrated it is regarded as singular that so comparatively few lives were lost. Immense buildings, containing many people, were unroofed and, in many cases, almost destroyed in the twinkling of an eye, and at the hour when people were about the streets amid the timbers and debris of every character.
The city in its most frequented part, around the depot, presents its worst appearance. Passenger and freight cars were lifted from the tracks and laid on their sides, while other cars were rushed along the tracks by the force of the cyclone.
The cyclone made its appearance suddenly and with portentous clouds, tremendous thunder bolts and streams of electric light that appalled the people. The Vulcan iron works and the Keystone flour mill first felt the storm, which then swept on up Main street, razing the building on the west side. Then it struck the handsome residences and stores, green houses, pottery works, etc., along Main street as far as academy street. The brick dwellings were unroofed and their upper stories torn away and some were leveled to the ground. South Main and Franklin streets were completely blocked with fallen trees, roofs, timbers, and wire. Veering eastward the storm swept out Ross and Hazel streets; then up South Washington street extending as far east on Ross street as the Hazard wire rop works. It followed Washington street and wrecked St. Mary's church; then jumped to the Lehigh Valley and Jersey Central depots, and swept along the railroad to Five Points. Here it turned again, swept up Pearl street, out by Baltimore shaft No. 2 and then along the mountain side and spent itself in the woods.
The scene at the Hazard wire rop works was terrible. The immense building was badly injured and in the debris lay the dead and injured. The latter were helpless until assistance came to them. The seriously injured at these works exceeds twelve and there were two killed.
At Five Points mothers with their children in their arms cried to heaven for help. Their frail homes were trembling about them and the air outside was filled with falling buildings.
Near the Delaware and Hudson railroad on Scott street Mrs. Eliza Jane McGinly, aged about 28 years, and her babe were crushed to death. John McGinly, aged 13 years, and Mary McGinly, who was probably fatally hurt, James Henegan could not be found in the ruins of his home.
The Barber Asphalt company works were blown down. S. T. Brown & Co's mammoth business block on Market street containing ten wholesale stores is ruined. The Murray coal breaker was destroyed with heavy loss. The mammoth Hollenback breaker is a complete wreck. Scores of other business houses and dwellings were destroyed.
A careful estimate of the number of buildings demolished and partially destroyed is 400. The loss will probably reach nearly if not quite $1,000,000.

QUAY'S RESOLUTION.
Discussion Began Upon It, but Not Finished.
WASHINGTON, August 20.—Senator Quay's "order of business" resolution was taken up in the senate to-day. Mr. Hoar offered a substitute making it in order to debate "after any matter has been under consideration for a reasonable time" and also an amendment to add the election bill to Mr. Quay's list of measures. The vote to be taken on it September 4.
A discussion followed and while Edmunds was speaking the clock struck 12 and the tariff bill was laid before the senate as unfinished business.

MRS. GOULD ARRESTED.
A Big Sensation for the Big Little Town Murphy.
MURPHY, N. C., August 20.—Lily M. Gould, the English woman who killed her husband by stabbing him with a toy dagger, has been re-arrested.
It will be remembered that the story told by the negro who was the only witness tended to show that the deed was done in self defence, and on strength of this the coroner's jury made it justifiable homicide. But new evidence has, it is said, been discovered.
Yesterday big preparations for Mrs. Gould's departure were made, but as she was about to take the train she was arrested on a warrant sworn out by an Englishman named Harrison. He, it is claimed, is acting as agent for Gould's brothers in England, who are now on their way to this country.
Thinks She is Mrs. Cleveland.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., August 20.—Miss Lizzie Niles, a pretty 20 year old young lady, was taken to Thurston City, where she will be placed in the State insane asylum. She is suffering with a strange hallucination; she thinks she is Mrs. Grover Cleveland.
Georgia Alliance.
ATLANTA, August 20.—The Georgia State Alliance has re-elected R. F. Livingston as president, and other officers of the Alliance. There are present nearly 300 delegates.
Where was Reed?
WASHINGTON, D. C., August 20.—After an hour spent in waiting for a quorum the house resumed consideration of the bill to exempt mining land from the operations of a tied land law.

IT WOULD DRAW.
A Plan to Aid Asheville and Have a Good Time Too.
A meeting was held at the Mayor's office at 12 o'clock to organize an interstate competitive prize drill and band tournament, to be held here this fall. Present were, W. W. West, Lewis Maddux, Duff Merrick, Dr. Merrivether, W. S. Cushman, Fred Hull and others. Lewis Maddux was elected chairman and The Citizen secretary.
The plan is to organize a stock company, which will guarantee prize money to the amount of $15,000 or $20,000, and meet the incidental expenses.
The chairman will appoint a committee of three to interview the business men of the city, and perfect the plans of organization. Another meeting will be held soon and a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer elected.
HAPPY PEOPLE THESE.
WHAT AND WHO CAN BE SEEN AT BLACK MOUNTAIN.
The Mt. Mitchell Hotel Filled With a Merry Crowd—Taking the Waters—The Entertainments—List of the Guests.
MOUNT MITCHELL HOUSE, BLACK MOUNTAIN, N. C., August 20, 1890.
The season continues at this delightful resort and the signs are that it will hold till the late fall. The hotel is filled with the merriest sort of a crowd, all bent on real enjoyment, and while the daytime is hazy and the delicious air of the nearby mountains, make the nights pass all too quickly.
A big wagon filled with hay and pretty girls, this morning, at Mitchell's Peak, to-night a dancing party from Cooper's came up, and to-morrow night is billed for a prestidigitator. There is no end of entertainment.
It is quite the proper thing to take the waters here, and all do so. Indeed it is quite a spa. The waters have had a big local reputation for many years, but the capital of the new company will undoubtedly give the outside world a chance at them and also add another to the endless attractions of the suburbs of Asheville.
Captain and Mrs. Spangue and Mr. Moore are hosts worthy of this famous place and satisfy all who come. Among the guests are:
Mrs. E. H. Ellis, Miss Belle Ellis, C. E. Stone, Mrs. C. E. Stone and Miss Jane, New Bern; Miss Emily Tordeman, Knoxville; Miss M. E. Carr, Mobile; Mrs. D. Cullins, Knoxville; Mrs. E. W. Lodington and Miss Lodington, Fla.; Mrs. Goff, G. P. Swann, Knoxville; W. E. Patterson, ex-Bernie; J. J. Gooding, New Bern; Mrs. C. M. McIver and Miss M. E. McIver, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. L. E. Blackwell, Raleigh; Paul Hubbard, Denver, Col.; E. Bingham and H. Bingham, Bingham's School; Rev. N. L. Anderson and Mrs. N. L. Anderson, Clinton, N. C.; J. B. Conway and J. C. Gaskins, New Bern; Mrs. W. C. Adams, Miss Nannie Adams, Miss A. Adams, Miss Mattie Adams and Grace Adams, Richmond, Va.; Miss Sadie Holister, New Bern; L. A. Brittain, North Carolina; Maj. J. M. Echols, Virginia; Miss Mary Meadows, Miss Jennie Bishop, Mrs. Green Bryan, Mrs. D. T. Carraway, Mrs. John Carraway, Miss Eleanor Carraway, Miss Mary L. Carraway, Miss Geolet Carraway, Geo. N. Ives, Mrs. G. W. Ives, Miss Lulu Ives, Mrs. E. H. Ellis, Miss Lizzie Ellis, Miss Emma K. Jones, New Bern; Mrs. C. P. Gaskins, Bell's Ferry; Mrs. A. C. Davis, Miss Nannie F. Davis, Miss Annie Duncan, Beaufort, N. C.; J. H. Wittles, Alabama; J. B. Ives, Wilmington.

PARBOILED BY STEAM.
TERRIBLE RAILWAY ACCIDENT IN MASSACHUSETTS.
PASSENGERS CRUSHED, KILLED AND SCALDED.
An Asheville Lady Among Those Reported Injured—The Graphic Story of a Survivor—Cause of the Accident Not Known.
BOSTON, August 20.—The Cape Cod and Woodhall train on the Old Colony railroad jumped the track one hundred feet from President's bridge yesterday. The first passenger coach fell on the engine, the latter having toppled over, and the engine set fire to the train. The fireman was killed and the engineer fatally injured.
There were eight passengers killed and about twenty hurt. The latter are for the greater part injured by escaping steam, having been frightfully scalded. The dead and injured were removed from the scene, the latter being taken into private houses and to the Quincy hospital.
Wm. Fennell, a house builder of Boston, says the train was running through Quincy at the rate of thirty miles an hour. When near President's bridge there was a rumbling sound, followed by an awful crash. Three forward cars lurched and the track, the fourth kept the rails and swept right along upon the broken locomotive which lay in its way, forcing itself right on top of it. The shock was terrific, and it seemed as if the car drove up twenty feet in the air. When the car descended on the engine it whirled suddenly over, the occupants being thrown violently about. The steam came into the car in dense clouds from the locomotive beneath, scalding and almost suffocating the people penned inside. In the descent of the car a hole was torn in the bottom of it through which many of the forty or fifty people were taken out. Fennell thinks six or seven persons were killed and twenty-five slightly injured, and that the accident was caused by the spreading of rails.
The following were dead when taken from the wreck:
Mrs. Orcutt, Philadelphia.
Mrs. Mary E. Fennelly, aged 70, Louisville, Ky.
F. Johnson, Montpelier, Vt.
John Ryan, South Boston, fireman of the train.
Four women, two men and two children, one boy of 14, unidentified. Total twelve.
The following died during the afternoon and evening:
Mrs. A. C. Wells, Hartford, Conn.
The daughter of H. L. Welch, of Waterville, Me.
The following are critically injured:
Mrs. Oscar Fennelly, of Louisville, Ky., the wife of the cashier of the Citizens' National bank, Louisville, scalded over her whole body; her daughter Alice and Catherine; C. M. Copp, Cleveland, O., scalded over his whole body, not expected to live till morning; E. C. Baily, Boston, formerly proprietor of the Boston Herald, scalded on the face and hands; Rev. T. M. Dimmick, Los Angeles, Cal., face, arm and hip scalded; his wife had her face and hands scalded and suffered a compound fracture of both bones of left leg half way between knee and ankle; Mrs. George P. Welch, of Cleveland, O., scalded on the head, arm and neck, condition critical; Mrs. Mary F. Snow, of Charleston, face and hands badly scalded and internal injuries; Mrs. A. K. Abbott, Louisville; face and hands scalded and compound fracture of the left thigh, condition critical.

THE FLOWER MISSION.
A Worthy Charity Not Being Supported as it Deserves.
The gross receipts of the Flower Mission entertainment last night were not more than $25. This seems a pity, for the program was of unusual interest and the cause a most worthy one. The ladies who work actively in the Flower Mission thought that a public entertainment would result in good patronage and thus enable them to carry on their work without making personal appeal for funds.
Just here it is pertinent to inquire how many of Asheville's citizens who are interested in the "central office" of the Flower Mission for aid, ever follow up this step with a contribution to be used for charity? Though it is far preferable for applicants to be directed to the office, in order that discretion may be exercised in dispensing alms, yet perhaps some may relieve themselves of personal responsibility by sending paupers and never enclosing funds. As there are so many causes asking monthly installments from individuals and organizations for support, the Flower Mission desires to do as little in that way as possible, trusting to the appreciative public for donations as free-will offerings to the associated charity organization of the town. In several instances gifts of $1, $2 and even $10 have been contributed unsolicited, by citizens realizing the importance of the Flower Mission, and it is believed that many others will be glad to contribute upon learning the necessity of the case. Any donations can be left with the secretary at the Central office, 29 Spruce street, or handed to Mrs. W. W. Barnard, treasurer of the Flower Mission.
MAN ON WITH A Reverend.
ST. PAUL, August 20.—Rev. D. G. Smith and Leo Fabeland's pretty wife met last fall. Smith is old, but Mrs. Fabeland became enamored of him and on Wednesday drove to Shell Lake where she was met by Smith, and the couple took the train together. They stopped at some small station near morning; then came to St. Paul, and immediately left for the West. Mr. Fabeland got the proper clue from the ticket agent and took the afternoon train for Watertown with the avowed intention of "boring the preacher full of holes."

THE RACING FIRM OF DWYER BROTHERS HAS BEEN DISSOLVED.

Sir Edwin Arnold no longer intends to revisit America. He will leave Japan shortly for Siam, gradually working his way to England, which he expects to reach about May.
Jennie Williams, who began her stage life in San Francisco at ten years of age, eleven years ago, in "Lad Astray," is about to marry the third son of the eleventh Baron Petre.
WASHINGTON.
House Republicans are said to be chafing under Speaker Reed's autocratic rule. The tariff bill was further discussed by Senators Plumb, Aldrich, Carlisle and others.
Senator Edmunds is supposed to represent the administration in offering reciprocity and retaliation amendments to the tariff bill.
The senate has passed the deficiency bill, including an amendment appropriating $1,230,688 for the payment of the French spoliation claims.
In the house the contested election case of Chalmers against Morgan, from the second district of Mississippi, was decided in favor of Morgan, democrat, the sitting member.
FOREIGN.
The British parliament was prorogued Monday.
Davis Dalton, an American, swam across the English channel from Gizez to Folkstone on his back in 23 1/2 hours.

ANTIMIGRAINE.
—THE—
NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.
TRADE MARK REGISTERED.
ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.
Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.
Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, HEADACHE. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.
For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTI-PYRINE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE, since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.
The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.
DIRECTIONS FOR USE.
The dose for an adult is two teaspoonfuls in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache, if taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms; but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding time thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulative in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
