Who Told You So?

W. T. Crawford says that H. G. Ewart told him that he heard Jim Gudger say that Bob Vance told him that Kope Bias heard that there was no doubt that W. W. Rollins said that Tom Johnston thought that Bob Furman had told sitting Bull that Buffalo Bill had declared to J. H. Courtney that it was generally believed that Dan Reynolds had said in plain terms that he heard Jack Worley say that his friend John L. Sullivan had said that Bill Deaver informed him at the congressional convention in this city that it was a well known fact that the Housekeepers' Union had caught Gen. Clingman in saying that in his opinion it was a matter of fact and of great public interest that J. J. Mackey intimated to Jess Lowry that Bill Nye had said while attending the county convention last Saturday that anyone caught reading this shall repair at once to the store of A. D. COOPER, North Court Square, and inspect his mammoth stock of all kinds of Groceries, Provisions, &c., where arrangements have been made to furnish you all kinds of Staple and Fancy Groceries of the Best Quality at the Lowest Prices.

"RACKET NEWS."

The best place in Asheville for working people to trade is the "Big Racket." We promise low prices and good goods, and where our guarantee goes with an article if it doesn't turn out like we say it will we refund the money. In our experience we have found that well-to-do people and rich folks always look further and try harder to save a nickel than working people and poor folks, so if we give the latter bargains and the full worth of their money we cannot help selling bargains to others. Among our new goods, of which we have a large stock, may be found at the very lowest prices: All kinds of Shoes, hand made for men, school shoes for children, fine and common shoes for ladies, blankets and comforts, hand bags, grips and trunks, all kinds of shoes, wall pockets, mirrors and frames, lamps, wicks, chimneys and burners, chamber sets and tinware, hats and caps, 25c. up, dress goods and underwear, all kinds of shoes, shoulder capes and jackets, flannels and Jersey cloth, skirts and skirting goods, dress trimmings and linings, brooms, buckets and tubs, all kinds of shoes, fast black stockings in cotton, wool, silk and balb. overcoats, rubbers and gloves, men's clothing in suits, pants, pants, hats, ALL KINDS OF SHOES—in fact everything to use or wear at lowest prices. Buy nothing until you reach

THE NEWS!

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE CITIZEN.

THE EXPRESS COMPANIES AND THE LOTTERY.

THE FORMER CANNOT ACT AS AGENTS OF THE LATTER.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 8.—Attorney General Hunt has received from Assistant Attorney General Vance of Louisiana, a letter stating that the lottery company, being now forbidden the use of the United States mails, advises that it will use the express companies as a medium of transmitting moneys and tickets and circulars, and announcing that the result of its drawings can be had from the express agents through whom tickets can be procured. In short, the express companies are made the agents of lottery. He asks if this can be presented and punished under the criminal code. Attorney General Hunt says: "If the express company undertook through its agents to act as agent of the lottery it will violate a provision of the state statutes and be liable to the penalty imposed." He further advises that should any case come to his (Vance's) notice he should call the attention of the prosecuting attorney in the county in which it occurs and do all he can to aid in suppressing the lottery business.

DOUBLE MURDER.

Terrible Tragedy in Bertie County Last Sunday Night.

AULANDER, N. C., Oct. 6.—A terrible double murder and an attempt to burn a house occurred near Aulander, Bertie county, last Saturday night. The house of Mr. Neb Atkins was entered and Mr. Atkins and his mother both had their brains knocked out, and the house was robbed and fired. One member only of the family escaped, giving an alarm in time to save the house and dead bodies from being burned. The crime was supposed to have been done by negroes who made good their escape. Mr. Atkins was one of the first men of the county, and the affair has created immense excitement.—State Chronicle.

STABBED SIX TIMES.

Sam Duncan Cut by Wesley Coleman in West Asheville.

Sam Duncan, a young colored man of West Asheville, was stabbed six times last night, once in the right arm, three times in the back, once in the breast near the heart and once in the thigh. Wesley Coleman a middle aged colored man, is believed to have been the assailant. Dr. E. C. Starnes attended to Duncan who is thought to be seriously injured. Duncan says that he was attacked by Coleman without a warning, but it is said that he had been too intimate with the latter's daughter. Coleman has left and it is thought he went to Waynesville.

Search for Iron.

Natt Atkinson and Rev. Jos. P. Eller are now at work on the deposits of iron found some time ago in Flat Creek and Ivy townships. A force of hands is engaged in opening the lands and developing the deposits. In one place a shaft seventy-five feet deep has been sunk. Prof. Stoner, a mining engineer of Colorado, is working on the property and he thinks the prospects for finding iron in paying quantities are excellent. Magnetic iron chromic iron and nickel are the kinds that have been found. Options on between two and three thousand acres of land have been obtained.

His Leg Broken.

Chas. McClintock, of Eau Claire, Wis., who is one of the linemen engaged in putting up the new electric lights, was at work on a pole at the corner of Patton avenue and Haywood St., about noon today, near the government building, when the arm that supports the wires broke. He fell to the ground and his left leg was broken above the ankle and his right ankle was sprained. He also was bruised about the body considerably.

Accounts for It.

From the Washington Star. "Did you hear that man that was standing in front of the cage talking about Daniel and his experience in a lion's den?" inquired one of those animals of another in the cage at the menagerie. "Yes, do you believe it? Just put yourself in the place of one of those lions and see whether you think it is plausible." "I don't know," was the rejoinder, after thoughtful pause, "Maybe Daniel smoked cigarettes."

By the election of J. T. Thomas, Covington, Ky., for the first time in twenty-five years, has a republican mayor. The republicans elected the city weigher, three of the five aldermen, five of the ten councilmen and five of the ten members of the school board. It was the first trial of a new ballot system somewhat similar to the Australian.

CRAWFORD SPEAKS ALONE.

EWART WOULD NOT GO TO MILLS SPRINGS.

Crawford Improving All the Time in His Speaking—Republicans of Polk County Leading the Harty—Some Tickets. McFARLAND'S, Polk county, N. C., Oct. 4, 1890.—From Hayne's store to this place by way of the Island Ford of Broad river, is a distance of nearly 20 miles. But it is the best country road I ever saw. We made sixteen miles of it in two hours yesterday, and our horses were hardly worn under the collars when we pulled up in front of Page's store, a few hundred yards from the school house in which the speaking was to take place. Ewart made the appointments in Polk and it looks as if he might have had an object in selecting the places of speaking. It would occur to my one that the county seat ought to have been selected as one of the places, and if not, then a more central place, to which a majority of the votes might find easy access. Mr. Ewart would not agree to go to Columbus at all, but selected this place, which is almost within a stone's throw of the Rutherford county line on one side of the county, and Saluda, immediately on the Henderson county line on the other side of the county. Ewart evidently desires as little as to stir in Rutherford and Polk as possible, but for just what reason is not apparent. The crowd present was not large to-day. The smallest we have had except at Spruce Pine, in Mitchell. The majority of them were democrats, too, and red hot ones at that.

EWART'S "ISSUE."

Ewart took the occasion to spring a new issue, of a local character. He declared that the fair name of Polk county had been tarnished by the throwing out of its vote two years ago. Crawford knew nothing of the circumstances attending this rejection of votes, further than it was done. It seems that the county returning boards refused to count the votes of two townships in that election, Saluda and Levi's. The reason for this action was that the registration books in neither township were open thirty days prior to the election as required by law. This action of the board resulted in the election of the entire democratic ticket. John Hampton, the republican sheriff, who was running for re-election, appealed to the courts. The court decided that the vote of Levi township should have been counted, as it appeared that no voter had been deprived of his vote, notwithstanding the registration books had not been opened the required number of days. This gave Hampton his office. In this suit Hampton's lawyer acknowledged the fraud at Saluda, and did not claim that township. Now, the fact is, the failure to have the books open for registration was the fault of Hampton himself, who, as sheriff, failed to put the books into the hands of the registrars in time. In Saluda township the book did not reach the registrar until some ten or fifteen days before the election, as we are informed by Col. Tanner, the registrar, and when it did reach him, a number of names had already been registered, we were told by a number of reliable men, in the handwriting of the sheriff himself. In addition to this, one of these registration books was very mysteriously spirited out of the office of the register of deeds at Columbus, and has never been seen since, and there are many democrats who say they have a good idea as to who stole it.

THE RADS DID IT.

Ewart said in his speech that it had been stolen, but only the Lord knew who did it. When he made this announcement there was a gentleman standing just outside the door who announced that "the radicals did it," and we think if Ewart wants a full investigation into the matter he might be able to get at something near the facts in the case.

Crawford made a fine speech to-day, and so enthusiastic were some of the democrats present that he was forced to go to Mills Springs, ten miles distant, in the interior of the county and make a speech to-night. Mr. Ewart was urged to go with him, but, as usual, declined to submit to any and all carryings not on the bills. Crawford had a fine audience at Mill Spring, the school house being filled with ladies and gentlemen, who expressed their appreciation by hearty applause from the men and handsome bouquets from the ladies.

REPUBLICAN DESERTIONS.

The republicans put out their candidates for county offices at Columbus to-day, and, if anything is to be inferred from expressions by their leading men, it cannot command the support of the party in the county. The republican ticket is as follows: For the register, Benj. Thompson; sheriff, John Hampton; clerk, Robert Abrams; treasurer, Henry Gibbs; register of deeds, — Bransom.

The democratic candidates opposed to them are: For the legislature, John McFarland; sheriff, O. S. Nelson; clerk, J. P. Arledge; treasurer, Thomas Rappo; register of deeds, Ambrose Mills.

The democratic nominees are all good men, and ought to be selected. We were told to-day by one of the most reliable men in the county, that not less than fifty republicans had voluntarily told him that they never intended to vote the republican ticket again. The election will show how much they were in earnest. One thing seems certain, the republican vote in Polk will not be increased. J. P. K.

SALUDA, Oct. 6.—At exactly 12 o'clock the crowd assembled in the church to hear the discussion. The attendance was small. Mr. Crawford opened the discussion by attacking Mr. Ewart. Mr. Crawford, knowing he was in a republican community, seemed equal to the occasion. His arguments were well laid and every word bung like a bomb shell in the republican camp. He spoke for one hour. Mr. Ewart started out by saying he never acted on the defensive, when in fact his whole harangue was an attempt to shelter himself and clear up his record. He flipped about like a lost man. His discussion of the tariff was the most flimsy thing ever heard. Mr. Crawford in his rejoinder of fifteen minutes uncovered Ewart's position and bravely met with little Ewart had endeavored to set forth. Mr. Ewart is evidently getting tired of the canvass, if he is to judge from his speeches. He is in no wise an equal to Mr. Crawford. P. J.

ANTIMIGRAINE.

—THE— NEVER FAILING CURE FOR HEADACHE.

TRADE MARK REGISTERED. ABSOLUTELY SAFE, PERFECTLY SURE AND ALWAYS SPEEDY.

Cures Every Variety of Headache AND NOTHING ELSE.

ANTIMIGRAINE Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for all quarters, proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it, will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as ANTIPIRYNE, MORPHINE, CHLORAL AND COCAINE, Since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear or serious results. It is a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after-effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

The dose for an adult is two teaspoonsful in a wine glass of water. Dose for children in proportion, according to age. In either case the dose can be repeated every thirty minutes until a cure is effected. One dose will always drive away an attack of Headache, if taken when first feeling the premonitory symptoms; but if the attack is well on, and suffering is intense, the second or third dose may be required. Usually a greater number of doses is required to effect the first cure than is needed for any succeeding cure thereafter, showing that the medicine is accumulating in its effects, tending toward an eventual permanent cure.
