REBATE ON TOBACCO.

Circular of Interest to Dealer and Manufacturers.

A law was passed in congress on Dec 15, reducing the tax on tobacco and snuff from 8 to 6 cents per pound. The bill also provided that those dealers and manufacturers who have on hand on Jan. 1, unbroken packages of tobacco and snuff on which they have paid the tax of 8 cents per pound, may collect a rebate of two cents on each pound from the government. Collector Rollins has sent out to all the deputy collectors in the district a circular of instruction for the taking of inventories of unbroken packages on Jan. 1. The circular is of in-terest to dealers and manufacturers. It says:

"Your special and immediate attention is called to regulations concerning the rebate of taxes on tobacco and sunfi, (Series 7, No. 14, revised supplement No.

"The honorable commissioner instructs that the work of taking inventories should be done promptly on the 1st day of January; that if in any case the inventory is not completed until afterthat day the reasons for failure to complete the same on said 1st day of January should be stated. Furthermore, That dealers and manufacturers may prepare inventories at any time before January 1st, but the inventories must be verified and rectified by the witness by actual count on said first day of January
"You should spend the first of January in visiting the various places where these inventories are being made, for the purpose of giving such advice as may be needed. To advise intelligently, you should acquaint vourself thoroughly with the requirements of the regulations and forms, and the instructions therein should be carried out to the letter.

MICA MINES.

P. F. Chisolm to Gather Statistics Frederick F. Chisolm, special agent for the eleventh census is in the city for the purpose of gathering statistics concern ing the mica in this section of North Carolina. He is a mining engineer, having spent the recent years of his life in Denver. Colorado and the west. His visit to this section is to obtain information and figures for the census from every mica mine in the western part of the state. Each mine will have to be visited and he expects to be engaged in the work for about two weeks. Mr. Chisolm says the mica of Western North Carolina is of the very finest quality, and that with the cheaper produc tion, which it ought to have, he can see tion, which it ought to have, he can see no reason why the mines could not be made very valuable.

In addition to being a good mining engineer, Mr. Chisholm is a great collector of the bills of the confederate government. He possesses a valuable assortment of these bills, and his collection is said to be fifth in size and rank in the United States. Out of 1868 varieties of bills that were issued by the confederacy Mr. Chisholm has about 1440. He is still seeking the wary rare issue. One bills that were issued by the confederacy Mr. Chisholm has about 1440. He is still seeking the wary rare issue. One bill of each series in his collection is displayed in an album made for the purpose. There are numerous counterfeits in the album, and they are always on the page facing the good bills of which they are the representation. The work on some of these counterfeits is good and without comparison of the good bill with them could have passed easily. Others are not such faithful fac similes and have a very rough, unfinished appearance. Some of the five dollar bills in the collection are very rare indeed and are worth their full face value to the collectors. Mr. Chisolm has been at work on his collection less than a year and started with the idea of having a comparatively easy time in procuring the bills.

Mr. Chisolm left this morning for Orangeburg, S. C., to spend Christmas with his family and will return to the work for the census in a few days.
