A NEW YEAR'S GREETING.

Now that the rush incident to the holiday trade has partially subsided, and the proprietors of the Crystal Palace have a short season in which to breathe; now that the heavy demands of Santa Claus have been fully met; now that the young, the middle aged and the old, as well as the already happy bride and groom have been made happier still by the reception of some handsome present purchased at the Crystal Palace; now that the people of Asheville have fully shown their appreciation of our efforts to place in their midst a first class china store in every detail, we take this occasion to thank each and every one of our friends and customers, and we wish for all a bright and happy New Year. Now, if well directed energy coupled with money can do it, we promise to make the Crystal Palace in 1891 second to no house of its kind in the South.

ANOTHER INDIAN BATTLE.

A NUMBER OF SOLDIERS WERE KILLED.

That, at Any Rate, is the Report That Reaches Gen. Miles—Red Cloud and Little Wound Want to Come in Again.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 3.—Gen. Schofield this morning receiving the following telegram from Gen. Miles, dated Pine Ridge, Jan. 2:

"There is a report from the Indian camp this morning that Red Cloud and Little Wound are determined to come in with their following. Their lives have been threatened by the hostiles who are determined to go to war. There is also a report from the same source of an engagement between Indians and cavalry in which a number of soldiers were killed and some Indians. If this is correct it is probably the line of White river. Gen. Miles now has command of that line and will give the necessary directions." Gen. Schofield said to a reporter after this telegram had been given out that nothing additional had been received up to the present time. "I think," he added "that this dispatch throws a favorable light on the situation. We are still encouraging Gen. Miles and he is encouraging us, and I still have hopes that we shall yet be able to get the Indians into camp without a fight."

The forces now in the field under command of Gen. Miles number about 8,000.

IT IS ANOTHER EXODUS.

NEGROES TO FLOCK OUT OF MISSISSIPPI.

A Colored Clergyman and Politician Says a Great Many of His Race Will go to Oklahoma.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 3.—Rev. B. T. Foster, colored, who was a candidate for auditor of the state on the peoples' party ticket, has come from Kansas City with twenty families of colored people from Kemper county, Miss., en route to Kenesaw, Oklahoma. These families number about one hundred people. Foster says:

"This is but a beginning of a tremendous exodus of colored people from the south. Thousands will leave the southern states within the next sixty days. We look upon Oklahoma as our special heaven, where political ostracism is unknown and where every man can cast a ballot of his choice without fear from any source. Many of the colored people of Mississippi are refusing to enter into the new labor contracts and those that have labor are disposing of it."

Mr. Foster said further that the opening of the Cheyenne, Arapaho and Kiowa Indian lands, which is to occur in February, is attracting many of his people to that territory.

STATE'S RIGHTS.

The Great Question Still Before the U. S. Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—It is understood that Judge Brown, of Detroit, will be here when the United States supreme court meets Monday next, and will then be sworn into office as an associate justice. When Justice Brown takes his seat the supreme court bench will once again be full. By reasons of various causes the court has been one short of its full working strength, except during one brief period, for several years in fact, since long illness of the late Justice Woods.

This incident raises the question whether strong injections of lymph may not sometimes prove advantageous. The quantity of lymph injected was forty milligrams. During the interval of fever which followed the injection the sufferer's temperature reached 108 degrees Fahrenheit.

LYMPH INJECTIONS.

Happy Effect of an Over-dose on a Berlin Patient.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—Dr. Koch, who had left Berlin for a short vacation, was summoned back to attend a patient to whom by accident an overdose of lymph had been administered. Dr. Koch administered to the patient strong anti-feribiles, which subdued his alarming symptoms, and now there are evidences of a marked improvement in the patient's condition.

This incident raises the question whether strong injections of lymph may not sometimes prove advantageous. The quantity of lymph injected was forty milligrams. During the interval of fever which followed the injection the sufferer's temperature reached 108 degrees Fahrenheit.

AN EARTHQUAKE.

It Visits California and the Lick Observatory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Prof. E. S. Holden, of the Lick Observatory, at Mount Hamilton, telegraphs that the shock of earthquake to-day was the most severe that has occurred in northern California since the shock of 1868. The ceilings were cracked in the observatory and fell to the floor. The large telescope at the observatory, it is believed, was unharmed.

COTTON IN SIGHT.

Figures as to the Visible Supply of the Great Staple.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Total visible supply of cotton for the world is 3,430,906 bales, of which 2,339,406 are American, against 3,233,181 and 2,789,781 respectively last year. Receipts at all interior points, 134,862 bales; receipts at plantations 238,912; crop in sight 5,840,044 bales.

Great Storm in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3.—Dispatches from different parts of Kansas indicate almost an entire cessation of all local railway traffic as the result of the storm.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.

A Bill to Give us $50,000,000 Worth of It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—Mr. Kelly, of Kansas, to-day introduced in the house a bill directing the secretary of the treasury to print fractional currency of the United States to the amount of fifty millions of dollars; this currency to be issued in 5 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents and 50 cents.

TWO THEATRES IN FLAMES.

THE LOSS IS A HEAVY ONE AS REPORTED.

Fortunately the Audiences Had Gone Home and No Lives Were Lost So Far as Yet Ascertained.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—A fire broke out in the Fifth avenue theatre shortly before midnight last night. Three alarms were sent out. The audience and actors had all departed when the fire broke out. Fanny Davenport was playing "Cleopatra" in the theatre.

Herrmann's theatre in the same block also caught fire.

A careful estimate of the loss places it at $567,000, more than half of which falls upon the insurance companies. Never in the history of the fire department of this city were the members called upon to battle with such fierce flames.

So far there is no positive explanation given of the origin of the blaze. Professor Hereman says that the damage will exceed $25,000. Repairs on the theatre will be begun as soon as possible.

A rumor started to the effect that some lives were lost, but a careful investigation by the police and firemen fails to confirm it.

CLARK-ARNOLD.

Marriage of Rev. J. D. Arnold and Miss Mamie Clark at Raleigh.

Rev. J. D. Arnold, of the Asheville Female college was married in Raleigh Thursday afternoon. The Raleigh State Chronicle contains the following account of the marriage:

"A large gathering of friends and acquaintances were present in the spacious Edenton street Methodist Episcopal church, yesterday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, to witness the celebration of the marriage of Rev. J. D. Arnold, of the Asheville Female college and a prominent Methodist divine, to Miss Mamie Clark, an accomplished and popular sister of Hon. Walter Clark, associate justice of the supreme court. The bridal party entered the church by all four aisles, which was handsomely and tastefully decorated in the following order: Messrs. W. J. Peele, T. A. Partin, R. S. White and Fuller Reid, the ushers entered one by one each aisle. The attendants, one couple of each aisle, Mr. Palmer Jermain and Miss Minnie Reid, Mr. Martel Wise and Miss Susie Clark, Mr. Willie Arnold and Miss Emma Metcalf, Mr. Henry Clark and Miss Mary Cordun.

"Miss Dullie Clark, the maid of honor, preceded the bride, who entered upon the arm of her brother, Hon. Walter Clark. As the bride entered, the groom, with Dr. J. F. Crowell, his best man, entered the aisle opposite hers. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. W. C. Norman, of Winston. Miss Alice Jones presided at the organ with her accustomed skill and grace.

"The happy pair were the recipients of many congratulations and handsome presents. The Chronicle congratulates Mr. Arnold upon the prize he has won, and throws the traditional handful of rice as a shower of good wishes."

A Right to the Title.

From Puck.

"You dear old blessed!" exclaimed Mrs. Soltair, when her husband handed her a fine pair of diamond earrings for a Christmas gift. "Why do you call me blessed?" asked Soltair. "Because it is more blessed to give than to receive."

CAPT. ATKINSON TALKS.

HIS IMPRESSIONS OF THE GREAT WEST.

Better Crops out There, But Better Water Here—He Would Not Give North Carolina for the Whole Business.

Capt. Natt Atkinson, who returned from a trip through the West Friday morning, has talked to THE CITIZEN concerning his trip. The substance of his impressions of the country he passed through is here given:

"Well, I took quite a circuit, going through South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, via New Orleans, Texas, Arkansas, Indian Territory and Tennessee. I noted carefully the situation and condition of things—talked with everybody and got all the dots and ends, and in the two weeks' trip laid up quite a store of information.

"Upon the whole I conclude that the south in resources is the greatest country on the face of the earth,—and fifty years from to-day will show it to be the most prosperous and happy land either in the old or new world, and that Asheville will be the very centre of its goodness and greatness.

"In comparison with our own country everything is as different as it is possible to be. There they have a more fertile soil for the production of cane, cotton, corn, etc., where if you work you can make enough in one year to last you two or three, but you would gladly exchange it all for the pure water, delightful climate and the many good things that every man may enjoy in old Buncombe if he will work. Some people might be glad to see you. They treat one from their old homes like they were brothers, are untiring in their efforts to please and make your stay pleasant. There is no discount on them, but they too often fall into the careless and indifferent way of the western man—they don't care whether school keeps or not."

"Largely, the best people are going to the towns and leaving the farms in the hands of the poorer class of whites and negroes. Consequently you see but few apparently happy homes. There is no mistake but that the Arkansas traveler has been abroad in the land and left a numerous progeny wherever he went.

"Texas and Arkansas are large enough for an empire, and contain all the elements necessary to make a great and successful one, having a soil capable of producing everything needed by man.

"The matter of the purchase of the Cherokee strip for an Asheville syndicate is still in abeyance. The Indians are divided on the question of a sale, but it is likely that a sale will be made during the present year—after the Indians get together and understand exactly how the money is to be divided. Each one wants his share in hard cash, in case of a sale, but will not consent for the proceeds of the sale to go into the treasury to be handled by the few. You see the Indians are 'catching on' as the wheels of time make their revolutions.

"Take it all in all I would not give old North Carolina with her delightful climate, pure water, beautiful scenery, with Asheville as her great metropolis, for all west of the Mississippi river. This country is good enough for me."

A GOOD MAN GONE.

Death of Mr. B. S. Gash, at His Home Last Night.

Mr. B. S. Gash, living on the Swannanoa river, about 7 miles from Asheville, died at his home last night at 11 o'clock, of pneumonia.

Mr. Gash was one of Buncombe's most respected citizens, and a descendant of the Gash family who first settled in Buncombe county. He was an honest, upright and conscientious man, honorable in all his dealings with his fellow man, and generous to a fault. As an index to the character of Mr. Gash, it is related that on one occasion he discovered a thief in his granary in the act of stealing a sack of corn. Instead of turning the rogue over to the hands of the law, Mr. Gash quietly assisted in the
