A Railway Commission.

The Raleigh News and Observer says that "with regard to our railroad rates, since they appear to be substantially the same as the rates fixed by the Georgia commission, the thought presented itself, if these rates are reasonable for Georgia, why ain't they reasonable in North Carolina?"

If the Raleigh News and Observer can show that the rates actually in force on the Richmond and Danville railway in North Carolina about the same as those set by the Georgia commission it will perform a public service. The rates have been shown, and published the fact some time ago, a schedule of Richmond and Danville freight rates that averaged lower than the Georgia rates—a very remarkable circumstance considering the heavy grades on some parts of the Richmond and Danville. But we have been forced to the conclusion that the Richmond and Danville does not always follow its published schedule of rates; and it is to this fact that we understand the Clinton Caucasian to endeavor to direct the attention of the News and Observer—without much success so far as we have observed.

She Had No Home.

In That Way the Tax Collector Was Awarded. From the Raleigh Chronicle.

He [a lawyer] said that he knew a wealthy widow who paid taxes nowhere. Most of her property was in stocks and bonds. In the winter she would go to Florida, spend the early spring and fall in North Carolina, and go off early in the summer (before the time to list taxes) and never call any place home. She took no car—she was not examined—she paid no tax anywhere, though her fortune was large; and the amount she would have to pay, if her property were taxed, was enough to pay all her travelling expenses and her trip to a fashionable watering place. This is a highly respectable lady and would be shocked if told that she systematically defrauded the state. She claims no place as her home and the lawyer who gave us this information said that he believed that her object in not having a fixed abode was to escape paying taxes. If she had a home and gave in her taxes she would doubtless be searching exact and just to the last farthing, was the opinion of the lawyer. This is an extreme case, and is not half so dishonest as the continued and systematic swearing and evasions which men practice to escape taxation.

No "Defence" Needed.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, which has never been known to entertain a generous sentiment towards the people of the south, speaks in a recent article of the "things and murderers who to the bidding of the stupid and cruel oligarchy which keeps the south poor and stagnant amid the prosperity and rush of the other parts of the union." And yet we are told that sectionalism is dying out! Charleston News and Courier.

After quoting the Inter-Ocean's delirious News and Courier, innocently as a child, presents statistics to prove that the South is not "poor and stagnant;" as if the Inter-Ocean did not know the fact as well as the News and Courier!

they received. Among those free was a murderer named Colton, who received a life term for killing a husband in order that he might secure his wife. The woman aided him in the crime. There can be no question that this is a terrible abuse of the pardoning power. It is impossible that these forty-six criminals should all deserve freedom.

ITS THIEVES AND LIARS.

The Republican Party Does Not Want to be Rid of Them.

From the N. Y. Post.

There are many objections to the law which enables the old congress to sit and legislate, after the election of the new one, but it has one merit. It enables the party in power, if it has been defeated at the polls, to show that it has profited by the lesson of the election. Has the republican party given any sign that it has profited by the lesson of the last election? Not the smallest. Quay is not simply the Pennsylvania boss. He is chairman of the national republican committee. Has the party taken any steps to oust him from this position which he disgraces? None whatever. Has he lost any of his influence with the majority in the senate, or abated any of his activity there? None that is apparent. Is there any sign of repentance in the party over Speaker Reed's coarse tyranny? None whatever. Has Ingalls, twice elected president of the senate, been made to make any amends for the gross insult to the conscience and intelligence of the party—the repudiation of the ten commandments and the golden rule? Not the least; in fact, he sticks to it bravely, and is seeking re-election on this devil's platform. We are omitting all reference to the tariff. We do not ask, has the party shown any sign of regarding the McKinley bill? We simply ask, is it showing any desire to get rid of its thieves and liars?

A COARSE, BRUTAL INSULT.

That is About What the Force Built.

From the New York Herald.

Then came the Force bill, the last rancorous relic of ancient hatred. It is a coarse, brutal insult to a people who are doing all that can be expected with a race problem so serious and grave that we may well thank God we are not ourselves called upon to handle it. Under the plea of fair elections it hides an inordinate greed of party, which would endanger the republic for the sake of another lease of power.

If that bill is pushed through the senate the republicans may gain a small advantage, but the country will suffer incalculable loss. Bitterness will return, the gulf of separation will be widened, business will be injured—for capital is shy in the presence of uncertainty—and the hands on the clock of progress will be set back.

That bill represents a malignant purpose and its enactment would be little short of a crime. The common sense of the country is against it. It is used by party, by a frenzied demagogue, who would imperil the government rather than lose a personal advantage.

NORTH CAROLINA FOLKS.

Very active efforts are now in progress at Raleigh to secure the pardon of Cross and White, the ex-president cashier of the wrecked State National bank of Raleigh.

Dr. J. A. Hodges, of Fayetteville, was married Saturday at Greensboro to Miss Mary Gray, daughter of Col. J. A. Gray, president of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad.

Charlotte News: Mr. I. W. Wilson, well-known in this state as a civil engineer and projector of the famous engineering feat at Round Knob, on the Western North Carolina railroad, and who has been superintendent of the Louisville railroad for some years, has resigned and returned to his native state.

Mr. Chas. Mathenson, of Chicago, and Mr. Thos. H. Smith, Eau Clair, Wis., are here inspecting the timber interests of the county. Mr. Mathenson is of the firm of Mathenson & White, wholesale dealers and manufacturers of lumber, operating in Grand Rapids, Bay City, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Antigo, Wis.—Murphy Bulletin.

General Philemon B. Hawkins died recently at his home at Louisville, Franklin county; aged sixty-five years. He was before the war a prominent government contractor, a member of a well-known and very influential family. Since the war he had been a republican in politics, and served several terms as a senator.
