tion of a public building at Danville, Ill. Pending this Mr. Pland moved an adjournment, supplementing his motion with the suggestion that if the house had nothing to do but pass public building bills, it should not remain in session. The house refused to adjourn; yeas 30.

The senate met at noon with Vice President Morton in the chair and with a fuller attendance of members than on any other day at the same hour since the session began.

Scores of petitions for and against the Conger lard bill were presented and for and against the Torry bankruptcy bill. Mr. Hale, from the census committee reported back without amendment, the apportionment bill, and it was placed on the calendar. He stated that the maority and minority report will be present in a lew days.

Mr. Hoar, from the committee on privileges and elections reported back the credentials of Frederick P. Dubois, as senator elect from the state of Idaho for the term of six years, beginning March 4 next, with the statement that it is the usage of the senate to consider any question that may arise on the credentials of a senator

which the senator claims to be elected

The first paragraph of the above is accepted as an official announcement that Governor Hill will not be a candidate for a third term.

Gov. Hill, in his message, calls upon the legislature to provide for an enumeration of the people of the state in order that a "fair and just apportionment may follow in due time." He advises a general revision of the excise laws to the end that they may be more easily understood follow in due time." He advises a general revision of the excise laws to the end that they may be more easily understood and enforced, but expresses the opinion that the present license charges are high enough. In that portion of his message devoted to the "interests of labor," the governor advocates the compulsory arbitration of disputes between corporations and their employes. He calls the attention of the legislature to the fact that there is at present no law regulating the employment of Pinkerton detectives during labor strikes and suggests the advisability of framing a statue either to prohibit their einployment or to define the functions, regulate the duties and restrict the powers of such "detective" organization.

The governor denounced the election bill and says that the United States senate is ignoring pressing legislative business in order to push through this "revolutionary mensure." He urges the legislature "by resolution or otherwise as may seem best, to express so emphatically its condemnation of the proposed legislation that the united voice of New York's representatives in congress may be secured to avert from the state and the county the evil effects of so unwise a law. He recommends such legislation and liberal action as will enable the state's resources at the coming world's fair.

Mrs. M. L. Wells, of Chattanooga resented the conference report on the regent deficiency bill and said the senate T. U. assembly and training school," arhad receded from its amendments (relative to the pay of scuatorial clerks), but guest of Miss Anna Aston, on Church Mrs. Wells is here on business con sected with the training school. The ldea of establishing this school was first tated two years ago at the W. C. T. U. state convention. The initial meet ing looking to the establishment of such a school was held in Asheville last summer, at which time committees were aprules and pass the senate bill for the erec- cure a place for a permanent meeting. To show the desirability of the school; ten offers of land were made to the committees, among the others an offer from Mr. Otis A. Miller, of Skyland Springs, with a donation of $1.000, if the school would locate there.

> Mr. Miller's proposition has been ac cepted, and the contract for the erection of a pavilion has been let. The seating capacity will be 2,500 persons, and the building will be of the same style of architecture as the New York Chautauqua, and will be finished in time for the meetand will be finished in time for the meeting in July.

Mr. Miller's generous gift included twenty acres of land for the use of the assembly as it might see fit. Of this enough has been reserved for the assembly's needs and the remainder will be sold in lots to those wishing to build cottages. Although the large sale of lots will not take place until the summer meeting, lots may be purchased by those wishing to creet cottages before the meeting from Geo. A. Shuford, Esq., in this city, the attorace for the assembly. Builders in Skyland Springs are ready Builders in Skyland Springs are ready to take contracts for the erection of cottages at the cost of $100 a room.

The assembly will meet in its new pavilion on July 19th and will continue until July 31st. The committees are in correspondence with some of the eminent some of the most prominent W. C. T. U. workers, and have had replies from several signifying their willingness to attend. At this school of methods, which will be the first of the kind in the south, in addition to the regular departments of the W. C. T. U. and evangelistic work, there any, mineralogy and kindergarten. Cor-respondence is now in progress for the engagement of teachers in all these branches.

Skyland Springs, where the assembly will be held, is but eight miles from Ashe-ville, on the Asheville and Spartanburg railroad, and the property on which the pavilion will be located joins the Vander-bilt estate. There are mineral springs in tels have already been erected there. that one going there can combine health, pleasure, recreation and instruction. The programs will be so arranged that persons can leave Asheville on the morn-ing Asheville and Spartanburg train, hear the most prominent lecturers and speakers and return on the afternoon train the same day.

Mrs. Wells is very enthusiastic over the scheme. Without any effort on the part of those in charge, a donation of $25 was received from Dr. R. H. McDonald, of California.

with stones and them stormed it in the most approved fashion.

The police on duty at that spot made a gallant defence, using their batons freely and charging the strikers in spite of the showers of stones. During the conflict a number of the police and a still greater number of the strikers were more or less striously injured.

The rioters were finally repulsed just as strong reinforcements of police and troops were being sent to the scene of the collision.

THE PAPERS WILL BESERVED PROBABLY TO-MORROW.

W. H. Deaver, the Plaintiff, Talks What the Charter Savs-Messrs Blanton and Miller Think it Political Move.

Mr. W. H. Deaver who is named in the summons as plaintiff, says he is backed by some of Asheville's prominent taxpayers. Mr. Deayer said this morning:

"The papers in the case have not yet been made out, but will be ready prob ably to-morrow, and we will endeavor to have the hearing before Judge J. H mer, at which time committees were ap-pointed to look into the matter and se-has gone in debt too far, and we think it is time to call a halt. The charter of the city of Asheville, chapter 17, section 169, says:

"That among the powers already conferred on the board of aldermen, they may borrow money only by the consent of a majority of the qualified and registered voters of the city, which consent shall be obtained by a vote of the citi-zens of the corporation, after thirty days' public notice, at which time those who consent shall vote 'approved,' and those who do not consent shall vote 'not approted

"The city has clearly violated the pro visions of its charter, and the taxpayers do not wish to see their money spent without first having an opportunity voting their preference in the matter."

Mr. F. M. Miller, the city clerk, said that he did not think an injunction could be secured to restrain the city from pay"The largest debt," said ing the debts. "The largest debt," said Mr. Miller, "is an open account with the Vestern Carolina bank. Mr. J. E. Ran kin, the city treasurer, has advanced money to the city with which to pay its floating debts and interest, and this has been a great accommodation. From May to November but little money is paid into the treasury and the city mus have funds with which to run its depart ments, and will need advances until a settlement is had with the city tax co "The city owes Gen. P M. B. Young, for paving, about $12,000. There is a note of $3,000 out for the fire alarm sys tem; Kelly & Strachan have the city's hook and ladder truck and horses. Be sides these there are some other smaller debts.

"I have always had doubts as to th legality of some of these debts, as for instance, the paving debt, but the city attorney gave it as his opinion that although the charter requires that such questions be left to a popular vote, the city might borrow money to meet cur-pipes; Col. Frank Coxe holds a note for $2,000 and there is a debt of $680 for ent necessary expenses.

"The matter," said Mr. Miller, "has a political aspect to me, but of course we cannot tell what will come of it." Mayor Blanton said in regard to the suit :- "I think it has been brought merely for political effect. The city has n thing to fear, and I am ready for trial."

The result is that the promoters of the election bill give their consent to consideration of the financial bill with the stipulation, that it should be pushed with utmost diligence so as to reach a vote upon it by next Thursday.

Whether this agreement includes the renewed consideration of the elections bill after the disposition of the financial bill did not appear.
