Intolerant as Ever. The Pittsburg Americus Republican club adopted a resolution condemning Each obeyed his conscience. Each planned Senator Cameron for his vote in favor of free silver coinage, and asking him to resign. Cameron is in hard lines. He has been condemned already for voting has been condemned already for voting has been condemned already for voting against the force bill. A few more snubs by Lee to gather together the fragments from his republican constituents ought to land him in the democratic party. They would not, however, but they would be very likely to do that for other republicans who hate intolerancy and survived Johnston the same soldier cour whose party ties are not so binding nor tesy would have inspired him to indite so conspicuous as those of Senator Cam-bent just now on being the party of a minority. It tolerates not the least difference of honest opinion, but condemns without stint such men as Wolcott, Teller and Cameron, bidding them follow blindly the extreme partisons of the party or be classed as democrats. The efforts of this policy on the rank and file of the republicans will probably be to drive great numbers of them to vote with the democrats. Independence of party is increasing anyway these days and the old party cries do not have the force they were once supposed to have.

Reform the Telegraph Office.

THE CITIZEN learned that the new man ager of the Western Union telegraph office in this town, Mr. Egerton, being inclined to think that cleaning this particular Augean stable was more than he bargained for, asked to be given, and was given, a less onerous position. THE CITIZEN hoped Mr. Egerton would conclude to stay here. The man who sees clearly what is needed in the position be has been asked to fill, is the Stanley beauties, Sam Jack's languishing man to fill it. The office needs removat. Creokes, and the hours of half a dozen man to fill it. The office needs renovating; needs to be conducted outside the lines of "the public be-" spirit, needs to have some energy put into it; needs re building, lock, stock, and barrel; needs to be so managed that rates for the delivery of messages will not be one thing one day and another the next; needs to have such financial resources that a dollar can be changed now and then without going out into the street. This may seem a good deal, but it all of it were secured the office would only be up to a fair standard of service. As conducted in the past it has smacked too much or odious monopoly.

The Burning of Columbia.

The Charleston News and Courier is wicked paper. The New York Tribune having remarked that "when Sherman entered Columbia the piles of catton Gen. Wade Hampton had fired were smouldering in the streets," the News and Con-

The Tribune will find in a work entitled Ohio in the War, which was written b the Tribune, who accompanied Gen. Sher man on his march, the information that at nightfall the tires broke out again, doubtless in one or two places from the burning cotton; but, as it by concert, there suddenly came cries of alarm from a dozen different quarter; the city was on fire in as many places. Mr. Reid's appinion, expressed in the same place, is that the burning of the city was the most monstrous barbarity of the barbar good advice whe rous march' and that there is a reason must teach their rous march and that there is reason t it, and made no effort to punish it.

The American Present is the name of a monthly magazine to be started at Suc-field, Ala., by the 1st of April, Thomas L. Cannon will be the editor. It will contain ten illustrations, and about firty contributions from southern writers. As it starts without capital, an appeal is made to the public to sustain it -Atlanta Constitution.

The public will not answer the appeal The public is very busy just now and is not sustaining magazines with no capital and ten illustrations. It is pitiable to hear of the ignorance of men who will, at this late day and after all the experience available on the subject, start a magazine without capital in plenty.

Not much progress seems to have been ande so far with the business that grought the Indianchiefs to Washington. They have had one or two interviews with a committee, on Thursday with the president, and the secretary of the inter-ior read them some statistics and show ed them how well they have been treated by the government, and then they were conducted to the door.—Baltimore News.

Mr. Harrison's assumption that the ations and other supplies issued to the adians are by way of charity shows the distonest point of view that is maintained by him, by Secretary Noble and by Commissioner Morgan. What the govcrument agrees to give the Indians is in return for their lands, and is as much due to them as Mr. Harrison's salary is to him. To speak of it as a charity is un-true and unjust.—New York World.

President Harrison received the Sioux Indians at the white house and gave them some good paternal advice about how to spend their money. The dis-patches say that after they made their adieux to the great father the red men spent the evening in shopping. As the gin shops are the only places of business usually open after 6 o'clock, there is a suspicion that the Indians might have nisunderstood Mr. Harrison's little mo
