SEVEREST SNOW STORM.
DRIFTS TWENTY (20) FEET DEEP, THEY SAY.
Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Nebraska Get It This Time—A Regular Blizzard Blowing.
CHICAGO, March 9.—Dispatches from numerous points throughout Minnesota, Northern Iowa, Central Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and Eastern Nebraska report that the severest snow storm of the winter raged Saturday night and all day Sunday. There was a regular blizzard blowing and the snow was badly drifted. Trains are running behind time, and especially in Minnesota, with great difficulty. In some localities not a wheel is turning. Travel on the wagon roads has been wholly suspended and in the cities street car traffic is more or less delayed.
St. Cloud, Minn., reports drifts from five to twenty feet deep. Moorhead reports the snow from three to five feet deep. On the prairie and in many localities the drifts are ten feet deep.
LOAFERS CATCH ON.
A Happy Idea Hit Upon and the Success of the Scheme.
The sunshine this morning brought an unusually large crowd of loafers to the square bright and early. Some there were who came to be in time for the trial of the Salvation army, others came to see the superior court open, and a large number came purely for loafing purposes.
But they gave the National bank corner a wide berth, those who could read. The cause of this queer action was soon seen.
Posted in half a dozen places in the windows of the bank, in letters that were cruelly unmistakable, was this meaning sentence: "The police will please keep off this corner and leave the place for loafers."
That was all it said.
But that seemed to be enough. Now and then a gentleman of leisure could be seen posing in the door of the bank when some friend would approach and shake him the sign. Then he would take a walk in as quiet a manner as possible.
As a result of the corner, which has caused so much complaint, was kept reasonably clear, and ladies had little trouble in making their way past the bank.
The cruellest of all laid at the door of Present Waddell, and it is feared that whatever political aspirations that gentleman may hereafter have will be nipped in the bud by these leisurely gentlemen, who regard the action as unwarrantably cruel.
But they kept off the corner and a resolution of thanks is in order to some one.
SUPERIOR COURT.
A Revision of the Calendar Ordered by the Judge.
The spring term of Buncombe superior court convened at 11 o'clock this morning, Judge George A. Brown, jr., of the first district, presiding.
The cases on the calendar set for today were called and continued. The court ordered a revision of the calendar to be made for the remainder of the term. The calendar will be rearranged for to-morrow's session. The court adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.
The jurors for the first week are: Asheville township, E. C. Chambers, E. E. Brown, H. T. Collins, Jas. H. Stradley, J. P. Marshall, J. M. Broyles, J. B. Cain; Sandy Creek, L. R. Giles, Flat Creek, W. E. Clarke, J. H. Whittington, N. B. McLean; Upper Hony, T. B. Brooks, W. H. Green; Reems Creek, Jacob Eller, K. J. Brank, T. J. Donahoe; Ivy, Jas. Carson; French Broad, W. F. Parrin.
The attention of witnesses and suitors is called to the fact that the calendar has been rearranged by His Honor Judge Brown, of the superior court, and some of the changes made will place cases for the first week of a different date, and so on. The CITIZEN to-morrow will contain the calendar in full as revised by the court, and suitors and others interested should take notice accordingly, so as to avoid any confusion which might arise from such revision.
MR. LUSK'S BURIAL.
Something of the History of This Aged Ashevillean.
James Lusk, who died Saturday afternoon at his residence, No. 413 North Main street, was one of Asheville's oldest citizens. He had lived to see Asheville grow from her humble beginning to the present time, and was thoroughly conversant with every important era in her history.
Mr. Lusk was born about eighty-three years ago, within 300 yards of the building in which he died and in which he lived for a number of years.
In his early life Mr. Lusk was a slave-tender to a certain extent. He was not a wealthy man, his only possession being the house and lot occupied at the time of his death.
Mr. Lusk leaves one son, who lives on Sandy Mush, his son, and three daughters, one of whom is unmarried.
A funeral service was held at the residence of the deceased yesterday afternoon, by Rev. C. M. Campbell, of the North Asheville Methodist church, after which the remains were interred at Riverside cemetery.

DRIVEN OUT OF HOMES.
CUMBERLAND RIVER'S PHENOMENAL RISE.
All the Lowlands Overflowed and Much Damage Done to Property—A Vast Angry Forest.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 9.—A phenomenal rise has occurred in the Cumberland river. At 1 o'clock this morning the gauge read 46.6 feet, a rise since Friday morning of 25.6 feet. More damage has been done by reason of the rapidity of the rise than would otherwise have occurred. Probably between 1,500 and 2,000 people have been driven from their homes, and goods in warehouses and cellars have suffered much damage. As viewed from the bridge the river is a vast, angry torrent.
Nearly all the lumber yards are overflowed and in some considerable loss will result.
Merchants were busy all day removing goods from cellars and warehouses near the wharf to high ground. At police headquarters many inquiries for shelter are being made. Reports from all points on the river show that it is rising everywhere, and the fullness of the Ohio and Mississippi will prevent the Cumberland from running down as rapidly as it otherwise would.
KILLED IN THE WRECK.
A Train Runs Off the Track and Burns.
PEORIA, Ill., March 9.—The locomotive of the Jacksonville Southern fast passenger train, over the Acheson, Topoka and Sante Fe, which left here yesterday morning, struck a curve at a switch near Havana and left the track. All the cars followed, piling up in great confusion. The half dressed passengers clambered out of the windows and through the roof of the demolished cars and hastened, barefooted through sleet and over icy roads for the nearest houses.
Under the engine was Fireman Saddle, who was instantly killed. Engineer George Birkenhead, of this city, had one arm and one leg cut off.
The others injured are: Edward Howell, of Peoria, burned and badly bruised. Walter Conover, Manito, Ill., left arm torn out and fatal injuries. Charles Mulvaney, Streeter, Ill., back and head crushed, will die. Miss Emma Bushton, St. Louis, seriously bruised. Express Messenger Bate, of Chicago, left foot torn off and badly bruised. F. Lewis, Peoria, seriously jammed in head.
The wreck immediately took fire and burned with great rapidity. It was with the utmost difficulty that some of the passengers were rescued, and one or two were severely burned. The loss to the company, including death and accident claims, will not fall far short of $100,000.

Prince Napoleon Dying.
ROME, March 9.—The physicians in attendance upon Prince Jerome Napoleon have announced that both the Prince's lungs are in a congested state, and they have informed the family that a fatal issue to his illness is only a question of a few hours.
Well Known Pastor Dead.
JOLIET, Ill., March 9.—Rev. Christian Sans, ex-pastor of the Evangelical church of this city, died here yesterday. Aged 79.
