Several Firms Burned Out—The Several Losses.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 6.—Fire yesterday destroyed the new seven-story abstract building and Franklin hotel, on Adams street, and did considerable damage to the Fellows building at the corner of Main and Adams streets. Loss to R. Dudley Frayser on abstract building is $75,000; Thomas R. Doyle on Franklin hotel, $20,000; ex-District Attorney John R. Fellows, of New York, loses $13,000 on his building.

Harpman Brothers, cigars, in Fellows' building, lost $10,000; S. S. Slayser & Co., tailors, loss $10,000. Insurance unknown.

A KILLING FROST.

Garden Truck Cut Down in Alabama.

MOBILE, April 6.—A light frost yesterday and a heavy frost this morning did great damage in the truck farming district. Tomatoes, cucumbers, squashes, beans and peas are killed, potatoes cut down and damaged 50 per cent. The cabbage crop is not materially injured. Fortunately the vegetables which have been killed do not constitute the main crop here, except potatoes and some farmers express the belief that the potatoes will recover in large degree from the effect of a frost.

Two Deaths.

LANSING, Mich., April 6.—J. H. Buckingham, treasurer and general manager of the Chicago steel works, dropped dead of heart disease while conversing with friends in his room at the Hudson House yesterday morning.

PRYSBURG, April 6.—John Harper, president of the Pittsburgh clearing house, and of the Bank of Pittsburgh, died yesterday, aged 80.

Australia's Parliament.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 6.—The Australian Federation convention has adopted a provision in their constitution, regulating powers of parliament and fixing the payment of members at $2,500 yearly and also a provision that all upper and taxation bills must originate in the house of representatives.

Eleven Italians Burned.

ROCHESTER, Pa., April 6.—In a fire last night a large frame structure on New York street belonging to John F. Smith, was destroyed. A number of Italians lived over the millinery store and eleven were burned to death.

Showman Barnum Dying.

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., April 5.—It is stated that P. T. Barnum, the veteran showman, who has been ill for several days, has suffered a relapse and it is feared he can live but a little while longer.

A Precocious Thief.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 6.—Andrew Nolan, a ten year old boy, has been arrested for stealing $11,000 in bank checks from the postoffice. He had a knack of opening banks, postoffice drawers, and collecting mail.

Rev. T. C. Teasdale Dead.

KNOXVILLE, April 6.—Friends in this city received on yesterday the sad intelligence of the sudden death of the night before of Rev. T. C. Teasdale, D. D., at his home in Columbus, Miss.

An April Snow.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6.—Snow fell here and all over north Alabama yesterday. The fall was slight, but it was the first April snow in this vicinity in over forty years.

The Printers Win.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The printers' strike in the job office here is ended, employees conceding 42 cents per thousand with extra rates for more than nine hours a day.

AN UPRISING IN INDIA.

TROUBLE IS BEING DONE FOR GREAT BRITAIN.

Signs that the Success of the Manipuria has Emboldened Other Native Tribes to Attack British Troops.

CALCUTTA, April 6.—If the present indications turn out as they are expected there is very serious trouble brewing in India for the British forces.

Emboldened by the success of the Manipuria, who recently crushed the Ghookam escort accompanying Chief Commissioner James W. Quanton in his efforts to settle disputes which have occurred among the rival chieftains of Assam, the Miranzia in the Kohat territory, a district of Peshawar division of Punjab, have risen in arms and are attacking the British troops along the whole length of their lines. It is also known that the Miranzai attack is being pushed so vigorously that strong reinforcements have been hurriedly dispatched to the front. Full details as to this new uprising are withheld by the British authorities here. In addition to the Miranzai trouble, telegrams from Kanguon announce that the Haku Chins laid in ambush in a favorable locality awaiting the passage of a small British column on the way from one military post to another. When the British force was well inside the ambush laid for it, the Haku Chins suddenly opened fire upon soldiers, instantly killing Lieut. Forbes and five men and stretching eleven others, severely wounded, returned to the camp. This column, however, returned the enemy's fire with such effect that the British force was enabled to retreat from the dangerous position into which it had been led and thus probably escaped total annihilation.

PAINTERS' STRIKE.

They Want Less Work and More Pay If Possible.

NEW YORK, April 5.—About 1,000 journeymen painters went on a strike today to enforce the demand of eight hours a day and $3.50 instead of $3 as heretofore for eight hours' work. At headquarters today it was reported that six additional firms had yielded to the demands of the men this morning and delegates were out visiting the employers still holding out. Out of eighty-five shops where the increase had been demanded all but twenty-eight have yielded. It is said the demands were agreed to by the employer, as this is the busiest time of year for painters, and many employers have contracts which they must carry out at any price.

A REPLY TO CHIEF SMITH.

There is Antagonism—Educational Work Among the Cherokees.

EDITOR THE CITIZEN.—My attention has been called to a letter of Chief N. J. Smith, relative to his "Antagonism to H. W. Spray."

Many things a person ought and must ignore, but the publicity sought by the chief compels me to ask of you space to say that the reasons named for "antagonism" are without foundation, are absolutely and unqualifiedly false. There is an antagonism, but the cause and motive is unmentioned.

In the autumn of 1883 Rev. T. C. Brown, under the auspices of the Society of Friends, took a contract from the commissioner of Indian affairs for the care, support, education and training of twenty Indian girls, and for nine months conducted the school. In July 1884 I succeeded him. In conversation he spoke freely of the difficulties he had met and of the factions then existing among the Cherokees. In 1884 twenty boys were allowed in the school; in 1885 a new building and training shop was erected. In 1887 the number was increased to eighty pupils, and since then there has been an attendance of from eighty to ninety pupils. All the children have been taken for whom accommodations could be furnished, although not as many as wished to attend.

Twice by government officials, once by an agent of the Indian Rights association and frequently by church officials has the school been thoroughly inspected. All commend its work and methods.

Rev. Daniel Dorchester, superintendent of Indian schools, recently spent three weeks in the school. To none of these officials did Chief Smith make any proof of any lack, failure or wrong in my administration of the educational interests of the Indians. The superintendent gave him ample opportunity to make and prove any allegations he wished. The superintendent has authority to dismiss for cause employees in the school service.

The educational work among the eastern Cherokees is not all I desire, nor all I hope to make it. Visitors who wish to examine the work are welcome, and I try to profit by honest criticism, but much appreciate that which betrays strife and ill will. Respectfully,

H. W. Spray,

Superintendent Cherokee Schools, Cherokee, N. C., April 3, 1891.

A TREAT TONIGHT.

Principals of Emma Abbott's Old Company at the Grand.

The Columbia, S. C., State in a three-quarters column notice of the concert given by the principals of the Emma Abbott opera company, has this to say:

"Not since Emma Abbott's visit here have lovers of good music had an evening so fraught with pleasure as was the entire entertainment last night. There could be but one opinion—that it was especially sweet. 'The last rose of summer,' was rendered by Miss Eva Cummings in a style which combined deep feeling, admirable execution, and perfect command of voice. Signor Michelele has a tenor which is scarcely surpassed in sweet melody by the highest standard, which is appreciable in the human voice only. A soft bass, yet tuneful, sonorous and in fact powerful, is rarely noted in higher perfection than in William Broderick. Mme Broderick is an artist of high order. Her natural gifts are exceptional, and she has evidently appreciated them to that extent which induces arduous culture."

These artists appear at the Grand tonight and tomorrow night. The program tonight will consist of the quartette act of "Methers," grand opera selections and the fourth act of "H Trovatore."

MRS. LATHROP.

To be at the Grand Wednesday Evening.

Mrs. Lathrop, the W. C. T. U. lecturer, will deliver a lecture at the Grand Wednesday evening, and perhaps on the afternoon of that day, also.

Of Mrs. Lathrop's lecture the Washington correspondent of the Nashville, Tenn., Advocate, says: "Mrs. Lathrop waked up that audience with an oratorical cyclone set to music. She was epigrammatic, dramatic and most emphatic. She was argumentative, witty, rhetorical, sarcastic and pathetic. It was a wonderful speech. Her allusions to the south were kindly and tender."

MAYOR'S COURT.

Mayor Blanton's court was crowded this morning. The following cases were disposed of:

George Whitehead, drunk, $2.

Matt Engle, assaulting Will Miller, $2.50.

Thos. Howell, assault, bond over to criminal court.

Wm. Huntley, drunk and disorderly, $3.

Henry Love, disorderly conduct; bond over to criminal court.

George Kincaid, ill treatment of Elizabeth Kincaid, $5.

M'KINLEY.

Major McKinley predicts that the substance of the new tariff law will stand unrepealed for the next ten years at least, and the indications increase to corroborate this.—St. Joseph Herald.

The coke workers of Pennsylvania who were assured by the McKinleys that wages would soon be higher are now kept at the point of the militia bayonet because they demanded that the bosses fulfill their promises.—Omaha World-Herald.

Mr. McKinley modestly remarks that his tariff "speaks for itself." It does, indeed, speak for itself, with mute eloquence, every time a new reduction of wages is made and every time a workwoman goes to the store with her scanty earnings.—Dubuque Herald.

The report that comes from Washington today about Major McKinley belongs to the class of rumors that are always flying about in the mid-term of any administration. It is not likely that Major McKinley has decided as yet to announce himself as a presidential candidate in case he gets elected governor of Ohio. He is too sensible a man to issue any pronouncement of the sort.—New York Mail and Express.

CONSPIRATORS ARRESTED.

INSPECTOR BYRNES NIPS A PLOT IN THE HUD.

It was a Scheme to Get a Pile of Money Out of a Rich New Yorker's Estate.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Inspector Byrnes declares today that he arrested five conspirators, who are charged with having plotted to gain possession of the great estate left by the millionaire leather merchant, Loring A. Robertson. The method said to have been employed by the alleged conspirators, was to foist a fraudulent widow upon the estate in the person of Cassie Helen Brooks. The prisoners are the Brooks woman, Lawyer Byron W. Cohn, James Daskam, a speculator, of Hartford, Conn.; Edward L. Studwell and Mrs. West. Cohn, Daskam, and Studwell were charged with suborning, while Cassie Brooks was charged with perjury. Daskam is said to have had a talk with Studwell about finding a woman to personate the widow of a wealthy man who had recently died. Studwell, it is said, agreed, and produced Mrs. West. The two, so the story runs, took her to lawyer Cohn's office, but decided she was too old. Studwell then learned Robertson was the dead millionaire, another Stamford man furnished Brooks a woman, she was taken to Cohn's office, and was it declared, foisted by the lawyer to be suitable.

Cohn instructed Cassie Brooks, so it is said, how to act her part as Helen Robertson. The lawyer is said to have told her of many of Robertson's peculiarities, such as abnormal inquisitiveness. He said she would gladly compromise the case. She was to claim a common law marriage. A week ago Saturday Cassie Brooks became frightened and told her story to the attorney for the heirs.

BIG FIRE.

Lowell, Mass., Scorched Badly on Sunday.

LOWELL, Mass., April 6.—The worst fire Lowell has had in many years occurred yesterday afternoon. Some boys set fire to a box of waste paper in an alley back of the Edson block and fire dropped into H. C. Church & Sons' cellar. It spread rapidly. The Edson block, owned by the Wiman heirs of Baltimore, valued at $15,000, was completely wrecked. Church & Son's loss is $6,000, fully insured; C. J. Moore & Co., dry goods, $28,000, insurance $15,000; Simpson & Rowland, grocers, $5,000, insured. Tenants on third and fourth floors from $300 to $800 each, they being compelled to abandon everything. City's public reading rooms and various municipal offices were in the building. Fire spread to the Masonic temple and damaged it to the extent of $7,000, also damaging the Goodyear rubber store and the city's public library in the Masonic building where there were over 41,000 volumes.

So Sorry!

ROME, April 6.—It is reported Baron Fava, late Italian minister to the United States, will sail for home April 11th.

PARIS, April 6.—Already the effect of the American-Italian difficulty is felt in hesitation of the French financial houses to proceed with negotiations pending for prospective Italian loan, in which German houses are also concerned.
