CLEVELAND A PARTISAN.

NO IS EVERY PATRIOTIC DEMOCRAT.

Adherence to Democratic Doctrine is Synonymous With Patriotism, the ex-President says in Honor of Jefferson.

New York, April 14.—Thomas O. Bell and J. M. Levy, of the democratic club, gave a subscription dinner at the club house last night in honor of Jefferson's birthday.

Mr. Cleveland spoke at length. In the course of his speech he said:

"I am glad to be called a partisan in my patriotism. It is patriotic. If a partisan is correctly defined as 'one who is violently and passionately devoted to the charge of being a democratic partisan, so long as the democratic party is true to its creed and traditions, and so long as the conditions exist which to my mind justify the adherence to its doctrine, I am a partisan with patriotism.'"

"It is an inspiring thing to know that by virtue of our party membership we are associated with those who resist the attempt of arrogant political power to interfere with the independence and integrity of popular suffrage, who are determined to relieve our countrymen from unjust and unnecessary burdens, who are intent upon checking extravagance in public expenditures, and who test party purposes by the usefulness in promoting the interests and welfare of all the people of the land."

"In the light of our last great victory, no man who desires democratic success will deny the supreme importance of the most thorough and systematic presentation to our fellow citizens of reasons which support the avowed and accepted purposes of our party. Those who now sneer at our efforts in that direction are our enemies, whether they confront us as confessed opponents or whether they are traitors skulking within our camps."

THE RAILWAY WON.

It is a Way Railways Have in these Days in Court.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 14.—Judge Holmes has rendered a decision in the Leslie station case, involving the power of the railway commission to enforce its orders through the medium of the courts. The case was dismissed, being a decided victory for the railway company.

On the line of the Des Moines and Kansas City road are two stations, Ocala and Van Wert, fourteen miles apart. At the former point the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy crosses and at the latter the Keokuk & Southwestern. About midway between these points was Leslie, also a side-track called Phillipsburg, north of Leslie. The railroad claimed there was no business at Phillipsburg, and at Leslie. Therefore the company closed the station at Leslie and opened a new one further south. The citizens appealed to the commission, who decided that the station must be reopened. The company refused on the ground, first, that the railway commissioner had no power to make such an order; second, that the court has no jurisdiction to enforce the order; and, third, that the company was not guilty of failure to perform its public duty. On the two last points, the court sustained the commission, on the last question of fact it did not.

IT IS GRIP LIKE.

All England Will Probably be Affected by This Influenza.

LONDON, April 14.—The appearance of the influenza in the north of England, where it appeared in 1889 before it did anywhere else in England, causes great apprehensions of a serious epidemic.

In addition to the fact that the influenza is already prevailing in epidemic form in Sheffield the disease is prevalent through Yorkshire, and has reappeared suddenly at Hull where the death rate has doubled during the last fortnight. In the Bradford district, twenty miles from Hull, nearly everybody is affected more or less, and a work has practically been suspended everywhere. There have been many deaths from the disease there.

Advices from Paris say the disease is not prevalent there yet, although there is every indication of a serious renewal of the epidemic.

Paid $500,000 Cash.

SAN ANTONIO, April 14.—The Llano Iron and coal fields were purchased yesterday by the Wakefield syndicate, of Chicago. The cash consideration was $200,000. The Southern Pacific has surveyed a route to Llano, which will be finished by September and will open the largest marble, granite and iron fields in the United States.

Thinks It Time to Quit.

BENOS AYRES, April 14.—Gen. Roeca, minister of the interior, who was shot at by a boy and slightly wounded in the streets of this city, Feb. 20, has resigned his portfolio.

Fired the Cotton.

NATCHELONES, La., April 14.—A cotton seed oil mill here burned last night, together with $6,000 worth of stock and material. Loss $25,000; insurance $23,000.

Copper Mines on Fire.

Houghton, Mich., April 14.—Fire has broken out in the Pewabic mine and is raging with unabated fury. The Franklin mine adjoining is full of hot smoke.

LIFE IN NORTH CAROLINA.

—A furniture factory will soon be opened at Bilesville or New London.

—Greensboro has within its corporate limits, on Spring Garden, one of the finest mineral springs in the state.

—Rev. Thos. Dixon, jr., of New York, will lecture in Reidsville on June 2, and at other points in the state later.

—Thus far $32,000 has been secured for the new chair of history at State university, which Hon. K. P. Battle is to occupy.

—The circulars regarding the direct tax will be sent out in a day or two from the executive department. It will be well along in June before payments can begin.

A CURE FOR WARTS.

Register Mackey, in His Youth, was a "Doctor."

The truth is more or less mighty and in the end generally coaxes out at the large end of the horn.

And thus it transpires that J. I. Mackey, Rome's popular and polite register of deeds, was in his early days, a "conjurer," as it is called by the superstitious darkeys.

This fact was brought out a few days ago. A well dressed gentleman entered the register's office, and after shaking hands with Mr. Mackey, with whom he had attended school years ago, told the gentleman he had come to town to have him remove several warts which had grown on the hand of a little girl who was with him.

Mr. Mackey smiled slightly red, and declared to his old friend that he was neither a wart doctor or a conjurer. But his friend would not be put off in this summary style and launched out into a glowing description of the manner in which Mr. Mackey so effectively removed a troublesome wart for him years ago, when they attended the "dear little old school house in the dell."

This is the style in which Mr. Mackey disposed of the warts as told by the friend: "He told me to take as many sassafras roots as I could hold between my thumb and forefinger. Then he took them one at a time and trimmed each root, chanting a low, wiced dirge-like tune during the operation. When the roots were all trimmed Mr. Mackey told me to take them and bury them under a rabbit gnaw." I followed his instructions to the letter and the warts left. I want my old friend to practice his art for this little girl's benefit."

Mr. Mackey remarked that he remembered the words to the dirge, but had forgotten the tune. Nevertheless he said he would make the effort and giving the little girl an encouraging pat on the head said: "All right, now, bring me the sassafras roots and I'll make my mightiest efforts to take your warts off."

And the couple left, happy in the beginning of the end.

Yesterday evening the little girl appeared in the register's office and Mr. Mackey went through the operation, chanting a low tune and standing first on one foot and then on the other. After each wart had been rubbed with a sassafras root the little girl was told to bury them and when they rotted, so would the warts.

MR. CONNELLY RESIGNS.

R. P. Foster Made Master of Trains on the W. N. C. R. R.

Walter Connelly, master of trains of the Western North Carolina division of the Richmond and Danville railroad, has resigned. His resignation has been accepted and will go into effect tomorrow.

R. P. Foster, chief of staff, McLe's office, has been promoted to fill Mr. Connelly's place.

Mr. Connelly has been master of trains for three years and was in the employ of the Richmond and Danville for some time prior to his appointment to that position. He has made a thoroughly reliable and efficient officer and has won the admiration and esteem of the numerous employees, who were largely subject to his orders, and of the officers by whom he was interested with this position of honor and responsibility. His work has been well done and his excellent and systematic services have been greatly appreciated by the officials. He resigned in order to devote his entire time to the management of the Glen Rock hotel, which he recently purchased for $30,000.

Mr. Foster, who succeeds Mr. Connelly, is one of the most popular men in the service of the railroad company. He has been in Superintendent McLe's office as chief clerk for some time, and has made hosts of friends among the employees and the traveling public. He is an expert telegrapher and will make a good and efficient officer in his new capacity. His position as chief clerk will be filled by T. C. McNeely, who has been in the office for a considerable length of time.

The changes take place tomorrow.

HARRISON ON THE RAIL.

RUNNING THROUGH THE SUNNY SOUTH TODAY.

No Force Bill Has Prevented Him and He Will be Warmly Welcomed for the Sake of His Office.

ROANOKE, April 14.—The presidential train arrived here at 8:20 o'clock this morning, having made the run from Washington on exact schedule time. Fifteen minutes were spent at Lynchburg for the purpose of shifting the train from the Richmond and Danville road to the Norfolk and Western. A large crowd gathered at the station, but there was no demonstration as the president had not arisen. Another brief stop was made at Blue Ridge where a crowd gathered and enjoyed the spectacle of the chief magistrate and his family at breakfast.

The reception at Roanoke was most enthusiastic. The president shook hands with a hundred people from the rear platform and in response to repeated demands made a short speech. The entire population of the place seemed to have gathered at the station and as many of them as could do so embraced the chance to shake hands with the president. To Mrs. Harrison was presented a handsome bouquet. Many people asked for and obtained the president's autograph.

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—Yesterday the Mexican mayor of Juarez, (Paso del Norte) received instructions from his government to confer with the citizens of El Paso relative to the arrival of President Harrison here to see if his program could be so arranged as to have the presidential party cross the river to Juarez, where it is believed President Diaz desires to meet and entertain Mr. Harrison.

MORE POWER.

The People's Company to Double Its Present Capacity.

The People's Light, heat and power company will soon make extensive additions to its electric light plant.

Plans and specifications are now being made out, and the new machinery will be in position within a month or six weeks. The dynamo now used has a capacity for 1,600 lights. This is now found to be insufficient, and another dynamo of similar capacity is to be put in.

A new engine will also be ordered. The one now used has a capacity of 177 horse power. It is now being run to its fullest capacity. The new one will have 400 horse power, of the kind known as the tandem compound engine.

The growth of the company's business has necessitated these additions to the plant, and they hope to have the new machinery set up, as stated, within a month.
