Rev. Thos. Stradley died at his home on Beaverdam, four miles northeast of Asheville Saturday night at 12 o'clock and was buried vesterday at 4 o'clock. Mr. Stradley was the pioneer of the Saptist church of Western North Caroina. He was born in England March 12, 1798, and celebrated his 93rd birthlay a few weeks ago, by a gathering of friends at his house. Mr. Stradley was then in very good health for one of his age. Coming to this country when a young man he made his home in the western section of this state and it was through him that the Baptist church had its first organization in the western counties. In 1826 he instituted the First Baptist church of this city that being the first in this section. He also founded the first Sunday school and traveled very ex-tensively throughout the union to collect noney for the building of a church. The nouse of worship was erected near the French Broad river, Mr. Stradley acting as its pastor. He served in this capacity for fifty years, resigning in 1876, wher his age prevented further active work He was greatly loved and respected by a large circle of acquaintances throughout he entire west.

Mr. Stradley was the father of thirteen children, eleven of whom are now living, four sons and seven daughters. All are married excepting two of his daughters. His children and grand-children number about eighty, a large number of whom live in Buncombe and

THE KOCH LYMPH.

York Physicians Will Not

EDITOR THE CITIZEN: As our people in Asheville are very much interested in the progress and success of the Koch treatment of consumption I have taken some pains to enquire into the degree of success obtained here in the different hospitals in regard to this manner of treatment, and find, I am sorry to state, that the consensus of opinion of the most eminent medical men is not at all favorable to the further continuance of experiments of the lymph treatment. In fact the Polyclinic, Bellevue and Mt. Smai hospitals have ceased all together to use "so dangerous a remedy." Such great minds as Loomis and Page think that from their experience they are not justified in its further use. Hence, like many other sudden discoveries, Koch's lymph will soon be relegated to the quiet shades of "inocuous desinetude."

This conclusion reached by the medical world, consequently makes our country the more famous as a health resort, for it is well known here and almost everywhere else, that Asheville possesses cli-matic advantages for lung troubles that no other country in America does. Therefore, it behooves our citizens to make fore, it behooves our citizens to make every effort toward the permanent improvements of our city. We can not have too many hotels, for they will all be filled. Knowing and seeing what I have, since I left Asheville, we cannot afford to vote down the proposition for street improvements. All the new streets in this city are being paved with asphalt. They say it is less noisy and more durable than belgian blocks. This is where there is light traffic only.
