SIR JOHN'S SUCCESSOR.

Sir Charles Tupper's Movement Being Watched With Interest. TORONTO, Ont., June 6 .- A special cable ispatch to the Globe from London says: Two or three cable messages respecting Sir John Macdonald's condition continue to be published daily here. News is followed with the closest interest throughout the kingdom. Meanwhile there are no fidings of Sir Charles Tupper's plans. At the high commissioner's office nothing is known. Various inqui ries in unofficial circles where his move-ments are generally closely followed, had the same result. It is believed he is still in Vienna, but two other colonial delegates to the postal congress have al-ready returned to London. Among the many who are acquainted with Sir Charles Tupper's long cherished desire for succession to the leadership, the be lief gains ground that his present line of action is followed because it is thought best calculated to stimulate a request from Ottawa to return and assume command. Whatever may be the issue of the present position of the party, no one here expects Sir Charles Tupper to re-main in London many weeks longer."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Three Children Came Near Drown

PIGEON RIVER, N. C., June 6 .- [Special. Three of the pupils of Professor Buch anan's school at this place had a very narrow escape from drowning on vester day. The school building is located or the bank of the river, and near it is a narrow tramway over a sluice of water to an island. The children were holding to each other, crossing on this track to the island, when three of them became dizzy and fell in the water. Two of them the other, a little girl ten years old, was caught in the swift current and carried nearly 100 yards down the stream the other children's screams brought assistance, and by the heroic ef-torts of Mr. Ben Blalock, she was just saved from a watery grave. They will not be allowed to play on the river here-

Henry Clews in an interview said it appears that the Bank of Eng land and other English banking institutions have conspired to keep up fictitions rates for money, with the purpose of in-terlering with the laws which should govern trade and commerce, and of draining us of gold. He suggests that the American banks and trust companies re aliate by maintaining an arbitrary rate of interest at say 6 per cent, and that the treasury refuse to furnish gold for expor in higher denominations than $5 pieces in order to put all possible obtacles in the way of shippers.
