COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
CERTIFICATE OF ANALYSIS
State Assayer's Office, 297 Franklin St.
BOSTON, MASS., April 21, 1901.
To Chas. H. Campbell, Asheville, North Carolina.

The sample of water submitted for analysis has been carefully examined with the following results:

The water shows in parts per 100,000:
Solids volatile..... 2.00
    fixed..... 2.00
    total..... 4.00
Grains per gallon..... 2.00
This water is almost entirely free from organic matter, shows no very slight traces of iron, sulphur and lime. The water is very excellent in all respects. It is very seldom we find water so free from organic or mineral matter.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.

The way to make money is to save it. And the way to save it is to have your prescriptions filled at Carmichael's drug store, and you will find by doing so you will save from 25 to 30 per cent. on every prescription. We do not take goods that the people know the price and mark down to cost, and then charge two prices for a prescription to make up the loss. You know clerk hire and house rent must be paid and the profits must be averaged some way. A hint to the wise is sufficient. A full line of DeVault Flavoring Extracts in stock. Mr. J. Taylor Amis and Mr. Chas. W. Devault are with me and will be pleased to meet their friends and customers. Don't forget the place. Carmichael's drug store, No. 20 South Main street, Asheville, N. C.

C. M. Busbee's Condition—Cotton and Peaches—An Excursion for Asheville—A Fine Portrait of Hon. Chas. M. Stedman.

RALEIGH, June 16.—(Special)—The hot and dry weather also, which seem to have come at last, revives the hopes of the farmers mightily. Wheat harvest is on hand, and the continued rain threatened its perfection. As it is, the promise is a good one. But all interest is centered in cotton. Much of that is damaged beyond repair, and an average crop in quantity can hardly be expected; but its quality may be superior. The peach crop in this section will be a large one, so will that of grapes.

The condition of Mr. C. M. Busbee is more serious than was at first supposed. He was to have delivered an address at Wake Forest commencement last week, but was taken sick, it was thought slightly, the night before the day appointed for his speech. He has been since ever since, and yesterday I was informed that the attack was in the nature of paralysis, affecting one side and confining him helplessly to his bed; and it is not thought he will be restored, earlier than six months hence. Every one knows Mr. Busbee as a fine lawyer, an able politician, a useful and admired citizen which all combine to make him popular in North Carolina. He is known outside of the state also, for he is worthy Grand Master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the order of Odd Fellows in the United States.

Among the articles sent to be placed in the exposition is a lot of alligators received today from Florida. Their condition during the hot summer and out of their native waters will be pitiable; but a large excursion is being organized to leave here for Asheville on the 25th, and I think is looked upon with more interest than usual. But it will not be so full as the party visiting Fayetteville, New Bern or Winston, because in such cases the excursionists could return home the same night. This they cannot do from Asheville. But they will see more to remember the pleasure for no one ever forgets the first visit to the good wine and Asheville will surprise with its size, elegance and progress. Let the citizens be ready to trot out all the lions.

The Teachers Assembly begins practically tomorrow, and very many leave here today.

Col. Fred Olds has gone down to Wrightsville to expedite preparations for the encampment. That is looked upon with more interest than usual and visitors have the promise of better accommodations than they have ever before had, the hotel at the Hammocks having been much enlarged, and the new building now in the hands of an experienced hotelman.

The railroad commissioners meet today to assess the railroad properties in the state for taxation.

Mr. Randall, the artist, who was a resident of Asheville for some time, has just finished a fine art portrait of Asheville's new citizen, Hon. Charles M. Stedman, a good likeness and a good work of art. The portrait of Col. William Johnson, of Charlotte, is hanging in the state library, and is excellent. Mr. Randall has done very substantial work, which I hope will grow and receive the state from the reproach of the neglect of native art. North Carolina did patronize William Garle Brown, who was a good likeness and a good work of art. The portrait of Col. I heard last night at the Church of the Good Shepherd, the Rev. Mr. Wingate, temporary rector, but before long to go to Asheville, to take charge of the Episcopal theological school. It is probable that he will officiate sometimes in Trinity church, and therefore I listened to him with critical ear and fixed on him critically. I was satisfied. He is a ready speaker, with clear articulation, distinct voice, ready thought, strong and well chosen language, animated manner, natural and emphatic gesture, and, moreover, independent of notes or manuscript. He is a forcible and attractive extempore speaker. He will do.

MAN FROM MARSHALL.

He Got a Shake up Because He Didn't Know Just a Little.

Yesterday afternoon a tall, lank countryman, who imparted to a fellow passenger the fact that he hailed from Marshall, boarded an electric car on the square which was going down Patton avenue.

He had a large white umbrella in one hand, while from the other dangled an enormous carpet sack. The unusual spectacle was noted by several fine fellows who were on the car, but nothing was said to him.

He paid Conductor Fletcher his fare in silence, and laid into a study, apparently trying to figure out where electricity came from on a clear day.

Before they reached Depot street the man from Marshall jumped up, running to the conductor on the rear platform in an awe-stricken whisper asked: "Air you the flagman on this kyar?"

He was informed in the affirmative. "Wal," he continued, "I shart any way for to stop this goshfired contraption?"

"Stop lightning?" answered the conductor.

Merely waiting to be censored "Iegoshamighty!" the countryman sprang off the platform, carpet sack and all, and landed on his head on the cruel ground.

He was informed in the affirmative. "Wal," he continued, "I shart any way for to stop this goshfired contraption?"

It is presumed that he will tell the conductor hereafter when he wants to get off instead of asking if "kyar can be stopped."

At Weaverville College.

WEAVERVILLE, N. C., June 15.—(Special)—The college chapel was full to overflowing yesterday to hear the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Mr. Byrd of Asheville. The speaker gave the people a fine mental as well as spiritual feast.

At 5:30 p. m., the Rev. Mr. Arnold, of Asheville Female college, preached to the young people's society of Christian endeavor. The speaker impressed upon his hearers the manner in which God uses the weak things of the world to confound the mighty.

A CRUSADE ON ROYALTY.

THE "WACCAN" AT SCANDAL WILL NOT DOWN.

Some Very Ugly Questions Being Asked—The Prosecution of One Member of the Royal Family Urged.

LONDON, June 16.—The popular crusade against the Prince of Wales shows no signs of abating in strength or bitterness. After a lecture delivered last night at Carnarvon, Wales, by Henry M. Stanley, the band played "God bless the Prince of Wales." The Welchman no sooner heard the first strains of the familiar air, however, than he raised a storm of hisses which almost drowned the noise of the band.

At seven religious meetings held in various parts of the country yesterday the Prince of Wales was roundly denounced for the share he took in the baccarat scandal. At a Methodist conference, now being held at Leeds, the visit to Tranby Croft was classed as "a gambler's orgy."

LOOKING FOR A MIRACLE

FLOCKING TO PITTSBURG TO BE CURED.

Exaggerated Reports of Wonderful Cures Done by a Roman Catholic Priest Result in Disappointment for Hundreds.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 16.—For the past 24 hours the union station here has appeared more like a hospital than a railroad depot. All day yesterday and today it was filled with a miscellaneous variety of incurable people who had been taking religious medical treat at Father Mollinger's establishment on Troy Hill. The great majority of them were sadly disappointed. They came here firmly believing from reports sent out that the great priest possessed supernatural healing powers, though he never made such claims himself.

For the most part they were hopeless invalids, whose cases had been given up by their physicians. The majority of them were very poor people who had spent their last money to make the trip to Troy Hill. The condition of most of these returning patients was as miserable as could well be pictured. Some were carried to their trains on stretchers, while others came to the depot on crutches and wheeled chairs.

Father Mollinger was a very busy man yesterday. About 1000 of his patients were escorted into his presence, before their departure, for final blessings. He will not complete the religious feature of his treatment until Wednesday. While the great majority of the patients have been but little benefited, others report what seem like miraculous cures.

NEW APPELLATE COURT.

Its First Session Opened by Chief Justice Fuller.

RICHMOND, Va., June 16.—The United States circuit court room was crowded this morning with distinguished lawyers and citizens to witness the imposing ceremony incident to the opening of the new appellate court, comprising the districts of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina.

At 12:07 o'clock Chief Justice Fuller, of the supreme court, closely followed by Judges Hugh L. Bond, of Maryland, and J. Jackson, of West Virginia, and took their seats upon the bench.

Meanwhile the audience had arisen to its feet. These dignitaries, previous to the chief justice, bowed to the assembly.

The chief justice then arose and said: "We have met to
