OUR STOCK OF GROCERIES

IS LIKE A RUNNING STREAM.

Hundreds Take From It,

Yet it is never diminished.

This, of course, is because there is a never failing spring of supply that feeds the stream. Sluggish streams stagnate, so do sluggish groceries. They become musty, sour and stale, and unfit for use. The movement here is quick; new things coming and going. We use modern methods and buy what we can sell before getting stale and pride ourselves in having a fresh stock to select from at all times.

The way to make money is to save it. And the way to save it is to have your prescriptions filled at Carmichael's drug store, and you will find by doing so you will save from 25 to 30 per cent. on every prescription. We do not take goods that the people know the price and mark down to cost, and then charge two prices for a prescription to make up the loss. You know clerk hire and house rent must be paid and the profits must be averaged some way. A hint to the wise is sufficient. A full line of DeVault Flavouring Extracts in stock. Mr. J. Disgusting and Degrading Rights at the Execution of Two Frenchmen as Accessories to Murder—A Desperate Struggle.

PARIS, July 25.—Horrible scenes have been witnessed during the past week on and about the Place de la Roquette, the place where criminals are beheaded by the guillotine. Crowds of the lowest of the low have assembled there every evening and have passed the night eagerly waiting to witness the beheading of the murderers Berland and her accomplice Dore. On Saturday morning, as already cabled, a large crowd gathered about the place de la Roquette in expectation of seeing these criminals beheaded, but the ghastly work was postponed on account of the marriage of executioner Daibler's son and assistant to the daughter of a provincial executioner.

Since that time, Sunday morning excepted, the voyous and their consorts, as well as a certain number of people of a better class, have gathered each morning about the prison and the execution place, singing, shouting, fighting, and using obscene and profane language. This morning the crowds were more riotous and otherwise offensive than usual. The consequence was that the police were compelled to charge the crowds, making many arrests and somewhat clearing the air of the neighborhood.

The gargotes, cafes and other public resorts of the neighborhood have throughout the week been doing a booming business as a result of this bloodthirsty expectancy, and when the police had charged and cleared the streets they had another and quite as lively a task in clearing out the most disorderly of these drinking places. Here, again, many arrests were made, and drunken men and drink-sodden women, yelling and fighting, were escorted to the police stations, soiling the very air through which they passed by the horrible language with which they profaned it.

PARIS, July 27.—The execution of young Berland and Dore, two accomplices in the murder of the countess of the Place de la Roquette. Berland walked calmly to the guillotine, but a desperate struggle took place on the scaffold. Finally the executioners succeeded in forcing him down upon the banc and from there slid his head under the knife. Dore did not make any resistance.

The execution of the two men occupied only eight minutes. Thousands of spectators, mostly of a depraved class, witnessed the horrible scene and six hundred soldiers had hard work to keep order. No sooner had Berland's head rolled into the basket than the crowd with a combined mighty rush broke through the cordon of troops and police and rushing up to the scaffold, gloated over the blood-stained machinery of execution, some of them taking handfuls of bloody sawdust away with them as souvenirs.

CLEVELAND'S LINE FENCE.

He Has None and Therefore Can't be Quarrelled With.

SANDWICH, Mass., July 27.—The reception to ex-president Cleveland lasted till nearly 1 o'clock, when the assembly adjourned to the casino, where a banquet was served. When Cleveland entered and took his seat on the stage he was given a great ovation, ladies waving handkerchiefs and gentlemen cheering. Three cheers were given for the "next President."

As Cleveland rose to address the assembly he was greeted with continuous applause and cheers. When the enthusiasm had subsided Mr. Cleveland replied to the toast, "Our neighbor."

In introducing his remarks Mr. Cleveland said: "I suppose that when you greet me as your neighbor today, you have in mind that I have come among you to spend at least a large part of each year, and that I intend to maintain this sort of residence here as long as the expense of farming and fishing enables me from my slender purse to meet your rate of tax and cost of provisions. In the meantime, I declare my intention to be of a good neighbor. No quarrels can arise over my line fences, for I have none."

Mr. Cleveland went on and made a joyful and of his speech. He said: "We can be tolerant to one another. We can constantly test our political beliefs by the light of patriotism and good citizenship. We can be brave enough and honest enough to follow where they lead. We shall thus elevate our political effort and find incentives to activity in determination to do so, and in making our country as great as it ought to be, and in securing to ourselves and our fellow citizens, that happiness and prosperity due all of us under a free government by the people."

Speaking of the high honors he had conferred and of his presidential career, Mr. Cleveland facetiously said: "Of course the subject would be relieved of all uncertainty and embarrassment if every president were to die at the end of his term. This does not seem, however, to meet the views of those who, under such an arrangement, would be called upon to do the dying, and so some of them continue to live and thus perpetuate the perplexity of those who burden themselves with plans for their utilization of disposition."

Mr. Cleveland's remarks were happy and appropriate throughout and were frequently applauded, and as he closed there was another outburst of applause. Gov. Russell was then introduced. The Governor spoke warmly in eulogy of Mr. Cleveland's administration.

Villanous Attempt Made to Wreck a Passenger Train.

STANTON, Va., July 27.—A dastardly attempt was made to wreck a passenger express train of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, due here at 1:30 this morning. A switch in the western suburbs of the town was left open and the light turned off. The train ran into the switch wrecking the engine and three cars, but no one was killed.

BIG FIGURES.

Scaling Down the Capital of the Lead Trust.

NEW YORK, July 27.—This morning all parties having lead trust certificates standing in their names received copies of a circular signed by the president and secretary, and announcing that a special meeting of the stock holders would be held on August 27, for the purpose of acting on a proposed plan of reorganization.

The plan provides for the scaling down of the capital from $87,000,000 to $30,000,000, of which half will be preferred stock and the other half common stock, and also authorizes for the issue of $3,000,000 in bonds.

ATTACK ON MISSIONARIES.

THE LATEST DEPRADATIONS BY CHINESE FANATICS.

A Catholic Mission Plundered and the Buildings Burned—French Orphanage Destroyed—Danger to Foreigners in Canton.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 27.—Advices just received from China give particulars of fresh depredations by the Chinese against missionaries. The latest attack was made at Yankas, on June 29th, when the Catholic mission was methodically looted, the crowd of Chinese passing things from hand to hand in a chain. The buildings were afterwards set on fire. A few days previous four chapels were destroyed in Kiangsi, near the city of Fuchow. The chapel, school and residence of a priest were looted and burned on June 25. On the same day some predatory bands completely destroyed the French orphanage at a place called Haimen. In addition to the destruction of this orphanage, eight or nine of the wretched little children cared for in the building were carried off.

A correspondent writes to the China Mail that there is a rumor in Canton that a disturbance has taken place in Fukien province. It is said the rebels are several thousand strong and have captured a city. The intelligent Chinese, he adds, think it will be difficult for foreigners in Canton to escape. A junk containing three merchants, a crew of seven and nine passengers were attacked June 15 shortly after dusk by five junks containing armed men off the port of Kingho. A fierce battle took place and seven of the passengers were killed by pirates.

DOINGS AT KENILWORTH INN.

The Wilson Fire Escape to be Publicly Tested Tomorrow.

Those who have not already witnessed the interesting and severe tests which the Wilson fire escape is having imposed upon it by the proprietors of Kenilworth Inn, it will be well repaid for their visit, to see that alone.

Dr. Browning says that Mr. Seldon, who is giving personal attention to the setting up of this novel fire escape in every room in Kenilworth Inn, has proven its wonderful efficiency by first throwing himself from the window, followed by male and female employees of the new Inn, all alighting gracefully on terra firma, with intervals of a few seconds each.

Tomorrow, Tuesday, afternoon at 5:30, a series of tests will be made from the top floors. Mr. Seldon first illustrating the method of working the fire escape, then in rapid succession, dropping a number of employees from the window of the uppermost bedroom floor.

Music by the loveliest orchestra in the United States will add greatly to the attraction.

The public is assured by the manager that, although the most unusual precautions have been taken against fire at the Kenilworth Inn, a thoroughly reliable and efficient fire escape affords the same style of comfort to the guests that a mouldy insurance policy does to the owners of the hotel.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Judge Carter's First Term Opened this Morning.

The criminal court for Buncombe county opened this morning, Judge H. B. Carter presiding.

The grand jury was called and ably instructed by his Honor, and the first case called was John Evans and John Sumner for fighting, which occupied the whole of the morning session, and is still in progress.

The grand jury is at work, but has reported no action as yet to the court.

BAD BUSINESS.

England Feels the Condition of the South American Republics.

LONDON, July 27.—At a meeting of the Manchester chamber of commerce today the president said that the trade of the country, especially that of the Manchester district, was very bad. He added that the wretched condition of the South American republics and the cheapness of cotton had seriously interfered with trade.

TORN, DROWNED, BURNED.

TWO HUNDRED RAILWAY PASSENGERS KILLED.

An Excursion Train Crashed into by a Locomotive—Gas Tank Set on Fire—The Firemen Drowned Out the Injured.

PARIS, July 27.—Late reports say 200 people were either killed or injured by a collision yesterday at St. Marde.

It was a most terrible affair. The engine of one of two excursion trains telescoped three carriages loaded with excursionists, and at the same time a reservoir of gas on the damaged train exploded and set fire to the wreckage. Scores of people were pinioned down, wounded and helpless, beneath the ruins.

Three carriages were in a very short time in flames which spread to such an extent that numbers of the wounded were slowly roasted to death before they were reached by those who were doing their utmost to rescue them.

Many of the unfortunate people imprisoned beneath the wreck were drowned while partly roasted, by the firemen who were summoned to the scene and after a delay of forty minutes poured in such torrents of water that they drowned many persons.

The Streets Were Cleaned.

EDITOR THE CITIZEN.—The street in front of the postoffice was in a bad condition Saturday evening. Sunday morning I found it thoroughly cleaned and in perfect order. I think when Mr. Brevard gets his staff to understand the great importance of cleaning the prominent streets late Saturday evenings there will be no more complaint about brother or brother-in-laws.
