The people spoke.

Did the aldermen heed?

Gaze for answer upon the names above given, in bold type, that there may be no mistaking the attitude of Asheville's board of aldermen, by the aid of the city's most worthy mayor.

All the readers of THE CITIZEN have been following the matter of the ten-cent fare charged by the Asheville street railway, of which "Col." J. G. Martin is the Chief Gongist, ever since it was first put into operation.

The board's committee, after being assured by "Col." Martin that the company was not making money, made a straddling majority report about as the

"Col." stated the case.

Yesterday afternoon was the time, and 4:30 was the hour for the consideration of the matter. That there was considerable interest taken was shown by the crowd that attended.

The meeting was held in the mayor's office, thanks to the all-seeing eye of Mr. Brevard; and the full board was present, Mayor Blanton also attending, and occupying his accustomed seat with all the dignity of his office.

Among the legal lights attending were:

J. M. Gudger, F. A. Sondley, Col. R. Mc-

Brayer, Capt. Melvin E. Carter, Maj.

W. H. Malone, Judge Geo. A. Shuford,

Chas. A. Webb, Capt. Thomas D. Johnston, T. R. Ransom and Walter S. Cushman.

"Col." Martin, who several times tan-talantly requested on the work of the address him as "Colonel," sat during the first part of the performance rather back from the arena; but finally came nearly and occupied his time by twisting his mouth and blowing clouds of smoke, in which latter article coquettishly insisted upon mingling with the "Colonel's" forelock.

Time was called by the mayor soon after 4:30. Mr. Starnes broke the ice by moving to take up the special order—the consideration of the ten-cent fare question.

Here's the "Cure-All."

Mr. Brevard, who looked at the "Colonel's" books, arose and, without any attempt at ostentation, offered a resolution which he thought would cover the case.

He prefaced the resolution by a few remarks, reading from the "Farrinforth ordinance." He didn't think the board ought to go back on the work of its predecessor. The resolution follows:

"Be it resolved, That from the investigation made by the committee of the board, and the board itself in reference to the charges for ten cents in the fare made by the Asheville street railway company, the board is of the opinion that there has been up to this time no violation by said railway company in its rates of passenger fares as set forth in the charter for said railway, and that privileges under its charter granted by the legislature and the former board of aldermen."

Here's No Dummy.

Alderman Gudger then arose and spoke his mind in the matter. He differed with the majority report. He did not like to contend for a matter of five cents. He told of how a church group wishing to go from church street to the First Baptist church, would have to pay in car fare what he had expected to put in the plate.

The company undoubtedly had a right to charge ten cents, but if ten cents is the maximum, then the ten cents should be charged for each trip, no matter how long or how short. The present system is simply a deceiving of the entire traveling public. Mr. Gudger introduced the following ordinance:

"Be it ordained by the mayor and board of aldermen, That the fare for transportation of passengers in the city of Asheville by the street railroads therein shall be five cents, which shall entitle the person paying the same on one continuous trip to travel to any point within the city limits, and to effect the same it shall be the duty of the railroad company to which the passenger shall pay his fare to give a transfer ticket, and any
