

WITH ASHEVILLE ARTISTS

MEETING OF THE ART CLUB LAST NIGHT.

Col. Chas. W. Woolsey, the President, Makes an Elegant Address Before the Club-Executive Committee Appointed.

The meeting of the members of the Art club at their rooms in the Lyceum building last evening was a large and enthusiastic one. The attendance of ladies and gentlemen was large, and composed of an element that assures the success of the enterprise-lovers of art for its own sake and lovers of art for its practical results.

It was perhaps a surprise to find so large an assemblage in Asheville of those inspired by the sentiment which springs from the love of the beautiful, with demonstrated purpose to cultivate it in all its branches.

By request, Col. J. D. Cameron called the meeting to order, and in a short and appropriate address presented the objects of the assemblage. It was then moved by Col. L. M. Hatch that the president-elect, Col. C. W. Woolsey, be invited to take the chair; and Col. Cameron appointed Col. Hatch to perform that duty.

Col. Woolsey came forward and addressed the meeting at some length in remarks of great elegance, beauty and taste.

Capt. T. W. Patton was then called upon, and responded in a very pleasant and enthusiastic speech expressive of the spirit of the people of Asheville which had led up to the organization of the Art club, an institution promising an exhaustless measure of usefulness and satisfaction.

The chair then appointed as an executive committee the following members, including President Woolsey and vice-president Hull, members ex-officio: F. A. Grace, L. P. McCloud, T. W. Patton, Mrs. J. G. Martin and Mrs. C. E. Graham.

On motion it was resolved that the reports of the previously appointed committee be postponed to a meeting specially to be called by the president to consider them.

Mr. Grace, from the committee on by-laws, read from his report so much of the work as had been perfected, thus reporting progress, and obtaining leave for the committee to sit again.

Quite a prolonged discussion ensued upon the question of the admission fee of additional members, which ended in a reference of the matter to the committee on by-laws; after which at half past 10 o'clock, the meeting adjourned.

UNITARIANISM.

What It Is and What It Is Not. Pointed Out.

Referring to the policy of his new society, in his sermon before the Unitarian congregation in assembly hall, recently, the new pastor, Rev. Chas. T. Semper, spoke as follows:

"The message which this little body of Christians would bring to this community is a message of love, not of bitter, unchristianlike controversy, but of simple following of that great Master whose coming brought so much of life and joy into the world. To many pious minds we may seem to have unsaid much that they would say, but yet, as best we may, we follow the same Master; we acknowledge one Father of all, we know that no good thing cometh save from the inspiration of the infinite spirit, of whom and from whom are all things, and we are so profoundly convinced that religion is a matter of the heart and not of the head, that the life of religion is a life of love toward men and toward God, that we do not attach the same importance to creeds and dogmatic confessions that other churches do. If they keep men from God and Christ, as they sometimes do; if they stifle and deny the religious craving of a mind perplexed with honest doubts, we would not require them of such a mind. Even as Christ our Master said, 'Whosoever cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out,' even so we dare not turn away any humble, honest heart, no matter what its perplexities, however its tongue may halt and falter in making confession of its faith; if it is striving after the truth of God, which, after all, is not a way of thinking but of doing and being—such a one we dare not refuse from our fellowship. If creeds stifle and suppress life, we will not make them, we will not require them. That they are helpful to others is true, and we can rejoice that spiritual life is helped by them. But the life of religion is more than a creed; if the two conflict, the lesser must always go.

"And so those who are called Unitarians have steadily refused to make a creed; they leave each soul to its own thought; they refuse to compel it to subscribe to a standard made by other minds. They carry to its legitimate end the principle of Protestantism, the right of the individual soul to interpret the scriptures and life without hindrance from the Pope or priest, but also from creeds, confessions, statements of councils, synods and assemblies. They dare not say to any man, 'You must accept this theological statement,' but they dare say to any man 'Theology is not necessarily religion.' You may think your ideas about God and Christ and religion are the only true ones, that all others are false; but your ideas are mere chaff when compared with the eternal realities of the religious life. To be a Christian, what is it but to follow Christ, to live a life of love, service to men, of reverent devotion to God. If by the grace of God you do this, no matter what your ideas are, you are a Christian; if you do not do this you may have the soundest, the most reasonable, the most orthodox or the most unorthodox views, but you are not a Christian. For religion is a life not a set of external habits or theological views."

WANTED THE PAPER.

But Even John Lowlow Couldn't Possess It.

Very interesting relic in the shape of a copy of the Asheville Messenger, published in 1849. This copy contains a column article on John Robinson's circus, which then toured the south in wagers. The article praised the circus over so much. Old John Lowlow, the clown, while in this circus office last Saturday was shown this copy of the old paper, which had been left in the office by the Judge some time ago. Lowlow was very anxious to secure the paper, but although he offered to do almost anything to possess it, Judge Aston told him that nothing could buy it. The old clown was disappointed once in his life, at least.

AROUND TOWN.

Forecast till 8 a. m. Wednesday Fair (till Thursday), cooler from northwesterly winds.

Revenue collections yesterday amounted to $5,806.24.

Miss Lillie Buxton left Asheville for her home, Lenoir, N. C., yesterday.

At Grant's pharmacy at 2 p. m. today the thermometer registered 50°.

S. H. Reed and wife left today for Florida, to be absent for two weeks on a pleasure trip.

Miss Mayme Hunt, of this city, and Miss Norma Hanley, of Brooklyn, left today for an extended tour south and west.

Dr. J. N. Gill, of Tillar, Arkansas, who has been visiting friends in Buncombe for several days, leaves tomorrow for his home in the west.

City Attorney Cobb has gone to Shelby to be present at the trial of the Metz brothers. Mr. Cobb is one of the prosecuting attorneys.

Marriage licenses have been granted to C. W. Knuckles and Emma Hovey, of Buncombe; Geo. W. Davis and Ella West, white, of Buncombe.

Capt. T. W. Patton has returned from an extended trip to Raleigh and Pittsburgh, Pa. Capt. Patton was a delegate to the Prison reform congress, which met in Pittsburgh.

Capt. Natt Atkinson returned on the morning train from his trip to Raleigh, Wilmington and his New river oyster beds. The Captain forgot to send those oysters to THE CITIZEN.

The feature of tonight's meeting of the Lyceum will be an address by Col. L. M. Hatch. The Colonel's subject will be "Art as applied to town building." The meeting will be an interesting one, and all who go will be well repaid for their time.

For the occasion of the North Carolina Steel and Iron company's sale at Greensboro, Clarence W. Murphy, city ticket agent, will sell tickets from Asheville Nov. 3-4, good returning until Nov. 7, at the rate of $7.90 for her round trip.

Recorder Miller had only four cases this morning, and he disposed of them in this style: Andrew Johnston, colored, disorderly, $3; James Doane, white, drunk and disorderly, $7; Allen Doane, white, drunk $5; John Brown, colored, just a little drunk, $5.

THE CITIZEN is greatly indebted to Rev. A. Grayhead, editor of the Blue Ridge News, and one of the secretaries of the Blue Ridge conference, for many kindnesses shown this paper during the sittings of that body in Asheville. May his little paper grow in size and usefulness each year, and may his ministrations everywhere be attended by greatest success.

Sheriff D. L. Reynolds and family, Miss Sue Stevens, Dr. J. S. T. Baird, Dr. H. L. Baird and C. W. Baird left on the 2:15 train this afternoon for Raleigh, to see the exposition. They will be absent until Saturday. The sheriff had under his charge Robert Dougherty, who was yesterday sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary, and Mary Chisholm, a crazy colored woman, who goes to the asylum at Goldsboro.

The telegraphic news in THE CITIZEN yesterday was fresh and good. Especially interesting was the dispatch concerning the political situation in Ohio and New York. But there is one part of the paper which always keeps itself before the reading people, and that is the Want column. Everybody is interested in that part of the paper, and a Want inserted there is always read. Don't let yourself forget to remember this fact.

Some time ago Tom Bartlett, colored, was a witness against Bob Hunt, colored, for gambling. Hunt has been on the look out for Bartlett ever since. Last night Hunt found Bartlett near the bar-room on Eagle street. Hunt jumped on Bartlett, and seemed to think he would have it all his own way. Hunt was mistaken. Bartlett went for his knife and gave Hunt a slice around the neck. Hunt will recover. Bartlett has not yet been arrested.

C. W. Knuckles and Miss Fannie Hovey, prominent in colored society, were lately wedded, were united in marriage at the A. M. E. Zion church this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. F. M. Jacobs officiating. Mrs. Fulewider presided at the organ and played the wedding march as the couple came up the aisle. A number of white ladies attended the marriage, and a number of handsome presents were received from white friends, among whom were Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Fulewider. The couple left on the 11:30 train for a short trip to South Carolina.

Every person who can enjoy a good lecture should go out tonight to Central M. E. church, and hear Rev. Wm. Morley's lecture. It was announced in THE CITIZEN yesterday that Mr. Morley's subject tonight would be "Australia and the South Sea missions." This was an error. The subject tonight will be "John Wesley—the man, the scholar, the author, the preacher, the ecclesiastic." On tomorrow night Mr. Morley will talk on Australia, at which time a collection is to be taken for the purpose of purchasing heating apparatus for Riverside Methodist church. Mr. Morley will not doubt give Asheville people a couple of exceptionally good lectures. Miss Lizzie Porter will render a vocal solo at the lecture tonight.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

A Very Pleasant Meeting Held Last Night.

The lecture hall of the Young Men's Christian Association was packed last night on the occasion of the regular monthly literary meeting of the Epworth League.

The meeting was opened by singing, "Revive Us Again." Prayer was offered by Rev. Chas. W. Byrd. The program was participated in by Mr. Fred A. Hull, Miss Davidson, Miss Annie Broyles, Miss Hattie Broyles, C. W. Thornburgh, Prof. P. P. Claxton, and Dr. F. A. Harrison.

The evening's entertainment passed off very pleasantly and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The vocal solo by Miss Davidson called for an encore. The humorous recitations of Dr. Frank A. Harrison were the feature of the evening. The Doctor was recalled a half dozen times, and kept the audience in laughter continually.

The entire affair was one of the most pleasant meetings of the League ever held.

"Tom Sawyer."

The Greenville, S. C. Daily News says of "Tom Sawyer," which is to be played at the Grand opera house tonight: "The audience that saw 'Tom Sawyer' presented at the opera house last night was the largest for a Saturday night that has been seen for many years. The presentation by Will E. Burton and his company was pure and wholesome, and the audience enjoyed three hours of solid fun."

Capt. Natt is a Glowist.

The Wilmington Star contains this notice of Capt. Natt Atkinson of this city: "Capt. Natt Atkinson, who returned last night with Dr. E. Porter, from an inspection of the oyster and fish industries of New river, in Onslow county, favored the Star with a call. Capt. Atkinson glows with enthusiasm, as he relates the wondrous revelations of 'that beautiful sheet of water,' as he calls New river. He is just fairly in love with everybody in that county, and has shown his faith by investing his shooks there. Dr. Porter says the oysters have added considerably to the Captain's circumstantial adventures."

Afternoon Tea.

The event of the week will be the afternoon tea which is to be given on next Thursday afternoon, the 29th, at "Whitwood," the beautiful home of Col. Chas. W. Woolsey, which has been tendered for the purpose by Col. and Mrs. Woolsey. The tea is for the benefit of the Asheville library. Each invited guest is asked to pay the small sum of 25 cents, which proceeds will go toward extending the library's good work. This occasion will give many persons the opportunity of seeing Mrs. Woolsey's rare collection of chrysantheums, as well as the many works of art in this splendid home.

THE GUNN FOLDING BED.

We claim the following points of advantage:

1st. That with our bed it is impossible to wear the carpet or mar the wall as with the turn ground style of combination.

2d. The ease with which it can be opened and closed, requiring to more effort to move the cabinet than to push a sliding door.

3d. The bed may be opened and not interfere with the easy access to the cabinet.

4th. The operation of opening and closing requires less floor space than any of the former styles of combination beds.

5th. Our bed is perfectly safe, as it is impossible to tip over or close up except when desired.

6th. We have the lightest weighted bed on the market, using but forty pounds of weight and no springs to weaken, groan or get out of order.

7th. We have the best ventilated bed on the market, and the easiest to clean or dust.

TO THE FRONT. While others are putting a bug in your ear, listen to me!

I am now better prepared than ever to furnish you with anything usually kept in a first class saloon. I have the largest and best stock in Western North Carolina, if not in the world. Burk's Three Star Irish Whiskey, beyond a doubt the finest in the world. Tr. it and you will be convinced that I am advertising nothing but facts.

While in Europe, during the summer of 1890, I made arrangements for the above. Whiskey, Spanish Sherry and Port Wines, the equal never brought to Asheville. Imported Charles F. Pointe Cases, Marquis Chateau Belmont very fine. In French Brandy I have a large stock, including John Hennessy & Co's Three Star and other standard brands; Bass & Co's Pale Ale, and Guinness Extra Foreign Stout. In fact, my stock of imported liquors and wines are too numerous to mention.

My stock of Rye Whiskies embraces some of the finest and oldest brands known. Bear the finest on the market for family use. The best brands of CIGARS and TOBACCO. When you are in need of anything in my line, before going elsewhere, come and see me and be convinced. My whiskies are recommended by some of the most eminent men of the age for medicinal purposes. Respectfully,

FRANK O'DONNELL, PROPRIETOR.
