HEALTH AT BINGHAM'S

THE BIG SCHOOL PERFECT IN THAT RESPECT.

Four of Asheville's Leading Physicians Testify as to the School's Perfection in Location, Sanitation and Water Supply.

BINGHAM HEIGHTS, N. C., Dec. 11.—[Special]—Your correspondent noticed in THE CITIZEN some weeks ago reference to a rumor printed in some paper in the eastern part of the state of sickness in Bingham school, and THE CITIZEN'S prompt denial of the rumor.

The facts thoroughly affirm the healthfulness of our location and the salubrity of the climate of Asheville and its vicinity. Two cases of fever were brought here from an infected region beyond the Ridge, where one doctor had seventy-five cases. One of the patients took to his bed the same day he got here, and got well and went home. The other was sick on the train before he got here, and never got well. But so excellent is our climate and the sanitation of the school that the germs of disease could not live on our hill, and the sickness ceased with the two persons who brought it here with them.

The health and spirits of the cadets are most excellent. All have gained flesh and strength, and some have gained as much as twenty pounds since October 1, which cannot mean anything but excellent climate, excellent sanitary condition and excellent fare.

On this point the deliberate judgment of the leading physicians of our city is most clear and pointed after a very thorough inspection and over their own signatures I give it in their own words:

"We have carefully examined the new school buildings on Bingham Heights, just without the city limits of Asheville, and take pleasure in bearing testimony as follows:

"1. The location in natural advantages leaves nothing to be desired.

"2. The buildings exceptionally fill the requirements.

"3. The sanitation is as perfect as scientific modern plumbing can make it.

"4. The water supply is abundant, the water of the purest, carefully collected from mountain springs and without a chance of contamination.

"5. The all-the-year-round climate of Asheville is world-renowned and with the school's exceptionally excellent equipment and sanitation, gives Bingham's special advantages not enjoyed by another school in America.

"Signed: S. Westray Battle, M. D., U. S. Navy; John Hey Williams, A. M., M. D.; James S. Burroughs, M. D.; Wm. D. Hilliard, M. D."

In no place in the world can the school's motto, "Mens sana in corpore sano," a sound mind in a sound body, be more fully realized than in the vicinity of Asheville, and it is being fully realized here.

The drilling has almost ceased for the winter and our arms have about "gone into winter quarters," but the weather, which is too cold to handle muskets, is delightful for foot ball, and we have had some very spirited games of that manly sport, and will soon be ready to challenge any team in the state.

When the weather permits our outdoor sports, we shall use the gymnasium. The new apparatus is being put in and in a short while the Bingham school gymnasium, which before the fire of December 24, 1890, was the best one in the south, will have risen from its ashes with a larger floor space, with a higher pitch and with better apparatus than ever before, and there will be nothing of the kind in the south to compare with it. Capt. Little will charge of the gymnasium, and we expect to have a very interesting exhibition and gymnastic contest for medals in the spring. "Foxie."

A BLOODY FIGHT.

Several Colored Men Reported Killed at Tryon.

A rumor reached Asheville late this afternoon to the effect that a terrible tragedy was enacted at Tryon last night.

Tryon is a small town in Polk county, near the South Carolina line, and is situated on the Asheville and Spartanburg railroad.

It appears that a large number of colored people had assembled to take part in a festival. While the festivities were at their height, two of the number became engaged in a broil. Friends of both men took sides, and finally they indulged in a pitched battle.

Pistols, knives and sticks were used freely, and the fight was a long and bloody one. When matters quieted down, an examination showed that three or four colored men were dead, and several more badly wounded.

No fuller particulars of the affair can be obtained today.

REV. GEO. SUMMEY, D. D.

He Will Preach in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Geo. Summey, of Chester, S. C., a son of A. T. Summey, esq., of this city, is expected to arrive tomorrow for a brief visit to his parents and to preach at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and evening.

Dr. Summey besides being a very successful pastor is also the managing editor of The Presbyterian Quarterly, a review which represents the matured thought of the Presbyterian church. It was begun under his management several years ago and has steadily grown in influence. His last visit was during the session of the general assembly in May, 1890. He will be very heartily welcomed by the friends of his boyhood and by that larger circle which is glad to see representatives of Asheville in positions of usefulness and of honor.

EQUINE PARADOX.

Tonight's Performance the Last of the Horse Show.

Bartholomew's Equine Paradox delighted the audience at the Grand opera house again last night.

The audience, however, was not as large as the show deserves. The horses were put through their many astonishing feats with ease, and satisfied all who saw them. Several new feats were shown.

The pupils in Prof. Bartholomew's college are marvels, and the performances they give will please anyone who has the least bit of appreciation of such shows.

A grand school matinee was given at 3:30 this afternoon, and tonight's show will be the last of this troupe's engagement here. Do not let this opportunity pass of seeing a horse show the like of which Asheville has never seen before.

Charlotte Street Jury.

The jury appointed to award damages and assess benefits in the widening of Charlotte street to 50 feet, from Chestnut to Baird street, has filed its report with the city clerk. The damage to property is: Hendry, $375. Benefits are assessed as follows: C. E. Graham, $300, J. A. Haeteli, $75. On the lands of C. H. Jones, C. W. Stikeleather and F. Stikeleather the damages and benefits are adjudged equal. The jury was composed of D. T. Millard, John H. McDowell, W. Ridgeley Penniman, W. A. Blair, H. Lamar Gudger and J. E. Graham.

THE HAMPTON INSTITUTE.

General S. C. Armstrong, Its President, Critically Ill.

General Samuel C. Armstrong, President of the Hampton Institute, Va., is reported dying at Boston. He was born in the Hawaiian Islands, in 1839, the son of a missionary. In 1860 he entered Williams college, Mass. He fought in the civil war, commanding negro soldiers during two and a half years of his period of service. In March, 1866, he was assigned a charge in eastern Virginia with headquarters at Hampton, "to manage negro affairs and to adjust, if possible, the relations of the races." There he found educational work in progress under the American Missionary association of New York. In 1867, at his suggestion, the American Missionary association bought the estate on which the Institute stands. The Institute was opened in April, 1868, with General Armstrong in charge, two teachers and fifteen pupils. Both negroes and Indians are taught here, the latter having been received since 1878, and there are about 650 boarding students. Hampton has 720 graduates.

THE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

SENT TO "THE CITIZEN" BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

A Great Crowd at Albany, N. Y., to Hear the Opening of the Contested Election Cases—Distinguished Counsel Present.

ALANY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Never in recent years has such a large crowd of interested parties thronged the court of appeals chamber as was the case this morning, on the occasion of the arguments in the matter of the four disputed senatorial districts.

Among those present of counsel for the republicans were Jos. A. Choate, Wm. A. Sutherland, Matthew Hale, J. Ryder Cody, Col. Geo. Bliss and Mr. Parkhurst, while on behalf of the democrats appeared Deputy Attorney General Maynard, Detos McCurdy, of New York, and Louis Marshall, of Syracuse.

The others present included the state officers, several candidates from disputed districts and prominent lawyers and politicians.

Long before the court met at 10 o'clock every chair and inch of standing room in the court chamber was occupied. The first four cases on the calendar of the court argued today were the appeals on behalf of the state canvassing board awarding certificates of election in the fifteenth, sixteenth, twenty-fifth and twenty-seventh senatorial districts.

FROM BRAZIL.

Martial Law and Soldiers—Shaky Financial Status.

RIO JANERIO, Dec. 11.—Disagreements so radical have arisen between the government and Senor Portella, governor of the state of Rio Janeiro, that the government has requested Governor Portella to resign his position. This request the governor has declined to accede to. It is expected the government will appoint a military governor of the state and that martial law will be proclaimed.

There is much uneasiness in financial circles here growing out of a panic which prvailed on the bourse yesterday. It is feared that, in the event of a repetition of the panic today, much trouble would be caused for the banks, and consequently guards have been detailed to protect those institutions.

The government has announced that credits for repayment of the popular loan have been guaranteed.

FIRE AND WATER.

The Combination Causes a Loss of $200,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11,—Henry Batterman's dry goods store at Graham avenue and Broadway, Brooklyn caught fire at an early hour this morning and the stock and building were damaged to the extent of more than $200,000; the greatest loss being by water. The insurance amounts to about $185,000.

Bad Indians Surprised.

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 11.—Two United States marshals brought in from Creek county three heavily armed Indians, members of the famous Capt. Wiley band of desperadoes, which has terrorized that county for several months. Their camp was surprised northeast of the Sac and Fox agency, and after a long and desperate fight, in which two men were wounded, these three were captured.

Negro Express Robbers.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 11.—Shortly after midnight Monday night a gang of negroes forced open the door of the railway station at Linwood, Ark., and compeled the agent, Ed. Bryant, to give up two express packages, one containing $500 and the other $200. The negroes are still at large.

Hundreds of Chinese Drowned.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—A dispatch from Singapore states that a severe gale prevailed at Hong Kong December 4. A large number of Chinese vessels were destroyed and hundreds of Chinese sailors and laborers engaged about the harbor were drowned.

An Ancient Structure Weakened.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The furious gales and heavy floods have so weakened and undermined the ancient and massive walls by which the greater portion of the city of Chester is enclosed that portions of an old Roman structure have sunsided.

DRANK THE BABY'S BATH

TWO TOO SMART REVENUE OFFICIALS.

They Seize and Partake of a Cask of Rum That a Puny Child Had Been Bathed In.

From the Carthage (Moore Co.) Blade.

A gentleman from Statesville, here a few days since, tells a good joke on two smart revenue officers of that town, which is a true story. It is about as follows:

A short time since, Mr. A. (we will call him), a highly respected citizen, residing near Statesville, discharged a worthless servant. This servant became very angry, and to get revenge went to town and reported to the revenue officers that Mr. A. had a ten-gallon cask of unstamped whisky in his house. Upon this information a deputy collector and deputy marshal made a raid on Mr. A.'s house, and, sure enough, found the ten gallons of spirits indicated. Mrs. A., being at home alone, made no protest, and they summoned her to appear before a United States commissioner the next day. They carried the whisky off to town in high spirits. On the road they met Mr A., and also summoned him to appear at the trial.

The hour of trial arrived; the officers could not disguise their pleasure at the prospect of a conviction. The case was called and the raiders testified that they found the cask, containing about ten gallons of overproof spirits, in Mr. A.'s closet; that they knew it was spirits because they drank some of it.

Mr. A. then testified that he knew but little about it, but his wife could probably explain it.

Mrs. A. then testified that she had a puny child, which the physicians had advised her to bathe daily in rum. That a few weeks before she had called at one of the drug stores in town to purchase ten gallons of rum, and upon being told that they could not sell more than 4½ gallons at a time, she got that quantity and also got 4½ gallons from another drug store. That since buying it she had given the baby a bath every day, each time pouring what was used for the bath back into the cask to prevent waste and loss of strength.

At this juncture the commissioner threw away his papers and declared that he would have nothing more to do with such a case.

The now thoroughly crestfallen marshal and collector, who had filled up on the puny child's "rum bath," went to the drug store and took a strong emetic, and then hired a crossed-eyed, wooden-legged negro to kick 'em into the next county. After night they bribed a boy to smuggle the rum back to Mr. A.'s.

These officers have not been seen since the day of trial, and it is asserted by the knowing ones that they have "crawled into a hole and pulled the hole in after them."
