A BRILLIANT RING.
We are showing some of the daintiest novelties ever displayed in jewelry. It would be easier to tell you what we haven't got than what we have. If you haven't seen our elegant trifles in gold and in silver, there is a treat awaiting you, and, whether you have purchases in mind or not, you should not miss them. It is difficult to resist going into details—we are strongly tempted to describe some of the exquisite products of the season's art, some of which show that the caprices of fashion are apt to be wonderfully charming, but you'll get a much better idea if you come and look for yourself.

PRIZE.
Twelve Dollar Present Free.
Now here is a chance for you to get a handsome pair of blaque sleigh ornaments free. Everybody can join in this contest, especially the school children. It is a splendid mental exercise for you. Now we will tell you what it is.
We give you our name and the name of our store, that is Thad W. Thrash-Co., Crystal Palace, and to the individual composing the largest number of English words from these two names, bringing them to us before Feb. 10, 1892, (at which date contest closes) will receive the above present free.
Observe the following rules, in order that you make no mistakes in getting the words correct:
1. No foreign language allowed. Plain English.
2. No proper names allowed.
3. Use no other letters than those in the two names.
4. Use no letter twice in the same word unless it appears in the names twice.
5. Do not abbreviate. Spell all words in full.
6. Bring the words to us on neat paper, with your name attached.
7. You must purchase some article when you come with the words.
Three judges will be appointed to see that all is conducted fairly and honestly. The prizes can be seen in our show window.
All fine goods at cost during this contest.
Respectfully,

IN RIVERSIDE CEMETERY.
THE LATE W. T. REYNOLDS BURIED YESTERDAY.
Central Methodist Church Flocked With People to Witness the Funeral Services—City Officials Attend in a Body.
All that was mortal of the late Alderman W. T. Reynolds now reposes in Riverside cemetery, that silent city overlooking the rippling French Broad.
All of yesterday, up to noon, the late residence of the deceased was visited by a large number of relatives and friends, who desired to take the last look at the face of him they had known and loved so well.
Long before 3 o'clock, the hour set for the funeral services, carriages were driven to the residence, and people of every walk in life were seen going to Central Methodist church, where the services were to be conducted by Rev. C. W. Byrd, the pastor.
Soon the main body of the church was full. Then the gallery was packed and the aisles down stairs filled with people who had known the dead man and wished to hear the last tributes of respect spoken over him. But even with this, the great assemblage could not be provided for, many having to stand in the vestibule or be turned away.
A little after 3 o'clock the funeral cortege moved up to the church, the route having been over Woodfin, North and South Main, Willow and Church streets. At the head of the procession were carriages containing the following gentlemen who acted as pall-bearers: F. A. Soudley, C. T. Rawls, T. H. Cobb, W. G. Corning, F. Stakeholder, C. W. Malone, W. W. Barnard and N. T. Chambers.
There came the hearse, which was followed by carriages containing the relatives of the deceased, members of the board of aldermen, advisory board, school committees, and other officials, and all members of the police force. There were about thirty carriages in the procession.
The casket, which was a beautiful one with gold handles, and a heavy gold plate upon which were inscribed the words "At Rest," almost covered with the finest flowers, was borne into the church and deposited near the pulpit.
The funeral services were begun by singing by the choir. Mr. Byrd then read appropriate scriptural lessons, following these with a prayer so earnest, so touching, as to affect many in the vast concourse to tears. The choir then sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," which hymn was followed by Mr. Byrd, reading a eulogy of the life of the late Mr. Reynolds.
Mr. Byrd began his discourse by referring to the gloom which the news of Mr. Reynolds' death had cast over the hearts of the people of Asheville. He then gave a brief estimate of the character of the dead man, his business character, his progressive spirit, and his happy life as a husband and father. In concluding he said: "The lessons of his life are before you, and the solemn warning of his death should remind us all that death frequently marks as its victim the man who from a human standpoint has brightest prospects of a long life. May God, through this dispensation of His providence, so teach us all to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."
When Mr. Byrd had concluded, the audience left the church, standing about the door with uncovered heads while the casket was borne back to the hearse. The procession then moved to Riverside cemetery, where the remains were interred, the burial service being read by Mr. Byrd.
The last and saddest tribute has been paid, and he who was known and loved of men is truly "at rest."
TWO MEN KILLED.
Terrible Explosion of an Engine in Alabama.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 18.—Near Oxmoor, seven miles south of Birmingham, a terrible explosion occurred yesterday morning which cost two men their lives.
An engine of the Debardeleben coal and iron company, leased by McNamara Bros., when running between Eureka Mills and Oxmoor, ran out of water and the engineer made an effort to reach a tank one-half mile away as soon as possible. When at full speed the boiler exploded with a tremendous noise, wrecking the locomotive, blowing engine, hammer and fireman Bradford into a thousand pieces. The track was torn up and a great hole dug in the ground.
The head of the dead engineer was found a quarter of a mile away.
People in that vicinity thought an earthquake had occurred. Both men leave families.
FROZEN TO DEATH.
A White Man and Negro's Voyage in Alabama.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 18.—Saturday John Hamner, accompanied by a negro, left Tuscaloosa in a skiff to hunt up catfish on the Warrior river. Nothing was heard from them, and yesterday a searching party went down the river in a skiff.
Hamner's dog was found curled up on a log almost frozen to death. Near by was the skiff and further on was Hamner's dead body in a kneeling attitude by the tug. It was partly devoured by wood rats. Near by the negro's body was also found. They had evidently been caught by malignant and had frozen to death.
DEATH OF COL. MUNDAY.
A One Time Prominent Lawyer Dies Here Today.
Col. G. Munday died today at the residence of Rev. J. W. Anderson, on West street, North Asheville, in the 75th year of his age.
Col. Munday was a native of New York state, and had been a lawyer of prominence during his early life. About five years ago he came here on account of failing health, and has remained here ever since, an invalid. The funeral services will occur at the residence of Mr. Anderson tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. McNeely. Dr. Boese, of Trinity Episcopal church. The remains will be interred in Riverside cemetery.
Florida oranges, wholesale and retail, Michael Emanuel, 25 North Main street.

RAILWAY TELEGRAPHERS.
Things will be blocked if they are Monkeyed With Further.
KNOXVILLE, Jan. 18.—In an interview with Grand Chief Ramsey of the order of railroad telegraphers, who is here to investigate the dismissal of several men from the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia service, he stated that if they did not stop the warfare against the men he would block everything. Engineers, firemen and others, he says, are only too anxious to quit.
NATIONAL LEGISLATORS
WHAT WAS DONE IN CONGRESS THIS MORNING.
Mr. Sherman in His Seat—Mr. Peffer Wants Constitution Amended—Information Wanted as to the World's Fair Appropriation.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—In the senate Mr. Sherman appeared in his seat for the first time since his re-election.
A number of bills were introduced and referred, among them one by Mr. Peffer proposing an amendment to the constitution so as to elect the president and vice-president by a direct vote of the people.
Mr. Hale offered a resolution calling on the secretary of state for copies of all agreements with other countries relating to the interchange of trade and for a report as to the practical effect of such agreements.
The resolution was laid on the table, Mr. Hale stating that he would call it up shortly.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—When the house met at noon, Mr. Reilly, of Pennsylvania, asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to what amount of money has been appropriated and is available under the act of April 25, 1890, relating to the World's exposition at Chicago, and what amount of money so appropriated has been expended, with an itemized statement showing to whom it has been paid and for what purpose. Adopted.
REPUBLICAN OBJECTIONS.
The Confirmation of a Virginia Postmaster Opposed.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A small delegation of citizens from Lynchburg, Va., headed by Col. Parsons, of Natural Bridge, who are opposed to the confirmation of James M. McLaughlin for postmaster at Lynchburg, appeared before the senate committee on post-offices and post-roads this morning and stated their grounds of objection to McLaughlin's confirmation.
It has been understood the objections were based upon charges to the effect that McLaughlin was not a sound republican; that he was a bookkeeper, a Catholic and that he had failed to account for some campaign money given to him.
The committee postponed action, but there is little or no doubt that McLaughlin will be confirmed finally.
THE DUKE'S FUNERAL.
The Military Feature Abandoned Because of the Grip.
LONDON, Jan. 18.—The arrangements made for a public and semi-military procession through London to escort the remains of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale from the Great Eastern station to the Southwestern station have been changed in consequence of the general epidemic of influenza.
Representations were made to the Prince of Wales that owing to the bad weather it would be dangerous to the health of the troops. The Prince immediately gave orders that the proposed military funeral be abandoned.
Prince George will not be allowed to attend the funeral as his health is not sufficiently robust to allow him to accompany himself to the funeral.
Town Burned in Nebraska.
Orleans, Neb., Jan. 18.—The entire business portion of this town was destroyed by fire yesterday.
Many citizens and firemen were badly frozen. The loss amounts to $40,000 with but nominal insurance.
LIFE IN NORTH CAROLINA.
Burglars have been at work in Weldon.
—Twenty-six sheriffs have made full settlements with the state treasurer.
—Raleigh Chronicle: State Auditor Sunderland has a severe attack of grippe.
—It is said that in nearly every family in Sampson county there is a case of grippe.
—Mr. Thos. Taylor, brother of Mrs. Geo. H. Glass of Raleigh, was killed by a train at Newport News, Va., Thursday evening.
—Durham sold, in 1891, thirteen million, one hundred and eighty-six thousand, seven hundred and seventy pounds of leaf tobacco upon the warehouse floors.
—B. W. Ballard & Co., of Franklinton, general merchants and dealers in cotton, have failed. Their liabilities are reported to be $30,000, the assets not stated.
—News and Observer: New men have been substituted by the Southern Express company on the North Carolina railroad in place of the striking express messengers.
—The death of General Robert Ransom, president of the Confederate Veterans' association, makes Colonel E. D. Hall, of Wilmington, the president. Colonel Hall was vice-president.
—News and Observer: The heaviest snow of the season fell west of here night before last. At Greensboro it was reported yesterday morning that the ground was covered eight inches deep.
—Mr. Shady Perry, a prominent farmer and merchant at Colerain, died from an attack of the grip. He left an estate valued at nearly $30,000. The bulk of it, after making a few bequests to relatives will go to the orphan asylum at Oxford.
Mackintoshes, umbrellas, ulsters, overcoats, winter clothing for men and boys, largest stock, lowest prices, at the Whitlock Clothing house, 48 South Main street.

DOES THIS INDICATE WAR?
THE WAR SHIP BALTIMORE ORDERED SOUTH.
Officers and Men Have Re-estimated With the Understanding That There is to be War With Chili—Monitors Montauk, Nahant and Jason Getting Ready for Sea.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—The Call this morning states that the cruiser Baltimore, now at Mare Island navy yard, has received orders to leave Wednesday for the south. She will go direct to Acapulco or Callao without stop.
Nothing can be learned to show that she will be joined by the Charleston or San Francisco now at San Diego.
Capt. Schley and all officers of the Baltimore, whose cruise has expired, have asked to be re-assigned to the ship on the understanding that trouble will occur with Chili. Nearly all time-expired sailors of the cruiser have also re-estimated on similar understanding. It is also stated that the Mohican, a wooden vessel has been ordered to leave in a day or two for Panama.
The Mohican is now at Mare Island, ready for sea.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—The work of pumping out the great dock recently built at League Island navy yard, preparatory to the examination of the bottom of the Monitor Montauk began this morning. This will consume two or three days. All day Saturday telegrams were passing between League Island and Washington and as a result today a force of men sufficient to equip the vessel for sea in less than three weeks was put to work.
This will require in addition to the force of mechanics already employed fourteen machinists, boiler makers and coppersmiths.
Six months ago the Monitors, Nahant and Jason were dry docked and their bottoms scratched. Orders from the navy department require that Montauk engines be tried after she has been thoroughly overhauled.
Capt. Caughlin, acting commandant at League Island, says the Monitor could be equipped for sea in a week if necessary required it.
HIGH WATERS.
Floods Are Prevalent from Alabama to New Hampshire.
High water is reported from Alabama to New Hampshire. The Alabama and Tombigbee rivers are forty feet above low water in places, and many washouts have occurred on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. No trains have run south of Montgomery since Wednesday morning. The weather is very cold and there was heavy snow in Alabama.
The Coosa river has overflowed at Rome, Ga., where seven inches of rain have fallen.
The upper eastern tributaries of the Ohio, including the Little Kanawha, are very full and high water is expected at Cincinnati.
The Susquehanna and Chango rivers are unusually high. The Delaware river flooded yards and mills at Easton, Pa., and the Lehigh was so high that no mills along its bank can be run.
A dam on the West Oneonta creek, near Oneonta, N. Y., gave way, drowning many cattle and sweeping away houses and barns in the valley.
Rain and warm weather caused the breaking up of the ice in the Connecticut river, and a gorge occurred near White River Junction, causing a stoppage of railway trains over the trestle for Canada.
A Heavy Attachment.
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Citizens bank of Norfolk, Va., obtained an attachment today in the supreme court against property in this city belonging to the Jos. H. Coates & Company, cotton dealers of Philadelphia, for $41,700, on a demand noted Jan. 13, 1892.
Good Salaries.
In England the lord high chancellor gets $50,000 a year; the lords of appeal get $30,000 annually; the lord chief justice of the Queen's bench gets $40,000 a year, and the justices get $25,000 each. Our chief justice gets the stipend of $10,000 a year, while the justices get $10,000.
AFFAIRS OF CONSEQUENCE.
FOREIGN.
There is likely to be a contest with the Vatican over the appointment of a successor to Cardinal Manning, English Catholics favoring the selection of Bishop Vaughan, a unionist, while the Irish party prefer Bishop Virtue of Portsmouth.
The newspapers of Ireland all contain kindly articles upon the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. The Miners' federation, the greatest workmen's union, in session at Stoke-on-Trent refused to extend a vote of sympathy to Queen Victoria and the Prince of Wales on the death of the Duke.
HOME.
Thomas A. Edison is said to have patented a system of telegraphing without wires.
The recent speech of Senator Sherman in Pittsburg, in which he expressed doubts of the ability of President Harrison to carry Ohio if renominated is attracting attention. Another prominent Ohio republican gives expression to a similar opinion.
At the municipal election held in Knoxville Saturday, M. E. Tompson was chosen mayor, and Ben F. Boyd, M. M. Nelson, K. J. Jarnagin, J. P. Kennedy, Al. G. Payne, S. A. Bailey, G. W. Callahan, J. P. Murphy, G. J. Ashe, L. C. Mabry, as aldermen. Only two of the old board were re-elected. Tompson was an independent democrat. There was a regular democrat and a republican also in the race. Nine out of the ten aldermen are democrats.
