WAR AMONG ALLIANCEMEN

LIVINGSTON AND SIMPSON CAN'T AGREE.

Simpson Wants a Third Party, While Livingston Does Not—Watson Sides With Simpson and a Row Enues—Had Feeling is Very Manifest.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—There was a grand row in the alliance wigwam in this city last night, and the representatives of financial reform are arid on a stormy sea of uncertainty. The meeting was called for last night, and between twenty-five and thirty persons attended. Jere Simpson, of Kansas, Tom Watson and Col. Livingston, of Georgia, were the conspicuous figures in the conference. It was understood that all friends of financial reform would be welcome, and the object was to agree upon some platform which would be broad enough to contain all shades of alliancemen.

Jere Simpson took the floor and declared that it was useless for the alliance movement to fool their time with either the democratic or the republican parties, and he advocated the establishment of a third party, to act independently of the two great political parties. Jere had about eight followers in his line, but Col. Livingston, who is one of the strongest men in the alliance movement, advocated another course, and there was considerable "hair pulling" between the rival factions. Col. Livingston was attacked for participating in the democratic caucus, but he justified his course and that of other members of the house who went into the speakership fight.

Tom Watson, who was the candidate of the people's party for speaker, declared that the representatives of his party will cease to attend any further conferences held under the auspices of the Livingston faction. A wrangle ensued at each meeting, and personal and party allusions are made which cause ill feeling on all sides. There is such a vital difference of policy between the Ocala men who do not go into party caucuses and those who do not harmony seems impossible. Under the circumstances it would be wiser for those who hold the Ocala demands to be independent of party caucuses to stand by themselves and fight the battle straight out.

It seems that the trouble arose between Jere Simpson and Col. Livingston over party politics. This threw the meeting into confusion and Mr. Everett, of Georgia, declared the conference was a failure, and accordingly moved an adjournment sine die, so that each member of the alliance could act as he thought best on the floor of the house of representatives.

Capt. Alexander, of North Carolina, appealed to the members present to act with more harmony, and suggested that hereafter no allusion in these meetings should be made to party politics. To this proposition Mr. Watson agreed.

General confusion here ensued and there is a misunderstanding among the members whether the motion to adjourn sine die was carried or defeated. Both factions make different claims. One says there will be no further conferences, while the other faction insist that they meet again in a week from next Friday.

Mr. Simpson declined to discuss the subject with outsiders, but Messrs. Watson and Livingston were more communicative. The impression is that the alliance party has lost its usefulness so far as the present congress is concerned.—Charlotte News and Courier.

MR. DUKE'S GENEROSITY.

He Increases His Gift to Trinity College.

DURHAM, Jan. 21.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Trinity College today, Washington Duke offers to increase his donation to the college of $85,000, which he has paid, to $100,000 cash, and property valued at $20,000, provided that the Methodist church of North Carolina will raise an additional endowment of $50,000 and equip the main building, now nearly completed. This generous offer was accepted with hearty expressions of gratitude, and the fulfillment of the condition has been pledged. This donation from the large hearted old gentleman, in all, one hundred and twenty thousand dollars, is the largest ever made to the cause of education by a southern man since the war.—News and Observer.

SETTLED AT LAST.

The Cherokee Strip to be Added to the Public Domain.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Secretary Noble has received a despatch from the Cherokee commission announcing that an agreement for the sale of the Cherokee strip to the United States has been ratified by the Cherokee Council. The strip contains over 6,000,000 acres of land. All that remains to be done is for congress to ratify this agreement pass a bill opening it for settlement, which will probably be announced by proclamation.

A Cotton Fire in Norfolk.

NORFOLK, VA., Jan. 21.—Fire this morning broke out in Jones, Lee & Co's cotton shed in this city, and destroyed 209 bales of cotton. The fire also extended to Harrell Bros. ware house, in which were stored cotton and peanuts. The damage amounted to about $11,000. The losses are covered by insurance.

A $60,000 Fire.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22.—Fire destroyed the found house, machine shop and contents of the New Orleans and Southern railroad formerly Shell Beach, situated on Paydras plantation in St. Bernard parish twelve miles below this city. The loss is estimated at $60,000, partly insured.

ROME IS SHAKEN UP AGAIN

The Clocks All Stopped at 11:27 and the Street Lamps Put Out—The Pope is Aroused, but is Assured That There is no Danger and Retires.

Rome, Jan. 23.—There were several severe shocks of earthquake felt here last night, which caused a panic in the more crowded quarters of the city. The inhabitants of houses in these places thought their dwellings about to fall and they rushed into the streets, many of them en dishabille, not waiting to save any of their personal effects so thoroughly frightened were they. And so much did they fear a repetition of the shocks that nothing could induce them to return to their dwellings, and they remained on the streets all night, seeming to think they had far better security in the open places where they would be out of the reach of any falling buildings.

Theatres shook with the violence of the shocks, and persons present at the performances were greatly frightened. The panic soon subsided, however.

Most of the clocks in the city stopped at 11:27. The ground shook so violently that street lamps were put out, and it is feared damage may have been done to underground pipes.

The pope was aroused by the earth's tremors. He immediately sent to the Vatican observatory to inquire if they were likely to prove serious. His holiness was assured that there was no danger or any prospect of any, and he thereupon returned for the night.

PALACE DESTROYED

An Ancient Landmark and its Contents Destroyed.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 23.—A portion of the residence of the Duke of Arenberg, in this city, was discovered to be on fire at 2 o'clock this morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it started in the bedroom of the Princess Dudmill, of Crov-Dulmen, sister of the duke, who is the wife of the hereditary Prince of Crov-Dulmen. The princess and her young children, Prince Charles and Princess Isabella barely escaped with their lives.

The palace occupied by the duke of Arenberg was a very old one and many historical associations cling about it. It was the room known as "Count Egmont's cabinet," which for 325 years has remained exactly as it was left by that unfortunate prince at the time of his arrest in 1567. This, together with its valuable contents, was completely destroyed. The pavilion Egmont was also destroyed, with all its valuable treasures, with the exception of some very rare goblet tapestries which adorned the walls. These were hastily, though carefully, taken down and saved.

BURNED TO A CRISP.

A Lamp Accidentally Overturned in Her Lap.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Geo. Collins, who with her husband and four children removed from Mobile to this city eight days ago, was burned to death last night.

She was seated at a table on which a lamp was burning. One of the children threw a marble across the room. The missile struck, broke and overturned the lamp. The latter fell into the woman's lap. The burning oil ran over her clothing, which was quickly ignited.

She ran screaming into the street, completely wrapped in flame. Two pedestrians ran to her assistance, but were too late to be of service. The had been completely denuded by the fire, but a small patch remaining of an undergarment adhered to her back and her stockings even burned down to her shod toes. Her body was a crisp and she died in the greatest agony within an hour.

TWO BOLD, BAD ROBBERS.

They Run a Train Ten Miles and Then Rob It.

LAMAR, Mo., Jan. 23.—Two very bold men robbed the express car of the Missouri Pacific train which reaches here at 12:30 a. m. The men held up the occupants of the car, keeping them covered with revolvers, while the train traveled ten miles between Shelton and Lamar.

The two men, of whom only the most meagre descriptions are obtainable, boarded the train at Shelton. In the baggage and express cars were express messenger Houk, baggage master Hall and traveling passenger agent Chas. Barrett. All were covered with revolvers and their pockets ransacked. From Hall $75 was taken; from the others small sums of money and some jewelry. Houk was forced to give the combination of his safe and this also was robbed. The amount taken from the safe was small.

CATHOLIC CHURCH BURNED.

One of the Finest Edifices of the Kind in the Country.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 23.—The handsome Catholic church here was destroyed by fire early this morning. The flames had possession of the building before they were discovered. None of the valuable paintings, records, furniture, etc., could be gotten out. The building, including contents, was valued at $100,000, on which there was only $25,000 insurance. It was built in 1886, and was one of the finest church edifices in the country.

A Free Pass Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Senator Gallinger has proposed an amendment to the interstate commerce act to allow all railroads to grant passes to newspaper publishers for printing advertisements, and for other services, as well as to their respective editors and actual employees.

JUDGE LYNCH IN MISSOURI

A MURDERER TAKEN FROM JAIL AND HANGED.

Two Hundred and Fifty Men Compose the Party—They Act as Deliberately as if Engaged in Legal Business.

NEVADA, Mo., Jan. 23.—When the 7:30 Missouri Pacific train arrived here last evening, a mob of 250 men from Barton county got off, proceeded to the county jail and demanded that the sheriff should turn over to them one Helper, a man who murdered Mrs. Goodly and her little son in that county last Sunday.

The sheriff made resistance and the mob proceeded to knock in the door with tools which they had secured by breaking into a blacksmith shop nearby. The sheriff, having been previously warned that a mob was coming, had secreted the prisoner in an out house, but the mob soon gained admittance and brought Helper forth. They hurried him down the railroad to Nassau Junction, expecting to board the train and take their prisoner back to Barton county, where they intended to burn him at the stake.

NOT A WINNER.

Lost $30,000 Because Sullivan Would Drink.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Dot and Charles MacMahon, theatrical managers, who took to Australia "Evangelical," "The County Fair" and the John L. Sullivan combination, were arrested for debt in Sidney just before the last steamer sailed. They lost $30,000 because of Sullivan's drinking.

LOVERS SUICIDE.

Because Their Parents Object to Their Union.

ROANOKE, Va., Jan. 23.—Miss Delia Nicholson, of Franklin county, hanged herself to a tree near her home recently. Her sweetheart, a young man named Pinkard, took poison soon after and died. The lady's parents objected to the young couple's marriage and the suicide resulted.

Mills Didn't do it.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—It now appears that Mr. Mills did not write a letter to Speaker Crisp declining the chairmanship of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, but that he merely wrote the letter to Representatives Wise, a second member on the committee, informing him of his preference not to act as chairman. Mr. Mills still retains his place as a member of the committee.

A Banker's Failure and Flight.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—A financial scandal has been revealed at Karlsruhe by the failure of the Banker Leopold Block and his sudden flight for parts unknown. The liabilities of the vanished banker are given at a million marks, and scores of depositors and clients are ruined by the crash.

For a Long-Distance Road.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 23.—The Chicago and St. Louis Electric railroad company has been chartered. It is organized for the purpose of constructing an electric road between the two cities named. The capital stock is $1,000,000.

The American Iron and Steel association reports that the total production of pig-iron in the United States in 1891 was 9,273,450 net tons of 2,000 pounds, or 8,278,870 gross tons of 2,240 pounds, against 9,202,793 gross tons in 1890—a decrease of 922,833 gross tons, or over 10 per cent. Pennsylvania lost over half a million net tons. The southern states lost in the aggregate less than 40,000 net tons, while many of them actually increased their production.
