We are showing some of the daintiest novelties ever displayed in jewelry. It would be easier to tell you what we haven't got than what we have. If you haven't seen our elegant trifles in gold and in silver, there is a treat awaiting you, and, whether you have purchases in mind or not, you should not miss them. It is difficult to resist going into details—we are strongly tempted to describe some of the exquisite products of the season's art, some of which show that the caprices of fashion are apt to be wonderfully charming, but you'll get a much better idea if you come and look for yourself.

PRIZE.
Twelve Dollar Present Free.
Now here is a chance for you to get a handsome pair of bisque, sleigh ornaments free. Everybody can join in this contest, especially the school children. It is a splendid mental exercise for you. Now we will tell you what it is.
We give you our name and the name of our store, thus: Thad W. Thrash & Co., Crystal Palace; and to the individual composing the largest number of English words from these two names, bringing them to us before Feb. 10, 1892, (at which date contest closes) will receive the above present free.
Observe the following rules, in order that you make no mistakes in getting the words correct:
1. No foreign language allowed. Plain English.
2. No proper names allowed.
3. Use no other letters than those in the two names.
4. Use no letter twice in the same word unless it appears in the names twice.
5. Do not abbreviate. Spell all words in full.
6. No plurals allowed when singulars are used.
7. Bring the words to us on neat paper, with your name attached.
8. You must purchase some article when you come with the words.
Three judges will be appointed to see that all is conducted fairly and honestly. The prizes can be seen in our show window.
All fine goods at cost during this contest.
Respectfully,

THE CHILIAN DIFFICULTY

PRESIDENT HARRISON LAYS IT BEFORE CONGRESS.
The South American Republic Must Apologize and Make Reparation, or Diplomatic Relations Will Come to an End.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The following is the concluding portion of the President's message on the Chilean question. After summarizing the correspondence up to a certain point he says: "The communications of the Chilean government in relation to their cruel and disastrous attack upon our men, as will appear from the correspondence, have not in any degree taken the form of a manly and satisfactory expression of regret, much less of apology. The event was of so serious a character that if the injuries suffered by our men had been wholly therewithal of an accident in the Chilean port, the incident was grave enough to have called for some public expression of sympathy and regret from local authorities. It is not enough to say that the incident is regretted, coupled with the statement that the affair was not of an unusual character in ports where foreign sailors are accustomed to meet. It is not for a generous and merciful government to seek for words of small or equivocal meaning in which to convey to a friendly power an apology for an offence so atrocious as this."
In the case of the assault by a mob in New Orleans upon the Spanish consulate in 1851, Mr. Webster wrote to the Spanish minister, Mr. Calderon, that the acts complained of were disgraceful and a flagrant breach of duty and propriety, and that his government regrets them as deeply as Minister Calderon or his government could possibly do; that these acts have caused the president great pain and he thinks a proper acknowledgment due to her majesty's government. He invited the Spanish consul to return to his post, guaranteeing protection and offering to "sulate" the Spanish flag if the consul should come in a Spanish vessel.
"Such treatment by the government of Chile of this assault would have been more creditable to the Chilean authorities, and would have been highly satisfactory to a government that values its dignity and honor. In our note of October 23, last, which appears in the correspondence after receiving the report of the board of officers appointed by Capt. Seligey to investigate the affair the Chilean government was advised of the aspect which it then assumed, and called upon for any facts in its possession that might tend to modify the unfavorable impressions which our report had created. It is very clear from the correspondence that the receipt of this note the examination was regarded by the police authorities as practically closed. It was, however, reopened and protracted through a period of nearly three months. We might justly have complained of this unreasonable delay, but in view of the fact that the government of Chile was still provisional, and with a disposition to be forbearing and hopeful of a friendly termination, I have awaited the report which has but recently been made."
"On the 21st inst., I caused to be communicated to the government of Chile, by the American minister to Santiago, the conclusions of this government, after a full consideration of all the evidence and every suggestion effecting this matter, and to these conclusions I adhere. They were stated as follows:
"First, That the assault is not relieved of the aspect which the early information of the event gave to it, viz: that of an attack upon the uniform of the United States navy having its origin and motive in a feeling of hostility to this government and not in any act of the sailors or of any of them.
"Second, That the public authorities of Valparaiso flagrantly failed in their duty to protect our men and some of the police, and Chilean soldiers and sailors were themselves guilty of unprovoked assaults upon our sailors before and after arrest. He (the president) thinks the preponderance of evidence and the inherent probabilities lead to the conclusion that Kuggia was killed by the police soldiers.
"Third, That the president has therefore compelled to bring the case before the position taken by this government in the note of Mr. Wharton of October 23, last, and to ask for a suitable apology and for some adequate reparation for the injury done to this government."
"In the same note the attention of the Chilean government was called to the offensive character of the note addressed by Mr. Matta, its minister of foreign affairs, to Mr. Montt its minister at this capital on the 11th inst. This dispatch was not officially communicated to the government, but as Mr. Montt was directed to translate it and give it to the press of this country, it seemed to me that it could not pass without official notice. It was not only undiplomatic, but grossly insulting to our naval officers, and to the executive department, as it directly imputed untruth and insincerity to the reports of the naval officers and to the official communications made by the executive department to congress.
"It will be observed that I have notified the Chilean government that unless this note is at once withdrawn, and an apology as public as the offense made, I will terminate diplomatic relations.
"The request for the recall of Mr. Egan upon the ground that he was not persona grata, was unaccompanied by any suggestion that could properly be used in support of it, and I infer that the request is based upon the official acts of Mr. Egan, which have received the approval of this government. But, however that may be, I could not consent to consider such a question until it had first been settled whether our correspondence with Chile could be conducted upon a basis of mutual respect.
"In submitting these papers to congress for that grave and patriotic consideration which the questions involved demand, I desire to say that I am of the opinion that the demands made of Chile by this government should be adhered to and enforced. If the dignity as well as the prestige and influence of the United States are not to be wholly sacrificed, we must protect those who in foreign ports, display the flag or wear the colors of this government against insult, brutality and death inflicted in resentment of acts of their government and not for any fault of their own."
"It has been my desire in every way to

DOTS FROM WEAVERVILLE

IRON BRIDGE BADLY NEEDED ACROSS RY.
Personal Notes—A Prosperous School—The Dummy Line and its Prospects—Living on Hope—The Soughing Winds and the Graveyard Rabbit.
EDITOR THE CITIZEN:—I take up my pen that has long been rusty and idle, to send you a few lines from our quiet little village, which has of late been unusually quiet on account of having been entirely cut off from the outside world and getting no mail for several days. But the booming waters of Ivy have been scattered to the sea and now the mail can go whenever the contractor feels like it.
It appears to me that it would be an opportune time to discuss the question of an iron bridge across Ivy. The mail is prevented from coming a considerable number of times during the year from the fact that this stream cannot be crossed.
Asheville has all the iron bridges she wants and it is nothing but to distribute such things over the county, especially when public necessity demands it, as it does in this city. Does Mr. Morgan think the commissioners would be willing to build a bridge out there? and will he please give this matter his attention?
As THE CITIZEN has risen to the dignity of having an opinion of its own we hope to see something on this subject from the fearless editor's pen.
Mr. Boyd has opened the hotel here and already has several boarders.
Capt. W. T. Parker was stricken with paralysis a few days ago and is not expected to recover. His son, Mr. G. A. Parker, of Blacksburg, S. C., is at his bedside.
Rev. F. J. Austin, of the Methodist, will remove here from Lincolnton. He has rented a house until a new one can be built.
Notwithstanding the hard times Weaver ville college is in a flourishing condition. Fifteen new students came in one day. There are about one hundred and sixty on roll.
We again have some hope of the dummy being built. It is needed badly now as the tobacco can scarcely be moved on account of our deep, tenacious mud. The charter for the line has been turned over to a certain individual who proposes to commence work in the spring. And thus we live on quietly—and on hope—looking for a day that will never come, and for a night which never shines out of the north and one by one by we are transferred to our poor little little cemetery where the pipe trench-trench government will the graveyards without health its self in silence.

THE NEW YORK LIFE.
Its Management Said to Have Been Guilty of Gross Neglect.
New York, Jan. 25.—The report of the New York Insurance department, which has been making an exhaustive examination of the New York life insurance company since June, 1891, has been filed. The examination shows that the company had assets of $120,710,691 on June 30, 1891, the date chosen by the examiner, and a surplus of $14,708,076. The latter item divided as follows: On general account, $6,438,136; on routine accumulations, $8,270,339.
No charge of insolvency has been made at any time, however, charges relating wholly to the practices and methods of the officers.
The examination of the company grew out of charges of the reckless management and corrupt, extravagant and fraudulent practices of some of its officers and trustees, particularly against the president, Wm. H. Beer.
Superintendent Jas. F. Pierce says that "a state of affairs exists in the company's management calling for the severest criticism and for a light which never shines out of the north and one by one by we are transferred to our poor little little cemetery where the pipe trench-trench government will the graveyards without health its self in silence."
TO BATH IN WINE.
E. P. McKissick Talks About the Cincinnati Meeting.
In a conversation with THE CITIZEN, E. P. McKissick, manager of the Battery Park hotel, who returned Friday from Cincinnati, said that his trip was very pleasant and that none of the delegates from Asheville to the editorial meeting are disheartened because Asheville failed to get the association for the reason that a good fight was made and Asheville has been well advertised by the trip.
"I am glad to see," said Mr. McKissick, "that THE CITIZEN compliments Mr. London in his excellent work for Asheville. He ought to be awarded a medal for the way he spoke for Asheville. Both he and I made speeches before the committee and his speech was fraught with kind things about Asheville. His was the best speech made before the committee. Asheville got the next highest vote in the committee meeting. California had a corner on the thing, and secured the convention by not only offering free transportation to and from California, but also free board during the entire trip and stay in California. Furthermore they, I mean the Los Angeles people, offered to bathe the editors in wine if they came. Besides this, California offered a free trip to the Sandwich Islands and to Chili if necessary."
"At any event we are not discouraged. If Asheville ever wants to advance and prosper, her citizens must have more public spirit and more unity of action. This was shown in the lack of public spirit in sending delegates to Cincinnati."
BISHOP GALLOWAY.
First American Minister to Preach to the British Conference.
Bishop C. B. Galloway has been elected to preach the annual sermon before the Foreign Missionary society of the British Wesleyan conference.
Dr. Waller, secretary of that body, in a note to the Nashville Christian Advocate, says:
"This sermon is generally preached by a distinguished minister of another church, and some of the leading non-conformists have occupied the pulpit on the occasion. No American minister, so far as I know, has been asked. The reason for this might be the great distance. In years past we have had such men as Drs. Dale, Spurgeon, McGregor, McLaren, Raleigh, Parsons, Binney, and the very flower of our British ministers. This is meant as a mark of honor to Bishop Galloway, and our whole church will be greatly pleased with this courtesy to our fraternal representatives."
AFFAIRS OF CONSEQUENCE.
Erskine college, located at Due West, Abbeville county, S. C., was burned. Loss, $25,000; no insurance.
Geo. D. Wise, of Virginia, succeeds Mr. Mills as chairman of the Home committee on interstate and foreign commerce.
Jacob Schuler beat Gen. Slossom for the fourteen inch balk billiard championship of the world and a stake of $1,000, in the contest in New York Friday night.
The splendid bridge over the Pee Dee river between Sumter and Charleston, S. C., has been washed away. The water is reported forty-two feet above low-water mark.
The United States government is endeavoring to arrange for an international silver convention and negotiations to that end are now in progress with Great Britain and France.
