BALL STARTS ROLLING.

MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT IN THE COURT HOUSE.

The Democrats of Asheville Jam the Court House and Listen to Rousing Democratic Speeches--The First List of Members Numbers 112.

One of the most enthusiastic democratic meetings ever known in Asheville was held in the court house last Saturday night. The room was packed with men who wanted to show that they were willing to go to work at once and work unceasingly until November for the success of the democratic party.

Mayor C. D. Blanton was called to the chair. R. M. Furman briefly stated the object of the meeting to be the organization of the first democratic club in the state. Hon. H. A. Guder was then introduced as the first speaker.

On taking the stand Mr. Guder said he appreciated the honor of making the first democratic campaign speech in North Carolina this year. "It is an honor," he said, "to belong to the democratic party. It is the grandest organization in the world, excepting, possibly, the church. It is the hope and salvation of the country. Its platform is one on which all may stand. The people must determine upon the policy that is to be pursued. Internal political convulsions threaten us. In an emergency like this it behooves every man to look well to his duty. The republican party's administration of affairs has been one of hatred for the south. It has fostered monopolies and lent power and influence to the moneyed corporations. It has taken from the treasury millions for fraudulent pensions. It has done nothing to which it can point with pride.

"When Grover Cleveland [long and loud cheers] left the White house, the treasury was full of money. Harrison came in, and in less than two years every cent had been spent. Yet after all this, the party has the audacity to charge that the state of New York has been stolen by that honest and patriotic democrat, Hill. [Groans and hisses.] I perceive that this is not a Hill crowd, but that was in my speech and I had to say it.

"In North Carolina important issues must be looked at squarely, and we must beat the republicans. Whatever the result in the nation the white people of North Carolina must stand side by side, and see that the state is not turned over to the party that wrote a page of history so black that it would not look upon it itself without blushing.

"Some republicans think they will win because the great farmers' alliance will go with them. The alliance will do as it has done in the past--stand by the democratic party. We will all stand shoulder to shoulder and keep our grand old state in the democratic column."

Tim Time Shall Cease.

Hon. James H. Merrimon was next introduced. He began by reciting the fundamental principles of the democratic party. No event could happen, he said, by which the democratic party could be made to cease to exist. Its history and principles will stand until time itself shall cease. Coming to the republican protective policy, he said, "No member [cheers]" "The man who would raise his impious hand to do this deserves to be hanged on a gallows as high as the Eiffel tower and be left for food for the buzzards and crows. Ewart when in congress from this district denounced the force bill, and I honor him for it. The force bill, he said, was the one in the democratic fold, and he ought to be back--and he wants to come back.

"I have the profoundest sympathy for the farmers' alliance. There are certain bad men--bad because ambitious--who have control to a certain extent of the alliance. They intend to have a ticket in this state. If the alliance will go off after these men, and the force bill is passed and the south trodden under foot, the blame will rest forever with the men who desert us.

"The alliance must see that it would be impossible for the government to buy all the railroads, telegraphs, and telephones. There were in 1890 250,000 miles of railroad lines, not including sidetracks. The gross receipts are $1,000,000,000. The property involved is worth $20,000,000,000. The owners would have to pay for these lines, at least $20,000,000,000. Where would we get the money? All the silver dug out of the earth in 500 years is but $14,000,000,000.

"But if we could buy these roads, what would be the result? There are now over 1,000,000 men engaged in railroad work. You know the railroad companies make one man do the work of two. Well, when the government gets control, the force would have to be doubled, and we would have 2,000,000 men. The party in power would see that that every employe was a voter, and there would always be a walkover. As a democrat, I never want to see the time when the temptation is held out to the democratic party to take so many men under its control.

"I appeal to farmers and all--let us roll up such a majority as will show the people north of Mason and Dixon's line that the south is still solid, thank God. We are in earnest, and will not stop until victory perches on our banner.

"The mills of God grind slowly, yet they grind exceeding small."

"And we will grind the republican party to powder and scatter it to the four winds. I want nothing more than to stand beside the humblest man and stick in my little piece of paper for Cleveland." [Cheers.]

An Alliance-man Talks.

Hon. Wharton J. Green, for many years representing the Fayetteville district, was called on and responded in a short speech. He is a very prominent alliance-man. He said the people of the state were standing on the brink of an abyss. The alliance-men ought not leave the democratic party, because that party had done all in its power to relieve the farmer and laborer.

His speech was one of warning to all alliance-men to look out for republicans' tricks, and to keep North Carolina in the democratic column.

J. M. Campbell.

Loud calls were made for J. M. Campbell, and he made a speech of several minutes. He said that vigilance is to be the price of being on top this year, but the democratic party is to rule the state now and forever. It means something, he declared, when Wallace Rollins, Tommie Long and Lonnie Wells begin making alliance-democratic speeches in democratic counties. Beneath their carried, they are deep-deep republicans bowling in the wilderness of despair. His closing words were: "Oh, republicanism, how many lies are told and crimes committed in thy name!" His speech was loudly applauded.

Election Postponed.

T. F. Reeves then, as an alliance-man and democrat, moved that the club go into the election of a permanent chairman.

Col. A. T. Davidson rose to second the motion, and was compelled to take the stand. He made an enthusiastic speech, urging the democrats to organize and work for the triumphant success of the party. He was happy to be with them, and begged that no one would wander off after strange gods.

The motion was carried. J. Y. Jordan nominated Eng. D. Carter for president of the club. Mr. Carter said he had held a similar position in the last campaign, and thought the honor should be divided.

W. G. Corpening nominated Hon. H. A. Guder, but that gentleman declined. It was finally decided to leave the election of permanent officers open until Thursday night next, April 21, when another meeting of the club will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock.

Books were then opened for signatures of those who wished to join the club, and 112 names were enrolled.

NO MORE LIVE TARGETS.

Commendable Action of the Asheville Pistol Club.

The Asheville Pistol club has sometimes had shooting matches wherein live fowls were used as targets. The secretary of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, after witnessing one of these matches, addressed a letter to the club, in which, on behalf of the society, he requested the club to discontinue the practice of shooting at live fowls and said:

"Permit me to call your attention to sections 2482, 2483, and 2484 of the code of North Carolina, a copy of which sections is contained in the pamphlet of our society herewith forwarded. I think you will agree with me that the practice is a violation of the spirit and letter of statute. Whether it be or not, it is plain to me that any society which practices or less of cruelty, if an unwilling to believe that any of your number would knowingly and willfully commit an act of cruelty. It is a small matter in the way of amusement to discard a practice which is open to that charge. I would give the society sincere gratification if you would, by according to its request, enable it to count the club and the majority at least of its members among the friends of the good cause it seeks to promote rather than among its enemies. Please favor me with a reply."

The reply promptly came as follows: "We received your letter, and contents noted, in regard to cruelty to animals. Will say that it is not our intention to be cruel to them, and if your society deem it wrong to make targets out of them we will not do so any more, and you may rest assured that your wishes shall be granted. Hereafter, if we have any more matches, we will shoot at a target for the chicken and not at the chicken."

MISSIONARY SERVICE.

Interesting Exercises at Central Church Last Night.

There was a missionary service held at Central Methodist church last night, under the auspices of the woman's auxiliary of the Southern Methodist foreign mission board.

The exercises were entertaining and instructive. Miss Porter sang a beautiful solo. Rev. Mr. Arnold delivered a short but excellent address. Papers were read by Miss Emma Collins and Mrs. Laura Newland, on the history and working of the woman's missionary society of Asheville and elsewhere. Misses Louise Smith, Daisy Sawyer, Ada Reynolds, Bonnie and Bessie Reeves, M. Croft and Nora Ware rendered a dialogue very effectively, and Miss Loomis recited most appropriately. The occasion was much enjoyed by all present.

J. W. PATTON DEAD.

His Death Occurs About 12 O'clock Last Night.

James W. Patton died at his residence on South Main street, this city, last night about 12 o'clock, after a lengthy illness. He was 60 years of age.

Mr. Patton was a son of the late John E. Patton and leaves five children, Messrs. E. W. and Rufus Patton, Misses Bertha and Hattie Patton and Mrs. A. B. Fortune. He had four brothers and two sisters living, Messrs. W. D. J. E. B. F. and T. T. Patton, Mrs. J. A. McDowell and Mrs. W. G. Corpening.

The remains of the deceased were interred this afternoon, from the First Presbyterian church, Rev. W. S. P. Bryan officiating.

Recorder's Court.

Recorder Miller had a full docket this morning. Mary Shaver, drunk and disorderly, fined $3; Henry Webb, cursing, $1; Wm. Garren, d. and d., $5; W. H. McKoy, d. and d., $5; Ketta Garrett, disorderly, $1.50; James Smith, and Lizzy Prady, violation of section 641, $2 each; Addie Hawkins, drunk, $3; Jas. Walker, disorderly, $2; Jas. Burnett, drunk and resisting officer, $8; Thos. Devane, d. and d., $5; John Palmer, d. and d., $5; Frank Hayden, drunk and resisting officer, $10.

Sale of Boxes.

The four boxes for the masked ball at the Grand opera house on Wednesday night were sold at auction at noon today. The purchasers and prices were as follows: G. W. Pack, $53; C. W. Woolsey, $46; Mr. Cabot, $25; A. J. Lyman, $16.

AN INTERESTING RUMOR

THAT HILL WILL NOMINATE CLEVELAND.

It is Only a Rumor as Yet and Improbable--Senator Gorman Will Not Attend the Chicago Convention.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 18.--A strong personal friend of Senator Hill, and a prominent democratic leader, says that the senator now understands he cannot secure the nomination of the democracy, and that in order to put himself in line for 1896, he will attend the Chicago convention and place in nomination Grover Cleveland.

BALTIMORE, April 18.--A close personal and political friend of Senator Gorman said to a representative of the Sun, that Gorman will not be a delegate to the national democratic convention and, moreover, it is not likely he will continue as a member of the national committee from Maryland.

The reason Senator Gorman will not continue as a member of the national committee is that he is physically unable to stand the labor and strain that will be put upon him in the presidential campaign. Senator Gorman's retirement does not mean that he will cease to take an interest in national political affairs.

CLERK YOUNG'S APPEAL.

The Injustice of the Senate to Its Employe.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.--The familiar figure of ex-senator Edmunds was seen in the senate chamber at the opening of today's session of the senate. While secretary McCook was reading the journal of last Thursday Mr. Edmunds moved around on the republican side and received greetings from senators of both political parties, and held a long conversation with Morgan.

The first business transacted after the reading of the journal was the announcement by Vice-President Morton that he had received a communication in the nature of a petition, from James R. Young, late chief executive clerk, to be laid before the senate, "which will," Morton added, "be laid upon the table, it having already been printed."

Mr. Vest introduced a bill to prohibit contracts by the Postmaster General with any steamship company making unjust discriminations against any port of the United States as to the imports by vessels carrying the foreign mails. In connection with the bill, and before asking its reference to the committee on commerce Mr. Vest said he desired to submit certain resolutions of the Merchants' exchange of the city of St. Louis.

Mr. Sherman, chairman of the foreign relations committee, gave notice in the senate today that he would tomorrow introduce a bill to adjust swamp land grants and to fix the limitations for the filing of claims thereunder.

A LATE, COLD SPRING.

Snow and Hail Storms in England and On the Continent.

LONDON, April 18.--The cold weather continues. A heavy snow storm is raging today in North Wales and Cheshire, and dispatches from Paris and other places in the north of France state that hail and sleet are falling and that the weather is bitterly cold. It is feared much damage will be done to the early crops.

Reorganization Scheme.

NEW YORK, April 16.--A good deal of comment was caused by a statement authorized by H. C. Fahnestock and Fred. H. Tappan, two members of the Richmond and West Point reorganization committee, in which it is stated that the committee has not had a meeting in two weeks and that the working of the adjustment of the committee is wrong in regard to deposits of underlying securities.

This action by Fahnestock & Tappan is looked on as a positive indication that the proposed plan is a failure and a new plan is expected to be put out by them at an early day.

Desperate Because Hungry.

VICKSBURG, Miss., April 18.--Serious trouble is apprehended at Hardtimes, La., where 300 to 400 levee laborers are out on a strike. The men claim to have been paid in paper, subject to a heavy discount and obliged to pay an extortionate price for supplies. They are utterly destitute, and said to be desperate.

Fire Bugs in San Antonio.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 18.--Great excitement and terror exists here over the deeds of the fire bugs. Incendiary flames nightly occurred for several weeks past and last night three fires raged simultaneously in the business portion with numerous attempts at incendiarism in other quarters.

Killed by a Cyclone.

GUTHRIE, Ok., April 18.--A report from the western part of the Creek Nation states that a cyclone passed through that section a night or two ago, destroying over a dozen houses and many barns, killing three people and a large number of horses and cattle.

A Dead Pulse.

PARIS, April 18.--In an interview with his brother, Ravachol, the anarchist, said: "I am neither a visionary nor a firebrand. I wished to feel the pulse of the revolutionary movement. To be candid, I find it does not beat."

Justice Lamar Convalescent.

WASHINGTON, April 18.--Justice Lamar, who has been very seriously ill, is now convalescent and able to walk about the house.
