Some weeks ago W. E. Abernethy, of Burke county, criticised the third party and talked plainly of the alliance leaders. Now his county alliance, by resolution, calls for his resignation. The third party is the most intolerant organization on the face of the earth today.

Some of our agricultural exchanges say we should raise more corn, wheat, meat, cotton, and less politics. We have an overproduction of cotton. Plant politics instead—Progressive Farmer.
Or all the vicious advice that the Farmer has thrust on the North Carolina people this is probably the worst. The farmer who goes into politics for a steady business is planting where he will never reap.

IN LOUISIANA.

Louisiana has voted anti-lottery and democratic on a final test when there were five tickets in the field and every inducement, outside of honor, to side with the lottery.

The state is therefore redeemed, and strong evidence is also offered, showing the power of the combined democratic and farmers' alliance forces. Credit is moreover due to the people everywhere who subscribed money to down this monstrous monopoly in the midst of its undoubted power. There is no wrong, however great or however strongly entrenched, that will not succumb to an aroused people.

We hope to see Louisiana go forward to a new and more genuine prosperity than ever came to her under lottery rule.

FOR MISCHIEF ONLY.

"The most charitable view" says the Charlotte Observer, "to take of the unreasonable demands and the wild, impracticable schemes of the leaders of the new third party, which is to furnish a panacea for the ills that afflict the body politic, is that they don't stop to think."
Our guess is that the demands have been made purposely wild so that there would be no probability of their adoption by the democratic party. If everything were conceded to Pelt today he would call a convention somewhere and formulate new and wilder demands. This is shown by the difference between his talk when the silver bill was being discussed six months ago and later when there was a probability of its passing the democratic house of representatives. He fairly howled for free silver at first, but later said it could amount to nothing anyhow; it could give little or no relief.

The St. Louis demands were calculated to widen the breach between the democratic party and the democratic members of the farmer's alliance. They do not form the platform of any considerable body of sincere reformers. They were put out by mischief makers.

NORTH CAROLINA FOLKS.

At Reidsville Prof. Andrew J. Deitz, principal of the Leaksville high school, was married to Miss Lucy Brooks, only daughter of Rev. Dr. J. R. Brooks, the latter performing the marriage ceremony.

Mr. William H. Butler, a prominent farmer and the oldest white man in Bertie county, died at his residence, near Boss' church, Monday, in the 97th year of his age.

Dr. W. J. Conrad, of Winston, has been elected president and Professor John T. Aldermen, of Reidsville, secretary of the Baptist state Sunday school convention, which board was created by the recent Sunday school convention. Prof. Aldermen is superintendent of the Reidsville graded schools, but will move to Winston, the headquarters of the board.

The Greensboro Record says that Mrs. McKinney, whose maiden name was Jane Burns—a cousin of the noted Robert Burns, was born in Perthshire, Scotland, 1803, married in 1820, emigrated to Canada in 1823, came to North Carolina in 1875. She had never learned to write and went to a writing school near Greensboro when she was 82 years of age and learned to write, so that she now corresponds with her family and friends in Canada.

Charlotte Observer: Mr. Cyrus Stinson, of Clear Creek, is 85 years of age; was born and raised in the house he now occupies, never having lived in any other; never was in any other county than this and Union, where he married. He has made 450 coins in his life. The first one ever put in a Philadelphia graveyard was made by him. He was never on a jury in his life, and never was a witness in court. He regulates his household by a clock 110 years old, of the ancient "Grandfather" style. Mr. Stinson has been well all of his life. He had a great mania for hunting in gulches for gold. Once after a heavy rain, while picking amongst some rocks in a gully near his house, he found a piece of gold which sold for $118. The old man still has all his faculties, and is strong and hearty.

Let the Sawdust Fall Where It May.

From the New York Sun.
The representatives of the democratic party in those states which will determine the result, are attending to matters of legislation and of organization, studying the situation, preparing for the fray, and sawing wood.

The Greatest Republican.

From the Springfield Republican.
Quay still remains master of the republican party in Pennsylvania. He is also taking on the character of its beloved and popular leader. No doubt of this can find place in any mind after viewing the results of the primaries and conventions of the last few weeks.

Folk is Not a Democrat.

From the Progressive Farmer.
A man who is not honest, not pure, can no more be a pure democrat than a horse thief can be a pure, honest Christian.

WONT VOTE IT.

Here's an Anti-Railway Man From Reems Creek.

EDITOR THE CITIZEN:—I am of age and have paid public taxes and am a free citizen of one of the townships proposed to be penetrated by a railroad and have as much right to be heard as any one else. Along the line of a railroad through our township, would perhaps enhance the worth of landed property in near proximity, but back in the hills our property would not be benefited. One half our 300 voters would reap the other half (being a mere fraction of the minority), have the pleasure of paying the tax, and realizing no advantage. How about the equity of such business? Do the laws allow a rabble majority to grind or override an influential minority? Why is it that Asheville wants another railroad when the rolling stock has been taken off the rails? If they must have a road or two more and they are to good pay, why not your money man build a road themselves? Your president, Col. Cooke, is worth near half a million, and his brother, T. D. Johnston, who is founding a city below the mountains, could very easily put in $200,000. And then hadn't Asheville as well get its wind a little while before it votes for more bonds? How many thousands have you already out, and what are they bringing in New York? I am opposed to having an important speculation with such a speculation as was solved on former occasions. Men were told, on Ivy, to haul their "backer" to the depot, send back the team to eat corn and do nothing, while the planter jumped on, paid his fare and freight to Asheville depot, took the warehouse, and then here drives to land to the warehouse and he would sell his tobacco quick, and after counting up his freight and his own fare, there and back and a night at the hotel, and a bottle of whiskey, he could have loaded his tobacco into market for less money. Our township won't vote it. Reems Creek.

HISTORICAL INVESTIGATION.

From the Richmond Times.
In a recent letter from Chapel Hill, which appeared in the Times, reference was made to the fact that the University of North Carolina was actively engaged in collecting biographical details of the distinguished men who have in the past, more especially, we believe, in the revolutionary and post-revolutionary eras, contributed to the reputation of the state in various walks of life.
The work is one which should have been approved not only of the citizens of the old North State, but of the people of the South in general. The line of investigation which Chapel Hill will undoubtedly be extended to very great advantage in accord with the suggestions thrown out by Professor Hart, of Harvard, who has been delivering a series of interesting lectures of the general subject in that university. The investigation should be enlarged so as to include every side of the past history of the state, although there are more or less involved in the biographies of its most celebrated men.

The example originally set by the Johns Hopkins and now followed by Chapel Hill should be imitated by all the other leading institutions in the southern states. Only in this way can a vast mass of most important facts be rescued from the oblivion into which they have either fallen or are rapidly falling. With our great universities the virtues of an active research into the past results would be accomplished in a comparatively short time which would have generations for isolated historical scholars to bring about.

I am in my seventy-third year, and for fifty years I have been a great sufferer from indigestion, constipation and biliousness. I have tried all the remedies advertised for these diseases and got no permanent relief. About one year ago the disease assuming a more severe and dangerous form, I became very weak and lost flesh rapidly. Commenced using Dr. H. Moley's Lemon Elixir. I gained twelve pounds in three months. My strength and health, my appetite and my digestion were perfectly restored, and now I feel as young and vigorous as I ever did in my life. L. J. M. Betrayed by Her Twin Sister.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.
A young couple in Snyder, Kansas, recently became engaged, but the parents of the girl objecting an objection was arranged for Tuesday. The intended bride took her twin sister, Nana, into her confidence. Now Nana was also secretly smitten with the intended groom and she determined to prevent the marriage. Accordingly, just before the appointed hour, Nana locked the intended bride in her room and left the house and went to the rendezvous where she met the young man who was so excited that he failed to notice that she was not his fiancée. They proceeded to a minister's and were married. It was not for nearly an hour that the groom discovered he had wedded the wrong girl. When he did he decided to keep her.

Success the Test of Merit.

New York, April 21.—Some idea of the present wonderful growth of the type-writer business may be gained from the fact that the sales of the Remington typewriter for January and February, 1892, exceeded those of the corresponding months of 1891 $14,000. The great and constant growing popularity of the Remington is clearly shown by the fact that the business has more than doubled within three years. The Remington factory at Ilion, N. Y., employs seven hundred men to fill the demand created by the sales agents, Wycliff, Seaman and Benedict, who dispose of machines at the astonishing rate of one every five minutes.

For driving out scrofulous and all other taints of the blood, fortifying the constitution against leucorrhoea, or consumption, for strengthening the digestive organs and invigorating the entire system by sending streams of pure blood through all the veins—there is nothing equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the only guaranteed blood, liver and lung remedy sold.

BALMY SPRING.

Get my eldest protector out, my velvet carmuffs too,
My black chin-chin-a-nister, my porous plaster trousers,
Give me a quinine capsule, my drooping heart to cheer,
And don't forget my rubber boots, for baling spring is here.
See the undertaker and obtain a special rate,
Ask the railroad agent if he'll let me go as freight,
Buy a rosewood casket and have the parson bury me,
For I must walk abroad today—and baling spring is here.
Then go to the marble yard and choose a handsome stone,
Hire an elevator to teach you how to climb,
Have six horses to the leather-tire circles in the rear,
For I must go down town today—and baling spring is here.
Lay me on a sunny slope, where birds sing in the trees,
Don't put shells around my grave, they're not the proper clothes,
Give my fond farewell to all my friends and comrades dear,
And don't forget to remain indoors when baling spring is here.

THE REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT COMPANY OF WILMINGTON, N. C.

President.....Hon. Chas. M. Stedman Vice-President.....Col. T. W. Strange Secretary and Treasurer.....W. H. Sprunt

DIRECTORS: J. P. SAWYER, JAMES SPRUNT, J. M. CAMPBELL, GEO. S. POWELL, J. D. BOSTIC, CHAS. M. STEDMAN, J. A. CONANT, THOS. W. STRANGE, R. U. GARRETT, JULIAN S. CARR.

The Real Estate Investment Company, of Wilmington, N. C., offers to the public two hundred and fifty shares of its capital stock at 32 1/2 cents on the dollar, that is, a certificate of stock for $100 will cost $33.33 1/3.

There have been issued by this company 1,014 shares of its stock, and when the 250 shares now offered are sold the books will be closed.

This company has purchased from the State Board of Education of North Carolina the "Hyde Park" lands in Hyde county, containing about 80,000 acres, at 45 cents per acre, and the sale of the stock offers a chance for the purpose of raising funds to pay the balance of the purchase money. In addition to the Hyde Park lands, the company has an option on over a half million acres of land, belonging to the State Board of Education, until January 1, 1893, at 50 cents an acre. The money arising from the sale of the stock is placed to the credit of a trustee and can be used for no purpose except the payment of the purchase money for the Hyde Park lands. None of the officers of the company receive any salary, and it would be difficult to conceive how stockholders could be better protected than in this company.

These lands lie in the counties of Tyrrell, Washington, Craven, Pender, Duplin, Carteret, Onslow, Jones, Columbus, Bladen and Sampson. They are easily accessible. There is large, heavy timber upon some of these lands, and no better game preserves can be found in the United States. Over $175,000 has been spent by the state in draining the Hyde Park lands. It is manifest that few such opportunities are presented for profitable investment.

ASHEVILLE TOBACCO WORKS AND CIGARETTE COMPANY

OF Asheville, - - - North Carolina.

President.....John M. Campbell Sec. and Treas.....Fred A. Hull Attorney.....Chas. M. Stedman

DIRECTORS: JOHN M. CAMPBELL, Real Estate Dealer, CHAS. M. STEDMAN, Ex Lieut. Governor, C. C. McCARTHY, Tobaccoist; FRED A. HULL, Manufacturer; WRIGHT STEDMAN, Manufacturer; PETER MACNAUGHTON, Capitalist; J. J. REDMON, Merchant; JAMES M. CAMPBELL, Capitalist.

Authorized Capital - - - $150,000.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 28, 1892. The Asheville Tobacco Works and Cigarette Company, a corporation created under the laws of North Carolina, was organized on March 23, 1892, for the manufacture of pipe smoking tobacco and cigarettes. The above company has bought out the Asheville Tobacco Works, which has done a prosperous business for the last three years with an ever increasing trade, and now has a surplus of $2,398.97. The dividends for the past three years amounted to 40 per cent on the paid up capital, that is, 13 1/3 per cent per annum. This stock company has obtained control of the only cigarette machine in America outside of the cigarette trust, namely, the American Tobacco Company.

The business is practically cash, as cigarettes are sold for cash or on short time. The Asheville Tobacco Works and Cigarette Company sell all the cigarettes they make at a handsome profit. Offers have come from responsible parties to take the whole output. The present capacity is 144,400 in ten hours with one machine. Another machine has been ordered. The cost of making 1,000 cigarettes is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Item, Medium Cigarette, Best Cigarette. Rows include Stamps, Royalty, 30 cent tobacco capacity, 100 paper boxes for 10 cigarettes, 2 paper boxes for 50 boxes, Paper in making cigarettes, Labor, Cases (wooden boxes), Total.

Two grades of cigarettes are made—medium and best. The medium grade is sold at $3.50 per thousand; the best at $5.50. Comparing the cost of making and the price per thousand it will be seen that the average profit is $2.55 per thousand. For a legitimate, safe business, with quick returns and large profit, the cigarette business offers an opportunity seldom had, and must be kept in mind that the Asheville Tobacco Works and Cigarette Company has had luck and displayed good business judgment in securing this machine when other large companies were begging for it.

It is not necessary for an investor to speak of Asheville as a suitable place to manufacture cigarettes. It is eminently well situated, being in the finest section of North Carolina for the growth of fine qualities of smoking tobacco used in making cigarettes. The dryness of climate by day and coolness and moisture by night are the characteristics which favor the production of fine smoking tobacco here, and make it equal in flavor and color to the best tobacco grown anywhere. As proof of this the tobacco grown here have taken first prizes at State Fairs in Raleigh, North Carolina, and Richmond, Virginia; also at the Vienna and Paris Expositions. The number of pounds of tobacco handled on this market is rapidly increasing; for instance, in 1880 there were only about 600,000 pounds sold here, while in 1891 over 6,000,000 pounds were sold, and now every large manufacturer has his buyer on this market. The sales are yearly increasing and there is enough tobacco sold to run many large factories here instead of shipping it away to other factories. (A large factory in Asheville would employ a number of hands and benefit the town.)

Our cigarette factory is situated in the heart of this fine tobacco region and paradise of the world for health and pleasure. The factory is a large brick building four stories high, well arranged for safety, and has all necessary appliances and machines for making pipe and smoking tobacco and cigarettes. The building is heated by steam and the machines run by electrical power, which is found to be the most economical.

The policy of the company is conservative. The Asheville Tobacco Works and Cigarette Company can sell every cigarette they make; in fact, they cannot begin to supply the demand. The plug and smoking tobacco business is constantly growing, and there is not enough storage capacity to handle the business and store away leaf tobacco which has to be bought and held some months before manufacturing. It is the design of the company to build an addition to the present factory and in other ways enlarge the business, and the directors acting on the basis of the increasing business and demand for more room have instructed the secretary and treasurer to sell $50,000 worth of the capital stock at par in shares of $1.00 each. To say nothing of the profit on plug and smoking tobacco, the cigarette profit alone will be twenty per cent, or more on $150,000 for this reason: In turning out 100,000 cigarettes per day, that is, two thirds of the capacity of the one machine which we have a lease on for ten years, with privilege of twenty; it is certain the company will make one dollar per thousand, which is $100 profit per day; and as there are 315 working days per annum, it will amount to $31,500, which is over 20 per cent. a year on $150,000, and these figures are less than half of the estimated profit. The present stockholders expect 50 per cent on their investment.

The above statement shows an opportunity seldom to be had for making money in a legitimate way and now is the time to buy, for you will not be able to do so later on, as all of our stock put on the market has immediately been taken. Address

J. M. CAMPBELL, President.
