THE INDIGNATION MEETING

IT WILL BE HELD THIS EVENING.
The Saloon Will Not Be Located on Patton Avenue, But the Meeting Will Be Held Just the Same—The Ministers Have Something to Say.
Though the immediate occasion of the indignation meeting this evening no longer exists, the public interest demands that the meeting be held, that officials may learn that citizens have rights they are bound to respect, and to emphasize the opinion that from henceforth, if these menaces to the morality and good order of Asheville must be eliminated, they shall not be allowed to injure the business of the principal streets of the city, but be put out of sight as far as possible from the eyes of all but their patrons.

The meeting will be held at the court house this evening at 8 o'clock, as previously announced, and some of the best speakers of the city will be on the program. Ladies as well as gentlemen should express by their presence their interest in this question so vital to the prosperity of the city.

Changed His Mind.
A. G. Halyburton, who was given license for the establishing of the saloon on Patton avenue, has decided that he will not carry out the idea. He was spoken to by members of the Masonic fraternity, of which order he is a member, and learning the sentiment of his fellow members, told them that he would abandon the idea of putting in the saloon.

Rev. R. G. Pearson's Views.
Rev. R. G. Pearson in the course of his sermon at the First Presbyterian church yesterday said the placing of a saloon on Patton avenue was a burning shame and disgrace to the name of Asheville. He said he could not be present at the indignation meeting this evening in person, but he would be there in spirit, and hoped that the people would speak their minds and take such action as would make the commissioners hang their heads in shame when they walked the streets. "For God's sake," he said, "for humanity's sake, for the sake of the good women of Asheville, do not allow the traffic to spread." His remarks were forcible and to the point, and showed the intense interest Mr. Pearson felt in the matter.

Rev. J. W. Lee.
At the close of his sermon at Riverside M. E. church, south, yesterday Rev. J. W. Lee alluded to the saloon question. Legally, he said, the commissioners had as much right to license a saloon on Patton avenue, as in any other part of the city. But the whole thing, he declared, was wrong, and the people were winking on the subject. He had the blame on the people themselves, who, in many instances, would talk against the saloon business, and yet when election time came on they would allow themselves to be led by the nose by their party and vote for the men who allowed the whiskey traffic to go on.

The people and press, he said, were becoming aroused, and he believed great good would come out of the present agitation. He urged all of his hearers to attend the indignation meeting.

Mr. Sherrill's Plain Words.
In his sermon at North Asheville M. E. church, south, yesterday, Rev. R. D. Sherrill said:
"If the nefarious plans for the Patton avenue saloon are carried out, it will be an insult to the noblest womanhood of the city; it will be an insult to several of the principal churches of the city; it will be a total disregard for the wishes of the best and purest society of the city; it will be an ugly blot on the manhood of the city; it will be a stigma on the very name of Asheville. Then, in view of these facts, it deserves the united indignation and the concerted action of all who care for the respectability of our town."

Mr. Byrd Seen Inconsistently.
Rev. C. W. Byrd, of Central Methodist church, at the night service yesterday took for his text that portion of the parable of the marriage feast where the servants were commanded to go into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in.

Mr. Byrd in the course of his remarks referred to the practical way in which Christ selected his texts, and among other things said that a theme might have been suggested on Saturday by picking up a daily paper, in one column of which might have been found a severe criticism on the establishment of a saloon on Patton avenue, while in another column was to be seen an advertisement of the Bonanza bar in flaming colors, the point being that this showed glaring inconsistency.

It is your duty to come to the meeting tonight.

TO TOBACCO MEN.
Mr. Crawford Ably Discusses the Leaf Tobacco Bill.
WASHINGTON, June 10.—On Thursday Mr. Crawford of Texas called up the house bill, imposing restrictions on the sale of leaf tobacco by the farmer. This measure was introduced by Representative Crawford, of Asheville, and in the debate which followed, Mr. Crawford spoke effectively to the bill. He said that in his part of the country the charge had been made that this measure was in the interests of the tobacco manufacturer, but he had never been able to find any one who could explain how the measure would operate in the interest of the manufacturer and against the interest of the grower of the leaf. He said that the McKinley bill had repealed the tax on the farmer, and it had also repealed the law requiring them to keep books, but on second thought it seemed to be the idea that this was granting too much to this class of people.

Mr. Crawford spoke of the great industry of tobacco raising. It was a legitimate and honorable occupation. Thousands of people in the United States who are identified with the interests of the country have as much right to make tobacco as other people have to make corn. Was it right to subject all these people to the hardship of being forced to answer to the courts of the country whether or not they have sold tobacco whenever it suits the discretion of these internal revenue agents to force them to answer in order that they more effectively ascertain whether some manufacturers are violating the law? Was it an excuse for oppressing the people?

"Why," said Mr. Crawford, "down in my country I pressed them on this question, and some of them denied that there is such a law. One of my opponents denied it on the stump, and still another prominent republican editor said in his paper: 'that a law had been passed which was a democratic law that had been carried over by the republican congress of 1890 and should be repealed. We have not had any democratic legislation for quite a long while, and the country is wanting some.'"

The opposition to this measure seemed to be principally confined to congressmen who represent other tobacco producing regions, which are apparently jealous of the tobacco producing fields of the southern states. It is to be regretted that several of these members are not in favor of the side of the farmer who ought to be in sympathy with Mr. Crawford's measure.—Charlotte Observer.

Col Martin Loses His Case Against the W. A. and S. Road.
The suit for an injunction restraining the West Asheville and Sulphur Springs railway from laying its track on Depot street and Patton avenue, brought by the Asheville street railway company, was heard at Bryson City Saturday before Judge W. A. Hoke.

The judge's decision was rendered today, the injunction being refused. An appeal was taken. F. A. Smedley, esq., represented the Asheville street railway company, while Maj. Chas. M. Stedman represented the West Asheville company.

THE RETAINING WALLS.
The Joint Board Inspects Them All This Morning.
This morning the joint board made a tour of the city inspecting the retaining walls put up on the streets where paving is to be done.

The exact nature of the report to be made to the joint board is not known, but it is certain that some of the walls will be ordered taken down and rebuilt, and among them will be the one on Patton avenue, opposite the post office.

THIS PROMISES TROUBLE

A LYNCHING IN OKLAHOMA TERRITORY.
Another Threatened and the Negroes Determined to Retaliate—Guthrie Full of Armed Men and a Race War Seems Imminent.
GUTHRIE, O. T., June 13.—There was great excitement in this city last night, occasioned by two criminal assaults by negroes upon white women. A negro had named Holley assaulted Mrs. Charles Moore, wife of a freighter who was away from home at the time. He was arrested, and a mob surrounded the jail, threatening to lynch him. The negroes of the town claimed that Holley was innocent, although he had confessed his guilt to the sheriff, and a race war seemed imminent. There was much angry talk.

Justice Peckins, a negro lawyer, took the sympathies for the colored class. During the excitement he said: "Let the whites harm that man and the town will be in ashes before morning." The second outrage was that made upon the wife of James Genken, engineer of the electric plant, by an unknown negro who escaped. A posse, headed by Genken, were on his trail and captured and lynched him.

A mob of negroes surrounded the jail and sent couriers to Lanston City, a negro colony, ten miles distant, with the report that the whites were about to lynch an innocent negro and make negroes locked here determined to protect the object of the white men's vengeance. Many of the negroes were armed and hundreds of whites are carrying Winchester and revolvers.

At 1 o'clock this morning police officers Lester and Kitchin with one or two citizens ordered a lot of negroes stationed on the corner next to the jail, to move on. Several offered resistance, but the officers used the clubs effectually. Several negroes excited by the recent race disturbances, jumped on the boxes and made speeches to excite the crowds. Two or three shots were fired, and a negro yelled, "Hang the editor of the News." There was a disposition to act upon the suggestion, but White, the editor, denied them to do it. Sheriff Hixon and his deputies quelled the disturbance and the excited people were dispersed.

The editor of the News walked down Oklahoma avenue between two officers at 2 o'clock this morning seemingly secure. A company to patrol the city organized and is under the leadership of good men. Groups of negroes stand on every corner and manifest an intention to make the city if necessary. Reeves Bros.' place on Second is the rendezvous of the committee and the place is crowded with fathers and husbands, republicans and democrats alike, who take the stand that negro reigns at an end in Oklahoma. The city is alive with armed men ready to fight to the death if need be.

E. P. McCabe, the negro ex-convict of Kansas, is held responsible for the crime being committed and violence is feared. He cannot be found. Whistles are blowing, shouts and yells resound from every quarter of the city. This city of 10,000 people is a pandemonium of noise and no one can sleep. The yell of a mob is momentarily expected and nothing on earth seems able to save the brutal rasher's life.

Capt. Cooper, one of Payne's original Oklahoma bonuses, received here at 11 o'clock with seventeen men. They are determined that nothing short of hanging will satisfy them. At 2 o'clock this morning a large number of men paraded the streets. The negroes are congregated on all the corners and it is feared trouble will occur at the jail. Another mob is assembled at the jail, but the sheriff and police are vigilant.

The town goes on record tonight as against the growth of the saloon interest.
MILLIONS FOR PENSIONS.
They Increase All the Time—House and Senate.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The first indication in the senate of the democratic movement towards Chicago was the granting of a leave of absence to Senator Voorhees until the 26th inst.

The pension appropriation bill with amendments was reported back from the committee on appropriations and placed on the calendar.

The pension appropriation bill reported to the senate by the committee on appropriations carries a total of $146,757,350, which is an increase of $11,912,281 over the house bill and $327,209 less than the estimates. The bill as reported exceeds that of last year by $11,225,965.

DID HE TRY TO COMMIT SUICIDE?

The train which leaves the Asheville depot at 3:45 was rounding the bend yesterday when a man rushed to the platform and jumped off. His rash act created great excitement among the other passengers—they all thought it was a case of suicide. Ladies fainted, men rushed to the platform expecting to see his mangled form upon the track, but the fact was he had forgotten to put his bottle of "Buncombe Pills" in his satchel and would not start on his journey without them. He took great chances, but he might have taken greater.
