FORCE BILL IS THE ISSUE

FEAR OF ITS ENACTMENT WILL UNITE DEMOCRATS.

Senator Morgan Speaks for Free Silver—Democrats in All Sections. He Says, Will Resist Federal Interference at the Polls.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The discontent murmurings of the silver men, as reported from Colorado, Nevada, Kansas, Missouri, and various other parts of the country, naturally give the managers of the two great parties some anxiety. First they were inclined to believe that the silver men would swallow the bitter doses administered to them at Minneapolis and Chicago, and announcements were circulated everywhere to give the impression that this would be the case. But it appears evident that the silver extremists, especially those of republican affiliations, are not inclined to be as docile as the regular party managers hoped they would be.

The news relating to the Gresham movement and other third party manifestations in the west has attracted a great deal of attention among the politicians of both parties here during the last three or four days. Thus far it is the republicans who are more particularly worried about these developments, because most of them are occurring in republican states, and threaten to make inroads into the republican party only. For a day or two after the close of the Chicago convention the democrats here were also a little worried because of the well known strength of the silver sentiment among the democratic masses of the south and the southwest.

Thanks to the force bill fully of the republicans, however, it now seems quite certain that the democrats of free silver proclivities will support the regular democratic ticket almost to a man. This information has been derived from conversations today and yesterday with several leading free silver democratic congressmen who have an intimate knowledge of the sentiment prevailing in their respective committees, who are in constant correspondence with the leading politicians in the south.

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, for example, is one of the foremost advocates of free silver coinage in the country. He is also one of the most intelligent and best informed democratic leaders in the south. He has been very prominent although Congress has been adjourned, in his advocacy of immediate free silver legislation, and no man in Congress has contended more energetically against the policy of nominating men for the presidency who are opposed to free silver coinage. His name has also been frequently mentioned in connection with the presidential or vice-presidential nomination on a silver third party ticket.

But Senator Morgan declared to the Sun correspondent yesterday with the utmost positiveness that he would not dream of such a thing as attaching himself to a third party ticket, or allowing the use of his name by a third party in the present crisis.

Everybody knew his position in regard to silver, he said, but although the silver question was of very great importance, it was only one of the important issues of the present day, and in his opinion as a democrat and a champion of constitutional liberty it was com-

Certainly Hard Luck

ACCUSED OF MURDERING HIS WIFE.

A Terrible Scene at the Jail—Another Man Threatened. But Pleas of Others Saved Him For a Time.

NASHVILLE, June 28.—William Bates, who was arrested on Saturday on the charge of having murdered his wife at their home near Rowlesville, Bedford county, an act at first charged to some unknown man, was hanged by a mob at Shelbyville.

The mob marched down Depot street to the jail. Deputy Sheriff Hoover met them and refused admittance. Sheriff Moore pleaded with the crowd for law and order. They were cool but determined and the leaders yelled "tear it down!" The most energetic began climbing the fence and the gate was thus opened.

The crowd demanded the keys. Moore refused to surrender them. Several men sized him and forced the keys from him.
The door was then opened. The crowd began searching the cells and part of the mob forced the cell where Scott Bates, father of the accused, was confined, and thence rushed to the second floor. They found Will Bates and dragged him out.

A rope was placed around his neck and also around the neck of Scott Bates, who was taken along. The crowd proceeded to the court house yard. Bates protested his innocence, but was cursed into silence.
Suddenly a voice was heard exclaiming "let him pray."

Bates raised his hands to heaven and made a piteous appeal for mercy and protested that he was innocent. Then Scott Bates was led up and kissed his son good bye. The rope was thrown over the limb of a tree and drawn tight. The body then swung into the air. Bates died apparently without a struggle. A great cheer went up as the work was accomplished. The crowd then started to hang Scott Bates, who, they claimed, had instigated the crime. A rope was tied around his neck. He cried out, "I'm innocent, my God, I'm innocent, spare me, spare me."

They started to swing him up, but others interfered. For a while it seemed that the elder Bates must swing, but an uncle of the dead woman begged for his life. Other citizens pleaded with the crowd and in-ally Bates was given back into the hands of the officers and returned to jail.

Wm. Bates' body was cut down, an inquest held, and a verdict of death at the hands of unknown persons.

Deputy Sheriff Robinson started to Murfreesboro with Scott Bates in a wagon. The mob heard of the movement soon afterwards and went in hot pursuit of him.

Scott Bates will be hanged if caught.
He is charged with horse-stealing.

It is currently reported that one strong motive for the killing of Mrs.
Bates was the fact that the woman was an important witness for the prosecution in the case against the senior Bates.

A Member of Our Legation in Paris Recalled.

PARIS, June 28.—The United States that all is settled in such a manner that it is not necessary to ask any question in the chamber of deputies. A semi-official note appears in the newspapers thanking President Harrison for the prompt action by the United States in the matter and praising Minister Coolidge for his part in the affair.
