PEACE ON AT HOMESTEAD

IT MAY BE A QUIET BEFORE A STORM.

The Town Under Arms—More Pinkertons Reported on their Way to Homestead—Stevenson on the Troubles.

PITTSBURG, July 8.—At 9 o'clock this morning, the horse set by Sheriff McCleary for the assembling of 500 men to act as deputy sheriffs at Homestead not more than thirty appeared. The majority had excuses of various kinds. After calling the list of summons sent out, and only twenty-three had signified a willingness to go, the sheriff announced he would go alone.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 8.—The town has practically been under arms since last night, and there were many rumors about this morning. As a committee passed along the street, one exclaiming in a loud voice: "We are all armed to-day and will not allow any one to enter the works, be he white-leg or black-leg." A rumor has reached here and is causing much comment, that forty to sixty freight cars are being equipped at Cincinnati and Lima in which the Pinkertons will be sent to Homestead. The rumor may not be true, but, as a leader remarked, "We did not believe the barge story till they came up, and we will certainly not discredit this story till it is proved false."

The report that Sheriff McCleary is responsible for the appearance of the Pinkertons in Homestead has caused much bitter feeling and if he comes to Homestead today he will have a chance to make several explanations. The mill was quiet this morning, but in expectancy of another attack during the day an unusually large number of armed men have congregated near the works and at the first movement they will enter and take possession. It is reported that 100 armed workmen from Pittsburg are concealed near Homestead and are ready to march into the town at the first sign of being needed to reinforce the strikers.

The ruin that was incident to yesterday's preparation of warfare has been repaired, the dismantled fence around the works has been rebuilt, the yard has been cleared of all debris and inside the works the old watchmen of the firm peacefully perform their customary patrol. This statement is the best that can be said in behalf of the striking men and they can honestly assert that, except in defence of what they claim to be their right, that is to prevent the introduction and protection of non-union workmen who will dispossess them of their homes and means of livelihood, they are orderly and careful conservators of the peace. No property has been destroyed, no pillage excepting that attending the disgraceful scenes enacted after the surrender last night, has been accepted; no disorder has occurred.

The keeping of lawful owners and those whom they choose to place their own property, out of it, is another matter which outside sentiment will stir up, though in this borough, where every man is the millworker of his relative or tradesman, only one opinion is expressed. The darkest story of the whole affair is that of the running of the gauntlet after the surrender and the brutality inflicted upon the Pinkertons. An inquiry among witnesses show that the reports of it were not exaggerated and all that men can say cannot extenuate it. The women were the most virulent and savage after the surrender, and it was due largely to their acts and their goading of the men that the leaders were unable to restrain the mob.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 8.—Gov. Pattison received this telegram this morning: "Could you meet a committee of Homestead citizens on the arrival of the mail express at 10 o'clock tonight?" This was signed by John Furman, J. H. Williams, Hugh O'Donnell and Geo. Sarrel, committee." The governor replied that he would be at the executive department at 10 o'clock tonight.

LOUISVILLE, July 8.—A bill will be introduced today in the general assembly to prohibit the employment of Pinkerton men in Kentucky. CHICAGO, July 6.—Adlai E. Stevenson, the democratic vice-presidential nominee, arrived in this city tonight. Being interviewed on the Homestead riots, he said: "I read a few of the dispatches this evening, but am not thoroughly posted on the situation at the Carnegie works. It is a very unfortunate condition of affairs and greatly to be deplored. It demonstrates the fact that a high protective tariff affords no protection to laboring men and never betters their condition. I do not care to say more, as I am not at all familiar with the situation."

SIMMONS ELECTED.

Chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee.

RALEIGH, July 6.—The democratic state executive committee met this afternoon. The attendance was remarkably large, and all save one of the candidates for state offices were present. It was decided that the campaign should be aggressive, and that it ought to begin not earlier than mid-August, though local canvasses could begin sooner. There were bad reports from a few counties, notably Chatham and Vance, as to the extent of the third party disaffection. The meeting expressed its intention to carry the state by 20,000 majority for Cleveland and Carr.

The committee met again at night and devoted itself to the election of a chairman. Ed Chambers Smith was re-elected but declined to serve. E. C. Congressman F. M. Simmons, of Newbern, was then elected and accepted the position. The nominees for offices did not make any suggestions as to the selection of the chairman, but left it entirely to the committee.—Charlotte Observer.

The English Elections.

LONDON, July 8.—Up to 3:10 this morning the returns show the election of 162 conservatives, 124 liberals, 220 liberal unionists, 13 anti-Parnellites and 4 Parnellites. This makes a total of 325 members, or nearly half the 670 members of house commons.

Way off in Mississippi.

WEST POINT, Miss., July 8.—A suit was filed here yesterday against the Richmond and Danville railroad, lessees of the Georgia Pacific for $73,000 state and county taxes for the years 1886 to 1892 inclusive.

A STRAIGHT TIP.

Sport—I say, Jack, can't you give me a tip on the races? Jockey—I never gives tips; I sells 'em. Sport—Well, here's a fiver. Jockey—Thanks. Don't let on nothing; that's the straightest tip against losin' your dust I knows of.

THE HOUSE AND SENATE

IS HIRING PINKERTONS AN ACT OF TREASON?

An Interesting Debate in the Senate—The Silver Bill—Tin Plate Measure—Republicans Not Voting and Not Counted.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The fortification bill was reported by Mr. Daves in the senate today and placed on the calendar with a notice that it would be called up soon for action.

Mr. Hill introduced a bill changing the date for the dedication of the buildings of the World's Columbian Exposition from the 12th to the 21st of October, 1892, and after a statement by him as to the reasons for the bill and one from Mr. Cullom assenting to it, the bill was passed.

The house bill to pay to the Mobile and Girard railroad company $22,980 for transporting paroled prisoners was taken from the calendar and passed.

The senate silver bill was taken up for consideration by the house coinage committee today.

Mr. Shively moved to suspend the rules and pass the tin plate bill. Mr. Dabell demanded a second which was ordered, 198 to nothing, and the republicans refusing to vote, in hope of breaking the quorum. A speech was made in the senate Wednesday by Mr. Palmer, of Illinois, was remarkable for the advanced position taken by the Illinois senator in committing the right of factory and railroad employees to continuous employment at reasonable fair rates of compensation. Voorhees' speech on the same subject was made up principally of an attack on the republican party and its policy of high protection, to which he ascribed the crop of labor riots all over the country.

He was replied to by Mr. Hale, who criticised him for converting such a grave matter as the Homestead conflict into a question of partisan politics.

Mr. Call offered a resolution which was referred to the judiciary committee inquiring whether the employment of a private armed force is not an act of treason and levying of war against the United States.

NO LYNCHING

Jacksonville Whites Will Await the Law's Action.

JACKSONVILLE, July 8.—Shortly before midnight last night a mob of 700 negroes marched to the Duval county jail in squads. They were all heavily armed. The negroes claimed that they received positive information that the whites intended lynching a negro confined in the jail who is charged with having murdered a man last Monday. The jail officials quickly notified the governor and orders were at once issued to have several companies hold themselves in readiness.

The companies assembled at the armory, with Capt. Turner in command. The negroes sent a committee to the armory to confer with Capt. Turner. The captain assured the colored men that there was no danger of a lynching and advised them to go home quietly. When the negroes saw the soldiers they scattered.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 8.—Three white men were fired upon while standing upon the corner of Bay and Hogan streets about 1:30 this morning. The shot was fired evidently from some place of concealment. The police investigated, but could find nobody in the vicinity likely to have done the firing. One of these white men is said to have indulged in threatening talk last Monday night about lynching a negro name Reed.

A mass meeting of colored citizens passed resolutions last night condemning the action of negroes in organizing a mob, assuring them that the prisoners in jail would be protected, and counseling to refrain from any further demonstrations. The Harrison and Morton club of white republicans also passed resolutions similar in import.

About 500 men are still under arms, but only as a matter of precaution. The negroes are generally quiet.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Chairman Campbell Names a Defeated Ticket.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Chairman Campbell and Secretary Carter, of the republican national committee give out these as names of the national executive committee in whose charge the fortunes of the republican party have been placed during the present campaign: J. S. Clark, son of Iowa, Garrett A. Hobart of New Jersey, Samuel Fessenden of Connecticut, Henry C. Paine of Wisconsin, Richard C. Kerens of Missouri, Wm. O. Bradley of Kentucky, Jos. Manly of Maine and John R. Tanner of Alabama.

Crisp Nominated and Instructed.

ATLANTA, July 8.—Speaker Crisp was renominated by the democrats of the third district yesterday for congress and instructed to support the Stewart bill.

A Noted Case.

JACKSON, Tenn., July 8.—The supreme court has decided in the case of the state vs. H. Clay King, for the murder of D. H. Poston that he must hang.

WEAVERVILLE IS GROWING

APPRECIATIVE WORDS FOR "THE CITIZEN."

Romance of a Quiet Neighborhood—Short Lived Happiness—Some Personal Notes—At Sea in an Open Boat.

WEAVERVILLE, July 4.—I hope it is not too late and that it will not be in bad taste for me to send a few words of commendation for THE CITIZEN. It has grown into a newspaper in the fullest sense of the term. It has in the last year ascended to the dignity of having an opinion of its own.

I hope you will continue your good advice to those who have in charge your city's welfare. It seems to me to be almost a crisis in Asheville's history. Her downfall would be our downfall as well. So keep her afloat if you can.

All this time Weaverville is growing; she is fast becoming a hustler from "way back." She is swelling herself up like Mark Twain's frog, so when the railroad comes snoring through it will not fail to see us and stop.

A quiet Sabbath morning not long since. The worshippers of the village were returning home having heard a dry sermon and feeling thirsty and longing for rest. An ancient turnout consisting of a delapidated buggy and a horse of uncertain age, but many fine points, the former containing a man and woman, he about twenty five, and she about twenty, came rattling down the main street and stopped before the door of a certain justice of the peace.

They wanted to be married quick; and the magistrate stopped a passer by and made the twain as one. And turning the horses' heads they set sail upon that sea on which so many sails have whitened and upon whose strand so many wrecks are strewn.

They went to live with relatives in H—Cove. He wrestled with the festive tobacco plant and did his best to keep down the weeds in the growing corn on the mountain side, while with a heavy paddle she beat the life out of their clothes down at the "wash place," setting a thousand warning echoes adrift in the mountains. At night, the frugal meal eaten, the banjo was brought out, and to the strains of "Old Joe Clarke" and "Pretty little Liza Jane" and "In gwine down to town," the puncheons resounded to the tread of the "dancers dancing in tune."

But their happiness was so short-lived. They had gone to sea in an open boat as it were; an unpropitious wind had blown into their sail. Not a month of wedded bliss had passed when some sales from over the mountains in Tennessee were whispered about.

They reached the ears of the truant groom and a spirit of unrest settled upon him. The other night the climax of this romance was reached. It was reported in the cove that the officers were coming to arrest him, but he was sharp enough for them, and when the night had worn itself well away he slipped out of the cabin, and stepping off into the darkness, will be seen in these parts no more.

Another romantic marriage which promises to be all smooth sailing and all bliss without any blister was one which took place the other day. Last Wednesday a crowd of young folks accompanied by Rev. Mr. Waggoner went on a trip to Craggy. While up there Mr. Beelen Weaver and Miss Laura Proffitt were joined in holy bonds of wedlock. Standing on the massive pile of granite under which so many gay mountain climbers have passed the fleeting hours with revel and song, the solemn words were spoken which made them one. May their happiness be as solid and lasting as the rock upon which they stood and their joys as boundless as the wild panorama which stretched itself before their astonished gaze.

Mrs. Lucy Goodshy, of Greensboro, is here with her daughter Mary on a visit to relatives. Miss Bessy Alford, a popular young lady of Greensboro, is visiting Miss Carrie Nichols at her pleasant home near here. Rev. J. F. Austin is up from Lincolnton on a short visit. Miss Myra Sue Howell, of your city, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Hannah Weaver.

It rains every day. The oldest citizens say these are the dampest rains they have ever experienced.

CHOLERA AND CHOLERINE.

Deaths From Both In Russia and in the Suburbs of Paris.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—The cholera has reached Tsarsit, on the Volga. Fifteen cases of the disease and six deaths have been reported. In the city of Saratov 29 cases and six deaths have been reported.

In Baku the deaths number 100 daily. The disease is rapidly increasing in severity throughout the Caucasus.
