ASHEVILLE DAILY CITIZEN: FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 26, 1892.

say in naming the candidates.

"Lurid Glare."

THE Buffalo switchmen have not won their strike, but they have won a reputawholly deserved. Vice-President Webb way property was by some of the hun-

The fire at the Belmont emphasizes hotel fire for the last twenty years, of a building to all the others. To say

times before and admitted by everybody prove that the World is in ocean, or over it either for that matter. We have long thought that the World face recently.

We distinctly remember, some years ago, being taken into a room in New York where the London press cable dispatches were "blown up," as it was called by the guide. The room was occupied by a benevolent looking man-Schoonermaker or Schuppernong, or something equally non-American by name-and all of the foreign literature that could possibly aid a man in making a ten word telegram into a column "cable letter." We believe the Sun has printed lots of this sorry stuff, and it is too late for it to be exposing a like thing in the defense.

In a voice embittered with suppressed assion Lizzie A. Borden this afternoon in the presence of her attendant, Mrs. a violent wave of the hand she turned er back upon her sister with whom the onversation just narrated had taken inging in her cars. watched the prisoner intently. The sig

Mrs. Sarah Steiner, a wealthy widow. inswered an advertisement in a Toledo natrimonial paper, and, as a result. was married to M. F. Munson, who rep nan of Sherwood, O. After their marecured by the mortgage with him. Sh ins found that he has five wives, and heree the followed, the rat apparently baying the better of it for awhile. H

the crab swam away -N. V. Sun,

