

Asheville Daily Citizen.

VOLUME VIII.—NO. 117.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 15, 1892.

PRICE 5 CENTS

IT is owing to the way they are cured that makes the Dove

Hams so sweet and gives them that nice flavor. You will not eat any other after trying a Dove Ham.

KROGER,

No. 41 College Street.

REAL ESTATE.

WALTER B. GWYN, W. W. WREY

GWYN & WEST,

(Successors to Walter B. Gwyn)

ESTABLISHED 1881

REFER TO BANK OF ASHEVILLE.

REAL ESTATE.

Loans Securely Placed at 8

Per Cent.

Notary Public. Commissioners of Deeds.

FIRE INSURANCE.

OFFICE—Southeast Court Square.

CORTLAND BROS.,

Real Estate Brokers,

And Investment Agents.

NOTARY PUBLIC.

Loans securely placed at 8 per cent.

24 & 26 Patton Avenue Second Floor.

february

FOR RENT OR SALE.

Rev. W. S. P. Bryan's house, furnished,

Cumberland Avenue

For Rent—Desirable office rooms, McAfee block. Furnished and unfurnished houses.

MONEY TO LOAN.

JOHN CHILD,

Real Estate and Loan Broker.

WILLS BROS.,

ARCHITECTS

NO. 32 PATTON AVE.

TO CLOSE THEM OUT!

We offer the following on Monday and Tuesday next for

SPOT CASH ONLY:

Thirty-eight fine decorated China Cuspadores (worth from 75c. to $1.00 each) at 40c. each; 200 small pieces

Art Pottery and Glass worth from 50c. to $1.25 for 35c.

each; 24 fine pieces Art Pottery, Vases, etc., worth from $3 to $6.50, at $2 each; about 200 Solid Silver Scarf Pins, worth from 35 to 60c., at 15c. each; 44 solid silver Lace

Pins, worth from $1 to $2, at 65c. each.

Cut this out and bring it with you. We are moving now.

J. H. LAW,

Nos. 57 & 59 South Main St., Asheville, N. C.

THE GREAT QUESTION

That every housekeeper must solve is: Where can necessary supplies be bought to best advantage?

Between

The several grades and many prices that are shown, the customer is often in doubt which to select, but we can help you. The Capital

Quality of all Groceries sold by us is unquestioned while we keep prices at a minimum.

And Labor

Diligently to please all by promptness, courtesy and fair dealing.

A. D. COOPER,
GROCERIES, HAY, GRAIN.

BON MARCHE

37 South Main Street.

NEW FALL DRESS GOODS.

STORM SERGES; AND BROADCLOTHS, IN ALL COLORS.

GENUINE FOSTER KID
GLOVES IN COLORS
AT $1.00

NEW STOCK CENTEMER KID GLOVES

NEW WOOLS AND SILKS.

BON MARCHE

37 South Main Street.

FITZPATRICK BROS.,

Contractors and Dealers in Mixed Paints and Painters' Supplies.

WALL PAPER.

30 NORTH MAIN STREET, ASHEVILLE, N. C.

TELEPHONE NO. 142.

✠TWOMBLY & REED✠

MODES

NO. 7 STARNES AVENUE.

aug26d1m

THE MAITLAND SCHOOL,

No. 40 French Broad Avenue.

ENGLISH AND FRENCH HOME AND DAY

SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

MRS. BURGWIN MAITLAND, Principal.

The School will reopen September 26th.

Mrs. Maitland will be in Asheville after August 15th. Circulars may be had by applying at the school.

WHITE AUSTRIAN CHINA.

We wish to call the attention of our many customers to the above China. The prices below will convince you that it costs very little more than iron stone, and it has a fine, texture and thickness equal to the French China. To see it is to buy it.

HERE ARE THE LOW PRICES:

Breakfast Plates.....$1.75 Doz

Ten Plates.....1.50 "

Soup Plates.....1.75 "

Fruit (4 in.) Sauces.....1.00 "

Ind. But ers......50 "

Ten Cups and Saucers (two styles) 1.25 Set

When in the store ask to see our large and elegant line of French China Dinner Sets—our own importation.

THAD. W. THRASH & CO.,
CRYSTAL PALACE.

SILVER LEAF LARD

If you have tried it you know what it is; if you haven't, and will take the trouble to test, we are satisfied you will use no other. You can rest assured it is absolutely pure leaf lard. We have never sold any that gave better satisfaction.

POWELL & SNIDER

JUST RECEIVED.

Choice Styles in High Grade

Clothing.

Choice Styles in Fine Dress

Goods.

ONE PRICE SYSTEM.

H. REDWOOD & CO.

Clothing, Dry Goods

Fancy Goods, Hats,

Shoes, Carpets, Etc.

7 & 9 PATTON AVENUE.

A NOVEL IDEA.

Umbrellas re-covered while you wait for them, making them nearly as good as new.

Call and learn our low prices.

THE SHOE STORE,

WEAVER & MYERS,

30 Patton Avenue. Asheville, N. C.

A DAY FOR DEMOCRATS

GEN. ADLAI E. STEVENSON SPEAKS
IN ASHEVILLE.

THE OCCASION ATTRACTS A GREAT CROWD.

A GOOD, SIMON-PURE, DEMO-CRATIC SPEECH.

Stevenson Day in Asheville dawned bright and beautiful, with the atmosphere just cool and crisp enough to make a man feel healthy, happy and contented with himself and the whole world beside.

The crowd was out early, getting ready for the procession and the speaking, and by 10 o'clock the square was crowded.

Gen. Stevenson awoke early at the Battery Park, feeling in excellent health.

Gen. Stevenson stood up and the crowd cheered. He looked up at a banner on which were pictures of himself and Mr. Cleveland, and the crowd, following his eyes, went nearly wild. The General was dressed in black, wearing a frock coat, similar to Cleveland's, and the crowd noticed that his right hand sought the front of it, exactly as the ex-president's does. It's a way platform orators have perhaps, fastened several minutes and his young aide could make himself heard the General gave a quick glance at his wife who sat immediately behind him with Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. Chas. M. Steadman, Mrs. M. E. Carter, Mrs. Thos. D. Johnston, Mrs. T. P. Branch and other ladies, and began his address.

"Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen," he said, and Mr. Stevenson lingered gallantly as he eyed on a thousand of the fair sex who sat on either side the platform. "I appreciate more fully than words can express, the contents of the terms in which your chairman has presented me to you. I appreciate the hearty greetings that you have given me and shall bear back to my home, more than a thousand miles to the Northward, a grateful memory of the heartiest welcome that has been extended to me as the citizens of Asheville and old North Carolina. [Applause.]

"I trust you will pardon me for saying that I know something of the history of your State and her people and that the history, memories and traditions of this old Commonwealth are as dear to me as they are to yourself."

This beginning carried the speaker into the good graces of everybody in the house, and his clear, practical way of talking had caught the imagination. Leaving this line of talk, he turned forth into a most interesting and convincing speech, a condensed report of which appears on the second page of today's Citizen.

"There is no place for the Third party in this country," the General declared in the course of his speech, and the crowd agreed with him to the letter. His words were taken up by scores of his hearers and through the cheers that were created by the remark were echoed and reached till Gen. Stevenson had to stretch out an arm with index finger leveled at the crowd, and appeal for silence.

They Remembered.
Soon afterwards the speaker asked the audience, which was lending its ears to his every word, if it remembered when Z. B. Vance, as a candidate for governor, had canvassed the State from the mountains to the sea and around the people so as to restore democracy to power and relegate the plutocrats to private life. The answer that was shouted back would have lifted the statesman from Goulston of his feet if he had been here coming as it did in the shape of a hearty "we do."

The declaration that 4 years of Democratic rule in the nation had brought Northern wealth and energy to the South to help develop it, instead of coming as the carpet buggers did during Republican reign went straight to the hearts of the audience and was liberally rewarded by cheers.

"Is it necessary," queried the General at another juncture, "for me to come a thousand miles from my home to beg the people of North Carolina not to listen to the shuckles on themselves again?" Recognizing instantly that he meant the Forces all the crowd gave a forbidding shout of defiance.

"Is it necessary," he added, "for me to tell you that this measure, which has been designated by a Republican senator as the most infamous measure that ever crossed the threshold of Congress, is aimed directly at you?"

The crowd thought not, as was shown by its looks of determination. "I am here to tell you to stand by yourselves and your hearthstones," declared the General just before he sat down. "It is your battle for your constitutional rights and you must stick to it."

Gen. Stevenson sat down when he was through in the midst of the wildest cheering of the day. Some strong lunged democrat immediately proposed three cheers for the next vice president of the United States and the way they were given showed intense satisfaction at the speech. "Disse," by the Asheville-Belmont band served to keep the enthusiasm alive.

A Powerful Talker.
Chas. Adair Ewing, Gen. Stevenson's cousin, from Decatur, Ill., came with the candidate as a companion, and not as a speaker, but the crowd was still hungry and he was pressed into making a speech. J. B. Murphy, chairman of the county executive committee, introduced him.

Mr. Ewing thought it hard to realize that it was necessary for men to come from Illinois to urge North Carolina to vote Democratic. He spoke for three quarters of an hour and the crowd lost not one whit of its enthusiasm. A delivery that is attractive even to magicians and a way of presenting facts that convinces the most skeptical, gave his speech the most intense interest, and the crowd frequently interrupted with cheers.

Stevenson's iron-bound democracy was Mr. Ewing's opening theme, and he declared this feature of the candidate's personality to be nothing more nor less than natural. In his law practice Mr. Stevenson, said the speaker, would have been immeasurably more apt to succeed if he could have been a republican, but he was barred by psychological impossibility.

Hon. W. M. Robbins, of Statesville, made a short but hot Democratic speech after Mr. Ewing had concluded.

On for Raleigh.

Gen. Stevenson and party, together with a number of prominent Democrats who came to Asheville to meet the General, left Asheville at 5 o'clock this afternoon on a special train of cars for Raleigh where Gen. Stevenson will speak tomorrow. The train was under charge of Engineer Geo. W. Clark and Conductor L. A. Frazier.

that by the hope of the future and the sacred memories of the past, the State of North Carolina is Democratic today; to emphasize the fact that despite traitors within and foes without her brave, loyal sons are determined that she shall stand in the vanguard of the States which give their votes to Cleveland and Stevenson."

The Chairman followed this by introducing the General as one who had always stood up for the people and has always been a friend to the South; "and by the eternal," he added, as an after-thought, "he shall be the next vice-president of this country."

Gen. Stevenson stood up and the crowd cheered. He looked up at a banner on which were pictures of himself and Mr. Cleveland, and the crowd, following his eyes, went nearly wild. The General was dressed in black, wearing a frock coat, similar to Cleveland's, and the crowd noticed that his right hand sought the front of it, exactly as the ex-president's does. It's a way platform orators have perhaps, fastened several minutes and his young aide could make himself heard the General gave a quick glance at his wife who sat immediately behind him with Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. Chas. M. Steadman, Mrs. M. E. Carter, Mrs. Thos. D. Johnston, Mrs. T. P. Branch and other ladies, and began his address.

"Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen," he said, and Mr. Stevenson lingered gallantly as he eyed on a thousand of the fair sex who sat on either side the platform. "I appreciate more fully than words can express, the contents of the terms in which your chairman has presented me to you. I appreciate the hearty greetings that you have given me and shall bear back to my home, more than a thousand miles to the Northward, a grateful memory of the heartiest welcome that has been extended to me as the citizens of Asheville and old North Carolina. [Applause.]

"I trust you will pardon me for saying that I know something of the history of your State and her people and that the history, memories and traditions of this old Commonwealth are as dear to me as they are to yourself."

This beginning carried the speaker into the good graces of everybody in the house, and his clear, practical way of talking had caught the imagination. Leaving this line of talk, he turned forth into a most interesting and convincing speech, a condensed report of which appears on the second page of today's Citizen.

"There is no place for the Third party in this country," the General declared in the course of his speech, and the crowd agreed with him to the letter. His words were taken up by scores of his hearers and through the cheers that were created by the remark were echoed and reached till Gen. Stevenson had to stretch out an arm with index finger leveled at the crowd, and appeal for silence.

They Remembered.
Soon afterwards the speaker asked the audience, which was lending its ears to his every word, if it remembered when Z. B. Vance, as a candidate for governor, had canvassed the State from the mountains to the sea and around the people so as to restore democracy to power and relegate the plutocrats to private life. The answer that was shouted back would have lifted the statesman from Goulston of his feet if he had been here coming as it did in the shape of a hearty "we do."

The declaration that 4 years of Democratic rule in the nation had brought Northern wealth and energy to the South to help develop it, instead of coming as the carpet buggers did during Republican reign went straight to the hearts of the audience and was liberally rewarded by cheers.

"Is it necessary," queried the General at another juncture, "for me to come a thousand miles from my home to beg the people of North Carolina not to listen to the shuckles on themselves again?" Recognizing instantly that he meant the Forces all the crowd gave a forbidding shout of defiance.

"Is it necessary," he added, "for me to tell you that this measure, which has been designated by a Republican senator as the most infamous measure that ever crossed the threshold of Congress, is aimed directly at you?"

FIVE CASES OF CHOLERA

THE SCOURGE HAS A FOOT-HOLD IN NEW YORK CITY.

Two More Suspected Cases Today
—The Fire Island Passengers to be Freed Soon—Reports From the Old World

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Official announcement was made yesterday afternoon that the dreaded Asiatic cholera had secured a foothold in New York city and that the death of five persons who had passed away between September 6th and yesterday, had proved to be due to Asiatic cholera.

Physicians of the health department have been unable to find out how the cholera was contracted in each of these cases.

President Wilson said this evening there was no occasion for excitement in the city. The health department has taken every possible measure to prevent the spread of infection.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The board of health this morning issued the following bulletin: "During the past forty-eight hours there were no new or suspected cases of cholera reported to this department. The suspected cases of Charlotte Beck of 1784 Second avenue and of Peter Callahan of 318 East Forty-seventh street are under investigation."

FIRE ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Inspection by Drs. Vought, Steward and Freeman this morning shows that all the Normannia's passengers were found in good health, slight colds being the exception. Senator McPherson and other members of the passengers' committee, requested that all be discharged tomorrow at 1 a. m., unless Dr. Jenkins or the advisory committee of the State board decides otherwise. Dr. Vought agreed to this.

HAVRE, Sept. 15.—Thirteen new cases of cholera and two deaths were reported here yesterday against eleven new cases and seven deaths Tuesday.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Up to 8 o'clock Wednesday night there had been eight cholera deaths in this city, with no new cases.

DIDN'T WANT IT.

The Charlotte Observer's Salisbury Man Interviews Exam.

SALISBURY, N. C., Sept. 13.—Dr. Exam, candidate for governor on the People's party ticket, passed through here last night en route for his home at Goldsboro.

He said to your correspondent: "I was forced into the candidacy for governor. I did not want it. I was never much of a politician." "You have an appointment to speak in Salisbury tomorrow. Will you be here?" was asked. "No, I will not speak tomorrow night. Mr. Butler will be here." "Doctor, it is reported that you have withdrawn, or intend withdrawing from the field." "That is not true. I have not done so yet. I have been misrepresented by every paper in the State except the paper published at High Point. Let me tell you: I used to think all I saw in a Democratic newspaper was true, but now I don't believe a word I see in any paper."

"No, the Progressive Farmer lies, too. I will not vote for Mr. Cleveland nor Mr. Harrison. No Republican for me."

WHIPPED THEM.

The Outrage Committed by White Caps in Sevier County.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 14.—Sevier county White Caps last night took George Stevens, a farmer, his mother, his sister Lizzie, and a woman named Tilda Vest from their house, stripped them of their clothing, and whipped them nearly to death. They were ordered to leave the county within two days under pain of death.

Stevens recently left his wife and children to live with the Vest woman, and this was given as the cause of the outrage.

A company of law-abiding citizens is being formed to rid the section of the White Cap gang.—N. Y. World.

BIG REPUBLICAN LOSS.

The Democrats Lose Just One Vote in Vermont.

RETIAND, Vt., Sept. 15.—Returns of the recent election have now been received from the entire State. Fuller, Republican, for governor, has 39,190; Smalley, Democratic, 19,229; Allen, Prohibition, 1,620. Fuller's plurality 19,664 and majority 18,014. Compared with 1888 this is a Republican loss of 9,262, a Democratic loss of one and a Prohibition gain of 278.

Blaine to Speak in the West.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 13.—The Republican National Committee has arranged for three meetings in the West to be addressed by Mr. Blaine. Local Republicans are striving to have one of the meetings held at Music Hall in this city in October. It is their intention to have Foraker address the meeting also and contrast it with the Administration fiasco at which Whitelaw Reid was present last Saturday.

The Majority Rules.

SILOX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 15.—The Prohibition State convention yesterday nominated A. B. Alexander, of Collington county, for Governor. There was a big squabble over a resolution to put a state ticket in nomination, and the resolution carried by a majority of only one.

The Right Man for the Place.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Praise of Gov. Flower is heard on every hand here. "He's the kind of a man to have at the helm in trying times," was the way a government official put it, and the opinion was enthusiastically endorsed by the large number who heard it expressed.

Mrs. Harrison Some Better.

LOOK LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Harrison is reported by Dr. Gardner as being a trifle better this morning, with indication of a natural absorption of the fluid in the chest cavity.

Antimigraine

THE NEVER FAILING CURE FOR

HEADACHE

Absolutely Safe, Perfectly

Sure, and Always

Speedy.

Cures Every Variety of Headache

AND NOTHING ELSE.

ANTIMIGRAINE

Has earned for itself the enviable reputation of being the finest, most effective and reliable article in the market for the speedy relief and cure of every variety of that common trouble, headache. The immense favor which has greeted it from all quarters proves its true merits and acceptability to the public. It is something which almost everyone needs, and those who have once tried it will never be without.

For its curative powers it does not depend upon the subtle influences of such poisonous drugs as since it does not contain an atom of either of these. It is absolutely free from injurious chemicals, and can be taken by young and old without fear of serious results. It is not a Cathartic, does not disarrange the stomach, and contains no noxious or sickening ingredients.

Antipyrine, Morphine, Chloral and Cocaine,

The peculiar advantages of Antimigraine consist in its being thoroughly reliable as a cure for any kind of headache—without respect to cause—leaving no unpleasant or annoying after effects, as in the case of other so-called "harmless" remedies. These qualities make it the most popular and saleable article in the market, wherever known.

FOR SALE AT

GRANT'S PHARMACY.

PLEN-TIE-FUL SUPPLY.

If you don't believe it see the grand display of Fall Neckwear in my window.

A LIVELY TRADE IN HATS.

Fall shapes in Hats now in. See our Nasciminto shape. It is a beauty.

F. E. MITCHELL,