"We can have some sympathy with a mob driven to desperation by hunger as in the days of the French revolution, but we can have none for men receiving exceptionally high wages in resisting the law and resorting to violation and bloodshed in the assertion of imaginary rights, and entailing such a vast expense upon the taxpayers of the common-wealth. It was not a cry for bread to feed their famishing lips, resulting in the sudden outrage, with good provo ration; it was a deliberate attempt by men without authority to control others in the enjoyment of their rights. The men had a right to refuse to work and persuade others to join them, but the moment they attempted to control the works and resorted to violence they placed themselves outside the pale of the law if we were to concede the doctrine that the employe may dictate to his employer the terms of his employment, and pon the refusal of the latter to accede to them to take possession of his property, and drive others away who were willing to work, we would have on-No business could be conducted upon such basis; that doctrine when

One great question which concerns the people of this countr is the enforcement of law and preserva tion of order.

MICHIGAN'S NEW LAW.

It is Before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Washington, Oct. 11 .- The Suprem ourt today advanced the Michigan election law case and heard argument thereon. Important political questions are involved, for, if the court sustains the decision of the Michigan Supreme court that the law is constitutional, the result will doubtless be to give some of Michigan's electoral votes to Cleveland The point involved is in the choice presidential electors by congressional districts.
