SOME FINE LECTURES.

Southern Business College Star

Lecture Course.

President Lammond of the Southern Business College has arranged a star lecture course for the winter, mainly for the benefit of the college students, although the lectures may be attended by those outside of the college who desire to do so.

The course will consist of lectures by Col. L. F. Conelrod, Hon. Sam. and Phelps

Leahy, Dr. J. H. Boggs, Hon. John Temple Graves and Dr. James Hedley.

These men are known the country over as among the best lecturers, and are sure to provide entertainments of a high order.

The lectures in the course will be given in the hall of the college, National bank building, and the first will be delivered as soon as convenient after the November election. Tickets for the course or for single lectures can be procured from Prof. Lammond.

ON WEST COLLEGE.

A Matter for the Street Committee to Look Into.

Some time ago workmen dug a trench on West College street, in front of the Villa, for the purpose of working on a water pipe. A trench several feet deep was dug and has never been filled up. A crooked piece of gas pipe was laid across the top of the street, with one end resting on the fence in front of the Villa. This was intended to keep pedestrians from walking into the ditch. Monday night a gentleman was passing along the street on his way home and ran up against the gaspipe, was thrown down and several patches of skin were taken from his leg. He made a complaint to the authorities yesterday, but so far nothing has been done to lessen the danger to pedestrians and horses. There is no light there at night, and unless the matter is attended to some one will have a damage suit against the city.

ELECTORAL CANDIDATES

CRAIG, WELLS AND BOGGS AT THE COURT HOUSE

Mr. Craig Keeps the Democrats Cheering and Questions Boggs' Wells Makes a Clean Republican Speech.

Messrs. Locke Craig, Lon Wells and Geo. E. Boggs, candidates for elector in the North district on the Democratic, Republican and Third party tickets, spoke in the court house last evening. At 8:30 o'clock N. A. Reynolds called the meeting to order, and introduced Boggs as the first speaker. The P. P. apostle left off with what sounded suspiciously like a his speech here early in the campaign. He went back to George Washington's time, wandered about through history and finally getting down to the present time, read from what purported to be a reprint of a speech of Governor Northern of Georgia, and said it was no wonder after reading such a speech that such outrages as the rotten-eggging of Weaver could occur. Boggs also argued that the government should own and control the railroads of the country. The time had come when, he said, the railroads would own the people of the people would own the railroads. He thought it would be easy enough for the government to buy and operate the roads, and was confident that if this were done, the vast number of railroad employes would be taken out of politics by a rigid system of civil service examinations. He favored an income tax, and also suggested that there was much to be learned from the bill as the Democrats believe. Boggs' speech was an hour and five minutes long. He said his speech and sat down and there was not a ripple of enthusiasm.

Locke Craig Speaks.

Locke Craig was next introduced by Mr. Reynolds. When he took the stand and began speaking he was interrupted several times by cries of "Rule for Harrison" from Mill Ledford, who had been interrupting Boggs with questions, despite the protests of Democrats present. Mr. Craig told Ledford that he wanted no interruption while speaking—and would have none. Ledford replied that he would have none, and that he would ask questions if he wanted to. The crowd then took the matter up and Ledford did not have much more to say. Mr. Craig told the Democrats he had just come from the district canvass and was the bearer of good news. The Democrats are at work and success is sure in November. He discussed the tariff briefly and yet very forcibly. He gave the force full some hard knocks. "There were," he said, "in the Minneapolis convention white Republicans from the Western district of North Carolina, yet there was not one with manhood enough to stand up in the convention and refute the charges made against the South in the platform."

Mr. Craig asked Boggs if he was going to vote for the men on the State ticket of the People's party, to which Boggs replied that he was not advocating them. He admitted that he had told Mr. Craig, when asked a few days ago whether he would vote for Col. Long, "The old man is off the ticket, and I wouldn't vote for him if he was on." To use a common expression, Mr. Craig "struck Boggs in the back."

Mr. Craig's speech was a good one and kept the crowd cheering enthusiastically. It was of the kind that makes every man proud to say that he is a Democrat. Frequent references to Mr. Cleveland caused the crowd to cheer lustily every time.

Wells Speaks.

Mr. Wells was then introduced and made the usual Republican speech, with this to his credit: It was on the whole a clearer and more decent speech than any made by a Republican in the court house this campaign. He made one or two remarks that Mr. Craig thought too personal, but as soon as Mr. Craig called his attention to them, he disclaimed any intention to make them personal. Mr. Wells has a way of talking that is very much like that of Crawford, the Philistine candidate for Vice-President.

When Wells concluded Boggs had a few minutes to consider. He explained that he was canvassing not for the State ticket, but for Weaver and Field, and said that if only one man voted for these candidates in November he would be that man.

LOOK OUT!

Wanamaker and Frick Have Got Together.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 24.—Among the passengers on the Eastern express from Chicago tonight was Postmaster General Wanamaker. A delegation of Pittsburgh manufacturers, headed by Henry Clay Frick, chairman of the Carnegie Steel company, met Mr. Wanamaker at the depot. They boarded the "sleeper," and, guarded by a dusky porter who saw that no reporter or any one else got within gunshot of the crowd, made a long talk. None of them would say what it was about.

The Carnegie people have always been liberal contributors in Presidential years, and Mr. Wanamaker's abilities as a successful raiser of campaign funds are well known.

"I WASN'T SO."

No Fusion of Democrats and Populists in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 26.—It is announced that there is no foundation for rumors that at a joint conference last night by the Le-moyne and Jacksonian clubs, the Democratic organizations of this city agreed that Democratic support should be given to the Weaver electoral ticket kept in the field to hold the always straight element of the party. On the contrary it is stated at Democratic headquarters, that the leaders are in a hot hurry to carry Nebraska for Cleveland, and declare it would, under the circumstances, be sheer folly to support the Weaver electors.

The Scythian's Stormy Passage.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 24.—The steamship Scythian, which arrived today from Boston, was twenty-four hours late. From the 18th to the 21st instant she encountered mountainous cross seas, which at times had the appearance of tidal waves. The passengers were compelled to remain below during the unusually rough weather.

The Pope's Sympathy for Mrs. Harrison.

ROME, Oct. 26.—The Pope was deeply interested in the illness of Mrs. Harrison and expressed much sympathy for her. When the gravity of the malady was declared his holiness sent to the distinguished patient the apostolic benediction. He was very much grieved when he was informed of her death.

A NOTABLE CONVERSION

JUDGE REA OF MINNEAPOLIS FOR CLEVELAND.

He is Ex-Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. and Grover's Pension Veto and the Tariff Have Done the Business.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 26.—It is announced that John P. Rea, ex-Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, will vote the Democratic ticket at the election in November. Judge Rea's conversion from Republicanism was partly brought about by Cleveland's pension vetoes. Speaking of them Judge Rea said that, after an exhaustive examination into the matter, he failed to find a single veto that was not based upon principles of right and justice. He also states that the Republican party is wrong in its tariff theories.

THEY GIVE UP INDIANA

THE REPUBLICANS HAVE NO HOPE THERE.

They Still Think They Have a Fighting Chance in New York but Tammany is Playing With Them As November Will Show.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A. K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times, telegraphs his paper from here as follows: "But two short weeks remain of the great national campaign of 1892, and both sides have now well determined how they shall make their final assault. It is an open secret here in Republican circles that the Republican managers have given up Indiana as utterly hopeless. From the day that Gresham made his announcement against Harrison the State has been abandoned in the Cleveland column, and the President's own State will be spared the shame of a repetition of the debauchery of 1888 simply because money cannot carry it. In this State the Republicans are making a most desperate and somewhat suicidal battle. They are not confident of success, but they have no more chance of winning the electoral vote. Believing that success here would assure Harrison's reelection, exhaustive efforts will be made from now until election day to carry New York, but even while thus giving the utmost efforts and resources to carry the Empire State, the Harrison leaders have the world's eyes fastened against them, and that they must look outside of both New York and Indiana to secure success."

"If David Martin had remained in Philadelphia and not attempted to manage affairs in this city, the Republicans could have been in a very much better condition here today. Very much heralded as an expert in election crookedness, and his coming has been resented as an insult to the city. Calling upon him to handle a great city like New York against Tammany Hall, the most perfect political machine the world has ever known, is like sending a tottering child to wrestle with a giant. While the Democratic papers have made Martin most odious in the estimation of honest citizens, the practical politicians of this city have met Martin in his own way, and they have played him in the most bewildering fashion. They have set up numberless jobs upon him, arranged to get vast sums of money out of the contract fund that he is disbursing, and they could today arrest him and put him in prison on scores of cases where they have snatched his eyes and paid him for a political renegade. Martin is today at the mercy of hundreds of Tammany extras who have lined him into almost every phase of political crookedness."

GREATEST MASS MEETING

ALL TAMMANY TURNS OUT FOR HILL.

Twelve Overflow Meetings, and Thousands and Thousands of Voters Cheered David B. Hill and the National Party.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Tammany has rallied with the glow and flash of fire, with the roar and shock of rising cheers, and with the thunderous acclaim of the almost countless thousands of loyal braves, the great Democratic society made known last night that it was loyal still.

Tammany hall shook and rocked and swayed to the welcome of Senator Hill, and while yet the throng about the twelve open air overflow stands filled up the streets and paralyzed the traffic for blocks around, the leaders of the great host declared that it was the most gigantic, the most overwhelming mass meeting that the metropolis of America has ever seen. The embarrassed pedestrian who had to go blocks out of his way to get through four-cent streets was very willing to admit that they were right and that the claim of an attendance of more than one hundred thousand voters was not entirely without foundation.

Senator Hill was the great man of the great meeting, and as it was the first time that he had spoken in Tammany hall, the leaders of the "Tiger" had determined to show him a welcome that would be overwhelmingly convincing and irrefutable. They did. Senator Hill made a fine speech and was given tremendous applause.

AS BAD AS MEN.

Lively Rumpus at a Ladies' Meeting in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—The Sunday closing question caused a hurricane in the meeting of the lady managers today. Mrs. Matilda B. Carse, one of the most prominent women on the board, began by saying: "Ladies in the afternoon, I have a big roll of paper containing the names of 276,000 persons which I will present this afternoon to the national commission. This list of names constitutes a petition relative to Sunday closing."

Mrs. Carse got no further. An uproar and a babel of voices arose. Most of the indignation was sprung to their feet, and confusion worse confounded was the result. The board became divided into two parts, one in sympathy with Mrs. Carse, the other opposed to her petition. These were some of the expressions heard above the feminine din: "Give her a chance." "Shut up." "Oh, how she yells?" "Ain't you ashamed of yourself?" "Why don't somebody keep order?" "Call 'em to order, Mme. President."

Poor Mrs. Charles Price, of North Carolina, who held the chair at the time hardly knew what to do.

Above all the confusion the voice of Mrs. Carse rose clear and scornful as one who has a chip on the shoulder that has not yet been knocked off.

"Ladies," she said, with extreme hauteur, "I did not intend to present this statement to your most honorable board. I merely arose to ask permission to be excused to present these names to the national commission."

Then she marched out.—N. Y. World.

A TREMENDOUS STRIKE.

It Will End, or Perhaps 25,000 Cotton Operatives.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The mayors of Liverpool and Manchester are trying to prevent a strike of cotton operatives by inducing disputants to consent to arbitrating differences. The opinion is general that negotiations to bring about arbitration will prove fruitless. It is estimated the threatened strike will affect thirteen million spindles and 52,000 persons.

Another Republican Convinced.

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 24.—Dr. George W. Neldich, president and general manager of the Carlisle Shoe company of this city, and who has been a life-long Republican, has publicly announced that he intends to support Grover Cleveland and Stevenson. He gives as his reason for so doing that he is opposed to McKinley's tariff views and bill. There are several hundred employees in the shoe company's factory, and it is thought that many of them will follow their president and manager.—N. Y. Sun.

Russia's Cholera Figures.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—Since the outbreak of the cholera in the Russian dominion there have been in the lieutenantancy of the Caucasus 125,000 cases of the disease and 65,000 deaths. In Saratoff there have been 31,000 cases and 11,000 deaths and in St. Petersburg 2,500 cases and 1,150 deaths, making in these three districts alone a total of 159,300 cases and 77,000 deaths.

Will Sue For Outlaw's Money.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 26.—Bill Dalton, brother of the exterminated outlaw, says he is going to bring a suit against the city of Coffeyville for $10,000 damages because the pockets of the dead bandits were rifled after they were shot down. He claims they had $900 of their own money and that he knows who got it. Emmitt Dalton is on the road to rapid recovery.

Cleveland's Sympathy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mr. Cleveland sent the following despatch to President Harrison yesterday morning: "I hasten to assure you of my sincere sympathy in the hour of your terrible bereavement."

A Family Burned to Death.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26.—About 1:30 this morning in fire in a two-story building corner of Central avenue and Harat street, James Shannon, his wife and two children, were burned to death.

Will Coal Advance?

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 22.—Work was today stopped at all the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron collieries owing to a scarcity of water and a freight blockade on the Reading system.
