FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1892.

THAT TAMMANY MEETING.

The thundering acclaim of Tammany, thousands strong, that turned out to greet Senator Hill in New York Tuesday night must have reached the ears of the managers of the Republican campaign all over the country and sent the cold chills playing up and down their spines to the exclusion of all hope of carrying New York State. There has never been such an outpouring of the Democracy in this country. No sentiment pronounced by Senator Hill was accorded heartier praise than this:

"What shall I say of the Democratic candidates, Cleveland and Stevenson? They both answer the Jeffersonian standard of fitness; both have been satisfactorily tested in the public service, and both represent the cherished principles of our party in this campaign, and are entitled to your suffrages. Ex-President Cleveland needs no eulogy at my hands. His life and public services are familiar to the people. His administration—disinterested, honest and able—has withstood popular criticism; has passed into history, and reflects credit upon the country. His reelection will not only be a personal triumph, but it will also be a vindication of our principles and the triumph of the Democratic party."

A REPUBLICAN TRICK.

The Republicans of Charlotte admit that the elections in that city have been fair, that the judges have been equally divided between the two parties, giving each party an equal opportunity for free ballot and a fair count. Nevertheless, with no pretext that the situation demands any change from former methods, "the postmaster of that city," says the Observer, "and a half-cracked individual who has made himself conspicuous as a prohibitionist, are engaged in getting up petitions for the appointment of Federal supervisors of election for this county."

What does this mean? The Observer answers:

"It is an attempt to set in motion the machinery of the United States government for the intimidation of the voters. It is proposed to employ the police, the government overseers who shall watch every action of every Democratic voter, in the hope of causing such apprehension of some charge being laid against them that they will refrain from voting rather than take the chance of arrest, trial and probable imprisonment. It is an attempt to overawe timid Democrats. Under pretense of seeking to protect the sanctity of the ballot, it is being sought to deprive men of that medium of expressing their will."

WINDY CITY MANNERS

From the accounts in the Chicago Herald, it appears that the leading feature of the dedicatory ceremonies in the Windy City was the brutality of the police. It has never been exceeded in this country and probably not in the world. It was carried to an extent almost past belief, for most of it was done under the eyes of men, Vice-President Morton for one, whose mere word must have stopped it. Here is an account of one incident of a thousand:

"A reporter for the Herald saw the police frequently lay their hands against the breasts of well dressed women and exert their main strength to push them backward. This last feat seemed to be decidedly popular with the men and it was repeated almost numberless times. Conspicuous among the blue coats was a young man wearing the uniform of the Sheridan Guards. He committed the same offence half a dozen times. A well-dressed woman, not more than twenty years old, stood on the curb watching one of the societies pass. The fellow walked up to the spot, deliberately put his dirty hand against her at a point halfway between her throat and waist and pushed her slightly backward. The young woman's face grew crimson and she cried out: 'You miserable scoundrel, what do you mean?' The fellow replied: 'Shut up or I'll throw you out.' Two police officers saw the assault and were near enough to have heard the woman's protest and the reply of the insult, but they did nothing."

Tall buildings and fine architecture cannot atone for such outrageous treatment of women as this. The superintendent of police should not have been allowed to remain in office a day after these facts were known to the Mayor. We can in no more striking way get a clear idea of the terrible offensiveness of this treatment than by remembering that there is probably no redress for the mental and physical injury hundreds of persons suffered that day, and by reflecting that a government that would not resent such insults from a foreign power would not live longer than till next election. The brutal beating, the obscenity and the insults were totally unnecessary. Chicago had the example of the police of New York before it when the big parade of a few days earlier was managed without raising a club. It was simply the brutish natures of the Chicago police coming out at a time when common decency would have suggested the greatest possible consideration. Chicago must mend its manners.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The Triennial convention of the Episcopal church has just closed its session at Baltimore. From the report on the state of the church, presented by the Rev. Dr. George S. Cameron, we make the following extracts:

After mentioning the six bishops who have died since last convention and the ten who have been consecrated, it sums up the condition of the church in facts and figures as follows: Bishops, 72; priests, 3,865; deacons, 313; whole number of clergy, 4,250; candidates for holy orders, 382; ordinations of deacons and priests, 912; lay readers, 1,806; baptisms since last convention, 183,310; confirmations, 125,738; Communionists added, 42,420; communicants lost by death, 25,558; present number communicants, 549,250; marriages, 49,193; funerals, 96,233; number of families, 209,067; Sunday school teachers, 42,828; Sunday school pupils, 209,378; pupils in parochial schools, 10,246; church edifices, 4,584, of which there are rectories, churches and chapels, 2,281; parishes, 1,521; church hospitals, 73; orphanages, 49; homes, 92; academic institutions, 121; collegiate institutions, 13; theological institutions, 20; other institutions, 73; contributions, diocesan, $5,205,384.44; parochial, $3,730,858.74; beyond the diocese, $3,730,858.74; aggregate, $10,667,001.92.

"The proportion of free churches to those otherwise supported has increased from 49 per cent. to 49 per cent. There has been no marked increase in the number of rectories—from 1,458 to 1,521. There is but one rectory to three church edifices. On the other hand, there has been a gratifying increase in the number of church institutions: Church hospitals from 57 to 73; orphan asylums from 40 to 49, and the entire number of institutions from 312 to 419.

"There have been 12,179 more baptisms during the last three years than in the three years preceding and 12,741 more confirmations. We are compelled to note, however, that while 125,738 persons have been confirmed, only 92,426 are reported as added to the number of communicants. The number of communicants has increased from 488,785 to 549,250, or 60,465, more than three years ago.
