

BY THE U. S. MARSHALS

A GREAT MANY ARRESTS MADE BY THESE WORTHIES.

A WHOLESALE BUSINESS IN NEW YORK CITY.

ARREST BY A NEGRO RESISTED IN BALTIMORE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—In the downtown district it was as quiet today as on Sunday. The exchanges and banks were all closed. Instances have come to light where deputy marshals have allowed men to vote for whom they held warrants and afterwards arrested the voter. The United States Marshal's office in the Federal Building was lively today. By 8 o'clock the special deputies began to arrive, each man having in custody some citizen who was charged with attempting to vote illegally. A large apartment usually occupied by the regular deputy marshal was used as temporary place of detention for arrested men. The prisoners were taken in turn before U. S. Commissioners Shields & Deuel. Lawyers by the score who had volunteered their services were promptly on hand to look after the interests of the Democratic voters who had been arrested, either after depositing the votes or before being permitted to do so. As soon as Commissioners Shields and Deuel had decided to hold any of the arrested men bail was promptly furnished, and the accused man released and permitted to return home. In cases where the alleged voter had no one to vouch for him bail was not furnished and the accused had to go to jail. By 10 o'clock fifty men had been brought under arrest to the Federal building. The liveliest proceedings took place before Commissioner Deuel where were brought twenty voters from city institutions on Blackwell's Islands, who had voted or attempted to vote at the polling place of the 28th election district of the 16th assembly district. A few of the arrests were those of men employed on steamboats or sailing vessels who claimed residence in lodging houses down town.

In Baltimore. BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—Deputy United States Marshal Wm. W. Roberts, with two colored deputy marshals, appeared at the first precinct of the fifth ward. Wm. B. Jackson took exception to their presence and was arrested, charged with assaulting a United States officer in the discharge of his duty. James Bond, clerk of the Superior Court, asked the deputy marshal why he was jerking the man around, and a colored deputy immediately told Bond that he was jerking the man around for intimidation. Bond denied intimidation, and declined to submit to arrest by a negro. A white man standing near was ordered to arrest Mr. Bond, who submitted. The deputy marshal also arrested Samuel Eiselman for intimidation and Thomas Moore for assault. Roberts, deputy marshal, says Jackson took him by the throat and that Moore grabbed him by the arm, and if it had not been for the interference of other deputies, he thinks they would have "done" him.

In Indiana. ELLWOOD, Ind., Nov. 8.—The Democratic leaders in this city have taken the aggressive and planned a sudden and important move. Last evening warrants for the arrest of prominent Republicans were issued by the wholesale, charging them with attempting to bribe voters to remain away from the polls today. The persons arrested are being placed under bond which is promptly furnished by their friends. The move was so unexpected that the Republicans were completely taken by surprise, but are taking steps to retaliate and affairs are becoming very serious.

At Poughkeepsie. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Senator Osborne offered his vote in the city today; it was challenged, and he swore it in. He was soon after arrested for illegal voting and taken before United States Commissioner Hunter. He was examined and held in $10,000 bond to the next United States grand jury. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Warrants have been issued by United States Commissioner Hunter for the arrest of Chief of Police McCabe, also Constable McDonald and Police Officer McCabe, the brother of the chief of police, for interfering with United States deputy marshals. RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 8.—Several United States marshals have been arrested here for obstructing the voting.

A Small Riot in New York. NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Shortly before noon Thos. Murphy was arrested in the Third assembly district for illegal registration. While on the way to the United States commissioners office. A number of Murphy's friends assaulted the marshals. A small riot was precipitated, but assistance soon arrived and the prisoner was safely landed before the commissioners.

One Heart Made Glad. PITTSBURG, Nov. 8.—Information just received here from California says that Barney Dunning, an inmate of the city poor farm here, has fallen heir to an estate of $300,000, the fortune bequeathed to Dunning by his brother who went to California in 1849.

IN WASHINGTON CITY.

The Quietest City in the United States Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—This city today was probably the quietest of any place of large size in the United States. The streets were free of people than usual for a fine autumn day. Probably more than 10,000 men have left the city to visit their homes and cast their vote. The public departments were opened as usual this morning, but only the barest routine business was transacted. With few exceptions all the government officers were out of the city and nearly all the clerks, living in closely contested States, or Congressional districts that are reckoned doubtful, had also gone home to vote. In addition to the government employees several thousand men engaged in private occupation here, went to their places of voting and residence to aid in the campaign. Those persons remaining in the city displayed an interest in the result, but it was of a subdued character and void of the nervous anxiety which was marked prior to the passage of the civil service law.

The President remained in his apartments at the White House, where he received intelligence of the way voting was progressing by means of dispatches from the Associated Press, from political friends and from other sources. The only cabinet officers in town are Secretary John M. Foster, of the State Department, and Attorney General Miller, each of whom had arranged to pair with Democrats in Indiana, so that their absence would not affect the result. Each was at his department early in the morning, attending to public business.

ANARCHISTS DID IT.

A Terrible Explosion in Paris—Four Men Killed.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A dispatch from Paris states that this morning two policemen found outside of the office of the Garmaux Mining company an iron vessel. In examining it at the station house it exploded, killing the two men instantly and wounding another. It is thought to be the work of anarchists.

Later.—Four men were killed and their bodies terribly mangled by the explosion. It is now said that the explosion was not dynamite. So violent was the explosion that houses in the vicinity were shaken to their foundations, and their occupants rushed into the streets, fearing the buildings were about to fall. Windows in every direction were shattered, and the utmost excitement and confusion prevailed. Two stories of the police building were completely wrecked. The whole street was thickly strewn with debris. The firemen engaged in removing wreckage. The clock work movement in the interior of the infernal machine struck while the four men who were killed were examining it. Instantly there was a terrific roar and the work of destruction was done. It is believed that the men who were killed never knew what hit them. They were so mangled that death must have been instantaneous.

CLEVELAND VOTES. A Republican Heeler Attempts to Challenge His Vote. NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Ex-President Cleveland left his house at 10:25 a. m. and walked to the polling place, accompanied by Geo. F. Parker. It was 10:30 when they reached the polling place at 876 6th avenue. There were twenty-five men in the line ahead of the ex-President. They recognized him and, raising their hats, bowed. When Cleveland stepped up to the poll clerk, and gave his name a Republican heeler attempted to challenge his vote, but was quickly hustled out of the way. Cleveland received a bunch of ballots marked No. 18 and went into the fifth booth to select his tickets. It took him just six minutes to prepare his tickets. They were in proper order and as soon as they were deposited in their respective boxes the ex-President went home.

The "Thunderer" Protests. LONDON, Nov. 8.—The Times this morning prints an article, protesting against granting amnesty to the men engaged in dynamite outrages. It says: "We cannot reach the miscreants who direct and subsidize plots from Chicago and New York, but by a stern enforcement of the law, we may hope to dampen the eager heroism of their subordinates."

The Columbian Eskimo Dead. CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Columbia Isabella Susan Mainak, the Eskimo born a week ago on the World's Fair grounds, died yesterday. She has been very fragile since her birth. The other babe born in the Eskimo village a few days later is strong and well.

ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The drift of sentiment at 7 p. m. is that Harrison and Reid have carried the State and that the Republican State ticket is elected by a decreased plurality. This must not be accepted, however, as being more than a surface opinion, as the returns are still utterly inadequate for the purpose of forming a reliable estimate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Despatches to the Times and Herald from Chicago say that Cleveland (for President) and Altgeld (for Governor) will, from present indications, carry Cook county by 15,000 plurality. This probably means the State will go Democratic in the state and national ticket.

DAY WITH THE VOTERS

HOW ASHEVILLE BEHAVED ITSELF IN YESTERDAY'S FIGHT.

MORE POLLING PLACES ARE SURELY NEEDED.

DEMOCRATIC RETURNS MEET WITH APPROVAL.

Anywhere from half an hour to an hour and a half was the time it took for West ward citizens to vote yesterday. Beginning at 7 o'clock in the morning the crowd seemed to grow thicker and thicker all day until just before closing time, when the rain began pattering on the tin roof of Carter's warehouse, and the voters seemed to disappear all at once. This was the first sign of cessation in the steady stream of tickets that had been pouring in all day, sometimes at the rate of three or four a minute. The judges and clerks were worked nearly to death, and about 2 o'clock Mayor Blanton had to crawl in through the voting window and be sworn in as an extra judge to help the regular force. People agree that there ought to be better polling places and more of them next year, for, on account of the crush, many citizens—just how many it is hard to say—were deprived of casting their ballots. Matters were in much the same fix in the East ward.

The crowding at the West ward polling place became rather tempestuous at one time during the morning and Sheriff Reynolds was sent for to take charge of things. His appearance was the occasion for a chorus of yells. Mounting the top step at the entrance the sheriff told the crowd to stand back and give everybody a fair chance in his turn. No time was lost in granting respectful obedience.

LT. GOVERNOR R. A. DOUGHTON.

Sheriff Reynolds had to repeat this act in the afternoon at the same place. There were more business men at the polls for good Democratic work than Asheville has ever seen at such places. The closing of stores and other establishments was almost unanimous.

About six o'clock the excitement, which had been more or less intermittent before, now became hysterical. Democratic returns began coming in and the crowds around the polling places and on Court Square let themselves loose in a wild whoop for Cleveland and Crawford. Democratic bonfires were started on South Court place, and young America kept them going several hours with barrels and dry goods boxes supplied by unsuspecting merchants. A barrel or two of paving tar, kindly left out in the weather by the Patton avenue contractors, went the same way. Every time a box blazed up it was accepted as a good Democratic sign, but when its strength gave out it was classed with Republicanism.

The returns from outside were received at several places. The Carolina club had its rooms full of members and invited guests. The walls and ceiling were dressed in their best flags and bunting and the rooms were kept crowded till late.

Returns were read out in the courthouse to a good sized crowd, chiefly Democratic. At Republican campaign headquarters there was a tinge of sadness as Chairman Tompkins read off the rather discouraging figures of other States. The magic lantern display of the returns on the screen in F. E. Mitchell's window on Patton avenue drew a crowd that was mostly Democratic.

On the streets the excitement spent itself by 10 o'clock, everybody seeming to take it in to his head to go home about that hour. Afterwards it was unusually quiet.

Rivals Luray.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 8.—A cave has been discovered near Harrisonburg. It has not been fully explored yet, but it is said to rival the Luray caverns in size and its grottoes in beauty. The cave was discovered while blasting for rock. Twenty-four rooms have been found without the aid of pick or shovel. Persons from neighboring villages are flocking to see it. Specimens of stalactites were brought into town yesterday.

Ex-Gov. Hoffman's Widow Dead.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Ella Stackweather Hoffman, widow of Ex-Governor John T. Hoffman of New York, is dead.
