AROUND TOWN.

The Bauner Township of This County Bonored

BIG IVY'S FLAG.

The news having been circulated through THE CITIZEN yesterday that there would be no Democratic celebra-tion today on account of the death of Chief Justice Merrimon, very few people After Alderman Charley Starnes went; came to town.

At noon today a number of Demo crats assembled in the court house to witness the presentation of a flag to Big Ivy township for having made a larger increase in her Democratic vote than any township in the county. County Chairman J. D. Murphy was called to the chair and said that the occasion demonstrated the truthfulness of the adage that sorrow and joy come together, as the sunshine and the rain. He spoke feelingly of the death of Chief Justice Merrimon, and of the fatal illness of State Treasurer Bain, and of the ap propriateness of the postponement of al demonstrations of joy over the recent

Mr. Murphy then introduced Hon. John W. Starnes, who presented the ban ner to Big Ivy. The presentation speech was short but eminently suitable to the occasion

The flag was received by Chairman J N. Morgan, of the Democratic township committee of Ivy, who returned thanks for the honor conferred. The committee appointed to purchase the flag was unable to have it on hand

today, and one was borrowed for the oc casion

HON. JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES

He Will Inaugurate the Southern Business College Course.

weeks. The first lecture of President M. M. Lemmond's Southern Business college lecture course will be delivered in the audience room of the college next Monday evening, the 21st. The lecturer will be Hon. John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, Ga., and his subject will be "The Reign of the Demagogue." The following are some of the expressions by prominent men about Mr Graves: Grover Cleve-land—"He is the most brilliant and statesmanlike orator heard in New York for years." David B, Hill-"In John Temple Graves I have heard llenry Grady surpassed." Henry Watterson-"rie is the most eloquent Southerner o today.

A treat may be expected by all who attend the lecture. Tickets go on sale at Raysor & Smith's Friday morning. The price of tickets for the course of five lectures is $2.50, with reserved scats, or $2 without reserved seats.

"THE MOONSHINER '

It Will Come to the Grand Friday Evening.

The attraction of the week at the Grand opera house will be "The Moonshiner," which comes on Friday evening. The play abounds in realism and start-ling scenic effects. The Bristol, Tenn., Courier says: "The 'Moonshiner' is an original and pleasing departure from the stereotyped and threadbare comedy drama of mod-ern life. It has comedy, tragedy, pathos and grotesqueness in its make-up and the combination is made with a skillful hand, and the result is a play of such realism and vivid picturesqueness that it wins admiration from the severest critics. Many scenes of 'The Moonshiner' are so real, so true to nature, so full of power and sweetness that they strike the sympathetic chords that vibrate in the heart of universal humanity.

This Time It Makes Ugly Wounds in a Young Man's Face.

About dark yesterday afternoon as E M. Crawford, a painter, was on his way to his boarding house, R. H. Lee's, 83 Bailey street, from work in the eastern part of the city, he ran into a barb wire fence near the "Long house," on Eagle street. One of the barbs caught in the of legislative districts, it must be don he fell and tore apart the flesh of his face tion.

almost back to his car. His lower lip was also cut for an inch or more. The young man walked to his home. Dr. A. Burroughs was called and dressed the wounds. Mr. Crawford will have to stay indoors for some time.

APPORTIONMENT OUESTION A Case in Indiana Unlike Any Other GRAND OPERA HOUSE INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 16.- The suit to set aside the legislative apportion ment will be heard by the Supreme court November 17. Morgan Chandler Friday, November 18 through his attorney, ex-Judge Niblack, has filed in the Supreme court his brief in the suit. Niblack denies that there is a parallelism between the Indiana and Michigan cases, and says that the constitutional provisions in Wisconsin, Michigan and New York, governing the apportionment of members of the legislature, are different from those in this State. The precedents in the States named cannot therefore be cited for In diana. Anything like actual equality of districts, where integrity of counties must be preserved, is out of the question. Niblack concludes that if greater restrictions are to be placed upon the making right side of Mr. Crawford's mouth as through an amendment to the constitu sity.
