SPEAKS FROM HIS HEART

GROVER CLEVELAND ON THE RESULTS OF ELECTION.

He Knows What the President's Responsibility is, and He Has Full Faith in the Democratic Party to Serve the People.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Mr. Grover Cleveland said at a dinner given by Mr. Henry Villard last evening:

"MR. VILLARD AND GENTLEMEN:—I find it impossible to rid myself at this moment of the conflicting emotions which stir within me. I see here assembled good and staunch friends who have labored incessantly and devotedly for the success which has crowned Democratic effort in the canvass just closed, and I cannot forget how greatly these efforts have been characterized by the personal attachment and friendship for the candidate selected to carry the Democratic banner. This awakens a sense of gratitude which is a great pleasure for me to thankfully acknowledge. I confess, too, that I have fully shared in the partisan satisfaction which our great victory is calculated to arouse in every heart so thoroughly Democratic as mine.

"It is seldom given to a man to contemplate such a splendid campaign, so masterfully arranged in his behalf by such good friends, followed by such stupendous and complete triumphs.

"I should not, perhaps, introduce anything sombre on this occasion but I know you will forgive me when I say that every feeling of jubilation and even my sense of gratitude, is so tempered as to be almost entirely obscured by a realization, nearly painful, of the responsibility I have assumed in the sight of the American people. My love of country, my attachment to the principles of true Democracy, my appreciation of the obligation I have entered into with the best and most confiding people in the world, and the consciousness of my own weakness and imperfections, all conspire to fill my mind with sober and oppressing reflections. When I consider all that we have to do as a party charged with the control of the government, I feel that our campaign, instead of being concluded, is but just begun. What shall our performance of the contract we have made with our countrymen be and how well shall we justify the trust they have imposed on us?

"If we see nothing in our victory but license to revel in partisan sports we shall fail at every point. If we merely profess to enter upon our work, and if we make apparent endeavor to do it as a cover for seeking partisan advantage we shall invite contempt and disgrace. If we attempt to discharge our duty to the people without complete party harmony in patriotic action, we shall demonstrate our incompetency.

"I thank God that far above all doubts and misgivings and away beyond all difficulties, we may constantly see lights of hope and safety. The light we see is the illumination from principles of true, honest, and pure democracy, showing the way in all times of danger and leading us to a fulfillment of political duty, and a redemption of all our pledges. This light is kindled in love of justice and in devotion to the people's rights. It is bright in a constant patriotism and in a nation's promise. Let us not be misled to our undoing by other lights of false Democracy which may be kindled in broken faith, and which, shining in hypocrisy, will, if followed, lure us to rocks of failure and disaster. If we see events ahead of us and if difficulties loom upon our horizon, let us remember that in the thickest weather the mariner watches most anxiously for his true light.

"Who in our party, charged with any responsibility to the people, has not pledged his devotion to the principles of true Democracy, and who among us has made pledges with intent to deceive? I have faith in the manliness and truthfulness of the Democratic party.

"My belief in our principles and my faith in our party constitute my trust that we shall answer the expectations of our countrymen and shall raise high aloft the standard of true Democracy, to fix the gaze for many years to come of a prosperous, happy and contented people.

Then the dinner took place and beside Mr. Cleveland there were 30 guests present. Among them were Wm. C. Whitney, Carl Schurz, Dan S. Lamont, Congressmen Breckinridge, Fitch and Warner, Josiah Quincy, Lawrence R. Godkin, Wayne McVeigh, Don M. Dickinson, Calvin S. Brice, Wm. R. Grace, Wm. Steinway and Wm. F. Harris.

These Indians Not Tamed Yet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A telegram has been received at the Indian office from Agent Waugh of the Uintah and Ouray agency in Utah stating that, in compliance with instructions he had sent out scouts with orders to Utex now on a hunting expedition in Colorado, to return at once to their reservations. This action was taken at the request of Governor Revere of Colorado who expresses a fear that trouble would ensue if the Indians were longer permitted to run at large through the State.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 18.—Much excitement and alarm has been caused in northeastern Arizona by threats of a band of Navajos under Chief Black Horse, of going to war against the whites.

Their Diamond Wedding Day.

NEW HAVEN, Vt., Nov. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ward today rounded out three-quarters of a century of wedded life and celebrated their diamond wedding. Mr. Ward was born of Connecticut parents on the present Newman Hunt farm in Waltham, Vt., April 6, 1796. Mrs. Ward (Hannah H. Crampton) was born in Ferrisburg, Vt., a few miles from New Haven, Oct. 11, 1798. They were married Nov. 16, 1817.

Killed in a Wreck.

KINGMAN, A. T., Nov. 18.—A wreck occurred on the Atlantic and Pacific railroad seven miles east of Hackberry yesterday. One man was killed and thirteen were badly wounded, some of whom will die.

QUEER ELECTION WAGER.

Both Betters Get a Sound Paddling

If you want things done up in plain, old fashioned Buncombe style, go down to the Richmond and Danville depot, and the boys will show you the modus operandi.

There was a little settling up of election scores down there yesterday that had a richness about it truly novel.

Before the nominations were made for president in the recent campaign, two of the habitués of the depot, Messrs. Clarke and Lorick, concluded that Cleveland and Harrison would be the men, and it was mutually agreed that a written instrument should be drawn declaring that if Cleveland was elected, Clarke would allow himself to be stretched across a tobacco hoghead and submit to as many sound licks with a barrel stave from Lorick as named referees might deem proper, and if Harrison should succeed Lorick agreed to go through the same ordeal.

The instrument was drawn by Clarke, who knew of Lorick's weakness for signing documents he had not read, and he so worded it that in the event a single candidate on the Republican ticket or a single candidate on the Democratic ticket should be elected, each of the contracting parties was to be soundly paddled.

Lorick, not suspecting the trick that was being played on him, signed the document without reading, and the election of Constable Poor was thus given a terrible meaning to one man in Asheville at least.

The written document was brought out yesterday, and the referees named it proceeded to capture the contracting parties, and attend to the carrying out of the provisions thereof.

Lorick was first placed across the barrel and a stout stave put in the hands of Clarke, who gave his prostrate partner ten sound whacks before the referees cried, "hold' enough!"

Then Clarke was stretched at full length, and Lorick, from the bastinado, began to pour the blows on him, but when eight blister-raisers had been administered, the barrel stave broke, and Lorick made for shelter.

This rich scene was witnessed by all the railroad employes within reach, and it is asserted that neither Clarke nor Lorick will be able to sit down with comfort for a month.

HE'S A PREDICTOR

But the United States is a Long Way From Free Trade Yet.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "Frederick Engel's socialist organ 'Vorwarts' claims that he predicted four years ago the downfall of protection in America and that now the second portion of his prophecy is on the eye of fulfillment, namely, the destruction of England's monopoly of the world's trade through the advent of free trade in America. Engel adds that there will be an industrial struggle such as the world has never before seen; that the dismal story of the last decade with respect to cotton and woolen fabrics, so familiar to every Lancashire operative, will repeat itself in every other field of industry and that Great Britain will sink to the position of Holland unless the working classes come to the rescue by adopting socialism."

IT KILLED HER MOTHER.

Sad Case of an Aristocratic Young Swindler.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—A sensation was caused in the Marlborough street police court this morning just before the case of Gwyneth Maude, a handsome and aristocratic eighteen year old girl, charged with swindling, was called. To the astonishment of all present it was announced that Gwyneth's mother had probably been rendered insane by charges made against her daughter and had committed suicide. The case consequently was postponed for a week.

Ohio's Returns.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 16.—Nearly all of the eighty-eight counties have sent the official vote to the Secretary of State's office, and the figures do not materially differ from those already published. The Republican State ticket is elected by from 900 to 1,000 plurality, and twenty-two Republican electors are chosen. James Seward of Mansfield, the Democratic elector whose name came first on the Australian ballot, is elected. His plurality is about 1,500. S. M. Taylor, Republican, has a plurality of 1,054 for Secretary of State.

Georgia Encourages Investors.

ATLANTA, Nov. 16.—The legislature of Georgia today adopted resolutions declaring that the result of the recent election in favor of tariff reform and non-interference with the ballot will be a desire on the part of the capitalists to seek investments in the South. It was further resolved that every encouragement consistent with the best interests of the people should be extended to capital seeking investment in Georgia.—N. Y. Sun.

Turkish Officers' Wives.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—The Turkish war office has prohibited all officers below the rank of major to take a second wife. The reason given for the action is that the pay of such officers is not sufficient to allow them to support a harem. The War Minister is unpopular with the soldiers' wives, who often send deputations to him clamoring for the arrears of their husband's pay.

A 200 Pound Peanut Roller.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—It took Mr. Wolfart, who weighs something over two hundred pounds, more than an hour Wednesday afternoon to roll a peanut and down Broadway in Yonkers; but he did it, though it was hard work for so big a man. He was fulfilling an election wager. A crowd enjoyed the spectacle.

Where is Watson "At"?

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 18.—Thirty five thousand people witnessed the Democratic celebration here in honor of the recent victory. J. C. C. Black, congressman elect, was the principle orator.

No Life in the Kolbs.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 17.—It is now definitely ascertained that the Kolb element will be too feeble to attempt any revolutionary proceedings.

DO YOU HEAR THE NEWS?

MRS. LEASE MAY BECOME AN UNITED STATES SENATOR

She Will Not Let a Democrat Be Elected, Nor Will She Let Jerry Simpson Go To The Senate—35 Men in The Middle of The Road

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A special to the Press from Topeka, Kan., says the populists and Democrats are getting wide apart over the senatorial squabble. Judge Martin wants the position, but the information that he received yesterday that there were 35 Populist members who will stand with Mrs. Lease in the middle of the road and against any Democrat has discouraged him.

Whether these 35 will vote for Mrs. Lease is unknown, but she will have great influence with them, and to prevent them going to Jerry Simpson or a Democrat she will be a candidate herself. When she was asked whether it was possible for her to get enough votes she said: "Anything is possible with God and the farmers of Kansas."

A. L. Williams of the Union Pacific railroad said yesterday: "I see no constitutional reason why Mrs. Lease should not be senator. There is nothing to prevent it except the popular idea that a senator should be a man. I hope she will be elected. She would keep the senator pretty busy if they send her to Washington."

A CYCLONE'S SKIPS.

Several Persons Killed and Buildings Destroyed.

DURHAM, Ark., Nov. 18.—A village in Washington county on White river was totally destroyed by a cyclone yesterday. Every house in town except the school house was demolished. No lives were lost, but the damage to property was great.

RED BUD, Ill., Nov. 18.—A cyclone yesterday destroyed the residence of Col. Sharrad, utterly wrecked the Catholic church and school, leaving the two-story rectory, standing between them and higher than either, intact. One block further the residences of Herman and Fred Draege were smashed and the German Methodist church was reduced to a shapeless heap of bricks. A number of other residences, warehouses and stables next went down. Mrs. Knipe and her son Willie, a boy of ten, were living in a new house. It was blown into kindling wood. Lawrence Bauer was also killed and a number injured.

WEAVER'S LATEST.

Bill Awaiting the Judgment of the People.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—Ex-Congressman Weaver has written a letter in which he says: "The country is to be congratulated upon the fact that the leaders of one of the heretofore great parties have been abandoned and overtaken by the people and their organization well nigh annihilated. This leaves the former adherents of that party free to align themselves with the great anti-monopoly industrial movement. The accession of the other party to power is the result of violent reaction, and not, I am sure, of the deliberate judgment of the American people. I sincerely trust that the work of organization and education may now be pushed with energy throughout all the States. The field is ours, and we must occupy it without delay."

GLADSTONE'S ESCAPE.

He Was All But Run Down by an Omnibus.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—As Gladstone was crossing Piccadilly last evening on foot he stepped directly under the heads of a team of horses attached to an omnibus swinging around the corner. The driver pulled the horses back on their haunches. Gladstone was struck a light blow by the horses or pole on his shoulder. He staggered, recovered himself and escaped to the sidewalk unharmed.

Blackburn Howled Down.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 16.—Senator Blackburn was howled down at a jollification meeting tonight because he was not a Cleveland man at Chicago. There were 10,000 Kentuckians at the meeting and Cleveland is a favorite of Kentucky Democrats. When Blackburn arose and attempted to speak, the people yelled and blew horns until the Senator, after standing the racket for a few minutes, quit in disgust.—N. Y. World.

Two Federal Vacancies.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Assistant Secretary Nettleton of the Treasury today handed his resignation to Secretary Foster for transmission to the President to take effect December 1. In regard to filling the vacancy in the office of assistant secretary of the treasury, caused by the resignation of Judge Croome, it is expected the appointment will be announced soon.

Now Interview Mr. Cleveland.

TROY, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Edward Murphy, jr., chairman of the Democratic State committee, denies the statement in regard to Mr. Cleveland's remarks at the recent Victoria hotel dinner, in which the latter is quoted as saying to Lieut. Gov. Sheehan that "he would be damned before he would give such pledges as the Democratic machine demanded."

Little Hope for Gen. Rosecrans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—General Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, will be removed to Fortress Monroe, Va., this evening in the hope that the change will remove a present danger in his case of paralysis. He is already almost completely helpless. He is 73 years old and his growing feebleness well nigh destroys hope of recovery.

Died Away From His Family.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Milton Taylor, formerly Congressman from Ohio, died suddenly at his boarding house this morning of heart failure. Mr. Taylor had lived alone in this city for years, but it is understood that he has a wife and family living in Cincinnati.

Less Glass to be Made.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 18.—The plate glass manufacturers have decided to restrict production.
